Be a Braddock Insider

What every newcomer should know about living, working and playing in the Braddock District.

By Supervisor John Cook (R-Braddock)
AND HIS STAFF OF "INSIDERS"

raddock is very much a district of neighborhoods, a rarity in busy and booming Fairfax. Stretching from Annandale to the far edge of Fairfax by the Fairfax County Government Center, we are located in the center of Fairfax County. Braddock District contains key roads for the County such as Route 50, Route 29, Little River Turnpike, Braddock Road, the Fairfax County Parkway, Old Keene Mill, Rolling Road and 495. We are proud to have two institutes of higher learning, George Mason University and Northern Virginia Community College, which attract students from all over the world. Here's a short list of some must-do, must-see places, events and opportunities for newcomers (and old-timers).

POPULAR EATERIES:

- ❖ Kilroys in the Ravensworth Shopping Center, Springfield
- ❖ Great Harvest Bread Company in Burke Town Center, Burke
- ❖ Josies Ice Cream & Frozen Yogurt in Burke Town Center, Burke
- ❖ Brions Grill in University Mall, Fairfax
- ❖ Swiss Bakery in Ravensworth Shopping Center, Springfield

GETTING AROUND — THE VIRGINIA RAILWAY EXPRESS STATION

The Virginia Railway Express (VRE) is a commuter rail service that operates Monday through Friday, from the Northern Virginia suburbs to Washington D.C. The VRE Station is a popular mode of transportation for many commuters. We have one location in the district at 10399 Premier Court in Burke. VRE does not operate service on weekends or federal holidays. For additional information, go to their 1619. Although the Virginia General Assembly is a parttime citizen legislature, members serve year-round. Our annual session in Richmond is held over 6-8 weeks, beginning each year in mid-January. As your representative, I am always available to address any questions you may have regarding State Government, or assist with any problem you may be experiencing with such agencies as the Virginia Department of Transportation, the Division of Motor Vehicles, the Virginia Department of Social Services or other governmental services.

On a personal level, I have lived in Fairfax County for over 20 years, and my husband and I have raised our two children (now 16 and 18) in this area. While we are always finding new restaurants and interesting sites to visit, we have some favorite activities in the area that you may want to consider. When our children were younger, we always enjoyed taking them to receive a small carveable pumpkin as well as hay rides around the area. My own personal favorite annual events include the Mantua Community Association Parade and Picnic in June, the Orange Hunt 4th of July Parade, National Night Out events in August and the Burke Centre Festival in September.

Burke Lake Park. This exceptional community facility offers beautiful natural scenery, a miniature golf course, a sightseeing train and carousel rides. Regardless of the ages of your young ones, the park offers entertainment options for everyone.

In October, the Burke

Nursery and Garden Centre holds a Fall Festival and Pumpkin Playground. All those who attend

As part of my responsibilities as State Delegate, I regularly travel throughout the 41st District—Burke, West Springfield, Fairfax and Fairfax Station—meeting with constituents and organizations and attending events.

Please do not hesitate to contact my office if I can ever be of service. You can reach me at Eileen@EileenFillerCorn.com or by phone, at 571-249-3453. You can also visit my website at Again, welcome to the 41st House District of Virginia. I look forward to seeing you out and about.

Historic St. Mary of Sorrows Catholic Church in Fairfax Station.

The historic cemetery at St. Mary of Sorrows Catholic Church, where there will be a candlelight vigil on Sunday, Sept. 2 at 8 p.m. as part of the 150th anniversary commemoration events of the American Civil War.

y midnight, there must have been three thousand helpless men lying in the hay. All night long we made compresses and slings and bound up and wet wounds when we could get water..." —From the writings of Clara Barton, after tending to the wounded in the battles of Second Manassas and Ox Hill in late August, 1862.

For the first time, the stories of the soldiers and the courageous woman who nursed them, Clara Barton, will be told through reenactments, exhibits and demonstrations during a special exhibit at the historic Fairfax Station Railroad Museum beginning Aug. 25. The event is part of a 10-day county-wide commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the American Civil War.

"This is an exciting event for the community," said Jenee Lindner, chair of the event and a Clara Barton re-enactor. "Now we take mass evacuations for granted, but what was important was this was the first time we used the railroad for mass disaster relief in an organized fashion."

Lindner said the event will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 25 with an opening ceremony at the Fairfax Station Railroad Museum during which Fairfax County Board of Supervisors Chairman Sharon Bulova (Dat Large) will welcome the public to the event. During the weekend event, there will be costumed Civil War re-enactments as well as artifacts and displays inside the museum from the Civil War highlighting the medical evacuation of the wounded during the Civil War and on-loan museum artifacts from Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross.

Lindner said she and Ron Beavers, cochair of the event, have been working with the National Building Museum and the National Park Service to obtain historical artifacts for the exhibit, including Clara Barton's bodice, "The Record of the Federal Dead"—a book prepared by Barton which contains the names of 488 soldiers who died in hospitals during the American Civil War-and some of Barton's handwritten letters discussing her hospital work.

"After the second battle of Manassas, Clara Barton nursed the wounded for three days and nights as heavy rains fell and doctors operated at St. Mary's Church and the station, two of the few dry places where doctors could perform amputations," Lindner said.

THE SECOND BATTLE of Bull Run was fought Aug. 28-30, 1862. It was the culmination of an offensive campaign waged by Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia against Union Maj. Gen. John Pope's Army of Virginia, and a battle of a much larger scale than the First Battle of Bull Run fought in 1861 on the same ground.

"Casualties in the three-day battle were horrendous," Lindner said. Pope's army suffered 14,462 killed, wounded or missing soldiers, while Lee's forces lost more than troops, a field hospital was established along a hillside between St. Mary's Catholic Church and the Fairfax Railroad station. Although 20,000 Confederate soldiers had begun the push toward Fairfax Station, Clara Barton, her volunteers and the doctors remained until the 3,000 wounded were evacuated. As a result of her experiences at Fairfax Station, Barton would later create a plan for a civilian society to care for war wounded, which became the American Red Cross.

"Her dedication and achievements were remarkable," Lindner said.

Beavers said the entire 10-day exhibition is designed to give residents a unique opportunity to experience the significance and impact of the American Civil War. It remains the deadliest war in American history, resulting in the deaths of an estimated 750,000 soldiers and an undetermined number of civilian casualties.

He said many of the exhibits and events underscore the famous words of President Abraham Lincoln that "a house divided against itself cannot stand."

OTHER EVENTS INCLUDE:

❖ On Aug. 29 from 5 to 7 p.m. at Fairfax Station Railroad Museum, there will be a historical marker dedication during which Supervisor Pat Herrity (R-Springfield) will be the guest speaker.

On Sept. 1, the 150th anniversary of the Battle of Ox Hill will be commemorated at Ox Hill Battlefield Park from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., 4134 West Ox Road in Fairfax. Admission is free. The event will include flag presentations, children's' activities and

The miniature Central Pacific Huntington steam engine at Burke Lake Park has been a popular ride for 40 years. Last spring, the ride got even better when the train and tracks underwent some improvements. "I remember riding my bike here when I was a kid, through what's now Burke Lake Center...We were adventurers," said Supervisor Pat Herrity (R-Springfield). "Generations of families come here every year. It's one of our most popular parks."

"This train never goes out of style," said Charlie Reagle, Burke Lake Park Manager, who estimates about 90,000 people ride the train each year. The train takes riders over 1.75 miles of track in about 10 minutes and reaches speeds of 10 to 12 miles per hour. After the chug-along, there's more old-fashioned fun at Burke Lake Park, including a spin on the carousel, a hand-dipped cone at the Ice Cream Parlor and a hike on the park trail rated one of the 10 best urban fitness trails in the nation by the American Hiking Society.

Burke Historical Society

Meetings are held monthly at the Silas Burke House, 9595 Burke Lake Road, Burke www.burkehistoricalsociety.com

The Burke Historical Society (BHS) was first established in 1978 as an advocate for preserving Burke's rich heritage. The society procures and maintains the area's historical markers, collects community artifacts for display and sponsored the book "Memories of Beautiful Burke," co-authored by Nan Netherton and Ruth Rose. According to Suzi Fowler Neal, president of BHS, society members recently raised enough money to reprint the book, which will be for sale at this year's Burke Centre Festival in September. The historical society also inspired artist Barbara Thelin Preston to paint and donate a painting depicting Old Burke, which the society framed and donated to the Burke post office. Meetings and forums take place the last Sunday of the month at 4 p.m. at the Silas Burke House, 9595 Burke Lake Road.

Every Friday, guests can sip wine and enjoy live music on the newly-renovated rustic stone patio of Paradise Springs Winery, Fairfax County's only winery. The winery is nestled on 36 acres in Clifton on the edge of Fairfax County. The property borders Hemlock Regional Park with the Bull Run River flowing only steps through the woods. Originally, the property was part of a one-thousand-acre land grant from Lord Fairfax in 1716 to the family's direct ancestors and has been passed down through the generations since. Several hundred acres still remain in the family today. It's a place for wine lovers, history buffs and architecture aficionados. Influences of Frank Lloyd Wright's work can be seen throughout the renovated property, including the indirect lighting, hidden spaces, intricate electrical switches, small entrances into large rooms and the concept of bringing nature indoors. In 1956, a red barn that sat just off Main Street in downtown Fairfax, was taken apart, individually numbered, and reassembled piece by piece on the property.

Clifton is the place that George Washington and Lord Fairfax hunted; the spot the Confederate and the Union met at throughout the Civil War; and the first town to have electricity in Virginia. This quaint town's historic Clifton Hotel, established in 1869, has experienced a re-birth since restaurateur couple Stefan and Victoria Trummer set a course for creative American cuisine at their first restaurant, Trummer's On Main. Executive Chef Cory Lambert brings his talents and passion to the menu while Sommelier Tyler Packwood has developed a wine list comprising the open view wine cellar that holds over 8,000 bottles. And hand-crafted cocktails are the skills of owner Stefan Trummer. Stop in for an artisanal cocktail, the infamous S.A. Burger, a tasting menu in the dining room, or Sunday brunch.

How To Register, Vote and Vote Early

Election Day is Nov. 6, but you can vote as early as Sept. 21.

BY MARY KIMM

hy does it matter?

How important is it for Virginia voters to turn out on or before Nov. 6? As a critical "battleground" state, Virginia will be key in determining who will be the next President of the United States. Who will represent Virginia in the U.S. Senate is also too close to call. Since polling shows that there are very few undecided voters in the Commonwealth, every eligible voter will want to be sure to cast a ballot.

This area has very high rates of voter registration. Consider that Fairfax County, with a population of just more than 1.1 million people, has 711,817 registered voters. And 24 percent of Fairfax County's population is under 18, so not eligible to vote.

Arlington has a population of about 216,000 and 157,236 registered voters. Sixteen percent are under 18.

The City of Alexandria has a population of about 144,000 with 101,887 registered voters; 17 percent are under 18.

order to vote on Election Day, you must be registered at your current address no later than Oct. 15, 2012. You can check your registration status online by going to www.sbe.virginia.gov. There you can also download a voter registration form and mail it to the elections office address, listed above.

Voter ID: New laws also affect what identification voters must bring with them to the polling place. Acceptable forms of identification include: Virginia voter identification card; valid Virginia driver's license; military ID; any Federal, Virginia state or local government-issued ID; employer issued photo ID card; concealed handgun permit; valid student ID issued by any institution of higher education located in the Commonwealth of Virginia; current utility bill, bank statement, government check or paycheck indicating the name and address of the voter.

Voters arriving to the polls without ID will be required to vote a provisional ballot and will have until noon on the Friday after the election to deliver a copy of identification to their locality's electoral board in order for their provisional ballot to be counted.

All Virginia active registered voters will be mailed a new Virginia voter identification card prior to the November 2012 General Election. Call 804-864-8901 or toll free 800-552-9745, TTY toll free: 800-260-3466. According to the State Board of Elections at presstime, some of the voter identification requirements listed are pending

VOTING EARLY, ABSENTEE

Virtually every voter in Virginia is eligible to vote absentee, which includes voting inperson absentee at a variety of locations between Sept. 21 and Nov. 2.

There are many reasons that voters are allowed to vote absentee, but the most broad of these applies to almost anyone with a job: "Any person who, in the regular and orderly course of his business, profession, or occupation, will be at his place of work and commuting to and from his home to his place of work for 11 or more hours of the 13 that the polls are open (6 a.m. to 7 p.m.).

See http://www.sbe.virginia.gov/cms/absentee_voting/index.html for a complete list of acceptable reasons to vote absentee, links to download a request for an absentee ballot and other instructions.

You can download an absentee ballot and mail it to your local voter registration office, or you can vote "absentee in person."

WHAT'S ON THE BALLOT?

Every voter in Virginia will vote for U.S senator and their member in the U.S. House of Representatives, in addition to President of the United States and two constitutional questions.

For Senate, Tim Kaine (D), former governor will face George Allen (R), also former governor and former U.S. senator, to replace U.S. Sen. Jim Webb (D) who is retiring from the Senate after a single term. Webb defeated George Allen six years ago. Connection coverage of the U.S. Senate race is http:// available at www.connectionnewspapers.com/news/ Election/National/Senate/

Two constitutional questions will appear on all Virginia ballots, one about the use of eminent domain and one about the timing of a particular session of the General Assembly to consider overriding vetoes by the governor of legislation that was passed by assembly. the See http:// www.sbe.virginia.gov/webdocs/ 201211ConstitutionalAmendmentsPoster.pdf.

10TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

In the races for U.S. House of Representatives, it's worth noting that redistricting resulted in significant changes in Northern Virginia in terms of who your U.S. representative will be. If you live in Reston, for example, while last election you were represented by Jim Moran and the 8th district, now you are in the 11th district where the incumbent is Gerry Connolly. See the map for details. Fairfax County is represented by three Congressional Districts, 8, 10 and 11. Connection coverage of congressional races is available at http:// www.connectionnewspapers.com/news/ Election/National/Representatives.

In the 8th District, incumbent Rep. Jim Moran (D), seeking his 12th term since being elected in 1990, will face Patrick Murray (R), and two independent candidates, Janet Murphy and Jason Howell. The 8th district includes all of Alexandria and Arlington, plus parts of Fairfax County including Mount Vernon, Lorton and parts of McLean, Tysons and Falls Church.

In the 10th District, Frank Wolf (R), elected to office in 1982, will face Democrat Kristin A. Cabral and independent J. Kevin Chisholm. The 10th district sprawls from McLean to Winchester, and includes Great Falls, Chantilly, parts of Fairfax Station, the Town of Clifton, part of Burke and Springfield.

In the 11th District, Gerry Connolly (D), former chairman of the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, elected to Congress in 2008, will face Republican Chris Perkins and Independents Joe Galdo and Peter M. Marchetti. The 10th district now includes the City of Fairfax, the Town of Herndon. Reston, central Fairfax County including parts of Burke, Springfield and Lorton.

IN FAIRFAX COUNTY, voters will also decide whether to invest in infrastructure based on four bond questions, answering yes or no to supporting $75 million for parks, $55 million for public safety facilities, $25 million for library facilities and $30 million for stormwater and sewer improvements. http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/elections/nov 2012 county bond issues.pdf

IN THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA, voters will also choose a mayor, members of the city council and school board.

The Alexandria City Council is composed of a Mayor and six Council members who are elected at-large for three-year terms. Incumbent mayor Bill Euille (D) will face Andrew H. Macdonald (I) in the race for Voters will choose six City Council members from the list of 12: Frank H. Fannon IV (R), Alicia R. Hughes (R), John R. "Bob" Wood (R), John Taylor Chapman (D), Timothy Lovain (D), Del Pepper *(D), Allison Silberberg (D), Paul C. Smedberg❖ (D), Justin M. Wilson (D), Glenda B. Davis (I), Robert Krause (L), Jermaine A. Mincey (I). ❖ means incumbent.

The Alexandria City School Board is a nine-member elected body that adopts policy for the daily operation of schools and sees that school laws are properly explained, enforced, and observed. The city is divided into three voting districts, and three Board members are elected from each district. Each member serves a three-year term. Incumbents marked *.

School Board District A: Stephanie Amann Kapsis, William E. "Bill" Campbell*, Karen A. Graf, Helen F. Morris*, Joyce D. Rawlings, Heath E. Wells

School Board District B: Michael A. Brookbank, Chyrell D. Bucksell, Kelly Carmichael Booz, Justin P. Keating, Marc Williams *

School Board District C: Ronnie M. Campbell*, Patricia A. "Pat" Hennig, Christopher J. Lewis, Jeff N. Zack.

IN ARLINGTON, voters will choose one member of the County Board and one member of the School Board. Both Arlington boards are made up entirely of at-large members, so both races will appear on all Arlington ballots.

Incumbent Libby Garvey (D) will face Matthew A. Wavro (R) and Audrey R. Clement (I) for the seat on the County Board.

For School Board, incumbent Emma N. Violand-Sanchez will face Noah L. Simon.

Arlington voters will also decide yes or no on four bond questions, whether to authorize raising $32 million public schools, $28 million for community infrastructure, $50 million for local parks and recreation, and $32 million for Metro and transportation. http://www.arlingtonva.us/departments/voterregistration/forms/ Bonds2012ENG.pdf

About the Connection

Newcomers and Community Guide 2012-2013

Connection is one of 15 papers published by the independent, locally owned Local Media Connection LLC, serving the suburbs of Metropolitan Washington. D.C, in Northern Virginia and Potomac, Md.

Our flagship paper, the Alexandria Gazette Packet, is one of the oldest continuously publishing papers in the country, beginning publication in 1784.

This spring, our papers won some very special awards, including the Virginia Press Association Award for Journalistic Integrity and Community Service and the Fairfax County

Media Partnership Award, along with dozens of others. EDITORIALS

We're proud of our commitment to community service, and delighted when it results in awards. We have staff and contributors here at the Connection with remarkable talent and experience, far greater than one might expect. While the last few years have brought many challenges to the newspaper business everywhere, affecting us as well, we continue to publish 15 distinct papers every week that serve their communities in distinct ways.

As local, weekly newspapers, the Connection's mission is to bring the local news you need, to gather information about the best things in and near your community, to advocate for community good, to provide a forum for dialogue on local concerns and to celebrate and record milestones and events in community and people's lives.

Here in our Newcomers and Community Guide, we've included an insider's look at the he paper you're reading, the Vienna parks, plus details of how to vote in the upcoming elections. Many voters will be surprised when they look at the map on our elections page and discover that their Congressional district has changed.

> We invite newcomers and long-time residents alike to let us know how we're doing and let us know what is going on in your part of the community. If you have questions or ideas, send us an e-mail, contact us on Facebook or send us a tweet. You can even call.

> We invite you to send letters to the editor or to send an e-mail with feedback about our coverage. You can read and comment on our online stories www.ConnectionNewspapers.com.

We want to know if someone in your family or your community published a book, started a business, became an Eagle Scout, raised money for a good cause, accomplished some feat like running a marathon or having art included in an art show. We publish photos and notes of a variety of personal milestones and community events, including births, engagements, weddings, anniversaries, awards and obituaries. We are also interested in events at your church, mosque, synagogue, community center, pool, school, club, etc. Email us a photo and a note about the event. Be sure to include the names of all the people who are in a photo, and say when and where the photo was taken. We also publish notes about news and events from local businesses. Notes about openings, new employees, anniversaries are welcome. It is especially important to us to let people know about events ahead of time in our calendar of events. We appreciate getting notice at least two weeks ahead of the event, and we encourage photos.

Welcome to Fairfax County

By Sharon Bulova

Chairman, Fairfax County Board of Supervisors

reetings and welcome to Fairfax County! Fairfax County is an exceptional place to live, work and play. We have a range of fantastic parks, trails and recreational attractions as well as one of the best public school systems in the country. We are also one of the safest jurisdictions of our size in the United States. I'm sure that after experiencing what Fairfax has to offer, you will see why so many families, professionals and top-tier businesses call Fairfax County home.

The Fairfax County Public School system, with a budget this year of $2.4 billion, is consistently ranked among the top public school systems in America. Twenty-three Fairfax county high schools have been featured in the Washington Post's 2012 list of 1,800 top high schools in the nation, putting these Fairfax County schools in the top nine percent nationwide.

Fairfax County is also home to George Mason University, which is centrally located and an easy commute from all parts of the County. Mason has become one of Virginia's premier universities and was recently added to Kiplinger's list of best value universities in the country.

We are a business-friendly community. Fairfax County is home to nearly 600,000 jobs, with companies ranging from startups to Fortune 500 companies, ten of which have located their headquarters here. Our range of business start-up resources via the Fairfax County Economic Development Authority makes it easier for firms of any size to thrive. In fact, about 97 percent of the companies in Fairfax County are small businesses with fewer than 100 employees and less than $1 million in annual revenue. When a corporate leader recently moved his medium sized technology company to Fairfax County, he announced that he did so because he liked the "mood" in Fairfax, explaining that he wanted to be close to others who were as excited as he about their work and engagement in the community.

Accredited and nationally recognized for excellence by the award of the prestigious Gold Medal for Parks and Recreation, Fairfax at 703-324-2321. County's parks are ranked among the best in the nation. We have more than 22,500 acres in 416 parks, with 80 percent of residents utilizing our park services each year. Fairfax County also boasts more than 500 miles of bicycle and walking trails. The bicycle trail system is tied into the county transit system to make it easier to reach destinations without using a car. Fairfax Connector buses are all equipped with bicycle racks and VRE and Metro stations have bicycle racks or lockers - commuting by bicycle has never been easier!

Fairfax County also has a vibrant and growing arts community. The Workhouse Arts Center in Lorton, an historic county attraction and now converted arts space, allows visitors to watch artists perform their craft, and hosts many events ranging from exhibitions to plays.

As Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, I am elected at-large by all registered voters in Fairfax County. Community engagement is my hallmark. Visit my website at http:// www.fairfaxcounty.gov/chairman/ to be kept up-to-date on what is going on in the County. Whenever you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to email me at chairman@fairfaxcounty.gov or call my office

Insiders Perspective

What is the best thing about living in Burke?

Yae Ji Cha,

Sweet Frog employee, Burke, resident 16 years

"It's really safe, I'll tell you that, which is a good thing. There's really good familiarity and it's a stable community: people keep their jobs and the stores around here have been the same stores even though I've lived here for a very long time. People are generally pretty friendly. It's a nice little safe neighborhood, mainly geared towards families. Overall it's safe and friendly."

Cindy Steiner,

Springfield's 'Most Important Project' Begins

Locals cautiously optimistic about $200 million Springfield Mall transformation.

> By Victoria Ross THE CONNECTION

he joke among Springfield "insiders" is that if Vornado's developers wait long enough, they won't have to spend money demolishing Springfield Mall, because it will fall apart of its own volition.

Supplanted by shiny new centers, like Tysons Galleria and Fairfax Corner, the 1.4 million-square-foot mall—an icon of 1970sera architecture—has been on the decline since its heyday in the 1980s when it was important enough to merit a visit from Prince Charles and Princess Diana.

Since then, shoppers were more likely to encounter gang members than British royalty. Locals have called it "depressing, decaying, dying," and quips about the mall are frequently posted on Yelp, the online review guide based on opinions of locals in the know.

"This mall gets two stars for Dairy Queen. Negative two stars for only having 20 stores out of 200 storefronts. Extra one star for being the best location for some sort of zombie movie," wrote Graham C. of Fairfax in May.

"It could be a museum, because it's this unique piece of Americana," said shopper Joanne Whitely of Springfield. "But we'd rather have the new mall we've been hearing about forever."

She may finally get her wish.

SIGNS ARE CURRENTLY POSTED all around the mall indicating that Phase One of the $200 million transformation has launched. The first phase, which is expected to take two years, includes construction of one central entrance instead of multiple entrances, and the addition of a state-ofthe-art movie theater and food court.

"Breaking ground on the project is something everyone has been waiting to see," said Nancy-jo Manney, executive director, Signs are up indicating that Phase One of the $200 million transformation of Springfield Mall has begun. All of the interior stores are closed, while the anchor tenants, such as Target and Macy's, remain open.

Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce, at the mall. That will be a good problem to since mega-developer Vornado Realty purchased the mall in 2006 for $171.5 million.

"The mall project has been a long time coming, but we're very excited to [see] visible work. The next two years will speed by and before we know it we'll be getting complaints that people can't find parking spaces have once again," said Manney.

Supervisor Jeff McKay (D-Lee), who has worked closely with the developer and county officials to move the ball forward on the project, said anchor tenants Macy's, Target and JC Penney are still open as the New-York based Vornado guts and renovates the cavernous interior space, transforming the 1973 suburban mall into Springfield Town Center.

LATER PHASES of the renovation-expected to take about 10 to 15 years-will complete the town center look, with a mix of upscale retail and commercial development, a 225-room hotel, pedestrian plazas, recreational facilities, 2,000 residential units and transportation improvements.

McKay and other county leaders have called the mall's renovation "the most important redevelopment project in Springfield."

"Finally, it looks like our waiting is over and construction is about to begin," McKay

Although renovation of the 80-acre mall seems to have started, the project has lurched forward in fits and starts.

In 2009, the Board of Supervisors approved rezoning of the property to permit Vornado's ambitious development plans.

After initial approval, any sign of redevelopment came to a halt. No construction equipment materialized; Vornado's public relations department stopped returning calls; and shoppers saw the mall continue its slow decline.

In 2010, Vornado defaulted on its mortgage of $171.5 million, and then refinanced the mall for $115 million, a strategic way to alleviate debt.

"I know it's been frustrating. People want to see something happening there and they've been disappointed in the past," McKay said.

But McKay has said the mall has what developers crave: location and the right demographics. Located in central Springfield, the mall sits near the Mixing Bowl, a Metro station and is surrounded by numerous well-established neighborhoods that want upscale shopping opportunities. Fairfax County records show the population within a three-mile radius of the mall has an average annual household income of $115,000.

'If you had no retail experience and a blindfold on, you could make Springfield Mall a success," McKay said last year.

"I'm looking forward to two Christmases from now when my children will be sitting on Santa's lap-at a revitalized Springfield Mall," McKay said.

'My Favorite Parks'

By Sharon Bulova

he tree I am standing next to in this photo is one of a number of large American Beech trees that populate the forests in Villa Park where I like to hike and jog. Villa Park is located in the central Fairfax area, with an entrance into the park off of Park Drive near Shirley Gate Road.

This park is unique. It has been left in its natural wooded condition and designated a Heritage Resource park to preserve features such as Native American quarries and work/chipping areas. It also contains remnants of the never-completed Independent line of the Manassas Gap Railroad. While no track was ever laid along this rail line, it played a significant role in the Civil War, serving as a little-known transportation route for both Confederate and Union soldiers. The earthworks served as protection during skirmishes.

A number of years ago a Civil War historian told me that he believed soldiers had carved their initials into trees located in Villa Park. The trees near my running path are covered with initials and symbols carved into the smooth grey bark. On the larger trees, the markings have become pretty much unreadable. I don't know if it's true or not, but I like to think these may be the trees my history buff friend was referring

When running along this trail, I imagine passing Native American Indians chipping arrow heads out of hunks of quartz and Civil War camp sites with soldiers drawing water from the Popes Head Creek and passing time by carving their initials or troop insignia in the smooth-barked Beech trees growing nearby. The experience is a perfect marriage of my love for history and nature.

Some other favorite Fairfax parks that interpret our county's fascinating history and showcase its environmental beauty:

* Riverbend Park in Great Falls, includes more than 400 acres of forest, meadow and ponds. Trails include a 2.5-mile portion of the Potomac Heritage Trail linking national and regional parkland. Kayakers and canoeists can enjoy exploring many islands in the Potomac River.

Riverbend's visitor center overlooks the Potomac River and has an outdoor deck that is an ideal place to relax or have a snack after a hike. It has a wonderful interpretative display about the historic Native American presence in the area.

❖ In the South County Hybla Valley area, Huntley Meadows Park contains 1,425 acres of majestic forests, wildflower-speckled meadows and vast wetlands bursting with life. Some of the best wildlife watching in the Washington metropolitan area is enjoyed here. From the wetland boardwalk trail and observation tower, people have excellent views of beavers, frogs, dragonflies and herons. Huntley Meadows is well known as a prime birding spot, with more than 200 species identified in the park.

❖ Lake Accotink Park, located on 7500 Accotink Park Road in Springfield, is one of my favorite parks. Not only is this 493-acre park one of the most scenic in the county, it is also one of the most fun. In addition to boating, hiking, canoeing, and mini-golfing, you can always find a nice quiet spot to enjoy a picnic on the lake. Children love the beautiful antique carousel.

Lake Accotink was originally created to provide drinking water for troops stationed at Camp Humphries (which is now Fort Belvoir) during the early 1900s. The Norfolk Southern Railroad tracks carry D.C.bound VRE commuter rail passengers over the Lake Accotink Dam. Remains of an older former railroad trestle make up part of the four-mile trail that winds around the lake and park.

LEARNING SOMETHING NEW— OPPORTUNITIES FOR EVERYONE

George Mason University, Virginia's largest public college campus, is located in Braddock District, six miles west of the Beltway off Braddock Road and Route 123, and has multiple programs available to the public of all ages. Here is a sample:

All AgesObservatory

Phone: 703-993-9558 Web: physics.gmu.edu/~hgeller/ observing.html

The Observatory at the Fairfax Campus building Research 1 offers a number of informal night sky observing sessions throughout the academic year, and is open to the public. There is a 16-inch diameter Dobsonian telescope in the observatory atop the pier; a 12-inch Schmidt-Cassegrain telescope used on the patio; and a 6-inch refractor originally built by Mason students in 1975. Observing sessions will be canceled if the sky is more than half overcast one hour before the session is scheduled to begin, or if it is too windy (more than 35 miles per hour) to open the observatory dome. Please check the website for the observing schedule and/or cancellation information. Observing sessions last approximately oneand-a-half hours weather permitting.

❖ Potomac Arts Academy

Caroline and William were married when they helped build the family home. They lived with their father, widower Peter Roy, and Caroline's younger sister, Eva. Eva died at the age of 14 and Caroline inherited the property when her father Peter Roy passed away. Caroline and husband William Kirk raised three children of their own on this property; Richard, Woodrow and Eva Jerman. The late Woodrow "Woody" Jerman lived on this property 94 years of his life until he passed away in 2010.

Original photo era 1914. The Property at 6501 Glenbard, Burke, Va. The original home built in 1912 burned and pictured here is the rebuilt Farmhouse as it stood in 1914. Today all of the streets surrounding this property and throughout the Burke area are named after the family members; Peter Roy, William Kirk, and Caroline. The town home neighborhood behind the property is also named after "Caroline" Jerman.

The Little Farmhouse on Glenbard Street

By Brenda Patrick

ou've driven by it a thousand times whether on your way to the stacks at Pohick library, or en route to Lee Chapel retail. The little white Farm House has caught your eye. You tell yourself that you are going to Google it when you get home as you view the vast barn sprawled out on the back acreage and the giant Oak tree shading the property. Something about the tin roof draws you in and you imagine what it would be like to take a nap underneath it on a rainy day. Front and Center is a picturesque garden that you are pretty sure you just saw on Pinterest. This one you can walk right up to and buy fresh vegetables from the young hands of Woodrow "Woody" Jerman's "Great Nieces," Courtney and Kasey Jerman. Tucked inside you can find tomatoes, peppers, pumpkins, chives, rhubarb and other gently grown plants, each and every one surrounded by a hand strung wire fence to keep all genres of wildlife out. The antiquated steel gate you enter welcomes you as it often did visitors to the home for the past century. Everyone wants a good homegrown story. Now I have one for you.

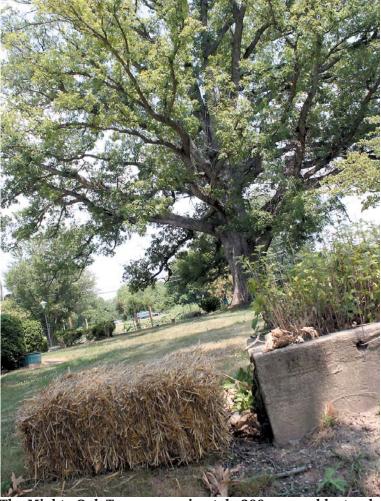

The Jerman property of approximately 180 acres was established in 1912 by the late Peter Roy. Peter was married to Cristina Roy but at the time the property was established he was a widower. He lived there with his daughters Caroline and Eva. (You may have noticed the townhome development behind this property as well as the street that are both named after Caroline). Caroline was married to William Kirk Jerman who also resided there. The original home burned down and was rebuilt in 1914 as you see it today. Eva died as a young girl at the age of 14 on August 6, 1918.

THE JERMAN FAMILY primarily grew hay, barley, vegetables, and corn was a huge crop for them. They had field corn for the cattle and sweet corn for 22 Surke Connection August 23-29, 2012 the Jermans. They were the proud owners of two horses and a plow; which they leased out to neighboring farmers "back in the day." In his spare time, Mr. Jerman helped carve out the basement for Lorton Prison during its construction. The entrepreneurs also ventured out in the collection of trash debris for the community. A hand drawn road map of the trash route was recently discovered tucked in the visor of their 1940 Ford; which was eventually retired to the barn and replaced by a 1969 beauty. Saddled up next to the truck are a couple of vintage tractors, white rod iron beds, original barn doors, cow milking stools, hard corn grinders, a neighboring brooding house for chickens, a needle point chair, and a few oak bureaus. Around the corner you see a water sistern, farm tools, hinges and silo components. The current owner; Rick Jerman, states that there is nothing of intrinsic value sitting around the property but he plans to shine up the memories that are there for him and his family. The attic barn is swept full of historical artifacts and nostalgia. Curious eyes are entertained with the sense and sensibility of the cu-

Grandma's kitchen pantry was almost empty, but kept intact along with her white iron wood burning stove. The Jermans still fire it up on occasion to knock off the chill on a cold winter day. The interior walls of the farmhouse are a crisp white vanilla with the original hard wood floors. Necessary updates and renovations were made to the kitchen, bathrooms, and laundry room, but the massive staircase leading to four secluded bedrooms anchors this dwelling. One can easily shake hands with all members of the Jerman family while hugging the smooth bannister and coasting up and down the lofty staircase. Grandma Jerman's detached wash building is adjacent to the kitchen with remnants of buckets and soap washed glass windows.

The Mighty Oak Tree, approximately 200 years old, stands tall and strong shading the Jerman Property at 6501 Glenbard Street. A lightening rod rope extends top to bottom to protect the tree and the Farmhouse from storms. Skeletal strands of ancient ivy sprawl up the height of the tree.

Rick Jerman toils away on his vegetable garden during his free time from his career as an IT Specialist. Tilling soil, planting and spending hours at the Jerman vegetable stands were part of his 54 years on this property. Rick has spent the past two years renovating the family farmhouse he inherited and curating various family relics on the property. He hopes to instill in his two daughters the values of hard work and simple living.

The Little Farmhouse

200 year old Oak tree shading the home. There is a certain yearning to want to climb each limb or strap on a tire swing. A wire strings down the side to protect it from lightening but one is tempted to scale the side of the tree as it would take a step ladder to get to the first limb.

The afternoon sun spotlights the American Flag which is raised daily by the front porch near where the old swing used to be. Woodrow "Woody" Jerman served with the Army's Air Force during the WWII campaign primarily working with B25s. Courtney and Kasey Jerman have carefully preserved these memories of timeless photos in a collage memorial for their late Great Uncle who passed away in 2010.

The brooding house boasts a solar panel in its interior meant to keep the mother hens warm as they bridled their nests. Wire chicken egg baskets are the homes of birds and hay scattered in the rafters of the barn. Some can be found upturned in the garden to train the growth of chives. Towers of produce baskets lay in wait for this year's harvest. Faded letters on the old Ford and corn husked baskets make visible the years of use and anticipation for the coming season.

After receiving a spontaneous tour of the property, Rick Jerman humbly recalled planting gardens with his Grandfather and Uncle over the years. Every summer he harvested and then spent time at the vegetable stand earning money for his school supplies and clothes that year. He can't part with the dairy milking stools as those too bring back early hours spent in the barn. A certain dedication and tone of respect hangs in the air when this man speaks of his tamily and his past. It is the simple life, the hard working pulse that he holds on to. He spends his work week as an IT specialist but moon lights as a calloused palmed farmer. Mr. Jerman brightens when he talks about his teenaged daughters and he enjoys sharing the fundamentals of simple living with them. They stand tall as the fifth generation of the Jerman line from this community. Both attended Sangster Elementary School and are current students at Lake Braddock Secondary.

We have all enjoyed the fruits and labors of the Jerman Clan as most of the property we enjoy in the Springfield/Burke area was once their own. Many a Saturday gatherings of friends and family can be seen emerging from the barn. If you are walking by, you can pick up on early morning chatter by the fence post of the garden. Guidance by fellow farmers is welcome. One can overhear discussions of planting strategies, and about how the growing Rhubarb is just about "finished up" for this season. Be advised that a home crafted pie is coming by later. Tomatoes are handed out to loved ones; but only a few, with the promise that you will return for a refill.

So next time you pass this little old farm, think of the outpouring of love, blood, sweat, and tears that this family put in to this community. Tip your hat to the owner; Rick Jerman, who hasn't given in to tearing down our roots, or that of the Mighty Oak. This is Burke at its finest; the Little Farmhouse on Glenbard Street.

Fairfax Station's Yates Places 3rd in Nation

On Saturday, Aug. 4, Fairfax Station resident Emma Yates, 11, captured third place in the long-distance softball throw event at the 2012 Hershey Track and Field North American Final in Hershey, Pa.

Yates threw a career-best 140 feet. The winner threw 159 feet and the second-place finisher threw 154 feet. Yates qualified for the 2012 North American final after winning the 2012 Virginia state championship in July. She was also the Virginia state champion in 2010, but did not qualify for the North American final that year. Yates also won the 2012 Fairfax County and Northern Region events prior to the state event and qualified after her throw in Charlottesville was the longest throw in the Southeast Zone of the U.S.

Yates plays catcher, shortstop and pitcher for the SYA Xplosion 12U travel team.

"When she is behind the plate, no one runs on her," said Yates' head coach, Jay Booth. "The kid has a cannon."

Yates is a rising sixth grader at Silverbrook Elementary School and will attend South County Secondary School.

THIS IS "JUNE"

June may be the summer surprise you've been hoping for. She's adorable, a real sweetheart, very smart and loving to everyone who crosses her path. She will play for hours with her siblings, but would love to have someone special to call her very own. If a 20 pound, 3 month old bundle of joy is on your summer wish list, come and meet June and have years of best summers forever. CONECTION
