Negative Campaign

Candidates appear at minority business forum, attacking each other.

BY MICHAEL LEE POPE
THE CONNECTION

Local and statewide candidates for office appeared at an unprecedented forum in Northern Virginia last weekend, a collaboration of minority business groups of blacks, Hispanics and Asians. But as candidates arrived at the Annandale campus of the Northern Virginia Community College for a Sunday afternoon forum, voters realized that the tone of the campaign would remain unrelentingly negative.

"All three of the Republican candidates are Tea Party right wing extremists," said Del. Ken Plum (D-36), who is running unopposed. "Look at their records and their stands on the issues."

Plum attacked Cuccinelli's lawsuit against the Affordable Care Act as well as his investigation into a University of Virginia professor studying climate change. The longtime delegate also said the Republican attorney general candidate Sen. Mark Obenshain (R-25) has a similar record, including a bill that would have required women to report abortions to police. Together with the candidate for lieutenant governor, Plum said, the ticket is Tea Party from top to bottom.

"For some reason, some folks in the Democratic Party think that the label Tea Party is going to stimulate some kind of negative feelings," said Jay McConville, chairman of the Fairfax County Republican Committee. "But I think those people are great patriots, and they are supporting the candidates they think are best for the commonwealth."

AS CANDIDATES for governor took the stage to make their case to voters, the tone of the campaign remained starkly negative. Each of the candidates spent as much time talking about their own vision of the future as they did castigating their opponent as someone who would harm Virginia. For Republican Attorney General Ken Cuccinelli: "My time as attorney general and my time in the state

— Deborah Williams of Fairfax City

Senate leaves me as the only candidate who would show up on day one knowing how Virginia government works from having participated in it. I will not need on the job training if you elect me on November 5th, and I'm the only candidate who can say that."

For weeks, Republicans have been criticizing Democrat Terry McAuliffe for threatening to shut down Virginia government unless the General Assembly agreed to expand Medicaid. McAuliffe attempted to beat back that argument during the Fairfax Chamber of Commerce debate, pledging that he would not force a shutdown. Meanwhile, the Democrat is now criticizing the Republican for appearing at a fundraiser with Texas Senator Ted Cruz, whom Democrats say is the architect of the government shutdown.

"Ken Cuccinelli was apparently more concerned about his reputation with the Tea Party than with ending the government shutdown that is undermining Virginia's economy," said McAuliffe. "It's the obligation of Virginians to send a message to Washington. A government shutdown should never be a bargaining chip."

WITH ELECTION DAY only four weeks away, candidates and their advisors are preparing for the most intense and high-stakes portion of the race. Both of the major-party candidates are responding to that dynamic by trying to frame their opposition in the most negative way possible. That leaves Libertarian candidate Robert Sarvis rising in the polls as his opponents take shots at each other. After McAuliffe and Cuccinelli finished Sunday evening, Sarvis offered a critical review. "A lot of negative attacks. Not a whole lot of substance," said Sarvis, who is polling at about 10 percent support. "And if you want to see dysfunction of voting out of fear for the lesser of two evils, look at the federal government right now."

After the candidates were finished making their pitches, many of the voters had a hard time processing what they heard. The stump speeches left many wondering what the candidates would do if elected. Many of the voters at the Annandale forum said they felt the tone of the campaign had become distractingly negative, a series of attacks and counter-attacks that left many feeling isolated from the process.

"Politics has become a blame game," said Deborah Williams of Fairfax City. "They are always talking about what the other candidate is and how that's not working, but they never say how they can fix it or what is going to lead to fixing it."

RECENT POLLS have shown a clear and growing lead for McAuliffe, with the Democrat running five to seven percentage points ahead of the Republicans. That lead grows even larger if the Libertarian is included in the polls, giving the Democrat an eight-point lead in one poll. Republicans reject the idea that their candidates are in trouble, though. When asked about polling numbers, McConville said Republicans seem more motivated than the Democrats.

"I think that there's a lack of feeling of that same kind of excitement on the McAuliffe side," said McConville. "He's obviously a problematic candidate."

Democrats say they feel national Republicans have delivered an October surprise that has harmed their side, the government shutdown. On the campaign trail and in interviews, Democrats are making the case that Cuccinelli and the Republican ticket are aligned with obstructionists in Washington.

"I feel that Ken Cuccinelli is at a desperate point in his campaign," said Del. Charniele Herring (D-46), who is chairwoman of the Democratic Party of Virginia. "He attacked Terry time and time again instead of talking about what he would do for Virginia."

Fire Stations Hold Open House

All Fairfax County fire stations will hold Fire Prevention Open Houses this Saturday, Oct. 12, from 10 a.m.-4 p.m., and the public is welcome. It's part of national Fire Prevention Week and is aimed at preventing home fires—especially those that begin in the kitchen.

Firefighters and paramedics will have displays and activities emphasizing fire safety, and children will be able to explore fire engines and ambulances. Locally, stations participating include Station 21 on Route 50 in Fair Oaks, Station 16 in the Town of Clifton and Station 40 on West Ox Road in Fairfax.

Recycle During Electric Sunday

Residents may recycle old TVs, computers, peripheral electronic devices such as keyboards, speakers, printers and scanners, as well as household hazardous wastes including fluorescent light bulbs and tubes for free during Fairfax County's "Electric Sunday" events. The next one is slated for Sunday, Oct. 20, from 10 a.m.-3 p.m., at the I-66 Transfer Station, 4618 West Ox Road in Fairfax. For more information, call 703-324-5052.

Preventative Medicine

Getting a flu shot has never been easier.

With the Center for Disease Control shut down along with almost all of the Federal Government, it falls to the states to monitor influenza activity.

Visitors to cdc.gov are greeted with: "Due to the lapse in government funding, only websites supporting excepted functions will be updated unless otherwise funded. As a result, the information on this website may not be up to date, the transactions submitted via the website may not be processed, and the agency may not be able to respond to inquiries until appropriations are enacted."

No update is required to the CDC recommendation that every child, woman and man over the age of six months be vaccinated for the flu every year, preferably by October.

Virginia and Maryland are both reporting confirmed cases of influenza at a "sporadic" level. Since it takes two weeks for the vaccine to take full effect, now is the time to be vaccinated if you haven't yet had the shot.

Every year, 5-to-20 percent of U.S. residents become sick with the flu, with 200,000 hospitalizations. Children are especially vulnerable with about 20,000 children under the age of 5 hospitalized. Depending on the severity of the flu in a given year, from 1976 to 2006, estimates of annual deaths ranged from 3,000 to a high of about 49,000, according to the CDC.

Remember that getting the flu shot is also community service. You might be strong and healthy and think that you will not suffer too much if you get the flu. But everyone has contact with people in the high-risk groups: people over 65, children under 5, pregnant women, people with other illnesses. So have your shot to protect other people.

Pills or Jobs?

To the Editor:

Recently I had the opportunity to support my candidate for governor, Ken Cuccinelli. Dozens of women showed up to rally for the general at the entrance of the building where the debate with Terry McAuliffe was being held. There were also dozens of younger people in blue t-shirts, pink t-shirts and purple t-shirts. Strangely, most were males. Most appeared to be college-aged. Our groups on the other hand were moms, children and a few husbands.

At least a handful of us moms engaged some of the young men protesting beside us. We found out that SEIU bussed some of them from as far as New York! Rent-a-mob? The college-aged females we approached avoided engagement and were focused on "defending" their contraceptive rights. One of them even had a costume of a round typical contraception pill case. It is to them that I want to say the following:

How can women allow a political party to undermine their eco-

Raising Awareness, Money To Stop Domestic Violence

BY JOHN COOK
SUPERVISOR (R-BRADDOCK DISTRICT)

A woman battered and bruised by her abusive husband leaves one night to escape. Unable to find a safe place to stay, she is forced to go back, time and time again. Across town another woman flees with her children. Not knowing where to go, they sleep in the woods despite freezing temperatures. In a third house, a child pulls the blankets over her head, trying to drown out the sound of yelling and punching down the hall. It's a sad American truth that one in three women murdered are killed by an intimate partner. In Fairfax County 57 percent of homicides in the last year were domestic violence related.

Nationwide domestic violence injures more women than car accidents, muggings and rape combined. Studies show the brain development of children who are exposed to domestic violence can be stunted. A child exposed consistently to domestic violence, either by sight or sound, is twice as likely to abuse his or her own future spouse, perpetuating an awful cycle of violence.

This year I was appointed as the Board of Supervisor's liaison to the Domestic Violence Prevention, Policy and Coordinating Council. In that capacity I am joining the effort to shine the light on this oft-hidden and denied blight on our families. October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month, and to help spread the word I'm hosting an event on Oct. 17 at Kilroy's (5250 Port Royal Road, Springfield). We will help raise money for two local charities working to help domestic abuse survivors: Shelter House and Fairfax CASA. Kilroy's has generously agreed to donate 10 percent of sales to the charities, and many other organizations have donated raffle items.

Shelter House's domestic violence shelter, Artemis House is Fairfax County's only emergency shelter for families and individuals fleeing domestic/sexual violence and human trafficking. The emergency shelter provides crisis intervention and temporary housing in an undisclosed "safe-house." Safety planning, immediate basic needs assistance and comprehensive service planning is available to prepare for a transition to more permanent and stable housing. Artemis House provides intensive case management services, individual and group counseling, employment assistance and children's programs.

Fairfax CASA, or Court Appointed Special Advocates, helps children navigate the confusing and scary aftermath of domestic violence when the juvenile court steps in to provide protection due to abuse or neglect. Often, so many things are changing for a child—his or her home, school, guardians—that having one dedicated advocate to fight for his or her rights and help with the transitions can make a huge difference when it's most important. conomic sustenance by distracting them with the low hanging fruit? Is it worth it to be in jobs paying below $10 in exchange for free contraception? That doesn't put food on the table and yet young people continue to embrace a Democrat leadership which is limiting our growth, stifling our economic liberty, killing opportunity with policies that give women contraception paid by someone else. Why aren't they asking where are the jobs rather than the pills?

Two million women have dropped out of the workforce under this Democrat administration. Obamacare (P.A.C.A.) will kill 40-hour workweeks, the backbone of America's middle income earners because, simply put, less work equals less pay. A Democrat governor will rubberstamp Mr. Obama's re-distributive policies, cornering the private sector out of existence and ignoring Virginia's needs. Virginian women need to realize that the ultimate impact will forcefully tear down the pillars that sustain the true funding source of our ever-bloated government and onerous fiscal system, the private enterprise. This in essence will Detroit Virginia! The low hanging fruit does not put food on the table. I challenge you to be idealists and know that you are Americans, you can go as far as your determination will take you. Democrats are boxing you in with a myriad of policies that are undermining your future. Break free. Vote for the only man in the gubernatorial race who cares about Virginia and has the record to prove it.

Criminal Justice Academy graduates 43 officers.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
THE CONNECTION

The graduates of the 60th session of the Fairfax County Criminal Justice Academy included the police department's first Asian female, a former fire department deputy chief and a Bulgarian immigrant whose family tended vineyards.

The ceremony was Sept. 20 in GMU's Harris Theatre, and Circuit Court Clerk John Frey swore in 43 new officers. There were 26 county police officers, 13 sheriff's deputies, two Town of Vienna police officers, one Town of Herndon police officer and one county fire investigator.

The county's first female Korean police officer is Rachel Lee, a 2000 Centreville High grad. "It's something I wanted to do for a long time," said Lee, who previously worked as an office administrator in the healthcare field. "I wanted to be active and do something that would have an impact and benefit the community." Initially, she said, she'll explore all her career options, but she hopes to eventually become a detective.

There to see her graduate, as well as another new Korean police officer, Kyoung Pak, was fellow Korean Det. Roy Choe. He was the Sully District Station's 2011 Officer of the Year and now works in recruiting at police headquarters in Fairfax.

"I feel really great to see them both become police officers," said Choe. "And Officer Pak was my mentee. Hopefully, we'll get even more [Koreans] in the next academy session in November."

ACCORDING TO 2010 CENSUS data, some 189,661 Asians live in Fairfax County. But, said Choe, the county only has about 50 Asian officers and just 16—including Lee and Pak—who are Korean, speak that language fluently and understand Korean culture.

So Choe said having two more Korean police officers is important. "In the Northern Virginia area, especially Fairfax County, with all the immigrants who've moved here, there's a larger population of people not speaking English and only Korean," he explained. "So the police need people who can speak Korean so they can help them out."

At the academy, the students underwent a rigorous and intense 24-week training period. It included 320 hours of academics, 84 hours of precision-driver training, 94 hours of firearms instruction, 110 hours of defensive-tactics conditioning and 130 hours of defensive tactics.

The graduation ceremony began with the county Honor Guard, plus PFC Patrick Briant, who played the bagpipes while the new officers entered the theater. Then PFC Laura Redman sang the National Anthem while the Honor Guard presented the colors and the audience stood.

Later, Craig Floyd, chairman and CEO of the National Law Enforcement Officer Memorial Fund, gave the keynote address and the academy graduates received their badges. But first, police chaplain Jim Hepler gave the invocation, and his words were powerful.

HEPLER SAID the officers know their chosen profession isn't an easy one. But, he said, "We do it because of our desire for goodness and love and a belief that our world still needs protectors." And he asked God to "see the light of hope and determination" within the new officers and to know that they're His "messengers of peace and righteousness."

"Every day, when these officers, deputies and fire marshals put on their badges, we ask you to be with them," continued Hepler. "Give them faith, give them strength, help them maintain their integrity and keep them grounded in the mission they set out to do."

"Our citizens expect our law-enforcement officers to be there for them at all times and in all situations. We ask You to be with these officers and let them remain compassionate at the right time, unyielding when needed and, at all times, give them strength and faith."

Decorating for Fall

Local designers offer suggestions for bringing the harvest into your home.

By MARILYN CAMPBELL
THE CONNECTION

The colors of autumn are all around as pumpkins and squash fill produce stands and leaves change from green to orange, red and yellow before falling from their branches.

Local designers and tastemakers are unveiling home accents that bring the warm hues of the season into the home. Whether using pillows, throws or flowers, adding the colors and textures of fall requires less effort than one might expect.

“Emerald green, orange and turquoise are three of the biggest color trends we’re seeing,” said Marcus Browning of European Country Living in Old Town Alexandria. “Throws and pillows are a given, but you can also tie in traditional and modern accessories with rugs, stained glass lamps with modern or intricate designs.”

Small trays provide a canvas for highlighting color and adding functionality to a room, says Marika Meyer of Marika Meyer Interiors in Bethesda, Md. “Color and pattern are in right now,” she said. “I just purchased the C. Wonder (<http://www.cwonder.com>) navy and white chevron tray for my home. It adds a punch of color and freshness to a room. Preppy is back in a big way, too, offering lots of patterns.”

Potomac, Md., based interior designer Sharon Kleinman of Transitions by Sharon Kleinman uses flowers to add warmth to a room. “I love mums,” she said. “I put them on my kitchen island and on the hearth in my family room. I fill my yard and home with them. They offer such great fall color. I plant them in my flowerbeds and put them in pots on my front porch.”

For those who don’t want the maintenance of fresh flowers, Browning suggests their fabric counterpart. “Great silk flowers are nice to put in corners of side boards,” he said. “If you have a brown table, colored candle stick holders add a lot of great color.”

Mums and pumpkins are classic fall accessories for both the exterior and interior of one’s home.

Pumpkins, which are ubiquitous this time of year, are also one of Kleinman’s fall accessories of choice. “I add them to the display of mums on my porch,” she said. “I have a large ceramic pumpkin ... that I put on my kitchen table surrounded by real, tiny pumpkins, gourds and squash. I use that centerpiece from early October right through November.”

David Mitchell of David Mitchell Interior Design in Washington used a similar style concept at a McLean home recently. “Wooden bowls are a great way to bring in seasonal accessories,” said Mitchell. “Pottery Barn has large, vintage, carved wood bowls that are great for a sideboard or coffee table, and you can fill them with mini pumpkins to add a dash of orange to a neutral space.”

Ann O’Shields, of The Nest Egg in Fairfax, said, “Hand-blown glass pumpkins are extremely popular and a great way to add a classic touch of fall in your home.”

Make use of fall foliage both inside and outside of your home, advises O’Shields. “Wreaths for fall are abundant, featuring leaves and small pumpkins, and are a great way to set the stage for fall décor,” she said. “Mantel decorating ... is an easy way to create a focal point for fall in a room. Add leaves, fall candles, pumpkins and more to liven up a room.”

Incorporating the hues of fall into a home’s existing décor can help welcome the season in style. “Bringing in the colors of fall will add warmth to your home as the air gets crisper,” said O’Shields. “Orange, gold, reds and brown are all earth tones that create a feeling of fall. Adding warm throws for cooler nights and updating throw pillows are easy ways to incorporate colors for the new season.”

Style Meets Function

A local designer creates a stylish and functional master bathroom in an Alexandria home.

By MARILYN CAMPBELL
THE CONNECTION

Once a modest room reserved for bathing, the bathroom has become a showcase for cutting-edge design and luxurious materials. One Alexandria family discovered this when they decided to remodel the long, narrow master bathroom in their colonial home.

“Our old fixtures were wearing out,” said homeowner Pat Smith. “Also the bathroom layout was choppy and dark. There was plenty of square feet, but [the space] was inefficient.”

The family hired Arlington designer Allie Mann of Case Design/Remodeling Inc. to transform the disjointed, utilitarian space into an oasis with a larger shower and additional areas for storage.

“The client’s request for the bathroom remodel was a more open, connected plan,” said Mann. “Before the vanity space didn’t feel connected to the rest of the bathroom ... and the [entire] space felt disconnected. The client wanted dual vanities ... and a more modern feel.”

Smith wanted to add sparkle to the bathroom without the inconvenience of a complete destruction: “We wanted ... a space that had better flow and lighting without having to go through whole-scale demolition. So the plumbing stayed mostly in the same location.”

The Case team did remove an interior door in the bathroom space, however. “We reoriented the swing of another existing door to make the space feel more connected and open,” said Mann. “We expanded the shower footprint by relocating a second sink. This gave the client the dual vanity she was looking for.”

Senior project designer Steve Scholl said, “Because of the challenging existing layout, selection of materials and finishes were key in making those challenges disappear.”

The new bathroom is outfitted with Kohler plumbing fixtures, a frameless glass shower, porcelain tile, Crystal cabinets and Cambria countertops. “We selected finishes that were current, modern and transitional, and low maintenance,” said Mann.

Community Concert Assists Local Food Banks

BY HANK MOLINENGO

On Sunday, Sept. 29 at Fairfax High School, Grammy nominated violinist Jenny Oaks Baker and the Mormon Choir of Washington, D.C. held a concert as part of the annual "Day to Serve" initiative to feed the hungry. A crowd of 800 people came out and donated approximately 1,600 pounds of nonperishable goods. This food will be put to good use by local area food banks that are responding to unprecedented demand from those in need. The theme for this concert was, "With Gratitude We Share."

Greg Goehring, the concert director, organized and directed the concert and those in attendance were especially grateful to Jenny Oaks Baker and the Mormon Choir of Washington, D.C. for their willingness to lend their talents for such a worthy cause.

The program began with words from Neal Neumann, the narrator for the event, and Doug Bush, the president of the Annandale, VA LDS Stake, which collected thousands of pounds of food through donation solicited by patrons of local grocery stores and a 3K walk. A rousing rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" with Neal Neumann serving as narrator was performed followed by the work of Ms. Baker, former first chair violinist with the National Symphony Orchestra, who played a magnificent violin solo titled, "Souvenir d'Amerique." Ms. Baker also performed "Theme from Schindler's List" and "Amazing Grace."

Northern Virginia residents Erin Mecham, Bobbie Lattin, Kevin Riehle, and Greg Goehring performed "Oh Susanna." The Mormon Choir (www.mormonchoir.org) performed "Redeemer of Israel," "You Raise Me Up" with Gary Clawson as soloist, "Because I Have Been Given Much" and closed with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" with the audience joining.

The organizations supported by the Day to Serve food donations included the following:

- ❖ Annandale Christian Community for Action (ACCA) supported by 26 area congregations; provides assistance to thousands of families and individuals each year.

- ❖ Our Daily Bread (ODB) supports low-income families who need not only food assistance but also need support and assistance with the rigors of daily living and social needs.

- ❖ Ecumenical Community for Helping Others (ECHO) is supported by 25 area congregations and provides both food and other household support to low income families.

These organizations provide assistance to all in need and the assistance is always free of charge to those who receive.

The Day of Service began in 2012 as collaboration between the governors of Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Washington D.C. It is an event that unites people of all faiths, races, cultures and backgrounds with the shared goal of helping those in need and improving the local community.

'Great Performances' at Mason

Featured acts include the Joffrey Ballet, Sir James Galway, and four productions from the Virginia Opera.

BY TIM PETERSON
THE CONNECTION

Though not exactly suffering from a surplus, it's clear from their new lineup that the staff behind the George Mason University Center for the Arts is driving forward: Director of Artistic Programming Tom Reynolds introduced the 2013-2014 "Great Performances at Mason" season program announcing a wide array of talent that includes orchestras, choirs, dance ensembles and acting troupes from all over the world, once again a testament to the center's commitment to artistic diversity.

REYNOLDS WAS INTRODUCED at the season preview event by William F. Reeder, dean of the College of Visual and Performing Arts at George Mason. Reeder used his time at the podium to address his college's lofty goals of growth and community involvement, motivated by rapid expansion in the arts student population and a continued desire to be a cultural hub in the Fairfax region.

Reynolds elaborated on Reeder's outline in an interview the following day. "We're not in the mode of trying to make everyone part of George Mason," he said. "But what we do understand is we cannot be as successful as we want to be unless we embrace the local and regional arts organizations as well. [They should] continue to have their own identity, but we assist them."

To that end, Reynolds also announced a partnership with the Fairfax Symphony whereby the George Mason hall will become the group's home stage. "We want to be a part of assisting this community," Reynolds continued in the interview. "That's the thought process. Making sure that we're as inclusive as we can be. We're pleased to have the Fairfax Symphony using our hall."

ORCHESTRAL MUSIC—including performances from the American Festival Pops Orchestra, Irish Chamber Orchestra (featuring Sir James Galway),

IRISH CHAMBER ORCHESTRA FEATURING FLAUTIST SIR JAMES GALWAY: In this fall performance, legendary flautist Sir Galway takes the spotlight along with the renowned Irish Chamber Orchestra, conducted by elite maestro JoAnn Falletta. The program includes Harty's "In Ireland," Mozart's Flute Concerto No. 2 in D major, Hammond's "Carolans Variations," and Mozart's Symphony No. 41 (Jupiter).
Saturday, Nov. 2, 8 p.m. $75/$67/$37.50.

and Haifa Symphony Orchestra—is just a portion of the more-than-50 acts filling out the new program. The Virginia Opera series comprises "Carmen," Mozart's "The Magic Flute," "Falstaff" and "Ariadne auf Naxos."

Live theater lovers should be sated by "Twelfth Night" by Aquila Theater, "The Graduate" from L.A. Theater Works and "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead" by The Acting Company. Jazz, blues, folk and even Celtic music dot the instrumental segment of the program, but what truly leaps from the season brochure is dance.

Among offerings from the genre (which still owns no dedicated space at the university) are The Lar Lubovitch Dance Company, Parsons Dance, Mark Morris Dance Group, the Shanghai Ballet... and the highly acclaimed Joffrey Ballet. "The dance season is something I'm particularly proud of," said Reynolds in the interview.

"These are truly international artists, really the best," he continued. "We've done a good job of representing all the various kinds of dance out there. That might be a surprise, that we can put together that strong a season in one year."

JOFFREY BALLET: The legendary dance ensemble comes to Fairfax for two contemporary performances the second weekend of March 2014. Friday features a show entitled "American Legends" with the Jerome Robbins-choreographed work "Interplay" and Twyla Tharp's "Nine Sinatra," while Saturday, "Body & Soul" showcases Christopher Wheeldon and Yuri Posskhov's choreography set to contemporary and classical music from Arvo Pärt and Rachmaninoff.
Friday, March 7 and Saturday, March 8, 8 p.m. $50/$42/$25.

BRANFORD MARSALIS: Three Grammys adorn the career of this New Orleans-native jazz saxophonist and composer. The technically impeccable yet creatively inspiring musician will perform originals and jazz standards with his quartet.
Saturday, April 12, 8 p.m. $48/$40/$24.

THE ACTING COMPANY: ROSENCRANTZ AND GUILDENSTERN ARE DEAD — The playwright Tom Stoppard's existential spinoff from "Hamlet" runs for one night in March 2014. Two relatively minor roles from the bard's play tirelessly and cleverly weigh their significance in the historic royal plot. The production of the tragic comedy benefits from direction by Tony Award-winner John Rando.
Saturday, March 1, 8 p.m. $44/$36/$22.

MARIACHI LOS CAMPEROS DE NATI CANO: FIESTA NAVIDAD — This Grammy Award-winning Mexican ensemble has become a favorite at the Center for the Arts, and the group continues its relationship with the Fairfax community in December 2013. Their combination of American and Mexican carols, performed with singing, dancing and authentic garb, should once again provide a highly entertaining winter afternoon.
Sunday, Dec. 15, 4 p.m. $50/$42/$25.

Mason Promotes Artistic Diversity

A SIGNIFICANT DIFFERENCE from previous seasons is a decrease in the sheer number of performances. Similar acts to shows that may have run two or three nights in the past will only run one to two nights. For a more family- and youth-friendly incentive, another change involves offering half-price tickets for children and students up through 12th grade on all shows.

Reynolds has mixed up the programming from past years as well, citing the need to keep his lineups interesting. One under-the-radar act is Max Raabe & Palast Orchester, a German big band evoking 1920s Berlin. According to Reynolds, the group is “so different from anything we’ve ever done.”

“It will just be a delightful evening,” he continued. “It’s not something people are accustomed to, but I know if they come they’ll have a great time. I want to find things that are different, that they haven’t seen before. It keeps us fresh and keeps the community informed about what’s going on in the art world.”

“I say it every year,” Reynolds concluded, “but I’m really proud of the diversity [this program] has. Short of having superstars, it can appeal to a lot of different people.” Which is a great way to assist a community.

VIRGINIA OPERA: CARMEN — Georges Bizet’s classic tragedy with unmistakably iconic and emotional music will be performed twice in April 2014: a Friday primetime performance and a Sunday matinee. The complex love story of Don José and the elusive gypsy Carmen will be sung in French with English supratitles.
Friday, April 11, 8 p.m.; Sunday, April 13, 2 p.m. $98/$80/$48.

South County Football off to 4-1 Start

Stallions dismantle West Springfield, 54-3.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

The South County Stallions stumbled out of the gate each of the last two seasons, piling up early losses before hitting their stride.

In 2011, South County overcame a 0-3 start by winning its next 11 contests and reaching the Group AAA 5-state championship game.

In 2012, the Stallions lost five of their first six games, but responded with five consecutive victories and advanced to the region semifinals.

The South County football program has proven it can overcome adversity. Now the Stallions have a chance to show what they can accomplish when things are going right from the start.

South County is 4-1 and has scored at least 34 points in each game and more than 50 points in each victory. On Oct. 4, senior running back LeVaughn Davis galloped past West Springfield for 128 yards and five touchdowns as the Stallions spoiled the Spartans' homecoming with a 54-3 victory at West Springfield High School.

South County turned the ball over on downs on its opening possession and quarterback David Symmes was intercepted during the Stallions' second drive. Meanwhile, West Springfield took a 3-0 lead on a 19-yard field goal by Jaxon Clark.

South County would break through on its third drive, taking the lead for good on a 16-yard touchdown run by Davis. The Stallions dominated the remainder of the contest, scoring seven rushing touchdowns.

Davis, a three-year varsity athlete, scored on runs of 16, 1, 5, 2 and 17 yards.

"We started off slow for the second week in a row for I don't know what reason," Davis said. "... Our [linemen], they have a short memory. They just keep fighting hard. They just open up the holes [and] I'm running through them. They make it real easy for me."

Through five weeks, South County has victories against Mount Vernon (56-7), Hayfield (56-21), Lee (53-9) and West Springfield. The Stallions' lone loss came against Chantilly (42-34).

How have the Stallions avoided another rough start?

"I think we're just more hungry," Davis said. "We know what we have to do and our coaches, they're just hard on us, so we have no choice but to go hard. But this year, we should go all the way to states. Nothing less."

South County head coach Gerry Pannoni credited cohesiveness for the strong start as many of the team's athletes have worked with one another for several years.

Against West Springfield, the Stallions shined on both sides of the ball. On offense, South County's up-tempo attack amassed more than 300 yards on the ground and scored seven rushing touchdowns. Fullback Michael Gibson rushed for 82 yards and Symmes had 68 yards and a score. Mitchell Seeman scored on a 3-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Symmes completed eight of 15 passes for 115 yards and an interception. His 37-yard strike to James Simon set up the Stallions at the West Springfield 1-yard line late in the first half. Davis scored on the next play, giving South County a 17-3 lead.

Symmes also hauled in a 35-yard reception.

Pannoni said the Stallions' tempo wasn't where he wanted it to be.

"We started out not very good, beating ourselves with mistakes," he said. "Once we eliminated those, we were OK. They just have to keep grinding it out."

The South County defense, a unit with eight athletes who saw significant playing time last season, limited West Springfield to 60 yards of offense, including minus-28 on the ground. Stallions defensive back Kyle Foley intercepted a pass early in the second half, setting up a seven-play, 36-yard scoring drive, capped by a 5-yard touchdown run by Davis.

West Springfield quarterback Jacob O'Connell completed nine of 21 passes for 86 yards and an interception.

The Spartans fell to 2-3. After a 2-1 start, West Springfield has been outscored 117-3 in its last two games against Westfield and South County.

West Springfield will travel to face West Potomac at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 11. South County will travel to face T.C. Williams in a matchup of 4-1 teams at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 12.

Nagel leads Spartans with 10 kills.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

After edging the T.C. Williams Titans in the first two sets, the West Springfield volleyball team left little doubt in the third.

Led by a pair of aces and a kill from Monica Naderi-Colon, the Spartans opened the third set with an 11-1 run and cruised to a 3-0 (25-22, 25-23, 25-7) victory at West Springfield High School.

In the Spartans' previous match, a 3-0 loss to Robinson on Sept. 30, West Springfield lost a pair of close sets before suffering a lopsided defeat in the third. This time, it was the Spartans coming out on top in such a manner — something head coach Stephanie Noriega credited to mental toughness.

"I was really proud of my girls for stepping up their mental game today," Noriega said. "We had a rough game last week against Robinson, where we kind of mentally collapsed, so we've been working on that for the last week, and they really did it. It was all them. They stepped up to that challenge of playing mentally stronger and I think that's what made the difference in those first two sets.

"... It's funny because the exact same thing happened to us last week against Robinson. The first two sets were super close ... and then the third set, we were the TC of tonight, where we just kind of imploded at the end."

Senior middle blocker Tina Nagel led West Springfield with 10 kills. Naderi-Colon and Jennifer Zimmerman each had eight for the Spartans.

Sydney Cordoba and Naderi-Colon each had three kills.

Alexus Foreman led TC with eight kills.

West Springfield overcame a 15-10 deficit to win the second set. Trailing 23-22, the Spartans scored the final three points, including an ace from Naderi-Colon and a kill by Zimmerman.

"We really dug deep as a team and we really had to come together," Nagel said. "We started talking and once we started talking, everything just kind of fell together. We got out of our funk and we played our game."

West Springfield (11-8) will host Lake Braddock at 7:15 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 10. T.C. Williams (10-5) will host Washington-Lee.
