Our beautiful dog Grace.

Our Puppy Grace

BY NICK SALAMEH

We have many nicknames for our beautiful dog Grace: Gracie, Gracie-Girl, Puppy, Pretty-Girl, whatever strikes our fancy. Either way, she knows our enthusiastic high-pitched voice means we are talking to her and she lets us know with a rapid wag of her tail.

We adopted Grace from the Arlington Animal Welfare League seven years ago. Part German Shepherd, part Collie, she was one of a litter of three and we instantly felt a connection and fell in love with her. She was such a cute puppy and has blossomed into a beautiful member of our family.

As a puppy, Grace spent her time looking adorable, playing, chewing on her toys and on our fingers in a way only a puppy can, and lounging around the house getting plenty of rest. She has grown up to be a very active, friendly, and well-mannered dog. She is always eager to offer a challenging game of tug-of-war or to play a friendly game of fetch. She knows what she wants and doesn't have to work hard to let us know. In the mornings, she whimpers for us to open the front door so she can lay down while the sun's rays rain down on her through the storm door. You would think she was on the beaches of the Caribbean. She loves to sun bathe and values Vitamin D.

She's always up for harassing the wildlife, like barking at the deer or chasing squirrels. If you say, "go get 'em," she'll work really hard to find something, even when you're just messing with her.

Grace has been a dedicated friend to our son Shepherd. Whatever he wants to do, Grace is more than willing to do it with him. Whether lounging around, going for a walk, playing with a stick in the backyard, or simply posing for a family picture, Grace is always there with us and for us. She has created so many wonderful memories and we look forward to many more years with her. We all really love our Gracie-Girl.

Grace with our son Shepherd.

Bulova: 'This Will Be a Challenging Budget'

Fairfax County average homeowner will see tax bill increase $330 under County Executive's proposed $7 billion budget.

BY VICTORIA ROSS
THE CONNECTION

Fairfax County Executive Edward Long, Jr. unveiled a $7 billion budget proposal Tuesday that reflects his "cautious and deliberative approach to budgeting," a result, Long said, of continuing uncertainty over federal spending and sluggish commercial tax revenues.

While Long's budget does not include an increase in the real estate tax rate from FY 2014, steady gains in the county's residential housing market mean the average homeowner will see a $330 increase in their tax bill, or a 6.5 percent increase over last year's bill.

"The one area that is experiencing an upward tick is the assessed value of residential property in the county," said Board of Supervisors Chairman Sharon Bulova (D-At-Large), which will lead to the increase in homeowner's property taxes even if the tax rate remains steady, as proposed by Long.

Supervisor Pat Herrity (R-Springfield) said "there's a lot of work to be done" before the final budget is approved in April, and the county needs to "eliminate barriers to the growth of our commercial tax base."

"While spending increased by 3 percent, the cost to our taxpayers is increasing over 6.5 percent due primarily to the reduction in our commercial tax base," Herrity said. "I am most concerned that this increase will hurt those in townhomes, condos and apartments the hardest — the citizens that can least afford it."

"This will be a very challenging budget," Bulova said, citing disappointing projected revenues from business taxes.

Among those disappointed with the proposed budget is Fairfax County Public Schools Superintendent Karen Garza, who last month requested supervisors send $2.5 billion to the schools, an increase of 5.7 percent in annual taxpayer funding and $98 million more than the schools requested last year.

SUPERVISORS have said they were willing to increase their transfer by only 2 percent, which accounts for 52.1 percent of the proposed county budget expenditures.

Garza's request is about $64 million more than Long's budget recommendation of $1.93 billion, a 2.07 percent increase (or $39 million) over the current fiscal year.

Garza's budget proposal would have increased school funding, but also called for $96 million in cuts, including classroom testing fees for high school students, large class sizes and staffing cuts.

Long's proposal also includes $72.6 million in additional support for school services including Head Start, school health, resource officers and crossing guards, after-school programming, field maintenance and recreational programs, among others.

To show support for Fairfax County schools and teachers, the Alliance for Fairfax Public Schools held a "Fund Our Schools" rally at the Fairfax County Government Center before Long's budget announcement. The Alliance is a partnership of parents, students, and civic organizations including the Fairfax Education Association, Fairfax County Council of PTAs, and Fairfax County Federation of Teachers.

"Our schools are bursting at the seams, talented teachers are leaving, and already large class sizes could get even bigger. The supervisors must make our schools the priority," the FCCPTA said in an online petition addressed to the Board of Supervisors.

"It's absolutely stunning that supervisors put forth a budget that shortchanges students," said Kevin Hickerson, an FCPS teacher and parent-advocate who supported the rally. "Two percent is not enough."

To close that gap and fund other priorities, Bulova said she will consider advertising an increase in property tax rates, which would add about $150 to the average homeowner's tax bill, on top of the $330 jump resulting from higher assessed values this year.

Bulova said the board will set the advertised real estate tax rate on March 4; the advertised rate represents the maximum potential tax rate for FY2015.

"Through the budget process, the board may adopt a rate lower than the advertised rate, but cannot adopt a higher rate," Bulova said.

According to the County Executive's proposed budget, one penny of the tax rate is equal to roughly $21.9 million in the general fund and $50 for the average Fairfax County residential tax bill.

"As the county continues to face fiscal challenges, we must persist in our cautious and deliberative approach to budgeting, only funding items that are sustainable," Long said Tuesday, adding that almost all of the budget increase in his proposal will be earmarked for capital investment and employee compensation.

"These are two critical elements of our continued success," Long said.

But members of the County's Government Employees Union — SEUI Virginia 512 — called Long's proposed budget disappointing.

"We are disappointed that the county executive's proposed budget fails to meet the needs of our community, and we call on the Board of Supervisors to do more to invest in our future success," SEIU Virginia 512 Secretary-Treasurer Karen Conchar said.

Lorton Landfill May Operate Until 2040

Debate over EnviroSolutions application continues.

BY JANELLE GERMANOS
THE CONNECTION

South County Federation members began discussing the closure of the Lorton landfill with EnviroSolutions, the landfill's owner, in 2006.

EnviroSolutions requested at that time to raise the height of the landfill to 412 feet, in exchange for the closure of the landfill by the end of 2018, and for the landfill to be turned into a park.

Nicholas Firth, president of the South County Federation, said that the federation's main goal at that point was a closure date for the landfill.

"Although we recognize that this area is very industrial, there has to be a balance to it," Firth said. "The landfill was one thing that we saw that after so many years of being here, it was time for it to close."

THE FEDERATION'S SECOND GOAL, Firth said, was for the landfill to be transformed into a park.

"We didn't want to be left with a waste dump. We wanted some sort of beautification, such as a park, because when you're up there, the view is incredible. You can see the river. A park was a reasonable conclusion," he said.

In 2009, EnviroSolutions and the Fairfax County Park Authority reached an agreement that kept EnviroSolutions as owner of the landfill after its closure, with the park authority operating the park.

However, in an amendment to the agreement, EnviroSolutions is given the right to restrict public access to the park due to public safety concerns.

"If there is for some reason a safety issue that would require restriction of public access, then they wanted to be able to restrict public access. It's fairly broad. The way it's written, it seems like it would be a temporary sort of restriction, not a permanent one," said Martin Rizer, chair of the South County Federation Land Use Committee.

If approved, an application submitted by EnviroSolutions will allow the landfill in Lorton to operate until 2040.

Neither EnviroSolutions nor the park authority were willing to assume liability for the park. Now, EnviroSolutions says a park couldn't be open to public use due to safety concerns, and is applying for permission to widen the landfill and continue operations until 2040.

Instead of a park, EnviroSolutions said it will help to build a Green Energy Park at the site of the landfill.

"This would put the county on the map in terms of green energy," said Conrad Mehan, EnviroSolutions' director of government relations.

The current application includes the development of geothermal energy, wind turbines, and solar panels, Mehan said.

If the application is approved, EnviroSolutions will also provide the community with $18 million, given out in increments over the course of two decades between 2019 and 2040.

The South County Federation is opposed to the new application. Firth said that the money is really not a great trade-off.

"You have to take things in perspective," Firth said. "It just didn't look that great. It seemed like that

County Faces a Budget Challenge

"The county executive's proposed budget falls short in protecting the county's jobs and services," said Joe Wilhelm, president of SEIU Virginia 512.

Wilhelm said Fairfax County employees have fallen behind peers in neighboring jurisdictions when it comes to pay, and Long's budget proposal fails to help employees catch up.

"As a result, the best librarians, social workers, engineers and more will continue to leave Fairfax County to serve in other jurisdictions, hurting the services residents depend on," Wilhelm said.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS of Long's budget proposal include:

- ❖ A 1.29 percent compensation increase for county employees based on a Market Rate Adjustment, effective July 1, 2014, as well as an increase in funding of health insurance and other benefits.

- ❖ Increase in capital construction funding, including capital renewal (planned replacement of aging roofs, electrical systems, HVAC systems, plumbing systems, etc. in county facilities), compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) and athletic field maintenance.

- ❖ Increase in public safety funding, including 9-1-1 support and requirements, and full year funding of operations at the Wolftrap Fire Station.

- ❖ Increase in human services funding including behavioral health services for youth, school readiness for preschoolers and domestic violence services.

Public hearings on the proposed FY 2015 Budget are held in the Government Center Board Auditorium:

- ❖ April 8, 6 p.m.
- ❖ April 9, 3 p.m.
- ❖ April 10, 3 p.m.

Those wishing to speak at a public hearing can sign up online to place their name on the speakers list or contact the Office of the Clerk to the Board at 703-324-3151, TTY 703-324-3903. The public hearings will be held in the Board Auditorium, Fairfax County Government Center and will be shown live on Fairfax County Government Channel 16.

Residents can also provide feedback and comments on the proposed budget through mid-April at dmbinfo@fairfaxcounty.gov.

Landfill Debate Heats Up

tax revenue could be larger if they weren't there, via higher property tax values and encouraging businesses to be in our area."

Opponents such as Firth and Rizer also argue that there is no guarantee that the money would directly impact the Lorton area.

Neal McBride, an activist and Springfield resident who represents the Newington Forest Community for the South County Federation and Mount Vernon Council of Citizens Associations, is a supporter of the application and said that its approval will directly benefit the community.

"There is so much to be gained for the community as a whole," McBride said.

If the new application is not approved, EnviroSolutions will open a recycling facility for construction debris at a facility it owns across from the landfill.

According to McBride, neighborhoods near the landfill would see an increase in truck traffic if it were to close by the end of 2018.

Trucks are currently restricted from certain local roads, Mehan said, but these restrictions wouldn't exist in the case of a recycling center, and traffic would increase along Furnace road.

"If the landfill closes, and we open up our facility across the street, there are no such restrictions on the facilities across the street," he said.

Mehan said that some local businesses are concerned with the possible opening of a recycling center.

"If we open up across the street, there is going to be a huge increase in cost, because everything that comes into our facilities has to go back out," Meehan said.

However, others say that truck traffic as a result of the recycling center would be minimal.

"It's a threat that ESI made to the community," said Lowell Curtis, former publisher of the South County Chronicle. "The reality is that it is cheaper for a contractor to go to a dump than a recycling center. The traffic will dramatically decrease."

THE SOUTH COUNTY FEDERATION is also concerned that the proposed green energy plan may not actually come to fruition if the contract is approved.

For example, if EnviroSolutions fails to provide infrastructure for the solar component, they must pay $3 million to Fairfax County.

Fairfax County is also responsible for the cost of transferring the methane from the geothermal energy hookup at the landfill to use for energy.

"The first idea was to transfer the methane over to the Lorton workhouse. How are you going to get it there? Fairfax County has to come and get it. To come and get it means that Fairfax County has to invest a lot of money to get a line from there to the workhouse and then turn it into electricity," Firth said.

Bill Lynch, who owns a business park near the landfill, said the landfill isn't the best backdrop for Lorton.

"Just think about driving down 95 and having the landfill be your landmark. It's a gateway to Fairfax County," he said.

According to the Virginia Public Access Project, Mehan has donated $34,260 to area candidates since 1998, including former Fairfax County Board of Supervisors Chairman Gerry Connolly prior to joining Congress, and Fairfax County Chairman Sharon Bulova.

A public hearing on the application will take place during the Planning Commission meeting on Feb. 27 at 8:15 p.m. at the Fairfax County Government Center.

OPINION

Budget Process: Get Involved

Chairman gives blueprint for community engagement in Fairfax County budget process.

BY SHARON BULOVA

In Fairfax County, when we adopt the budget, we are investing in the priorities and needs of the community. At the center of this open and transparent process is community engagement. It is critical that we have the community at the table with us when we are considering changes to the budget that the County Executive released for advertisement at our Board Meeting on Feb. 25. Below are some opportunities to learn about the budget, ask questions and make suggestions during the months of March and April. I look forward to hearing from you.

❖ Ask Fairfax Chat: The Ask Fairfax Chat is a great opportunity for residents to submit questions about the County's proposed Fiscal 2015 budget directly to County Executive Ed Long. The chat takes place online from 2-3 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 28. To submit questions and join the chat visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/askfairfax.

❖ Track BOS Budget Questions: You can view the answers to budget questions asked by the Board of Supervisors throughout the budget process at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dmb/qa_search.htm.

❖ Sign up to speak: All public hearings take place in the Board Auditorium at the Fairfax County Government Center (12000 Government Center Parkway, Fairfax, Virginia 22035) and are open to the public. To sign up to speak at a hearing, please visit www.fairfaxcounty.gov/bosclerk/speaker_bos.htm or call 703-324-3151.

❖ Important public hearing dates:
Effective Tax Rate Hearing - Board Auditorium - Govt. Center - 3 p.m., April 8, 2014
Public Hearing - Board Auditorium - Govt. Center - 6 p.m., April 8, 2014
Public Hearing - Board Auditorium - Govt. Center - 3 p.m., April 9, 2014
Public Hearing - Board Auditorium - Govt. Center - 3 p.m., April 10, 2014

BUDGET FORUMS AND TOWN MEETINGS will be hosted by Supervisors and community organizations throughout the county. Below is a list of currently scheduled meetings. Information on additional forums, as well as a current full budget calendar, will be listed in the coming weeks at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dmb.

❖ Hunter Mill District Meeting, Frying Pan Park, 2709 W. Ox Road, Herndon — Saturday, March 1, 9 a.m.

❖ Dranesville District Budget Meeting, Great Falls Library, 9830 Georgetown Pike, Great Falls — Wednesday, March 5, 7 p.m.

❖ Braddock District Budget Meeting, Kings Park Library, Braddock Hall, 9000 Burke Lake Rd, Burke — Wednesday, March 12, 7:30 p.m.

❖ Herndon Town Council, Herndon Town Council Chambers, 765 Lynn Street, Herndon — Thursday, March 13, 7 p.m.

❖ Mason District Budget Meeting, TBD — Tuesday, March 18 - 7 p.m.

❖ Providence District Budget Meeting, Dunn Loring Admin Center, 2334 Gallows Road, Dunn Loring — Tuesday, March 18, 7 p.m.

❖ Dranesville District Budget Meeting, McLean Community Center, 1234 Ingleside Ave., McLean — Thursday, March 20, 7 p.m.

❖ Lee District Budget Meeting, Franconia Government Center, 6121 Franconia Road, Alexandria — Wednesday, March 26, 7:30 p.m.

❖ Braddock Town Hall, Robinson Secondary School, 5035 Sideburn Road, Fairfax — Tuesday, April 1, 7:30 p.m.

I hope you will take the time to learn about and participate in this year's budget process. You can contact my office directly by calling 703-324-2321 or emailing chairman@fairfaxcounty.gov.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Volunteering to Help Mentally Ill

To the Editor:

For Mary Anne Cummins, community and volunteering go hand-in-hand.

As a volunteer with the Ignatian Volunteer Corps (IVC) in Northern Virginia, she serves her local community through a partnership with a local non-profit organization while being a part of a closely-knit group of other IVC volunteers doing the same. For Mary Anne, this combination of service and fellowship has enriched her retirement, deepening friendships and broadening her perspectives.

Mary Anne volunteers at Pathway Homes, Inc., which provides housing and care for members of our community with mental illness. Through her service, Mary Anne has become more in tune with the needs of those with mental illness and disabilities, and more familiar with local and national resources available to the mentally ill. She greatly admires the Pathway staff's dedication to and passion for their clients. Now, when she reads the newspaper and finds articles about the homeless and those with mental disabilities, she feels a connection she did not feel before, inspiring her to become involved with the Community Services Board in Fairfax so as to learn more about how the county meets the needs of those with disabilities.

IVC is an organization that provides retired men and women the opportunity to serve the needs of the poor, to work for a more just society, and to grow closer to God through Ignatian spirituality. The volunteers work with local non-profits and use their individual talents to meet the needs of the Northern Virginia community.

Most IVC volunteers each provide over 600 hours in service every year to impact the lives of over 10,000 families in the area.

However, it can be easy for a volunteer to be exhausted by service. IVC's uniqueness comes in the combination of service work and encouragement from a community of fellow volunteers. Mary Anne says this community is vital to her volunteering as it helps to fuel her drive to serve others. Through the opportunity to reflect on her volunteer work in monthly meetings, Mary Anne finds even more meaning and inspiration from the work she is doing. "You learn a lot about the community and about your faith," says Cummins. While working at Pathways, Inc., she says she is reminded often of the words of Teresa of Avila: "Christ has no body but yours, no hands, no feet on earth but yours."

Over the time she has served, the meaning of these words has changed for Mary Anne "I have learned not only how to be Christ to those that I serve, but how to let them be Christ to me through volunteering as a member of IVC."

If you would like to learn more about Pathway Homes, Inc. visit their website: www.pathwayhomes.org

If you are interested in volunteer service and becoming part of an active community of faith, you will find both through the Ignatian Volunteer Corps! Please contact our Regional Director, Joanie Coolidge at jcoolidge@ivcusa.org or (703) 352-4140 or visit our website (www.ivcusa.org/northern-virginia/) for more information.

Cutting Edge Veterinary Care

Local veterinarians and behavior specialists detail the latest advancements in animal care.

By Marilyn Campbell
The Connection

Four Bernese mountain dogs, victims of an Alexandria house fire were rushed into the Emergency and Critical Care Department at the Regional Veterinary Referral Center in Springfield in the middle of a frigid night last month. It didn't look good.

Dr. Melanie Galanis calls it one of the center's most traumatic cases in recent months. "The dogs had to be placed on oxygen," she said. "Just the number that came in at once and had to be put on oxygen made it dramatic. One of them required surgery to take away the burned tissue."

Fortunately, all of the dogs survived. Galanis says that thanks to advancements in veterinary medicine, furry friends now have access to high-tech medical services that equal those of their human counterparts.

"We can do almost any procedure that is done on humans in an emergency situation except that the wait time is shorter," said Galanis. "We can do a rapid assessment within the first 10 minutes. We have the ability to mechanically ventilate dogs for severe pneumonia, neurological diseases that affect brain and the dog's ability to breathe."

IN FACT, ADVANCEMENTS in veterinary technology have led to more precise diagnoses, treatment and ultimately survival. "In addition to X-rays, we can do EKGs (electrocardiograms), ultrasounds. We have CT (computerized tomography) scans and MRIs (magnetic with offices in Vienna, Woodbridge, Leesburg and Winchester, Va. said, "There are many advancements currently, and on the horizon, for companion animals in the realm of small animal surgery. Many diseases are treatable with excellent outcomes, some curable."

Lynn Chiappane, spokeswoman for the Regional Veterinary Referral Center, said the center even offers a "rehabilitative therapy program complete with underwater treadmill."

Galanis said that the most common ailments that bring dogs into veterinary emergency rooms are vomiting and diarrhea. "Dogs come in after ingesting things that they shouldn't like a foreign object or foods like chocolate."

"A common thing that we see are animals with bleeding in their abdomen," she said. "Tumors on their spleen and they will bleed internally." Galanis says warning signs are when an animal becomes weak or collapses.

Other leading causes of emergency room visits are more traumatic, such as injuries from animal fights or animals that have been struck by automobiles.

Most patients are referred to Veterinary Referral Center by their regular veterinarians to see the board-certified veterinary specialists on staff, including a cardiologist, dermatologist, internist, ophthalmologist, radiation oncologist and radiologist, as well as general surgeons, including one with special training in surgical oncology.

The Springfield center isn't the only local facility for specialized animal care, however. Dr. Anke Langenbach, chief surgeon and owner of Veterinary Surgical Centers, says her center performs a range of specialized surgeries, including orthopedic, neurosurgery and soft tissue surgery. Her center also offers rehabilitation services.

Dr. Melanie Galanis, of Regional Veterinary Referral Center, says that advancements in veterinary medicine now offer animals access to high-tech medical services that equal those of their human counterparts.

present as back pain or being wobbly or being unable to move their legs. It usually results in emergency surgery, often in the middle of the night." When dogs and cats arrive with symptoms such as back pain or paralysis, surgeons use CT Scans and MRIs helps make a diagnosis. "Sometimes it is a back fracture from being hit by a car," Campbell said. "Sometimes it's a tumor of the spinal cord or brain."

Veterinary Surgical Centers' veterinarians primarily treat cats and dogs, but are also called on to consult on cases for large or exotic animals like horses, elephants and zebras.

MEDICAL ADVANCEMENTS for pets are not limited to veterinary specialty services. Veronica Sanchez, M.Ed., a trainer and behavior consultant with Vienna-based Cooperative Paws, LLC, offers pet owners a variety of options when it comes to correcting undesirable animal behavior.

"I had a client with a mixed-breed puppy who was afraid of everything, including her owner," said Sanchez. "The puppy would not walk in a new environment or even exit her crate voluntarily."

Sanchez recommended several different strategies, including teaching the owner how body language could help the puppy relax. "We also used clicker training to teach the puppy to exit the crate," she said. "The owner was very committed and worked hard. Her puppy gained confidence and she developed a great relationship with her puppy."

Hollywood Comes to Fairfax

How to use Hollywood-style portrait techniques to photograph adoptable animals.

By Deb Cobb
The Connection

Animals at the Fairfax County Animal Shelter were given the celebrity treatment on Feb. 23 when a team from the non-profit Shelter Art Foundation taught shelter staff and volunteers how to use Hollywood-style portrait techniques to photograph their adoptable animals.

"We believe that every animal is a celebrity. We want to give them the same exposure that we would give a budding star in Hollywood. We do this because it works. Great portraits get actors and actresses noticed and leading roles. We want these animals to get leading roles in new homes," said Shelter Art Foundation founder Steve Sloop after the Sunday workshop.

"We have conducted photo team workshops at 19 shelters in eight states, enabling these shelters to build the skills necessary to show off their stars. All of the shelters we have worked with have said that the better images make a difference," said Sloop.

"When I was a kid if you wanted an animal, you went to the shelter. And now, if you want an animal you go online. If the online image isn't beautiful and inviting and something you would want to have at your house, you'll keep clicking until you find it. But when you have that animal that looks at you and grabs your heart, you'll go into the shelter. That may not be the one that you come home with, but we've got you into the shelter so you can find the one you connect with," said Sloop of the concept that drove him to create the Shelter Art Foundation.

IN THE PAST YEAR, under the leadership of Tawny Hammond, the Fairfax County Animal Shelter has implemented a multi-faceted social media campaign to engage with the community in new ways and to increase adoptions. "A strong photography program coupled with a strategic social media program is paramount to success. With training and attention, we all can do it."

When the Shelter Art Foundation contacted Hammond about hosting a workshop, she said, "How soon can we do it?" Not only did volunteers from the Fairfax County Animal Shelter participate, but representatives from humane societies in the District of Columbia and Montgomery County, Maryland were also present.

The non-profit Shelter Art Foundation was founded in 2010 when Sloop realized that he and his volunteer photo team at the Monterey SPCA had figured out an easy to learn, low cost technique that combined advanced animal wrangling strategies with a basic studio photography setup. He founded the non-profit and started traveling to shelters around the country.

"At first, I'd visit a shelter whenever I was traveling to see family or friends," says Sloop. In late 2013

he was contacted by Purina to see if support from them would enable the Foundation to expand their program. Once they conduct the workshop, they are able to provide the shelters they visit with the equipment needed to set up the shelter studio at no cost.

THERE ARE CURRENTLY 25 shelters in California, two in Nevada, one in Alabama, one in Louisiana, one in Missouri and one in Virginia scheduled for this spring.

"Our goal is to empower as many shelters and rescue organizations as possible with the training and equipment they need to improve their images," says Sloop. For more information about the organization, go to their website at www.ShelterArtFoundation.org.

Making Connections

Service dogs and their “handlers” are teamed up through paws4pets.

BY JOAN BRADY

I was already one of those embarrassingly crazy dog people, when I first met Kyria and Terry Henry, founders of paws4people.org. But I had no idea how little I truly knew about the bonds possible between animals and their people.

After photographing puppies coming home for the first time, dogs sharing their favorite pastime and pets who are older and/or ill, I really thought I knew all about the animal/people connection.

But nothing prepared me for the emotional bonds that I began to capture for paws4people.org of dogs and the “handlers” who are the paws4people clients.

These were assistance dogs, trained to provide support in mobility, psychiatric service, educational and rehabilitative assistance, and social therapy. The dogs’ training is done largely in prisons by inmate trainers.

Children and adolescents, veterans and active-duty service members who are accepted into the program, meet with trainers and dogs at the prisons (called a “bump”), in hopes that there will be a match between each of them and a dog. When a match is found, the dog is trained specifically to the needs of his/her new “handler.”

If you have ever tried to photograph your pet, you know it requires patience, a quick finger on the shutter and fast equipment. Capturing the relationship between assistance dogs and their handlers, is something altogether different.

It’s about capturing the intimacy of two beings who live largely for each other. As a photographer, that means creating the right environment, without intruding too much on the moment.

Here are a few of the pairs I have photographed, and a little bit about each.

SONNY MORROW, of Alexandria, stepped on a land mine while serving in Vietnam. As he has aged, the injuries he sustained have continued to limit his activities and those of his wife, Peggy.

When Sonny went to West Virginia for his “bump” at FCC Hazelton, four years ago, he didn’t know what to expect. Sonny was introduced to two dogs, one by one. Each dog took one look at him and walked the other way. Sonny had heard that you don’t pick the dog, the dog picks you. And he wasn’t getting picked.

Another dog, Jake, a black lab, was not felt to be ready to meet any of the “clients.” Maybe it was the way he looked at

FROM MY PERSPECTIVE

Sonny from across the room, maybe it was just a gut feeling, but it was decided that Jake should meet Sonny. Within seconds, Jake was upside down in Sonny’s lap and it was clear they were meant for each other.

Sonny gives Jennifer, Jake’s lead trainer, a great deal of credit for thoughtfully questioning him that day on what he was going to need from his assistance dog and then making sure that Jake had the training that would allow him to meet his specific needs. They remain close friends to this day.

Sonny can’t imagine his life without Jake. Jake is not only a caring constant companion, but his practical skills are critical to Sonny’s well being. Jake is able to call 911 if Sonny gets into trouble and helps Sonny with his mobility and stability. Sonny describes Jake, with great pride, as being able to do absolutely anything.

DAWSON HAS BEEN WITH RACHAEL WESSELL about a year now. He helps her with daily tasks like picking up dropped items, alerting her when someone is approaching her wheelchair from behind, helping her to balance when she needs to right herself, carrying bags, getting out her wallet or cell phone, getting help in an emergency. He is able to remove her socks and coat and will even bring her a hot pizza without scarfing it down himself. He lives for Mondays when Rachael rides at Lift Me Up therapeutic riding in Great Falls.

FOR ERIN BUCKLES, born a conjoined twin and separated as an infant from her sister Jade, having Solomon meant that she would no longer be the girl in the wheelchair at school in Northern Virginia. She would be the girl with the dog. And, she wouldn’t have to wait for someone to pick up a dropped pencil or bring her shoes to her.

ADAM CAMPBELL says he felt connected to Kenan as soon as they met at Lakin Correctional Center in West Virginia. “[it was] the way he looked at me, while he leaned into me, while I pet him. It was a moment I will never forget.”

SARAH WISHART, a veteran, and Darby were matched last July and both are still in training as of the writing of this column. They train together and Darby continues her training separately until they are both ready for Darby to go home with Sarah.

This training time is hard on Sarah, especially leaving Darby behind when she heads home. She can’t wait for Darby to come home with her. “She’s going to get me back out and helping my community again.”

At the paws4people.org annual reunion in October, Sarah struggled with her fear of crowds, related to her PTSD. Not only was she facing the crowded reunion, but that weekend marked the first anniversary of the death of one of her fellow soldiers.

He had been a true leader who was lost to an improvised explosive device in Afghanistan. To Sarah, he will always be known by his call sign, “Cowboy.” His memory and the knowledge of what he would want for her helps to propel her forward.

She was thankful to have Darby by her side.

GETTING TOGETHER with friends is challenging for Josh Gregor of West Virginia. Because of his medical needs, he is fed and/or receives medications through a tube throughout the day. He is sensitive to other kids observing the intimate details of his daily life and he always has to have a nurse or his mom nearby.

Mason, his assistance dog, has practical, life saving responsibilities like alerting adults when Josh’s tube gets twisted, but what Josh cares most about is that now he has someone to play with all of the time.

NATALIE KIDDIE AND DOLCE, a psychiatric service dog, work as co-therapists at North Spring Behavioral Healthcare in Leesburg helping youths and adolescents with mental health impairments. Often it is Dolce with whom they feel comfortable sharing their thoughts.

ALEX KEEFOVER AND KINGSLEY met when Alex was 16. This year, they started college. Like so many of the paws4people clients, Kingsley is Alex’s everything, “He’s there for me. If it’s picking up stuff, taking my coat off, stuff like that, and also the emotional support. If I’m having a bad day or worried about school, I just have to look at him and I’m laughing.”

Alex remembers well how he felt the day he met Kingsley for the first time, “When we got [to the prison] I was so nervous. ... then when I met the dogs, pure joy.”

Alex felt the connection to Kingsley the minute they met. He says that Kingsley’s only limitation is that he cannot type for him as Alex has much to say, but has speaking and typing difficulties.

Ode to Pepper

BY BOB STRANGER, FAIRFAX STATION

A poem of my 10-year-old Scottish Terrier who was lost to cancer in August 2013. As the poem indicates he was a regular visitor to Burke Rehabilitation Center with the Fairfax Pet on Wheels Program for a number of years and will be missed by everyone who ever encountered him.

From a private home in Tidewater land
Came a young pup by Sophie, the dam
Dubbed Bucky by name for his misaligned teeth
He soon became PEPPER upon joining our midst
Obedience class was a needless chore
In a church parking lot with which to explore
He seemed to enjoy the attention he got
But discipline was out by any sort
A creature of habit you bet he was
A built in clock it seemed to be
His walks could be timed by his location at the door

With bedtime a must following his nightly chore
He dearly loved to roam the beach
To chase the gulls and to watch them fly
The sandcrab was a challenge to behold
With many a tryst between friend and foe
Pepper considered everyone a friend
Whether young or old 'twas always the same
A warm greeting or a pat was all he required
To satisfy the tail wagging of this endearing lad
A weekly visit to nursing home care
Became a mainstay for him in his own little way

He was always anxious to greet all he met
And gained many a friend in the lives that he touched

Pasta was a favorite snack to partake
With long strands of spaghetti a special treat
Vegetables that crunched were a delightful fare
Carrots became a favorite to share
Pepper could never accept the sound of flight
Planes and helicopters were a menace to sight
Holiday fireworks were his nemesis as well
Requiring loving attention to calm his fright
Whenever he wanted to be mischievous in kind
He would always find something to hide
Whether it was clothing or trinkets that someone had left out

More often than not he would be found
Guarding his cache in a well secluded spot
Regardless of whether he was always up for his daily walk

Whether it was raining or snowing was no concern to him

The elements had no dissuasion for this endearing dog

Pepper was never much in to learning tricks
But had mannerisms that endeared him to us
When groceries were delivered from the store
He could often be found in search of a treat
Disease took its toll in a prime time of life
His ten years on Earth became too much for him
He now joins the legions in a better place beyond
With lots of fond memories to cherish around
Farewell good buddy you were a good friend and will be missed by all that you met.

Puppy love. Maria Nunez-Oliver with Charlie.

Paul Poling Wins Monopoly Championship

Ron & Susan Associates raise over $7,000 for Lorton Community Action Center.

Paul Poling, who's been a finalist twice before, finally reached the top spot and emerged the winner of the 7th annual Monopoly Game Tournament held recently at the Workhouse Arts Center in Lorton. The tournament, sponsored by Ron & Susan Associates, a real estate team with Re/Max Gateway, was organized to benefit the Lorton Community Action Center (LCAC) whose mission is to break the cycle of poverty and prevent homelessness.

More than 85 contestants participated in the three-round tournament surrounded by family and friends. The final round featured the top six players exercising their real estate trading skills on a Franklin Mint Gold Edition Monopoly game board. When all the money and property was counted, Poling emerged the victor.

"It's great to come out on top," said Poling. "My younger brother, Matt, won the very first Tournament in 2008 when he was 9-years-old. He is here again and did well today, but I was able to make the right trades this year and it worked out for me".

In addition to Poling winning the top prize of $500, first-time player Alison Gibbons from Annandale won second place and received $250, and newcomer Shannon Love from Staunton, Va., placed third earning $100. Toney Mooney, Tabitha Missner (age 8) and Steven Hargrove rounded out the top six and received trophies.

This competition is one of many tournaments held nationwide to assist organizations in raising funds for their causes.

"Ron and I are proud to host this annual event to raise money for a great cause and bring some fun into real estate by playing the classic game of Monopoly," said Susan Borrelli, the event's co-sponsor. "We were very happy with this year's turnout, particularly the 22 local businesses who sponsored a table, or provided good and services. A special thanks to South County Cares for an outstanding breakfast and to Glory Days Grill-Lorton for providing a great lunch as they have done every year".

The Monopoly game, the world's most popular board game, is licensed in more than 80 countries and printed in more than 26 languages. Since it first went on the market in 1935, over 200 million Monopoly games have been sold worldwide and it is now played by an estimated 250 million people.

West Springfield Girls, Lake Braddock Boys Conference Champions

Senior Amy Berglund scores 28 points, grabs 10 rebounds, named tournament MVP.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

Six minutes in to Friday's Conference 7 championship game, West Springfield standout Amy Berglund had as many fouls as she did points — two.

With Berglund having spent time on the bench, the sharpshooting guard totaled seven points at halftime and the Spartans held a slim two-point lead over T.C. Williams.

"My teammates did great in the first half," Berglund said.

No. 25 had a much bigger impact in the second half.

Berglund scored 21 second-half points, helping the West Springfield girls' basketball team pull away from T.C. Williams en route to a 70-58 victory at Lake Braddock Secondary School on Feb. 21. The Spartans won their fourth conference/district championship in the last five years, and beat the Titans for the second time in three tries this season.

BERGLUND finished with 28 points and 10 rebounds, earning tournament MVP.

"Maybe it gave her rest for the second half," said West Springfield head coach Bill Gibson, joking about Berglund getting in early foul trouble. "We might sit her more often in the first half."

West Springfield led 31-30 early in the third quarter when Berglund started to take over. She scored the Spartans' next 11 points, including a layup that gave West Springfield a 42-37 advantage with 1:41 left in the third.

"I had my opportunities [and] my teammates found me," Berglund said. "I knew I wanted to win this game. I knew I had to leave it all out there. It's my senior year."

While Berglund showed her perimeter-shooting skills, she also scored by attacking the basket, putting back offensive rebounds and getting to the free-throw line.

"She is very versatile," Gibson said. "She was shooting 57 percent from the floor and you don't get many kids like that. That's just phenomenal if you ask me. I don't think [West Springfield graduate and WNBA standout] Kara Lawson or anybody ever shot [that well]."

A bucket by sophomore Maura D'Anna in the closing seconds of the third quarter gave West Springfield a 49-40 lead.

The Spartans scored the first six points of the fourth quarter, including a pair of buckets by Berglund, and led by at least nine points for the remainder of the contest.

West Springfield senior Taylor Samuels

The West Springfield girls' basketball team beat T.C. Williams on Friday and won the Conference 7 championship.

scored 14 points against T.C. Williams in the Conference 7 championship game on Friday. Samuels was named to the all-tournament team.

Taylor Samuels finished with 14 points for West Springfield. Sadie Schroeder knocked down a trio of 3-pointers for nine points and Shelby Haynes added seven.

Rejoice Spivey led T.C. Williams with 15 points.

Grace Peterson finished with 14 points, Tykera Carter had 13 and Angie Schedler added 12.

The Spartans won the first meeting between the teams this season, 54-53 on Dec. 13 at West Springfield.

The Titans countered with a 66-55 win on Jan. 28 at T.C. Williams, giving the Spartans their only loss to date. "I really think the only thing is heart," Samuels said when asked how to gain an edge against a familiar opponent.

"They know every single player, we know every single player. We just have to come out with passion."

Berglund (MVP), Samuels, Haynes, Carter, Spivey and South County's April Henson were named to the all-tournament team.

West Springfield defeated Fairfax 53-47 in the opening round of the 6A North region tournament on Feb. 24, and beat Westfield 57-34 in the quarterfinals on Feb. 25. The Spartans will face Centreville in the semifinals at 6 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 27 at Robinson Secondary School.

Gregorits hits game winner, named tournament MVP.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

With the score tied and less than 3 minutes remaining in Friday's Conference 7 championship game at Woodson, Lake Braddock senior Will Gregorits twice stepped to the free-throw line with a chance to give the Bruins a lead.

With 2:18 remaining, Gregorits missed the front end of a one-and-one. Twelve seconds later, he missed a pair.

"I choked down the end," Gregorits said. "... I missed those [three] free throws, but my team had my back."

Other Bruins made plays down the stretch, giving Gregorits a chance at redemption. With the Bruins down one and 13.5 seconds remaining, Lake Braddock went with the play "one down," which gave Gregorits a chance to attack the basket or dish to a perimeter shooter.

No. 33 didn't disappoint.

GREGORITS drove to the rim and scored with 4 seconds remaining and the Lake Braddock boys' basketball team held on to beat Woodson 62-61 at Lake Braddock Secondary School. It was the Bruins' second consecutive conference/district championship, and the first time Lake Braddock had repeated since winning three in a row in 1986-87-88.

"[Head coach Brian Metress] said go score it, because I know you will," Gregorits said. "It just happened to work and I'm so happy."

Gregorits' bucket put Lake Braddock on the winning side of a wild, back-and-forth finish.

Trailing by one, Woodson's Eric Bowles knocked down a pair of free throws to give the Cavaliers a 59-58 lead with 1 minute remaining. At the other end, A.J. Alexander made a pair from the foul line to put Lake Braddock back on top, 60-59, with 42.2 seconds left. With 13.3 remaining, Woodson's Andy Stynchula made both attempts from the charity stripe, putting the Cavaliers back in front, 61-60.

That's when Gregorits answered, giving the Lake Braddock a 62-61 advantage. After a Woodson timeout, Bowles missed a runner at the buzzer.

"It's 10-times better," Alexander said when comparing Friday's win with last year's district title. "It's the second time in a row, it's expected. It would have been a big upset if we would have lost — [to] us, at least. I don't know about everyone else around the district."

LAKE BRADDOCK improved to 3-0 against Woodson this season with the three victories coming by a combined eight points. The Bruins entered the tournament as the Lake Braddock senior Will Gregorits was named Conference 7 tournament MVP.

No. 1 seed and the Cavaliers No. 2. Last year, Lake Braddock upset top-seeded Woodson in the district semifinals before beating South County in the championship game. The Bruins went on to lose in the region quarterfinals, while the Cavaliers won the Northern Region title and reached the state semifinals.

"For us ... I thought maybe this year was a little bit more climatic because it was the 1 and 2 playing each other," Metress said. "Last year, we played South County, who was a very good team, but ... in basketball, it's Lake Braddock and Woodson."

John Nice led Lake Braddock with 15 points. Reagan Jones scored 13 points and Alexander finished with 11 points and 10 rebounds. James Butler scored 10 points and Gregorits finished with eight.

Bowles led Woodson with 21 points. Ayoub finished with 11 points and Stynchula finished added 10.

Gregorits (MVP), Alexander, Nice, Bowles, Ayoub and West Potomac's DeMornay Pierson-El were named to the all-tournament team.

Lake Braddock continued its winning ways in the 6A North regional tournament. The Bruins defeated McLean 77-44 in the opening round on Feb. 24, and beat Oakton 75-64 on Feb. 25 in the quarterfinals. Lake Braddock will face South Lakes in the semifinals at 8 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 28 at Robinson Secondary School.

Woodson is also still alive. The Cavaliers defeated Langley 66-47 in the opening round on Feb. 24 and knocked off Battlefield 59-56 on Feb. 25 in the quarterfinals. Woodson will face Herndon at 6 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 28 in the semifinals at Robinson Secondary School.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE IMPROVED REAL ESTATE

Improved by the premises known as 6258 Paddington Lane, Centreville, Virginia

In execution of a Deed of Trust from Cynthia Glacken and William Glacken, dated September 16, 2005, and recorded September 19, 2005, in Deed Book 17755 at page 1160 among the Land Records of Fairfax County, Virginia, the undersigned substitute trustee will offer for sale at public auction at the front entrance of the Judicial Center for Fairfax County, at 4110 Chain Bridge Road, Fairfax, Virginia, on Monday, March 10, 2014 at 9:30 a.m.

the following property being the property contained in said Deed of Trust, described as follows:

Lot 41, Section 2, London Towne, as the same appears duly dedicated, platted and recorded in Deed Book 2711 at page 684, among the Land Records of Fairfax County, Virginia, together with and subject to the provisions of the declaration of covenants and conditions (including membership in London Towne Homeowners Association) recorded in Deed Book 2788 at page 487 among the aforesaid land records.

Commonly known as 6258 Paddington Lane, Centreville, Virginia 20120.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of $25,000.00 or ten percent (10%) of the sale price, whichever amount is less, in the form of cash or its equivalent will be required of the purchaser at the time and place of sale; the balance of the purchase money being due and payable within fifteen (15) days after sale, time expressly being of the essence, with interest at the rate of 3.0 percent per annum from date of sale to date of settlement. Provided, however, that if the holder of the secured promissory note is the successful bidder at the sale, no cash deposit shall be required, and part of or the entire indebtedness, including interest and costs, secured by the Deed of Trust, may be set off against the purchase price.

Any defaulting purchaser shall forfeit the deposit and stand the risk and cost of resale.

Sale shall be made subject to all existing easements and restrictive covenants as the same may lawfully affect the real estate. Sale is further subject to mechanic's and/or materialman's liens of record and not of record. The property will be sold subject to all conditions, covenants, restrictions, rights of redemption of federal lienholders or encumbrances, and agreements of record affecting the same, if any.

In the event the undersigned trustee is unable to convey to the purchaser good title, then purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy shall be in the refund of the deposit paid at the time of sale.

The subject property and all improvements thereon will be sold in "as is" condition without warranty of any kind. Purchaser shall be responsible for any and all building and/or zoning code violations whether of record or not of record, as well as for all unpaid and enforceable homeowners' or condominium owners' association dues and assessments, if any. Purchaser also shall be responsible for obtaining possession of the property at his/her expense. Purchaser shall assume the risk of loss and shall be responsible for any damage, vandalism, theft, destruction, or the like, of or to the property occurring after the time of sale. Conveyance will be by special warranty deed. Conveyancing, recording, transfer taxes, notary fees, examination of title, state stamps, and all other costs of conveyance are to be at the expense of purchaser. State and local taxes, public charges, and special or regular assessments, if any, shall be adjusted to the date of sale and thereafter shall be assumed by the purchaser.

Sale is subject to post-sale confirmation that the borrower did not file for protection under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code prior to the sale, as well as to post-sale confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the loan servicer including, but not limited to, determination of whether the borrower entered into any repayment agreement, reinstated or paid off the loan prior to the sale. In any such event, the sale shall be null and void, and the Purchaser's sole remedy, in law or equity, shall be the return of his deposit without interest. Additional terms may be announced at the time of sale. This is a communication from a debt collector and any information obtained will be used for that purpose.

OBITUARY

On February 17th, 2014 Maria McClendon of Haymarket, VA passed away at her home peacefully surrounded by her family. She was a beloved wife of Bob McClendon for 27 years and a devoted mother of Ashley (Ryan) Donovan and Jamey McClendon. She is survived by a brother and sister Peter Marzocca and Ann Marie Little, brothers and sister – in – law Mike and Debbie Barefoot and Chuck McClendon, parents – in – law Jimmy and Frances McClendon, numerous nieces, nephews, and cousins, and a special cousin Mary Lynne Lumbinger. Pre-deceased by her parents Joe and Grace Marzocca and brother – in – law Ted Little of Endicott, NY. She was an admired Fairfax County teacher for 35 years. The family would like to thank Dr. Anthony Felice and Reston Hematology and Oncology for their continued compassion and care during her long and courageous battle, and her colleagues for their unending support especially those present for the last few months. Family and friends may call on Wednesday February 19th, 2014, from 4-8pm at Fairfax Memorial Funeral Home, 9902 Braddock Road, Fairfax, VA 22032. Funeral Mass will be Thursday February 20th, 2014, 11am Holy Trinity Catholic Church, 8213 Linton Hall Road, Gainesville, VA 20155. In lieu of flowers donations can be made to a charity of your choice or to the family for a pending scholarship fund in her honor.

Robinson senior Jack Bass reached his fourth state final on Feb. 22 and won his first championship during the 6A state meet at Robinson Secondary School.

Robinson Wrestling Wins State Title

Senior Bass wins first state title in four tries.

BY JON ROETMAN
THE CONNECTION

Jack Bass's first three trips to the state tournament ended in runner-up finishes and missed opportunities. The Robinson grappler knew he was good enough to win, but lacked the necessary discipline or focus to get the job done.

"I've won national tournaments," Bass said, "but every year at state, I've never taken it as serious as I should."

On Feb. 22, Bass made his fourth appearance in a state final. This time, he added the title of "VHSL State Champion" to his decorated wrestling career, which includes four region championships.

Bass defeated Battlefield senior Justus Weaver via 8-2 decision to win the 152-pound 6A state title during the 5A/6A state wrestling meet at Robinson Secondary School.

"This year, it feels amazing because I've never won this tournament and I've been to every national tournament for high school," Bass said. "... Every year I've lost to someone I could beat, just simply because I overlooked them. I don't think I was as focused as I should have been the last three years. It changed this year. I kind of came in here more focused. I really wanted it this year."

Bass' victory helped Robinson capture its third team state championship in the last four years. The Rams finished with 152.5 points. Colonial Forge finished runner-up with 132.5. Lake Braddock was sixth with 77.

Robinson produced four individual state champions: Bass (152), Zak DePasquale (160), Cole DePasquale (182) and Jake Pinkston (285). Zak DePasquale beat Grassfield senior Taylor Misuna via 6-3 decision. Cole DePasquale defeated Hayfield's Antonia Agee by 3-1 decision, and Pinkston beat Stafford junior Sebastian Silva via 3-1 decision.

Lake Braddock Has Three Reach Finals

The Lake Braddock wrestling team had an individual reach the finals in each of the first three weight classes. Darius Wiles won the 113-pound championship moments after watching his twin brother, Dante Wiles, lose a 15-14 decision to Cox's Oleksiy Onufriyenko in the 106-pound final.

"It was really tough," Darius Wiles said. "It was all mental. I couldn't let his match affect my match. ... It made me feel bad, but I had to fight through it."

Darius Wiles defeated Cox's Landon Loalbo via 2-1 decision.

After the Wiles brothers, Lake Braddock's Ryan Haskett wrestled in the 120-pound final, but lost to Colonial Forge's Joshua Nail via 7-3 decision.

South County's Manley Wins State Title

South County's Hunter Manley made his fourth trip to the state tournament and came away with his first state championship.

The senior grappler defeated Robinson junior Austin Riggs by injury default to win the 132-pound championship.

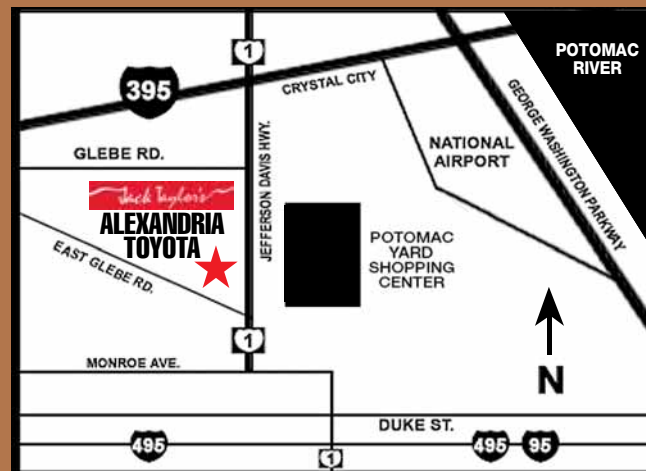

[Coming up short at states] kept me working hard, definitely," Manley said. "It's also good that I've been here so many times, it just felt like another tournament."
