Time for Fun at Cox Farms

Fall Festival for families, Fields of Fear for teens.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
CENTRE VIEW

The weather may feel like springtime but, at Cox Farms, the annual fall festival will soon be in full swing. It's 90 acres of family fun at 15621 Braddock Road, just off Pleasant Valley Road, in Centreville.

Every year, the fall festival draws thousands of people a week from throughout the Washington Metropolitan area, and this year's 41st annual extravaganza should be no exception.

"It's been a local tradition for generations," said Lucas Cox, partner and "co-farmer-in-chief" with his sibling, Aaron Cox-Richard. "It's the most fun people can have outside during the fall season."

During the day, Cox Farms features giant slides, hayrides, rope swings, farm animals and their babies, a goat village, food, live entertainment, a pumpkin patch and a Cornundrum Cornfield Adventure. Then at night, older teens and adults can get their share of thrills and chills via the fright-filled Fields of Fear.

The festival runs daily from Sept. 28-Nov. 5, from 10 a.m.-6 p.m., and from Nov. 1-5, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Fields of Fear is open Friday and Saturday nights, Sept. 27-Nov. 2, from 7:30-11 p.m., plus a bonus night, Sunday, Oct. 13.

The pumpkin-smashing event, Pumpkin Madness, is set for Saturday-Sunday, Nov. 2-3, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. For ticket prices, see www.coxfarms.com.

HAYRIDE

The ever-popular hayride lasts 20 minutes and travels by vignettes, including cartoon characters in the cornfield, comical space aliens, a witches' house, superheroes, cowboys on horseback and a wild-west town. "Almost everyone who comes to Cox Farms goes on our famous hayride," said Cox. "And although we add to and improve it every year, people like to revisit the classic scenes, year after year."

At the end, the hayride travels through a large, enchanted wizarding barn filled with music, flashing lights and scenes of wizards, witches and magical plants and creatures. "We changed the music back to the traditional, Cox Farms party-barn song, this year," said Cox. "We also added lots of lights and smoke."

Long-Distance Cycling For Campus Safety

Gran Fondo to raise funds for VTV Family Outreach Foundation.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
CENTRE VIEW

Gran Fondos are long-distance, group cycling rides that originated in Italy. And on Saturday, Oct. 5, the new Mosaic District in Fairfax will host the third annual VTV Gran Fondo for Campus Safety.

Presented by the VTV Family Outreach Foundation, it's open to both recreational and competitive bicyclists, who'll travel either 100- or 32-mile routes. Proceeds from the event will support VTV's mission to improve school safety across the nation and assist victims of mass tragedies.

Arlington's Omar Samaha, 29, will be among the participants, enjoying the ride with the VTV Cycling Team. But for him, it's also personal — his sister Reema, a 2006 Westfield High grad, was one of the students killed in the April, 16, 2007 shooting massacre at Virginia Tech. And he's dedicating his ride to her, to everyone affected by that tragedy and to all victims and survivors of gun violence across the U.S.

"My sister was one of 32 innocent lives taken from us [that day]," he said. "These were our friends, sisters, brothers, parents and children. Our nation's universities and schools didn't seem like a safe place, anymore, so the families and survivors of the Virginia Tech shooting bonded together after the tragedy and created a [nonprofit] foundation dedicated to making our schools safer so others would never have to endure the same pain."

The Oct. 5 event is open to the public and includes food trucks, boutique vendors, music and entertainment near the finish line. Spots are available for additional vendors on a first-come basis. And if the VT football game is televised that day, it'll be shown on Mosaic's 40-foot, outdoor Jumbotron.

The 100-mile ride to Quantico starts at 8:30 a.m., and the 32-mile ride to Burke Lake begins at 2 p.m., near the registration tent by Fresh Bikes. Both routes start and finish in the Mosaic District at 2910 District Ave. in Merrifield.

Charitable entry fees are 100 miles, $80; 32 miles, $60; students, 50-percent off; first-responders, 25-percent off. Cost includes refreshments, a dinner

Chasing the Dream, One Day at a Time

Chantilly grads' Wings of Apollo still aflight.

BY JENNIFER BENITZ
CENTRE VIEW

Traveling from Nashville, Tenn., the native Northern Virginia band Wings of Apollo made its way back to one of its original hot spots — Jammin Java in Vienna — for its Sept. 1 performance. The show brought in a sold-out crowd, as well as a flood of memories for the trio.

"It was a really nostalgic weekend for all three of us, seeing where we started and acknowledging what we've gone through over the years," said David Martin, the band's drummer. "It makes us appreciate the success we [have] already had and the direction we're going now."

Wings of Apollo has come a long way since its first performance at the venue a couple of years ago. The band, which is made up of Jesse Korby, 26, guitar-playing vocalist; Pat Graves, 25, bass player; and Martin, 23, had the chance to reflect on where they started and how far they've gone since those days.

Formally rivals from various bands in high school, they came together in August 2007 to form a new band, just days before each of them went in different directions for the school year. While attending separate colleges, the Chantilly High School graduates spent much of their time in the beginning years apart — often times practicing on their own before sharing it electronically amongst each other.

"We initially saw the distance as a hinder," said Graves. "But it actually turned out to be a blessing in disguise."

Perseverance dominated as the Northern Virginia natives remained adamant on their ultimate goal of making music their lifetime career focus. Rather than allowing the distance to impede on progress, they took it as the opportunity to focus on their own interests while working hard on their own contributions — the music, instrument and influences — before coming together and meshing their different perspectives.

They started off as a local band, performing cover songs at nearby venues during college breaks. Now six years in the running, the band has performed at Jammin Java several times over the years, and they've come back with greater success each time — this performance being no exception.

"It was nice to play where we really began," said Korby, regarding the Sept. 1 show. "We really came full circle."

The idea to move to Nashville came when Korby had the opportunity to visit and meet some people in the area while helping a friend with music.

"When I got here, I just loved the way music was revered in the city, and [I loved] the landscape," said Korby. "It just felt free and relaxed, and a place where you could be creative."

That was enough for the band, eager to see what opportunities were in store for them elsewhere. While Korby and Graves waited for Martin to finish up classes, they packed up and headed south in the winter of 2011.

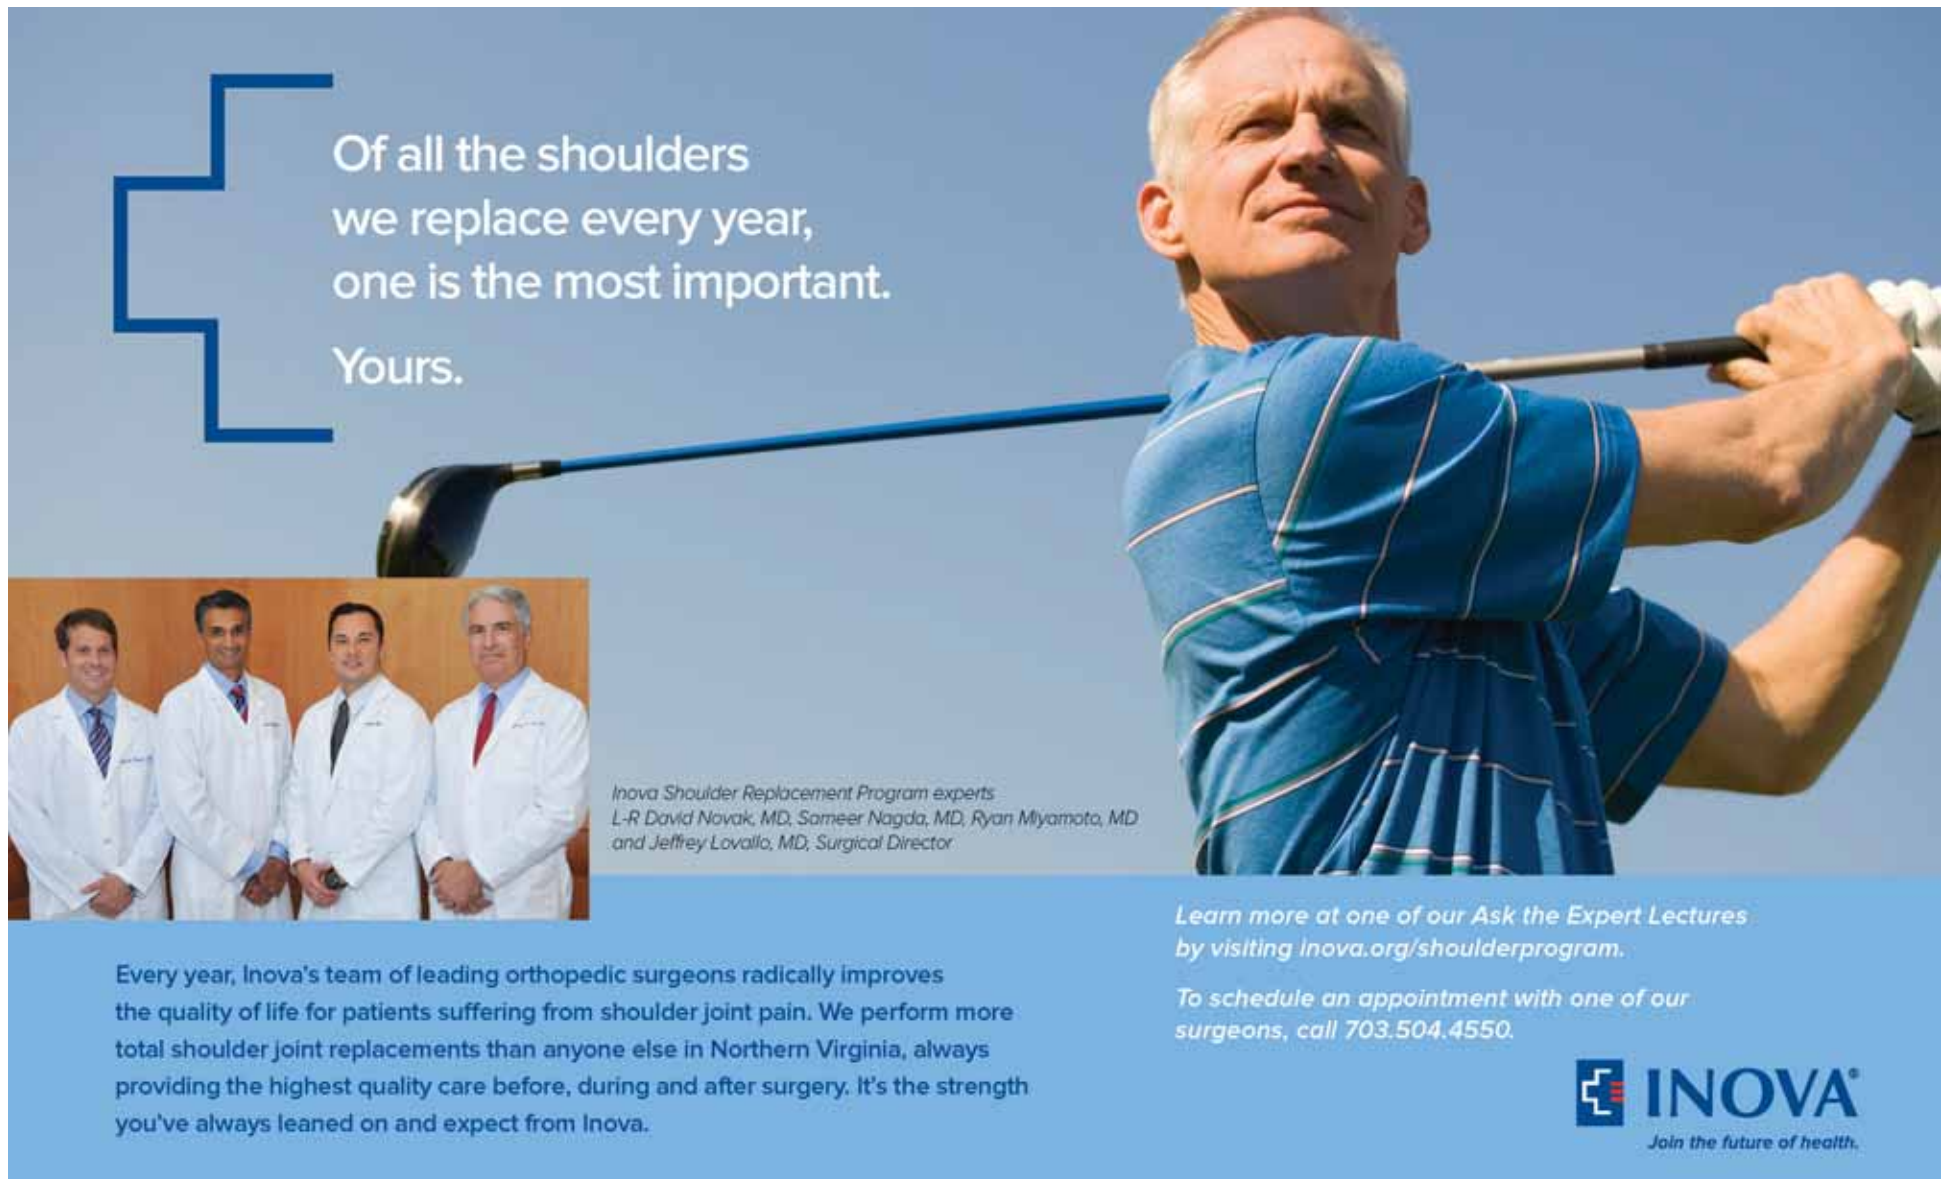

"We didn't know Nashville, but we knew we wanted music to be our lifelong career," said Graves. With no plan in mind, the aspiring musicians held on to their hopes of being one step closer in pursuing their goal. The two quickly realized, however, that more obstacles lay ahead than anticipated.

"We couldn't do it," said Korby. "We had to survive. We didn't have

Large Shelter Dogs Discounted

The Fairfax County Animal Shelter has received an influx of large dogs in recent weeks and is now offering a half-off discount for all adoptive dogs over 40 pounds through September. Many of the large dogs are very active and need exercise. They're also loyal, friendly and highly sociable and just want human companionship. The shelter is 4500 West Ox Road in Fairfax; it's open Fridays until 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

BamBam needs a home.

Free Carseat Inspections

Certified technicians from the Sully District Police Station will perform free, child safety carseat inspections Thursday, Sept. 26, from 5-8:30 p.m., at the station, 4900 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly. No appointment is necessary. But residents should install the child safety seats themselves so technicians may properly inspect and adjust them, as needed.

However, because of time constraints, only the first 35 vehicles arriving on each date will be inspected. That way, inspectors may have enough time to properly instruct the caregiver on the correct use of the child seat. Call 703-814-7000, ext. 5140, to confirm dates and times.

Get Neighborhood Watch Info

Anyone interested in becoming involved in Neighborhood Watch or stating such a group in their community can learn how to do so. A meeting on this topic will be held Monday, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p.m., in the Sully District Governmental Center, 4900 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly. For more information or to RSVP, contact FCPDSULCPO@fairfaxcounty.gov or call 703-814-7018.

Firefighters Wear Pink, Purple

Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department personnel will don pink shirts from Oct. 1-14 for Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and then wear purple wristbands in support of Domestic Violence Month, from October 15-31.

For the latter event, firefighters will wear purple wristbands with the message, "Speak Out to End Domestic Violence," on one side, and "Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Department," on the other.

Immigration Advocate Summit

The Centreville Immigration Forum (CIF) is one of the organizations sponsoring the fourth annual Immigration Summit. It will be held Friday, Oct. 4, from 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m., at Annandale United Methodist Church, 6935 Columbia Pike in Annandale. Registration opens at 8:30 a.m.

Advocates from across the state, including leaders and members of some of the state's most active immigrant organizations, will gather to discuss the current state of comprehensive immigration reform. They'll review legislative priorities for the coming session of the Virginia General Assembly, including full implementation of the Affordable Care Act.

They'll also plan and develop action steps to address the specific concerns of the immigrant community and mobilize advocates. Attendees may learn about topics such as accessing the new, health-insurance marketplace; implementation of the Affordable Care Act in Virginia; voting protection; and immigration fraud.

Help Plan Centreville Day

Local residents are invited to help plan the annual Centreville Day celebration slated for Oct. 19 in Centreville's Historic District. Come to the Centreville Day Planning Committee meeting on Monday, Oct. 7, at 7:30 p.m., at the Sully District Governmental Center, 4900 Stonecroft Blvd. in Chantilly.

For a Good Cause

Chantilly girl collects funds for Bite Me Cancer.

Besides being tasty, lemonade and cookies can also raise money for a worthy cause. And 12-year-old Rachel DiCesare of Chantilly is using them to do just that for the charity, Bite Me Cancer.

She's already held two, lemonade-stand fundraisers this month, on Sept. 18 and 25, and will hold one more this Friday, Sept. 27, from 3:30-5 p.m., at the corner of Melville Lane and Granite Rock Drive in Chantilly.

"We chose this location since it's near Poplar Tree Elementary, which both my kids attended," said Rachel's mom, Joanne DiCesare. "We thought parents and children could get a snack there on their way home from school."

Bite Me Cancer (BMC) is the nonprofit foundation begun by Chantilly's Nikki Ferraro after being diagnosed with thyroid cancer at age 17. It raises money to fund research grants, plus support bags filled with music, a message from Ferraro and other items to help other teens battling cancer.

Rachel will be 13 in December and, in preparation for her Bat Mitzvah to become a Jewish adult, she must do a "mitzvah" or good-deed project in which she actually makes a meaningful connection to something. So she chose to help Bite Me Cancer.

"I knew about Nikki because a good friend's daughter was on the Relay for Life team Nikki started at Chantilly High," said DiCesare. "And I had thyroid cancer twice."

Furthermore, she said, Rachel's a caring person who wanted to start her own foundation to help people. "So I suggested she meet the Ferraros and see if [volunteering for BMC] was something she wanted to do," said DiCesare. "I figured she might be able to continue on with them and learn something — and they've been wonderful; Nikki is inspiring."

So Rachel, a seventh-grader at Rocky Run Middle School, sent an e-mail to relatives, plus friends and neighbors in her community, telling them about her project and asking for their contributions. She noted that thyroid cancer is the fastest-growing cancer in the U.S. and that September is national Thyroid Cancer Awareness Month.

She then asked them to "stop by and purchase some mouthwatering lemonade, amazingly delicious cookies, (specially homemade by Emily Rincon), and Bite Me Cancer wristbands. Visit my lemonade stand and take advantage of this tasty opportunity and support a great cause, all at the same time."

Lemonade costs $1 a glass, cookies are $2 each and BMC wristbands are also $2. Rachel's goal is to raise $500 for the organization, and she's also holding a raffle. Tickets at her stand are $2 each or $5 for three. First prize is a BMC string bag with surprises inside; second prize, BMC T-shirt; and third prize, BMC water bottle. The drawing is Oct. 18.

Rincon is Rachel's neighbor and a professional chef, and she's making sugar cookies iced with the colorful BMC logo on them. As for Rachel, her mom says she's "having a blast" with the lemonade stands.

"We've gotten a lot of community support and encouragement," said DiCesare. "People have also donated cash and written checks beyond their purchase amount. Or if they don't buy anything, but just donate, then their donations are tax-deductible."

Those unable to make it to Friday's lemonade stand, but still wishing to contribute, may go to www.bitemecancer.org by Oct. 11 and donate to BMC on behalf of Rachel's Mitzvah Project.

When Rachel's not busy with school and fundraising, she plays CYA travel softball and basketball and enjoys singing. "I'm just really proud of the maturity and passion she has in the way she approaches everything in life," said her mom. "And we've had a great time doing this."

Nikki's mother, Sharon Ferraro, is also delighted about Rachel's interest in the foundation and appreciates all she's doing. Said Ferraro: "With September being Thyroid Cancer Awareness Month, it's especially special to us that Rachel wants to help out in such a big way — with her mom's help, of course."

"If Rachel could be anything like Nikki — selfless and giving — I'd be happy," said DiCesare. "She's

On Oct. 19, Chantilly's Eric Latcheran, 26, who has Down Syndrome, and his mom, Gina Latcheran, will walk in the Best Buddies D.C. Challenge, benefiting the Best Buddies Virginia Chapter. But they each must raise money for Best Buddies — which promotes friendships with and jobs for people with intellectual disabilities — before they can participate.

So last Wednesday, Sept. 18, Sweet Frog in the Greenbriar Town Center donated 15 percent of its sales all day to their efforts, yielding $195.

"The manager, Cindy Chao, was just wonderful," said Gina Latcheran. "She spoke with Eric and printed and displayed our flyers. She made the fundraiser a lot of fun and made us feel so welcome. A nice parade of friends and neighbors came to Sweet Frog. And when someone came in that we didn't know, we made new friends."

Dedicated to Preventing Drinking and Driving

PFC Matt Bell is honored as Officer of the Month.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
CENTRE VIEW

In 2012, there were 105 alcohol-related crashes in the Sully Police District. So PFC Matthew Bell decided to do something about it, beyond his normal duties. And for his efforts, he was recognized Sept. 11 as the Sully District Station's Citizens Advisory Committee's (CAC) Officer of the Month for September.

"Matt's always been a creative officer, doing the right thing," said Capt. Ed O'Carroll, the station commander. "And tonight he's being honored for an idea he brought to [Assistant Station Commander] Lt. [Rich] Morvillo and I."

Concerned about the numerous, impaired drivers continuing to endanger people's lives on the road and contribute to so many serious crashes in Fairfax County, Bell proposed the creation of a DUI Enforcement Officer position.<sup>o</sup>

It was an unprecedented idea to increase police enforcement, education about and prevention of alcohol-related crashes. As a result, the Sully District commanders selected Bell on June 1 to head the station's DUI Enforcement Officer Program — projected to be in place through Dec. 31.

He was also chosen for this program because of his strong, working knowledge of traffic laws and DWI statutes, plus his high number of alcohol-related arrests. But to do this job properly, said Morvillo, "PFC Bell, at personal inconvenience to him and his family, agreed to work a modified power shift to include nights and a majority of weekends."

And so far, the results have been impressive. As of Sept. 11, there were just 47 alcohol-related crashes in the Sully District. "Since taking over June 1, PFC Bell has arrested over 24 people for drunk driving," said O'Carroll. "In the entire district, we normally have 230-240 arrests in a whole year, so his hard work is unprecedented."

O'Carroll said no other police station has a DUI-enforcement program like the one Bell suggested. "He's on the front line and has stopped, not only many — but very — drunk drivers," said O'Carroll. "He's exceeded my expectations and has arrested habitual offenders, as well."

Noting that it's a dangerous job — "it often happens at night and sometimes officers are injured" — O'Carroll said, "We appreciate all his hard work." Bell then thanked the captain for listening to his idea, in the first place, and also thanked the CAC for his award.

Added Morvillo: "For his superior service to traffic enforcement, for making our roads safer against dangerous driving, and for his caring attitude to our profession and the community we serve, we are proud to honor PFC Matthew Bell as Officer of the Month for September."

Police Concerned About 'Molly'/ Ecstasy Use

Fairfax County Police Organized Crime and Narcotics Unit detectives have seen approximately 168 cases involving MDMA — also known as ecstasy or "Molly" — an average of eight per month between January 2012 and August 2013.

MDMA is a semi-synthetic, chemical compound that has been increasing in popularity across the nation, especially among high-school and college-aged students. While it is most often seen in pill form, it also comes in powder and capsules.

This drug "Molly" can be a mixture of caffeine and speed and other stimulants; it's known as a recreational psychoactive. And between January 2012 and August 2013, the OCN Unit seized some 16.67 pounds of MDMA and more than 3,000 pills. Police remind residents that parents are still the strongest influencers in their children's lives. They urge parents to help make their children, of all ages, safer by having a discussion about illegal drugs.

The Unified Prevention Coalition and the Partnership for a Drug-Free America suggest that parents "make time to talk with children; explain the risks of these drugs. Learn the signs of drug use and how to intervene. Go to www.drugfree.org/. Educate family members on the harmful effects of drugs; make it clear you don't approve of drug use. Secure prescription drugs in the home. Get involved; learn more at <http://unifiedpreventioncoalition.org/>."

a plan or jobs." Soon, working multiple jobs left little time for networking, let alone any income to record an album.

"The most important thing is not to go without learning and reading something new every day," said Korby. "And making sure you're sticking to your guns and moving in the right direction while acquiring that new information. Make sure every day when you wake up, you're a better person than you were the day before."

Over time, fans, friends and family garnered enough money to help the band finance an album. In June 2012, the trio entered the studio and managed to record 10 songs in 11 days, completing their debut album.

Easily putting in 14-hour days over the years, the bandmates have worked diligently and the hard work is paying off. Since starting six years ago, Wings of Apollo has performed in front of sold-out crowds, headlined shows, played alongside some of their favorite bands, and had their largest and best show to-date in one of Nashville's most legendary venues.

"We didn't know exactly how to do it," said Martin, in regard to pursuing their lifetime goal of being musicians, "but to keep going until we got it. Six years later, we're still on the road."

With their music downloaded in over 75 countries, Wings of Apollo's success is growing each day. Now working towards their second album, with a single to be soon released on iTunes and a possible tour in the works for 2014, the band is only beginning.

"We're excited to get up every day and see the places we get to see and meet the people we get to meet," said Korby. "We [want to] make the world a better place with music."

Vote It will matter who is elected governor.

Absentee voting has already begun; Election Day is Tuesday, Nov. 5. If you've read this far, you care enough that voting is absolutely essential.

On the ballot:

Every Virginia voter will vote for governor; lieutenant governor; attorney general and their member of the House of Delegates.

At the top of the ticket, there are stark differences in the vision for Virginia held by the candidates of each party.

While almost all the coverage and advertising has focused on the significant negatives of the two major party candidates for governor, one of these two men will in fact be elected governor and serve as governor for the next four years. It will make a huge difference which one.

It shouldn't take very much research for you to determine which candidate holds views closer to your own. What is critical is that you don't let the negatives about personality or other details keep you from voting. It matters. Figure out which one is your candidate and get out and vote.

Also on the ballot in Fairfax County: sheriff, and the school bond.

From now until Saturday, Nov. 2, you can vote absentee in person for a variety of reasons, but you must sign a form affirming that you do qualify. Almost everyone with a job in Northern Virginia qualifies for one particular reason, however: your work plus commute time would be 11 hours or more between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Election Day. Other reasons include planned travel, pregnancy, illness or disability, being a student out of area, and more. Voters can also vote absentee by mail.

It's worth looking at the absentee ballot application online before going to vote absentee in person. <http://www.sbe.virginia.gov/Files/Forms/VoterForms/ABApplication.pdf>

FALL FUN

Fall Festival for Families, Fields of Fear for Teens

The free, weekend events also include the pumpkin slingshot — the festival's most-popular game — plus entertainment on the music stage. Live bands perform, and Farmer Jack sings and tells stories while milking his cow, Bingo. The 20-25 bands — including The Page County Ramblers, Jimmy Cole All Stars, Tom Blood & Late as Usual, and Patty Reese Band — will perform blue grass, country and classic rock music.

Visitors may also enjoy the mining sluice. It's a tower that dumps water into a large, curvy trench where people can pan for fossils, gemstones and arrowheads. And this year, said Cox, "We've improved the mining sluice so it feels as if you're actually going into a mineshaft."

FARM ANIMALS

Bunnyville, inside the slide barn, returns for its second year. A slide comes out of the top of the barn, and the bottom part houses Bunnyville. There's a model of Washington, D.C., with the monuments and White House, and the bunnies jump around in them. "We have about a dozen bunnies," said Cox. "People thought this was pretty funny." Actually, Cox Farms has animals galore. Children may feed baby goats in their own goat village. Alpacas are on the mountain leading up to the dinosaur slide and a couple peacock roam free. There are also baby chicks, hens and chickens, rabbits, turkeys, pigs and piglets, calves, milking cows and a llama.

"We expanded the pen a little bit, and the goats and chickens are in the farm-chores area now," said Cox. "And the sheep are now near the dino slide."

Geared for 2-6-year-olds, the farm-chores area features old-fashioned water pumps and troughs, a corn conveyor belt, chicken coop and a little garden where children may pump water into buckets and water the crops. And new this year, they may also lift up straw bales by a rope and pulley.

The Kiddie Zone, for children 5 and under, also gives them a calmer place to play. The fun includes smaller themed slides, rope swings, hay bales and a wooden train. Little ones may also play on the Three Little Pigs' house and slide and climb on a wooden Jeep in the front yard.

SLIDES, FIRE ENGINE, FOOD

Festival visitors will also enjoy the five giant slides, straw tunnels and the Cornundrum Cornfield Adventure. The latter features funhouse mirrors, a hall of doors, giant vortex and a pirate ship. Also there is the Great Pyramid with hieroglyphics and some surprises inside.

Cox is excited about the festival's newest addition, a red, 1961 fire engine. "It has two slides coming out of the back so kids can climb up, go across and slide down," he said. "It's close to Fairyland Castle and is beautiful and lots of fun."

Food is available for purchase throughout the farm. The selection includes hot dogs, hamburgers, nachos, Dominion root beer and root-beer floats. Home-smoked, pulled-pork, barbecue sandwiches are also on the menu.

"They were a big hit last year," said Cox. "We sold out every day we had them. And our chocolate-chip and sugar cookies are super-tasty. We've also got two, new, kettle-corn machines, and we're now making our own caramel apples."

Fresh cider and apples are free. And if desired, visitors may bring their own lunches (no alcohol) for picnics on the grounds. They may also buy a wide variety of treats in the farm's market. The goodies include freshly baked apple pies, local apples, kettle corn, fresh cider, dessert breads, jams, local honey, Indian corn, squash, gourds and fall decorations. Visitors even get to choose a free, patch pumpkin to take home.

FIELDS OF FEAR

Once night falls, however, scary creatures are everywhere, so the 20-acre Fields of Fear isn't recommended for children under 12; and anyone under 14 must be accompanied by an adult, 18 or older.

Hardy souls brave enough to enter the Fields of Fear are led to the Cornnightmare to experience cornfield terrors in the dark. There, they walk through the Hall of Whispers, Bug Room and Claustrophobia, secluded in tall corn with creatures that aren't human. There are also crazed clowns, plus a new, secret finale to the Cornnightmare.

And not to be missed is the Dark Side Hayride Zombie Zoo. "It's really fun and very scary," said Cox. "There are 30-plus zombies out there, and people can learn about and have the thrill of contact with them in a safe environment. We spared no expense on security, making sure the zombies cannot escape." But after all, this is the Fields of Fear, so anything can happen ....

The Firegrounds is also part of the nighttime events, but it's fun and not frightening. Cox Farms' six-lane slide is open for rides by torchlight, and there are giant bonfires where people can hang out, listen to music and roast marshmallows. And performing will be a fire dancer and a magician. All in all, the fall festival has something for all ages. "We're still family owned and operated, and we love to see new families, as well as those who return every year," said Cox.

"I see Cox Farms and this festival as a place where people can escape the daily grind, let it all go, be outside and just have fun for a day."

"My personal goal for the festival is to have everyone laugh and have a good time," he continued. "From the heart, the reason Aaron and I do this is to put smiles on people's faces while they're walking around here."

Blood and Guts 5K Race

5,000 expected for apocalyptic zombie race at Bull Run Regional Park on Oct. 26.

BY STEVE HIBBARD
CENTRE VIEW

With Halloween just around the corner, the second-annual Blood and Guts 5K Run will take place Saturday, Oct. 26 at Bull Run Regional Park in Centreville. About 4,000 people have already signed up; 5,000 are expected to attend.

Runners will trudge through a 5K apocalypse obstacle course while zombies shoot at them with "blood"-filled water guns. The race takes place every half-hour starting at 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Cost is $79 to enter until Oct. 25. There are $20 discounts available on the website: www.bloodandgutsrun.com.

"It's a fun run," said organizer Max Bawarski, 30, of Manassas, who wanted to create something challenging. "I want running to be fun and for everyone to have a great time."

The obstacle course is low- to moderate-risk and is designed for runners of all ages and ability levels. Highlights include a blood and guts pit, climbing walls, tire gauntlet, hay bale pyramid, pumpkin guts pit, steeplechase, cargo nets, a mudslide, and for the grand finale — a blood and guts pit filled with spaghetti. About 75 trash cans filled with "blood" reserves will be used by the zombies for restocking.

Bawarski is a physical education teacher (grades K-6) at Providence Elementary in the City of Fairfax. He said the official race motto is: "We're the wildest 5K zombie obstacle course." Bawarski was an All-American runner and track star in 2002; he graduated from Cortland State College in New York.

"I wanted people to have fun and have a great workout. And if we have great weather, it will be a perfect day," he said.

Runners are encouraged to wear Halloween costumes or white T-shirts. Prizes will be awarded for wildest individual, wildest couple, wildest team costumes plus for bloodiest and muddiest runners.

A deejay and live bands will be performing rock music, '90s, and grunge music throughout the day. Some of the bands include: Brownstone, Guilty Pleasure, Hot Buttered Elvis, Stormin' Norman and Isabella's Furnace. Food and drinks will be available.

A portion of the proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society, U.S. military and veterans associations, and local school districts.

Runners will receive a custom-made Blood and Guts T-shirt and medal. Participants will receive their prizes when they complete the 5K obstacle course.

So far, about 200 volunteers have signed up as volunteer zombies, makeup artists, security, and miscellaneous positions. But more are needed. Volunteers receive free admission for the Blood and Guts Run, free Blood and Guts Run T-shirt, and a free Blood and Guts Run medal. To volunteer, contact Max@BloodandGutsRun.com or 571-969-4887.

SCHOOLS

Supporting Wounded Warrior Project

For the past 12 years, Saint Timothy Catholic School has paused to reflect on the honor and sacrifice of many of the servicemen and women. The class officers —from left Grace Vogel, Jenna Salzano, Luke Caracciolo and Frankie McCarthy — presented a $1,000 check to the Wounded Warrior Project at Walter Reed Medical Center earlier this month. The Wounded Warrior Project serves veterans and service members who incurred injury or illness as part of their military service since Sept. 11, 2001. The class officers organized a Sept. 11 Free Dress Day and sponsored a Gatorade Sale during the school lunches to raise these funds.

WHS Band Pursue Funds for Rose Bowl Trip

The Westfield High School Marching Bulldogs broke a fundraising record recently as they continue on their journey toward the 2014 Rose Parade in Pasadena, Calif. on New Year's Day. While support for the band is growing, due to greater community participation and backing by local businesses and politicians, the band still needs to raise nearly $100,000 to reach its goal of $270,000.

Rallying around the band — only the third Virginia public high school to march in the 125-year history of the Rose Parade, and one of only 12 high school bands selected for the 2014 Rose Parade — Del. Jim LeMunyon reached out to his constituents, requesting that they join him in financially supporting the 270 Westfield students who will be representing not only their school and the local community but the entire Commonwealth of Virginia.

During his remarks at the band's Celebrate Virginia concert at George Mason University earlier this year, LeMunyon, a trumpet player and drum major in his own high school band, reminisced that "some of the best memories I have from that point in my life came from the band and travel ... and I hope that, for the students who are in the band this year, as well as the parents and our community as a whole, this experience is that and more."

As a result of LeMunyon's endorsement and appeal for support, the Westfield Band experienced a 10-fold increase in activity on its newly redesigned website www.WestfieldBand.org.

Another boost to the band's fundraising efforts was the mattress sale held at Westfield High School on Sept. 7.

Spirit Fundraising of Ashburn set up a showroom in the school's cafeteria, allowing visitors to try out discounted name-brand mattress sets. Students and parents worked for four weeks advertising the event to the community via social media, yard signs, and flyers. On the day of the sale, they manned nearby intersections holding signs and wearing mattress costumes.

By day's end, the band generated over 60 referrals, sold more than 80 sets, and raised $10,000 — breaking the one-day sales record for Spirit Fundraising and garnering the honor of being the top-selling school in the nation for the company on that day.

While the mattress fundraiser was a success, the band still has to achieve its goal of raising $270,000 for additional uniforms, instruments, transportation of equipment across the country, student scholarships, and on-going general band expenses, as well as to offset a portion of the $1,600 each student is paying to cover his or her own costs. Currently at approximately 60 percent of its goal with only 110 days until the parade, the band needs to raise $100,000 over the next two months.

For more information on the Rose Parade, the Westfield High School Marching Bulldogs' upcoming performances, and ways to support the band's Sponsor-A-Dream fundraising campaign, visit: <http://www.WestfieldBand.org>.

Clarification

In the story "Students Attend CyberPatriot Camp," Centre View, Sept. 12-18, Chantilly Academy students attended a Cybersecurity Summer Camp that was not officially part of CyberPatriot, the National High School Cyber Defense Competition. At the end of the week, students did a "mini-version" of a cyber defense competition — not the official CyberPatriot competition. The goal was to inspire them about cyber careers and STEM in hopes that they will participate in the CyberPatriot competition conceived by the Air Force Association.

Henderson Leads LB to Comeback Win over Westfield

Bruins tight end Antonellis has big pass-catching performance.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

Caleb Henderson's voice had nearly vanished when he declined to be interviewed after Friday's contest against Westfield. A few minutes later, with the help of a cough drop, the Lake Braddock quarterback returned to answer questions.

During the game, Henderson had to overcome a different ailment to lead his team to victory.

Despite suffering from cramps in his hamstrings and calves during the second half, Henderson led Lake Braddock on a 72-yard scoring drive in the game's closing minutes, capped by a 20-yard touchdown pass to AJ Alexander that lifted the Bruins to a 28-24 victory over Westfield on Sept. 20 at Lake Braddock Secondary School.

Playing for the first time on their new turf field, the Bruins beat a Westfield program that finished region runner-up the last two years and hadn't lost a regular season game since October of 2010. Lake Braddock improved to 3-0 in 2013, including road wins against rival Robinson and perennial power Stone Bridge.

What does it mean to open the season with three tough victories?

"The first thing that comes to me is never schedule these three teams again," Lake Braddock head coach Jim Poythress said. "The second thing is that we have a pretty good football team ... a team that could really make a run in the playoffs. But ... if we don't improve, we'll be one and done."

Westfield took a 24-21 lead when Dominique Pearson scored on a 3-yard run and the Bulldogs added a two-point conversion with 3:11 remaining in the fourth quarter. Lake Braddock started its ensuing drive at its own 28-yard line and Henderson moved the Bruins down the field in seven plays. Facing third-and-eight at the Westfield 20, Henderson found Alexander for the go-ahead touchdown.

Westfield drove to the Lake Braddock 33-yard line during its final possession, but Bruins defensive back Timothy Coulter ended the threat with an interception.

Henderson, who is committed to the University of North Carolina, completed 15 of 25 passes for 243 yards and three touchdowns. It was Henderson's first victory in four games against Westfield, including a pair of losses against the Bulldogs as a sophomore at West Potomac. Last season, Henderson's first with Lake Braddock, the Bruins lost to Westfield, 49-29.

"I think he's come a long way in his two years here," Poythress said about Henderson. "To his credit, this kid's laying on the sideline in between drives completely cramped up. ... He was firing the rock. He stepped up and he wanted to win."

Henderson attributed his cramps to consuming a pregame energy drink.

"We practice one-minute drills every day, [starters versus starters], we score almost every time," Henderson said. "The defense gets mad at us, but that's just the type of fire power we have on offense [and] that's the type of chemistry I have with my receivers."

One of those receivers is Ryan Antonellis, a 6-foot-4, 230-pound tight end who finished with five catches for 132 yards and a score.

"I've never seen an athlete like Ryan," Henderson said. "You stick a linebacker on him, he'll run right by him. You stick a corner on him and he'll just go up and get it over the corner."

Antonellis' 5-yard touchdown reception in the first quarter gave Lake Braddock a 14-9 lead. Antonellis kept the scoring drive alive with a 69-yard reception on a third-and-10 play.

"Me and Caleb are basically best friends ever since he got here," Antonellis said. "... We have a really close connection, so it was really good getting on the same page tonight ..."

During the Bruins' game-winning drive, Henderson connected with Antonellis for gains of 22 and 26 yards.

"He stepped up," Poythress said about Antonellis. "They kick on the lights, they're going to have this ribbon-cutting for the field, the media is here and it's a big game, and we wanted to see who would step up when they turned the lights on and he certainly did."

Lake Braddock took a 21-9 lead when Henderson found Vince Sica for a 45-yard touchdown with 8:23 left in the third quarter. Westfield responded on the second play of its ensuing drive when running back Tyler Thrasher-Walker scored on a 61-yard run, cutting the Bruins' lead to 21-16.

Thrasher-Walker carried 26 times for 188 yards. Fullback Evan Gray rushed for 107 yards and a touchdown on five carries. His 78-yard touchdown run in the first quarter tied the score at 7-all.

Lake Braddock running back Trevor O'Brien carried 15 times for 95 yards and a touchdown. Alexander had six catches for 55 yards and Sica finished with three receptions for 51 yards.

Lake Braddock will host Annandale at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 27. Westfield will host Fairfax.

Siblings Earn Highest Scouting Awards

Catherine (Catey) and Christopher Susco of Clifton received Scouting's highest award at a joint Court of Honor Ceremony at St. Timothy's Church on Saturday, Sept. 21.

Catey earned her Gold Award from Girl Scouts and Christopher earned his Eagle Award from Boy Scouts.

Catey's Gold Award project was entitled "Concussion Awareness: Keeping your head in the game." As a freshman Varsity softball player at Paul VI High School in Fairfax, Catey suffered a concussion. From this experience, Catey learned that the knowledge and support for someone who suffers from a concussion needed improvement within her school and community. She produced a video explaining the types of concussions, the effects of suffering such an injury and how to best recover and get back into playing sports after proper healing. In addition, Catey developed and designed posters to be displayed at local schools, hospitals and doctors' offices. She met with high school athletic advisors, athletes and hospital personnel to present her research and video.

Christopher's Eagle Award project was to design and execute a landscaping and beautification effort at the Grotto to the Blessed Virgin Mary at St. Timothy's School in Chantilly. Christopher developed a plan to install a variety of nearly 50 individual plants. A garden trellis was installed at the entrance to the grotto. The marble statue, concrete benches and brick walkway were all cleaned and power-washed.

Catey and Christopher are the children of Dr. Michelle and Joel Susco of Clifton. Catey is a junior and Christopher is a freshman at Paul VI High School in Fairfax.

A Peculiar Existence

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

I'm not exactly pretending that I don't have stage IV lung cancer (non-small cell, to be specific), but ever since my hospital admission on August 2nd, I have been treatment-free; no I.V. chemotherapy, no oral medication, no targeted treatment, no nothing. And during this sabbatical (I use that term loosely; being off chemotherapy has been as much about recovering from surgery and recuperating from my hospital "stay-cation" as it was anything necessarily intended), I have progressed from feeling crappy and being short of breath – while being infused previously, to where I have become relatively asymptomatic, breathing normally and for the nearly eight week treatment-free interval mentioned, have felt mostly OK.

But I'm not OK, really. I have incurable lung cancer, the terminal kind (typically the only kind). I have tumors which have metastasized from somewhere else in my body (though a determination as to exactly from where the tumors originated has never been made) and an inevitable fluid build-up in my lung – characteristic of the underlying diagnosis, which has already put me in the hospital once, and given the presumptive reality of the disease, is likely to do so again in the future, and with a less than favorable outcome, according my oncologist.

However, right now – so far as I know and/or has been diagnostically indicated/confirmed, I am living in relative peace (not sure about tranquility though) and able to manage my life well enough to perform all the activities of my daily living and pretend that this break in my cancer-treatment action is not the least bit problematic and possibly even beneficial in some therapeutic way. At least, that's what I tell myself as opposed to worrying that each week that passes when I'm not infused with some pharmaceutical creation, shortens my life expectancy somehow by a corresponding amount of time. Heck, where's the future in that?

Still, the time off between treatment has given me pause – to refresh, so to speak and time to gear up – emotionally and physically, for the next round of treatment outlined in last week's column. On the one hand, I'm sort of relieved (happy would be a bit too naive of a description of how I feel) to be once again taking medication, understanding and respecting the medical reality of the cancer-centric existence I now live – meaning that wishing and hoping the cancer remains dormant/inactive without any treatment is a bit unrealistic. On the other hand, I am ambivalent about forfeiting the relative calm and above-average quality of life that has characterized these last two months. Characterizations that generally don't describe a stage IV lung cancer patient's life in year five post-diagnosis. And though I am exceeding grateful – and incredibly fortunate for the gift of life that I have received, I remain both fearful and appreciative of my status quo. Subject to change, I imagine, and not necessarily for the best, either. Nevertheless, life goes on, and I aim to keep it that way.

Samaha and his cousin, Tommy Fadoul, are co-chairing the event, with help from Rene Cummings, Marjorie Castro and Brittany Tarzia. Previous VTV Gran Fondos were held in Blacksburg. But, said Samaha, "We wanted to bring it to this area because it's the foundation's home for cycling, and our friends and families are here, plus a lot of Hokie fans and alumni."

This location also enables those unable to travel to Blacksburg to participate. "We hope to have 100 total riders, and we've already nearly doubled last year's total participants," said Samaha. "We have people flying in from as far away as Denver and Miami."

Besides the VTV Cycling Team, also riding will be Monte Frank from Team 26 and the Sandy Hook Riders, known for their "Ride On Washington" in March in honor of the Sandy Hook shooting victims.

"Our annual Gran Fondo ride brings 21st-century awareness around the rising, national challenges with school and campus safety," said Centreville's Joseph Samaha, Reema and Omar's father and the foundation's president. "Our plan is to expand this event into a National Campus Safety Awareness Day held in major cities and college campuses annually."

VTV's advocacy has also secured congressional support to fund a National Center for Campus Public Safety in 2014. Learn more at www.VTVfamilyfoundation.org.

Meanwhile, Omar Samaha is getting ready for the upcoming Gran Fondo. "We started a cycling team a few years ago in the foundation's name to raise money for it, so we've been riding in several races," he said. "In the summer, we ride 50-70 miles almost every, single weekend. But this event is the biggest fundraiser, and doing 100 miles is different. You feel the strain and fatigue during the final 30 miles, but we break it up with five rest stops, plus food and water. The 32-mile route has two rest stops."

Getting outside on a bike is "lots of fun," he said. "You're riding with friends, talking and enjoying each other's company. And at the Gran Fondo, you're doing it while raising money and awareness, so it's very community-oriented."

"We look forward to having everybody together and having a great ride for a great cause," continued Samaha. "We hope everyone can join us on that day to help support the foundation."
