Welcome

Dear Readers:

This week, the Springfield Connection turns over its pages to the youth and students. We asked principals and teachers from area schools to encourage students to contribute their words, pictures and photos for our annual Children's Issue.

The response, as always, was enormous. While we were unable to publish every piece we received, we did our best to put together a paper with a fair sampling of the submitted stories, poems, drawings, paintings, photographs and other works of art.

We appreciate the extra effort made by school staff to gather the materials during their busy time leading up to the holidays. We'd also like to encourage both schools and parents to mark their 2013 calendars for early December, the deadline for submissions for next year's Children's Connection.

Please keep us in mind as your children continue to create spectacular works of art and inspiring pieces of writing in the coming year.

The children's issue is only a part of our year-round commitment to cover education and our local schools. As always, the Connection welcomes letters to the editor, story ideas, calendar listings and notices of local events from our readers. Photos and other submissions about special events at schools are especially welcome for our weekly schools pages.

Our preferred method for material is e-mail, which should be sent to south@connectionnewspapers.com, but you can reach us by mail at 1606 King Street, Alexandria, VA 22314 or call 703-778-9414 with any questions.

The Day We Made Lunch for the School!

As my friends and I strutted into the cafeteria for breakfast, we noticed the place had been left a mess. I noticed a mysterious looking note on the table. I read the note out loud. "Got sick... Kitchen a mess... Clean up... Then Cook!" I told my friends Miguel and Jonathan to grab a hairnet and an apron. They asked me why. "We are going to make lunch for the school," I replied in a stern voice.

"Whaaat?" they said at the same time.

"We have to! We can't let the Mighty Mustangs go without lunch!" I said as we began walking toward the hairnets and aprons.

"Okay, fine," Jonathan said with a sigh.

"I'm in too!" Miguel said. What should we cook? What about hamburgers with fries and for dessert, vanilla ice cream with hot fudge, nuts, cherries, and whipped cream?

We began getting our ingredients together. I grabbed the ice cream and toppings. Miguel was on burgers and Jonathan had the fries all covered. I could see both of them fidgeting with the hairnets as they flipped burgers and dunked fries in sizzling oil.

"I'm tired of wearing this hairnet!" Jonathan shouted out with frustration.

"Me too!" Miguel yelled over the sizzling sound of fries. "Fine, you don't have to wear the hairnets, but keep the aprons on," I demanded. "Let's stay focused here."

"Yessss!" They shouted as they high-fived each other. Let's get back to work. We have over 500 orders of fries and burgers to make.

Minutes later, I noticed we were working in perfect harmony until Miguel shouted, "We're out of burgers! To be honest I dropped a few patties as I was trying to get the hang of things," Miguel admitted. We have to come up with an idea quickly. Fifth grade lunch is in less than 45 minutes!

"We should make chicken tenders. Kids love chicken tenders and fries. Besides, we already have fries," Jonathan suggested. We all ran to the basement where we knew the meats were kept. We ran over to the huge freezer in the corner only to find packages of chicken frozen solid. We don't have time for the chicken tenders to thaw out. With panic in our hearts and sweaty palms, we decided to scan the refrigerator. When we opened the refrigerator, it was like time had stopped. There it was... packages and packages of the fifth grade favorite!

Ribs! Ribs! Ribs, we shouted while doing the happy dance. We ran back to the cafeteria, turned on the stove and dumped all the ribs in a huge pot. We could hear classes filing in the cafeteria right as we began to drop ribs and fries on the red Styrofoam trays. We served the ribs, fries and ice cream to hundreds of kids that day. It was a homerun! We even had some left over for us to try.

Yummy! We murmured while wiping rib sauce off our mouths.

I can say for sure that the next time I see a mysterious note in the cafeteria, I'll leave it alone!

Photo Essay: My Dog Pepper

My labradoodle loves to put her cold nose on my exposed hand or foot first thing in the morning as if to say "Get up! Your dog requires your attention! Get up!" She puts her butt high in the air with her front paws stretched way out in front and wags her tail when inviting you to play. Pepper loves to chase all things that scurry into HER backyard . . . squirrels, birds, chipmunks and the occasional cat or fox. She LOVES to play in leaf piles and flops down in them with glee . . . occasionally hiding a very important stick. She turns into a ball of fluff, lying on her back, bent like a pretzel, when she thinks you rubbing her belly is a great idea. You can almost hear her say, "Rub my belly. You know you want to." And I do.
