Lauren Weaver Sterling, 32, of Fairfax was named on June 25 the new executive director of the Western Fairfax Christian Ministries (WFCM), replacing Melissa Jansen who resigned. The daughter of a Baptist pastor, Sterling graduated from West Springfield High School, the College of William and Mary, and has a master's in social work from Virginia Commonwealth University where she studied social service programs, fundraising and nonprofit management. She's has experience in grant-writing, fundraising and development, and worked at nonprofits for 10 years.

"I've grown up in the church, and it was really in the church that my desire to serve others was developed – through mission projects and community service projects throughout my life," said Sterling. "It's always been my desire to serve others, to help the community however I can. I really see that as a tangible way to show the love of God."

Her goal for WFCM, which has a $653,000 yearly budget and eight part-time staff members, is to continue to partner with churches and community groups, and individuals on food drives and the backpack program, which is currently underway.

"We are collecting 2,000 backpacks to distribute to schools in the area, with 23 elementary, middle and high schools that will be the recipients of these backpacks," she said.

Along those lines, she said she would like to continue WFCM programming to help with financial assistance, which includes money for rent, utilities and other basic needs for the clients.

Last year, WFCM provided $164,829 in financial assistance to 352 households (1,046 individuals), which included money for rent, utilities, medication, transportation and other assistance. Between July 1, 2013 and June 30, 2014, WFCM served 955 households from Centreville, Clifton, Chantilly, Fairfax and Fairfax Station. And the demand for WFCM's services continues to increase, said Sterling.

"The majority of our clients are employed, but they are unable to find full time work, so many don't have benefits," said Sterling. "They're only able to find part-time work, which doesn't provide enough for their families."

"The majority are adults with children who have extremely low incomes and who are employed," added Sterling. "The majority are seeking assistance with rent and utilities because of the high cost of housing in this area. Even with a job, it can be difficult to make ends meet."

WFCM helped households with income levels of 862 extremely low, 68 low, 20 moderate to low, and 5 above. The ethnicity of household beneficiaries was 502 white, 297 African American, 85 Middle Eastern, 29 Asian or Pacific Islander, and 25 mixed. As far as individuals, WFCM served 301 seniors, 1,309 adults, 1,270 children, for a total of 2,880.

WFCM relies heavily on its 648 individual and 39 group volunteers, which provided 24,038 hours at WFCM's food pantry, administrative offices, and thrift store. These volunteers work the front desk and screen people for income eligibility, help stock the food pantry and bag food, and pick up food from the community. Stores like Giant, Costco and Harris Teeter donate food to its pantry on a regular basis, which includes perishables, baked goods and even meats.

"We rely heavily on volunteers; they continue to be integral to the operation," said Sterling.

The food pantry is unique in that it's "client choice," which means the client can shop for his or her family. New clients are screened by staff to see if they are eligible. The food pantry has shelves stocked with donated items, and clients make appointments for when they can shop; they receive one bag of food per family member. Last year, the pantry provided 28,279 bags of food to 807 households (2,477 individuals) through its food pantry.

During its Holiday Food Program, WFCM provided meals and/or food assistance to 1,270 families. During its backpacks program, it gave away 1,995 backpacks to students on free/reduced lunches.

In operation since 1998, the thrift store recently shut down on Aug. 15 after it started to experience a loss in revenue, which did not cover the operating costs. So after 10 months of discussion, the board of directors decided to close it and instead focus on other aspects of WFCM's ministry: the food pantry, client emergency services, Mercy Closet referrals, and sponsoring events such as the holiday food drive and backpack drive.

Sterling said she hopes to develop even more partnerships in the community by expanding to different churches, businesses and other organizations.

"I'm really excited to be part of this ministry," said Sterling. "This is the type of work that I wanted to do when I went back to school to pursue a degree in social work. I am very grateful for the opportunity to be here and to serve."

Sterling has a long history of mission projects, like conducting food drives for ECHO in Springfield. She helped start an ESOL program by doing community outreach for Spanish-speaking people after college.

"It was a chance for me to exercise program development skills and start something and seeing it all the way through," she said.

She also headed up creative ministry teams, which sang at nursing homes and performed at a juvenile detention center, as well as crocheted scarves for a homeless shelter. After college, she worked for the Baptist World Alliance in Falls Church and the Virginia Supportive Housing, a nonprofit that provides permanent supportive housing for homeless single adults in Richmond.

"Lauren Weaver Sterling is a woman of substantive faith with a heart for the least among us," said the Rev. Kathryn F. Talley, deputy executive director of the Virginia Supportive Housing. "I've watched Lauren build strong relationships with funders, and I can envision her doing the same thing with churches participating in WFCM."

She added: "She has a keen mind and is comfortable with the business side of nonprofit work .... WFCM could not have found a more capable candidate to be their new executive director."

Sterling is recently married to husband Eric Sterling, a consultant with a D.C. contractor.

WFCM is located at 13888 Metrotech Drive in Chantilly. Sterling can be reached at Lsterling@wfcma.org or 703-988-9656, ext. 101. The website is www.wfcma.org.

Route 50 Widening Progressing

By Thursday, Aug. 28, drivers on Route 50 will have three lanes eastbound from Poland Road in Loudoun County to Route 28 in Fairfax County.

The opening of the third lane is being done in two phases. The lane is scheduled to open from Pleasant Valley Road in Fairfax County to Stonecroft Boulevard by 5 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 27. It will then open from Poland Road in Loudoun County to Pleasant Valley in Fairfax by 5 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 28.

Three lanes have been open to eastbound traffic from Stonecroft to Lee Road since the project began.

Crews plan to open a third lane to westbound traffic from the Cub Run Bridge to Poland Road by the end of this year.

The overall project completion date is November 2015.

VDOT Fixing Striping on I-66

VDOT crews are working on the eastbound I-66 bridge over Route 29 to remedy temporary pavement markings that peeled from the roadway during the Aug. 25 morning's rush hour.

The markings were installed on Aug. 15 as part of a temporary lane shift that will last three more weeks. The $2 million project to rehabilitate the I-66 bridges over Route 29 will be complete this fall. The Virginia Department of Transportation is working to determine what caused the markings to peel.

Especially needed are clothing and underwear for both boys and girls, ages 7-17; white towels, twin-sized blankets, sheets and bedspreads; new pillows and personal-hygiene products including shampoo, conditioner, hand soap, lotion, deodorant, hair brushes and accessories, tooth paste and toothbrushes, and disposable diapers.

Last year, Margarita Benavides started C.A.T.S. — Children's Adaptive Team Sports, whose mission is to provide children with special needs the opportunity to play in structured sports in their communities. It began in February of 2013 with a soccer league at the nZone in Chantilly, and has expanded to basketball, cheerleading and flag football — at four locations, including the YMCA in Reston, Courage Sports Center in Woodbridge, and the Shenandoah Soccer Academy in Winchester.

"This was my dream," said Benavides, the founder and director who has a special education degree from GMU. "My two passions are sports and serving people with disabilities ... It provides team sports for kids who are not able to participate in other programs."

The goal is to expand to swimming, volleyball and track and field to Arlington County and Maryland. For now, people are driving from as far away as the District, Gainesville, and Prince George's County, Md., to attend.

The cost is $115 for eight weeks of one-hour sessions on weekends, and includes uniforms, trophies and a party at the end of the season. The fall season begins on Sept. 27 and runs through Nov. 16. For details and to register, visit www.cats-sports.com or call 703-597-4310 or email mбенавидес@cats-sports.com.

"We individualize our instruction for the child's goals," said Benavides. For some children, it's just having the opportunity to participate, while for others, it's individual sports goals. She said they can also learn about following directions, taking turns, proper manners and waiting.

"It's an environment where we can teach and stimulate what they need," she said.

And the best part? "Just for the kids to be able to have fun," she said. "It helps in their quality of life, confidence and leadership." And after the season ends, almost all of the youngsters return for another go-round, she said.

The program teaches social skills, gross motor skills, behavior skills, and confidence. The 100 children who participate are grouped based on abilities, not age range, where socialization and making friends is stressed. "We try to focus on giving high-fives and making friends. They're with the same peers every week," she said.

She added: "We always make sure everybody scores a basket or a goal and that they get cheered on by the other players ... It's easy for us to follow through because they already have an interest in what they're playing."

She said parents have reported that they've seen improvements in their child's gross motor skills, behavior, and flexibility.

Will Plath of Centreville, whose son Alex, 11, is autistic, said he is very impressed with the program. "This is a very good fit for our son," a fifth-grader at Union Mill Elementary who is not very verbal, he said. "He always wants to come every week." They tried out the soccer but it wasn't a fit.

Narayan Athreya, whose daughter Sneha, 20, of Clifton attends, is also impressed with the program. "She's very interested in playing basketball," he says of Sneha, who attends the Davis Career Center. "She likes basketball. This program gives her the chance to do what she likes to do; it's an opportunity to play with a group."

'It's Nice To Shop Outdoors' Farmers Market at Government Center is a hit with the customers.

BY BONNIE HOBBS
THE CONNECTION

Whether customers are looking for juicy peaches, ripe tomatoes, coconut cupcakes or homemade ice cream, they'll find all those things and more at the farmers market at the Fairfax County Government Center.

Run by the county, it's held each Thursday, 3-7 p.m., in the parking lot of 12000 Government Center Pkwy. in Fair Oaks. It runs through Oct. 30 and often, there's a food truck, too, with the cuisine varying from week to week.

Board of Supervisors Chairman Sharon Bulova wanted a market here and this is its first year in this location. And the reception has been welcoming.

During a recent market, Duan Shankle got two lobster rolls from the food truck and bread from Great Harvest Bread Co. "It's great that the market's here and that they have fresh produce," she said. "And it's convenient for the Government Center employees."

Co-worker Bobane Dogomangue agreed. That day she purchased some cheddar-garlic bread, corn and other vegetables. "I think the market's a wonderful idea," she said. "It gives us access to fresh food that's healthy and lets us support the local farmers. It's important to give them the ability to continue."

Sisters Angelica and Esther Medina helped customers at the Westmoreland Produce stand. They sold a colorful array of cherry and heirloom tomatoes, fresh basil, green beans and pole beans, plus eggplant, green peppers, cucumbers, squash and zucchini.

Among their customers was Fairfax's Steve Adams, who bought heirloom tomatoes and fresh basil from them. "Summer tomatoes are my favorite thing," he said. "I'm going to make caprese stacks with them and will also top some veggie burgers with the tomatoes."

Since Adams, too, works at the Government Center, he called the farmers market

"super convenient" because he stops by on his way home. "I might also get some fresh peaches today," he said. "This market helps local farmers, the quality is excellent, you get fresh produce and it helps the local businesses."

Peggy McDonald of Fair Oaks said the farmers market brought back happy memories of her childhood. "My sister and I grew up with a garden in Loudoun County, and my mother and grandmother would can and freeze fresh vegetables," said McDonald.

At the market, she purchased cheddar-garlic bread and said Three Way Farm had "fresh and nice-looking" produce. "I think this market's wonderful because it's so close to home and the food is so fresh," she added. "More people should come to it. Last time I came, I got the juiciest peaches ever from Toigo Orchards and made a cobbler – and I bought more peaches today."

Her husband Tom said they also got dog treats from Great Harvest Bread, and her sister, Linda Fogle of Chantilly's Brookfield community, was also glad they went to the market. "I come here to support the small farmers," she said. "I got tomatoes, corn, cantaloupe and peaches. Having had my own garden for many years, I know how much work goes into it and how wonderful everything tastes when it's fresh."

Fair Lakes resident Jan Reimer was there for her second time and purchased corn, tomatoes, peaches, zucchini and cucumbers. "Everything looked really good," she said. "I also got a salted-caramel cupcake from Soul Cakes by Tanya. Last week, I had a mixed-berry trifle from her and it was very good. I come to the farmers market because the vegetables can't be beat and it's nice to shop outdoors here and meet all the different vendors."

At the Soul Cakes by Tanya stand, vendor Tanya Logan offered a tempting array of scratch-made cakes, cupcakes, pastries and cookies. Flavors included coconut, red velvet and carrot cakes, plus chocolate, vanilla and salted-caramel cupcakes.

"The lemon pound cake is our signature cake," said Logan. "And one of our best sellers here is a trifle in a Mason jar. It's made out of lemon pound cake, peaches from the farmers, whipped cream and spice."

On the whole, she said, "Business is good.

The market is catching on – not just to the Government Center employees, but also to people from the neighborhoods, so that's really helpful. People continue to rotate through to check it out."

Other non-produce vendors include Nitro's Creamery and Kylie's Pop Shop. At Nitro's, owner June McMullen uses liquid nitrogen to make quick and creamy, homemade ice cream on the spot. Favorite flavors are vanilla and Nutella chocolate but, on any given day, could also include blueberry, mango or strawberry.

At Kylie's, owner Kylie Carey offers whimsical cake pops in flavors such as red velvet, dark chocolate, orange Dreamsicle, vanilla, lemon, chocolate chip and Heath bar. Cost is $3 each, $5 for two or $25 for a dozen.

Customer Joel Bittorf was buying grass-fed meat from The Lamb's Quarter, plus cantaloupe, squash and eggplant from Three Way Farm. "The market has grown by word of mouth," he said. "And people like the different food trucks, too. One week, there was a chicken-and-waffle truck, and last week's truck had Korean food and kimchi hot dogs."

As for the market, he said, "It's a good idea; it lets people buy local and helps the farmers. And it allows people to see where their food comes from."

Whitney Kazragis of Fair Lakes also had fun buying cantaloupe, zucchini and peaches.

"Now that the weather's better, I'll come here more often," she said. "I think it's really important to support Virginia agriculture and the location's great. Having the market weekly, at a regular time and a central location, is important; and it'll be really neat to watch it grow."

plays basketball and attends Laurel Ridge Elementary, is happy that she found the program. "It's a great resource; I had no idea it existed," she said. She said her son is learning good skills and is happy that it works with each child's different abilities.

Dwayne Brodie of Maryland, whose son Drew, 11, plays basketball, calls it an excellent program. "It teaches children about following instructions, teamwork and commitment," he says. "I like it because it shows that all children can learn to compete regardless of skill level."

Lori Allred, whose son Sammy, 11, of Reston plays soccer and basketball, likes the attention that her son gets, calling it affordable. "A lot of times programs for special needs children are expensive," she said. "This one is affordable and convenient. He learns all aspects of the game."

Back to School: Good Steps, Good Intentions

The first day of school in Fairfax County is Tuesday, Sept. 2, but Monday, Sept. 8 is the beginning of something important. For the first time in decades, elementary school students will have a full day of school on Mondays instead of being sent home hours early. This action makes so much sense in for families with children in elementary school. The ability of Superintendent Karen Garza to facilitate this change to go into effect right away is remarkable, and we hope a promise for more changes ahead.

Earlier this week, the American Academy of Pediatrics issued a policy statement calling for later start times — not earlier than 8:30 a.m. — for high school and middle school students. It's not impossible although some school systems would have you believe that it can't be done. It's time to make that change in Fairfax County.

The science is undisputed. From the abstract: "A substantial body of research has now demonstrated that delaying school start times is an effective countermeasure to chronic sleep loss and has a wide range of potential benefits to students with regard to physical and mental health, safety, and academic achievement."

The American Academy of Pediatrics strongly supports the efforts of school districts to optimize sleep in students and urges high schools and middle schools to aim for start times that allow students the opportunity to achieve optimal levels of sleep (8.5–9.5 hours) and to improve physical (eg, reduced obesity risk) and mental (eg, lower rates of depression) health, safety (eg, drowsy driving crashes), academic performance, and quality of life."

You can read the report here: <http://pediatrics.aappublications.org/content/early/2014/08/19/peds.2014-1697.full.pdf>

Back to school nights begin this week and run into October. For parents and students, there is no more important event that to turn up at Back to School Nights for your children, introduce yourself to teachers and open the lines of communication.

Here is a link to a daunting list of Back to School Nights in Fairfax County:

EDITORIAL

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

What's Best For Students?

To the Editor:

A new school year is beginning, and from day one teachers, parents, and students will start preparing for and worrying about SOL tests. Teachers will sit in endless meetings struggling with new strategies to improve scores in order to "raise the bar" or to "close the gap" so the state will quit breathing down their necks. Parents will complain among themselves about how SOL tests force teachers to "teach to the test." And kids, who ought to be inspired by school, will too often be bored out of their gourd by lessons designed to cram as many test-specific facts into their heads as is possible before SOLs roll around in spring.

In 2000, the first year that the Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) test was administered — the test that is used to rank and compare national education systems — the U.S. ranked 20th in the world in math, 15th in science, and 16th in reading. As of the last released results of the test from 2012, we ranked 36th in the world in math, 28th in science, and 24th in reading — major drops across the board. Many other countries do very little standardized testing, yet consistently outperform us. If all the standardized testing that we've been subjecting our students to over the past many years has done anything to improve achievement in math, science, and reading, then why do our kids perform so much more poorly now than they did 14 years ago? The simple, inescapable answer is that standardized testing, like Virginia's SOL tests, does nothing to improve student performance. "So what?" one might say ... "If these tests don't improve performance, at least they don't do any harm, right?" Wrong!

Our obsession with standardized testing has tragically diverted our focus and attention from what education is all about. SOL tests drive the instructional train. Teachers are indeed forced to "teach to the test" — focusing on that which is expected to appear on the SOL test to the exclusion of what's really important — teaching kids to think. We keep repeating the mantra that kids need to be critical thinkers and problem solvers, and that we need to encourage them to "think outside the box" — all the while forcing them to stay inside the box by hemming them in with standardized testing. Kids are born outside the box. They're naturally curious about the world around them, and when properly motivated and guided in the right direction and given the freedom to explore the world they're natural problem solvers. But our focus on standardized testing emphasizes memorizing facts and marginalizes imagination and creativity. Our focus on testing forces educators to spend all their time teaching kids the dots without teaching them how to connect the dots.

While the original motivation behind No Child Left Behind was laudable, the vehicle that we've been using to reform education — standardized testing — is the wrong tool. It's time to face the hard reality that No Child Left Behind has not done what it was intended to do, and that standardized tests like Virginia's SOL tests are doing more harm than good. We'd be much better served if we paid teachers more, so school systems could be selective in hiring only the best educators, by only promoting kids to the next higher grade if they can read at grade level, and by holding the line on discipline so that teachers spend more time on teaching and less on classroom management.

Kids hate the SOLs. Parents hate the SOLs. Teachers hate the SOLs. And SOL tests have done nothing to improve student performance. So why do we still administer them? It's time to jump off the testing band wagon and start teaching students what they really need to know in the way that they really ought to be taught. Otherwise, we'll end up with a generation of kids who have lots of experience at taking tests, but not much else.

Repudiate Remark

To the Editor:

Presently I am a stay-at-home mom but I have worked outside the home, so I know both roles are real jobs. I am really disappointed in congressional candidate John Foust recent remark.

When a Democrat operative criticized stay-at-home mom Ann Romney as never having had a real job during the 2012 Presidential campaign, Team Obama immediately discredited that remark. I appreciated that.

But Team Foust has decided to obfuscate John Foust's recent comment deriding stay-at-home moms (among others).

Team Foust supports everything that President Obama does. You'd think Team Foust would take a lesson from Team Obama's campaign playbook.

CHESTERBROOK ACADEMY KIDS CAMPUS

Supporting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital

Campers at Chesterbrook Academy Kids Campus in Chantilly channeled their crafty sides this summer to create a fun community service project with a charitable purpose. Throughout July and August, senior campers in grades two through six weaved dozens of rings and bracelets to sell on Fridays for 10 to 75 cents each and raised a total of $150 for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. The project came to life after campers expressed interest in helping other children who are too sick to enjoy summer camp. One bracelet at a time, students learned the importance of giving to those in need.

Combining Talent and Hard Work

Aasa Dommalapati, 10, of Centreville, won the silver medal in the Girls Under 10 category at the 2014 Pan-American Youth Chess Festival held in Mexico. Dommalapati played nine rounds between July 10 - 17. Her friend Martha Samadashvili, of New York, took first place.

Dommalapati has a FIDE ranking of 1622. The number one ranked player is Yifan Hou, of China, with a FIDE rating of 2629. FIDE — which stands for Federation Internationale des Echecs and also known as the World Chess Federation — acts as a governing authority for international chess competitions.

The rising Greenbriar West elementary fifth grader is preparing for the FIDE World Youth Chess Championship, which will be held in Durban South Africa from Sept. 18 - 30.

Her young chess career has taken her to many countries for competitions. She competed in Slovenia in 2012, Brazil in 2013, and this year, Mexico and South Africa.

She was inspired by her brother Abhinay, 15, who is also a player. But they don't play together anymore. "They fight a lot. As soon as you get out the board they start fighting," said their father.

She plays a lot on the Internet. She also develops strategy by studying the openings of other players, which are published in several websites, such as chess-db.com.

V. Kameswara Rao and Vijaya Soradhi, from India, coach her online. Paul Swaney, of Arlington, is her local coach.

Swaney said that she is a combination of talent and hard work. He gives his players exercises and homework and Dommalapati solves them and writes everything out in her notebook. "She works extremely hard," said Swaney.

Centreville Field Hockey Falls to Robinson

Starting four freshmen and two sophomores is likely to lead to growing pains. For the Centreville field hockey team, those pains were evident Tuesday.

One day after beating Stuart and tying West Springfield on the opening day of the Under the Lights tournament on Aug. 25 at Lee High School, Centreville suffered a 3-0 loss to Conference 5 foe Robinson.

A Charlotte Clark goal gave the Rams a 1-0 lead in the first half, and freshman Lisa Saffin added a pair of goals in the second half.

Along with a young starting lineup, Centreville was without junior Nicole Kang.

"This is a good tournament for us to start out with," Centreville head coach Demby

Banbury said. "I saw some great things yesterday; not so much today. It's a learning curve."

Against Stuart on Monday, freshman Paige Richbourg and senior Kelcie Greenfelder each scored two goals for the Wildcats. Juniors Caroline Kelly and Lauren Potts each scored one. Against West Springfield, senior Brynn Doyle scored one.

Banbury said freshmen Richbourg, Sidney Kiefaber and Emily Marciano will be key contributors this season, along with sophomore goalkeeper Kylie LeBlanc, senior Greenfelder and junior Potts.

Centreville will travel to face Annandale at 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 29. The Wildcats will host McLean at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 2.

Inside advice on buying antiques

BY MARILYN CAMPBELL
THE CONNECTION

Yves Davis sat crossed-legged in the library of her Centreville home. A hand-engraved gold locket that once belonged to her great-grandmother dangled from a heavy chain around her neck. Her engagement ring — a diamond and ruby Edwardian ring — complemented the dark red pattern her vintage Gucci dress. To say that Davis is an aficionado of antique and vintage pieces would be an understatement.

"I love antiques because of the sentimental value and history that they hold," said Davis, a jewelry consultant who helps private collectors build collections and antique pieces. She holds a degree in art history with a concentration in period jewelry. "Antique pieces must be at least 100 years old and are generally one-of-a-kind pieces."

Davis and other antique jewelry consultants and dealers say there are many reasons to love antique pieces of jewelry. They do, however, caution consumers that many pieces of jewelry that look like antiques are often reproductions. They tell their clients that there are certain factors you must understand when purchasing antique jewelry. That way you know you're getting an authentic period piece, rather than an item that was mass-produced last year.

David Popolousus, an Alexandria-based graduate gemologist who specializes in antique rings and pins, advises antique jewelry buyers to take the time to investigate the seller. "There is no such thing as bulk inventory when purchasing antique jewelry," he said. "If you search for a seller on a website like eBay and see that they have multiple pieces of the same item, more than likely they're selling knock-off antiques."

The provenance of a piece of antique jewelry also increases its value. "Consider the origin or source of the item," Julia Isenberg, a graduate gemologist and private jewelry consultant in Oak Hill. "A diamond ring that was once owned by Elizabeth Taylor would be far more valuable than the same piece whose owner was not notable. Antique pieces that were made by famous design houses hold their value much more than well-made pieces by craftsmen who don't have name recognition. Even faux pieces that were made or owned by a person of note can be more valuable than their authentic counterparts."

The price of an item can also be a clue as to its authenticity. "If the price of an item seems too good to be true, it probably is," said Isenberg. "Antique jewelry is well made and has an impressive history. You won't find it being sold at bargain basement prices."

"Look for craftsmanship as well as wear and tear," added Davis. "It is important to examine each piece looking for loose stones, worn prongs or clasps or other defects."

Estate sales and reputable jewelry stores are among the best places to look for antique jewelry. "That doesn't mean that you can't find quality antiques at garage sales or even online," said Popolousus. You just have to do your homework before buying."

And Another Thing I'm "Righting" On

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

Not only did last week's CT Scan indicate shrinkage, where necessary – and stability, where hoped for – it also accomplished these hoped-for goals after only two months of chemotherapy (still infused every three weeks) rather than the normal three months of chemotherapy. So depending on how the calendar/treatment schedule actually fell, I probably received two fewer infusions than usual, yet all the radiological indications – and interpretations – continue to be encouraging; after five and a half years, no less. I think I'm entitled to use the word amazing – and lucky, too.

Certainly I've made lifestyle changes, as you regular readers know, though I'm hardly the poster child for outliving-your-terminal-stage-IV-non-small-cell-lung-cancer-diagnosis. I haven't incorporated all the suggestions made to me, but I have listened – and learned, of course. Still, I'm proud of the path I've traveled, which wouldn't have happened without the help and guidance of friends and family who I trusted, and who I know had my best interests at heart. And I have survived, thrived almost, because of their persistence.

But change is not, and has not been easy for me. In fact, "change" might as well be a four-letter word, although I do use my share; never in print, and less frequently in public probably wouldn't kill me. But I'm also good at rationalizing my behavior – both good and bad, so doing/not doing and providing plausible, semi-defensible explanations (maybe even denials) has become one of my best mechanisms. Ultimately, my bottom line in all of these attempts at modifying my behavior is stress reduction – which equates to self-preservation, if you want to know the truth – and doing so in a way that is consistent with my personality, allowing me to maintain the effort. I don't suppose starting and stopping would solve much. It's sort of like a placebo effect. If I think something I'm doing is working, then maybe it is. The mind is a terrible thing to waste and I want to give it every opportunity to bring me back to "normal" health. For all I know, some new pill I've started, some new behavior I've assimilated, something (like sugar) I've reduced is all working together to make me whole again. And since I generally don't look for trouble – considering that trouble has already found me, I try to leave well enough alone until a little birdie tells me otherwise (anybody, anywhere; any source, anyhow; any medium, any way). Now I don't want to knee-jerk myself into a decision. I'll make a few inquiries, I'll do a little research, but overall, I won't make the pursuit my life's work.

In spite of it all, and in spite of me and my peculiarities, I approach this week's five-and-a-half-year, post-diagnosis anniversary with less fear and trepidation than perhaps I should. But as I've said many times previously, and again in this column: "What do I know?" Enough to keep me up and at 'em and alive and reasonably well, I suppose. And way more than I had a right to expect and almost too much to understand. I've never asked "why me?" but I've always thought "why not me?" And so it goes – and has gone; maybe my level of ignorance has been a sort of bliss. However, if I really understood what ails me, I might not be so glib about it.

Public Notice

NOTICE OF FINAL GENERAL CONFORMITY DETERMINATION FOR THE PROPOSED COVE POINT LIQUEFACTION PROJECT

On August 18, 2014, the staff of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC or Commission) published a Notice of Final General Conformity Determination (GCD) for the Cove Point Liquefaction Project (Project) proposed by Dominion Cove Point LNG, LP (DCP). DCP requests authorization to construct and operate facilities to process and export domestically-sourced liquefied natural gas (LNG) at the existing Cove Point LNG Terminal in Calvert County, Maryland. The Project would enable DCP to export approximately 5.75 million metric tons per annum of LNG via LNG marine carriers that would dock at the existing offshore pier.

In accordance with the General Conformity Regulations under the Code of Federal Regulations Chapter 40 Part 93.156, the Draft GCD was issued for a 30-day public comment period. No comments were received on the Draft GCD; therefore, the Commission staff is issuing this notice to announce the Draft GCD is now the Final GCD. The GCD was prepared to satisfy the requirements of the Clean Air Act, and addresses air emission impacts associated with the Project. The FERC staff concludes that the Project will achieve conformity in Maryland and Virginia. Copies of the Draft GCD were previously mailed to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region III, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, the Maryland Department of Environment, and the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality.

The GCD was placed in the public files of the FERC on May 15, 2014, concurrently with the Environmental Assessment, and is available for public viewing on the FERC's website at www.ferc.gov using the eLibrary link. A limited number of copies of the Environmental Assessment are available for distribution and public inspection at:

Federal Energy Regulatory Commission
Public Reference Room
888 First Street NE, Room 2A
Washington, DC 20426
(202) 502-8371

Additional information about the Project is available from the Commission's Office of External Affairs, at (866) 208-FERC, or on the FERC website (www.ferc.gov) using the eLibrary link. Click on the eLibrary link, click on "General Search," and enter the docket number excluding the last three digits in the Docket Number field (i.e., CP13-113). Be sure you have selected an appropriate date range. For assistance, please contact FERC Online Support at FercOnlineSupport@ferc.gov or toll free at (866) 208-3676, or for TTY, contact (202) 502-8659. The eLibrary link also provides access to the texts of formal documents issued by the Commission, such as orders, notices, and rulemakings.

The real property encumbered by the Deed of Trust that will be offered for sale by the Substitute Trustees is commonly known as Residence Inn Chantilly, 14440 Chantilly Crossing Lane, Chantilly, Fairfax County, Virginia, Tax Identification Number: 034-3-13-0001, as more particularly described in the Deed of Trust, and all improvements, fixtures, easements and appurtenances thereto (the "Real Property"). The Real Property will be sold together with the interest of the Noteholder, if any, in the following described personal property at the direction of the Noteholder as secured party thereof, as permitted by Section 8.9A of the Code of Virginia of 1950, as amended (the "Personal Property"): equipment, furniture, furnishings, machinery, insurance policies, agreements, trademarks, proceeds and all other personal property as more particularly described in the Deed of Trust (the "Personal Property"). The above described Real Property and Personal Property are collectively referred to as the "Property."

TERMS OF SALE

ALL CASH. The property will be offered for sale "AS IS, WHERE IS" and will be conveyed by Substitute Trustees' Deed (the "Substitute Trustees' Deed") subject to all encumbrances, rights, reservations, conveyances, conditions, easements, restrictions, and all recorded and unrecorded liens, if any, having priority over the Deed of Trust, as they may lawfully affect the property. Any Personal Property shall be conveyed without warranty by a Secured Party Bill of Sale.

The Substitute Trustees and the Beneficiary disclaim all warranties of any kind, either express or implied for the property, including without limitation, any warranty relating to the zoning, condition of the soil, extent of construction, materials, habitability, environmental condition, compliance with applicable laws, fitness for a particular purpose and merchantability. The risk of loss or damage to the property shall be borne by the successful bidder from and after the date of the time of the sale. Obtaining possession of the property shall be the sole responsibility of the successful bidder (the "Purchaser").

A bidder's deposit of $100,000.00 (the "Deposit") by certified or cashier's check shall be required by the Substitute Trustees for such bid to be accepted. The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to prequalify any bidder prior to the sale and/or waive the requirement of the Deposit. Immediately after the sale, the successful bidder shall execute and deliver a memorandum of sale with the Substitute Trustees, copies of which shall be available for inspection immediately prior to the sale, and shall deliver to the Substitute Trustees the Deposit and the memorandum of sale. The balance of the purchase price shall be paid by the Purchaser. Settlement shall occur within thirty (30) days after the sale date, TIME BEING OF THE ESSENCE with regard to the Purchaser's obligation.

Settlement shall take place at the offices of Venable LLP, 8010 Towers Crescent Drive, Suite 300, Tysons Corner, Virginia 22182 or other mutually agreed location. Purchaser shall pay all past due real estate taxes, rollback taxes, water rents, water permit renewal fees (if any) or other municipal liens, charges and assessments. The Purchaser shall also pay all settlement fees, title examination charges, title charges and title insurance premiums, all recording costs (including the state grantor's tax and all state and county recordation fees, clerk's filing fees and transfer fees and taxes), auctioneer's fees and/or bid premiums, and reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements incurred in the preparation of the deed of conveyance and other settlement documentation.

The Purchaser shall be required to sign an agreement at settlement waiving any cause of action Purchaser may have against the Substitute Trustees, and/or the Beneficiary for any condition with respect to the property that may not be in compliance with any federal, state or local law, regulation or ruling including, without limitation, any law, regulation and ruling relating to environmental contamination or hazardous wastes. Such agreement shall also provide that if notwithstanding such agreement, a court of competent jurisdiction should permit such a claim to be made, such agreement shall serve as the overwhelming primary factor in any equitable apportionment of response costs or other liability. Nothing herein shall release, waive or preclude any claims the Purchaser may have against any person in possession or control of the property.

If any Purchaser fails for any reason to complete settlement as provided above, the Deposit shall be forfeited and applied to the costs of the sale, including Trustees' fees, and the balance, if any, shall be delivered to the Beneficiary to be applied by the Beneficiary against the indebtedness secured by and other amounts due under the Deed of Trust in accordance with the Deed of Trust or applicable law or otherwise as the Beneficiary shall elect. There shall be no refunds. Such forfeiture shall not limit any rights or remedies of the Substitute Trustees or the Beneficiary with respect to any such default. If the property is resold, such re-sale shall be at the risk and the cost of the defaulting bidder, and the defaulting bidder shall be liable for any deficiency between its bid and the successful bid at the re-sale as well as the costs of conducting such re-sale. Immediately upon conveyance by the Substitute Trustees of the Property, all duties, liabilities and obligations of the Substitute Trustees, if any, with respect to the Property so conveyed shall be extinguished, except as otherwise provided by applicable law.

Road Changes Are on the Horizon

BY BONNIE HOBBS
THE CONNECTION

On the horizon for local residents are transportation projects, some school-boundary changes and several fun-filled, family events to enjoy.

Save These Dates

Area residents may attend a variety of upcoming, family-friendly events:

Monday, Sept. 1, Custom Cruisers of Northern Virginia 15th Annual Car Show, in the Town of Clifton. Event features classic, new and hot rod cars, motorcycles, food and music; proceeds go to charity.

Saturday, Sept. 13, Clifton KidFest, in the Town of Clifton. Children's games and vendors, plus food and fun.

Saturday, Oct. 11, Centreville Day, in the Centreville Historic District. Food, crafts, vendors, music.

Saturday, Oct. 11, Fairfax Fall Festival, downtown City of Fairfax. Crafts, food, vendors, music, rides.

Sunday, Oct. 12, Clifton Day, in the Town of Clifton. Crafts vendors, food, music and fun throughout the town.

Saturday, Oct. 25, Clifton Haunted Trail, 8-Acre Park, Town of Clifton.

School Boundary Changes

In May 2013, the Fairfax County School Board approved boundary changes to alleviate overcrowding at Fairfax High and Lanier Middle School. And this September, some of them will affect Chantilly students who attended those schools.

The changes move students in the Greenbriar West Elementary attendance area east of Stringfellow Road from Lanier Middle and Fairfax High to Rocky Run Middle and Chantilly High, eliminating the former split-feeder assignment for Greenbriar West.

The boundary changes are being phased in during the 2014-15 school year. This fall's rising eighth-grade students, juniors and seniors will be allowed to remain at their current schools.

In addition, students living in the Penderbrook and Fairfax Farms areas of the Waples Mill Elementary attendance area were reassigned last year from Lanier Middle to Franklin Middle. Starting in September, these students will also shift from Fairfax High to Oakton High.

Transportation Projects

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors in January approved $1.4 billion to fund transportation projects for FY 2015 to FY 2020. As a result, many of these much-needed improvements will transition from the planning stage to the construction phase over the next six years. Below are some of the local-area projects – some fully funded, some partially funded – that may now move forward:

❖ I-66 and Route 28: Portions of the existing interchange will be reconstructed, and four traffic signals on Route 28 will be removed to enhance safety and improve capacity. A VDOT study is underway. VDOT already has $50 million programmed for this project. Cost estimate: $322 million. Six-year funding recently approved by FCDOT: $54 million.

The work also includes widening and reconstructing the westbound I-66 off ramp to northbound Route 28. Braddock/Walney roads will be realigned, and an overpass with ramp connection from northbound Route 28 to the new bridge will be constructed. New connections will go from Braddock to eastbound and westbound I-66, from Braddock to and from southbound Route 28, and from southbound Route 28 to eastbound I-66 (flyover).

This project extends Poplar Tree Road across Route 28 from Stonecroft Boulevard to Walney Road. It also involves construction of a new access road to E.C. Lawrence Park and reduces congestion on both I-66 and Route 28. Construction is expected to begin by 2017.

❖ Route 29 from Union Mill Road to Buckley's Gate Drive:

This project provides pedestrian facilities on the north side of Route 29 and widens Route 29 in this area from four to six lanes. It complements the VDOT bridge-replacement project at Little Rocky Run and completes the widening of Route 29 from Shirley Gate Road to Centreville.

It's currently the last segment of Route 29 between the City of Fairfax and Centreville that's not six lanes, so this work would eliminate the last remaining bottleneck. Cost estimate: $32.7 million; approved: $25 million.

❖ Stone Road Overpass over I-66 from Route 29 to Route 28:

This project provides an alternative to Route 28 that goes from Centreville to the Westfields Corporate Center. It received partial funding for an alignment study, environmental analysis and preliminary engineering. Cost estimate: $81.55 million; amount approved: $5 million.

Construct a four-lane divided road between Stone Road at Route 29 and New Braddock Road. The work includes curb and gutter, a 5-foot-wide concrete sidewalk on the east side and a 10-foot-wide shared-use path on the west side of Stone Road.

Construct a bridge over I-66 and another bridge over Big Rocky Run. Re-stripe westbound New Braddock Road to provide two, through travel lanes. This overpass could reduce congestion at the I-66/Route 28 and I-66/Route 29 interchanges. In addition, a future Metrorail station near this site is listed on the county's Comprehensive Plan.

❖ Widening Route 28 from Old Centreville Road to Prince William County line at Bull Run:

Widen this stretch of road from four to six lanes. The work includes intersection improvements, plus pedestrian and bicycle facilities. Cost estimate: $47.35 million; approved: $47.35 million.

It complements the I-66/Route 28 Interchange and, in conjunction with other road projects, would complete the Route 28 Corridor through the entire county. This project includes intersection improvements, as well as pedestrian and bicycle facilities.

Traffic heads west on Route 50 through the work zone near Pleasant Valley Road, before the late-afternoon rush.

A drizzly morning couldn't keep the crowds away from last year's Clifton Day.

A large development just south of the county line is expected to exacerbate existing congestion. So this widening reduces significant congestion between Prince William and Centreville. And as a transportation corridor of regional significance, it would improve access to Dulles International Airport, Reston and Herndon.

Road Projects Already Underway Or Starting Soon

❖ Walney Road Bridge and Widening: The existing, Walney Road bridge over Flatlick Branch is disintegrating structurally and surpassed its life expectancy 17 years ago. So VDOT is replacing it with a wider, sturdier and safer bridge.

The new bridge will have a four-lane capacity with bike lanes. Walney Road will also be widened from two to four lanes from 250 feet south of Mariah Court to Willard Road.

Schools Prepare for Students' Arrival in September

BY KATHY L. SMITH
SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER

School will be starting next week and our teachers, principals and school staff are busy preparing for the students return. As the Sully District representative on the School Board I have highlights from some of the Region 5 schools serving Sully district students.

Westfield High School is excited to bring back We-STEP, a senior internship program for eligible seniors. More than 40 seniors took advantage of this unique opportunity in its debut at Westfield last year and the feedback from students, staff, parents and internship hosts was very positive. Seniors who qualify for We-STEP have met grade, discipline, and attendance standards to utilize the two weeks leading up to end-of-year senior activities to participate in real-life work experiences off campus. They hope to double the number of participants this year.

On Aug. 28, the Cub Run Elementary staff will meet students by dropping by each student's home for a brief "door visit" to welcome each family to the new school year. The purpose of the Welcome Walk is to further strengthen school, home and community relationships as well as support Responsive Classroom practices.

Virginia Run Elementary will also be hosting a Welcome Walk on Aug. 28. Students will meet their teachers for the new school year when the teacher drops by their house for a brief door visit.

Deer Park Elementary is excited to celebrate its 20th year and added a beautiful new mural to the school library.

The Chantilly High School pyramid will have its Fourth Annual Chantilly Pyramid College Day on Friday, April 24, 2015. College Day supports the pyramid-wide initiative to work collaboratively on the topic of college and career readiness in grades K-12. Survey data indicates that the Chantilly Pyramid continues to have a strong college going culture that is apparent at every level.

Fairfax County Public Schools was named a Center of Excellence for its emphasis on cyber security and development of the workforce of tomorrow. Chantilly High School's Governor's STEM Academy offers a robust program in information technology which includes a total of 28 dual enrolled credits in Cisco, Network Administration, and Oracle as well as Computer Systems Technology (A+). The academy has a 25-year partnership with Northrup Grumman.

The Rocky Run Middle School PTA is hosting a Back-to-School Fair for seventh (Aug. 26) and eighth (Aug. 27) grade students. The fair is a fun way for students and families to accomplish tasks related to the beginning of school and to explore Rocky Run before the first day of school.

Brookfield Elementary is opening its second FECEP/Head Start class this school year. The staff believes in developing literacy and school readiness skills while strengthening partnerships with families and the community.

Greenbriar West Elementary will continue to provide strong, differentiated instruction to each of their students. Last year the school earned the prestigious Governor's Award for Academic Excellence for the fourth consecutive year. They also designed an effective outdoor science learning classroom space in the courtyard. The school will continue to expand the use of technology as an integral aspect of instructional practice.

Poplar Tree Elementary is starting a Local Level IV Advanced Academic program in grade 3 this year.

The school has many exciting events planned for the students, such as fourth grade Colonial Days and the fifth grade Medieval Fair.

Franklin Middle School looks forward to cultivating its community with 21st century learning for the 2014-2015 school year, with BYOD (Bring Your Own Device) practices and a celebrated local Level IV Advanced Academics Program, as it builds the students skills as communicators and collaborators.

Oak Hill Elementary will further integrate its Teaching Garden with all grade levels through the use of project-based learning utilizing FCPS Get2Green resources.

I urge you to get involved with your child's school and to sign up for Keep in Touch messages from the school board so that you will be aware of issues that the board will be voting on. I can be reached at klsmith1@fcps.edu.

Welcome to Fairfax County

BY SHARON BULOVA/CHAIRMAN
FAIRFAX COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Welcome to Fairfax County, the best place in the country to live, work and play. Fairfax County is home to a fantastic public school system, top tier business and shopping opportunities, compassionate human services, and some of the best parks and open spaces in the D.C. Metropolitan region. This summer featured the long-awaited opening of the WMATA Silver Line, which connects the Reston and the Tysons areas of the county to the entire Metrorail system.

Last June, I cut the ribbon to open a new segment of our Fairfax County Cross County Trail, named after former Chairman (now Congressman) Gerry Connolly. It was his vision, while serving on our board, to build and connect trail sections to make it possible for someone to hike through all nine county magisterial districts. The northern end of the trail begins in Great Falls National Park at the breathtaking Potomac River and travels south to the historic Occoquan River.

The trail passes through stream valleys and meadows, then winds through fascinating Laurel Hill, site of the former Lorton Prison. In addition to parkland and a golf course, these grounds are now home to the Workhouse Arts Center where visitors can watch artists in action and enjoy plays, performances and community events such as Springfest every April.

Fairfax County has something for everyone. Northern Virginia Community College offers more than 160 degrees at the associate's level and numerous certificate programs. Its partnership with George Mason University provides families and students with a seamless, cost-effective path to a four-year degree.

George Mason University, recently named one of the top five "Up-and-Coming Universities" by U.S. News and World Report, is also recognized as one of America's Best College Buys by Forbes magazine. Under the presidency of Dr. Angel Cabrera, Mason is fast taking its place as a university for the world.

Fairfax County's Success Story

BY GERALD L. GORDON, PH.D.

If you are a newcomer to Fairfax County, allow me to welcome you to one of the most dynamic communities anywhere in the world to live and work. It was the vision of many people to create this kind of community, so please allow me to offer a quick history lesson.

The Capital Beltway was completed in 1964. The same year the iconic highway opened, the Virginia General Assembly passed a law that created what is now called the Fairfax County Economic Development Authority. In the last 50 years, creation and growth of a diversified business community and local economy transformed a sleepy bedroom community in the shadow of the nation's capital into what Time magazine has called "one of the great economic success stories of our time."

How much of a success story? Fairfax County was home to no Fortune 500 companies in 1964, and today 10 of those businesses are based here. That's more than 30 states. Today more than 400 foreign-owned businesses have a presence here, as do four companies on Black Enterprise magazine's list of the 100 largest African American-owned companies, three companies on HispanicBusiness.com's list of the 100 largest Hispanic-owned companies, and top companies that are Asian-, woman- and veteran-owned.

Today Fairfax County is the second-largest suburban office market in the United States. Almost no matter where you live, you can see how the county continues to evolve as a business location. The first phase of Metro's Silver Line rail service further enhances the attractiveness of Tysons Corner and Reston, while the second phase will link Herndon and Washington Dulles International Airport to the rest of the Washington region in 2018.

Road Changes Are on the Horizon

In addition, the downhill curve on north-south Walney will be smoothed out significantly to make it descend gradually. The road will also be raised 10 feet higher in the area where it currently dips down as drivers leave the bridge, for better sight distance.

Utility relocation should begin in September or October, with construction slated to start in January 2015, in hopes of a December 2015 completion. Because of the work, the bridge will be closed from May 1, 2015 to Aug. 30, 2015. Estimated cost is $15.5 million.

Drivers heading toward Centreville pass the construction site on Route 29 near Union Mill Road.

❖ Route 50 Widening

West of Chantilly: Construction began in fall 2011 to widen 3.7 miles of Route 50 from four to six lanes between Poland Road in Loudoun County and Route 28 in Chantilly.

Currently, Route 50 narrows from six lanes to four just west of Route 28 in Chantilly. But increased development and congestion in Loudoun County creates backups during much of the day on the existing four-lane segment, especially during morning and evening rush hours.

When completed, traffic-clogged Route 50 will have three lanes in each direction, improved turn lanes and traffic signals, curb and gutter on the outside lanes, crosswalks and pedestrian signals, widened and upgraded bridges, and pathways on both sides of the road. The road will also be more level and provide wider buffers between travel lanes and roadside hazards.

This $100 million improvement project should have three lanes open in both directions by May 2015. All the construction work, including permanent traffic signals, should be finished in November 2015.

❖ Stringfellow Road: The part of Stringfellow between I-66 and Route 29 was four-laned in the 1990s by Fairfax County's Department of Transportation. Now, the section from I-66/Fair Lakes Boulevard to Route 50 will also go from two to four lanes, providing a faster conduit between Route 50 in Chantilly and Route 29 in Clifton/Centreville. Planned are four travel lanes — two, 12 feet wide, and two, 14 feet wide; a 10-foot multipurpose trail, a 6-foot sidewalk and a raised, 16-foot, grass median. And bicyclists will not only share the trail with pedestrians, but also pedal side-by-side with cars, trucks and buses on each outer, 14-foot lane. Utility relocation has already been done and construction is now underway; it's expected to be done in mid-summer 2015. Estimated cost is $63 million.

❖ Stringfellow Road Park and Ride Expansion:

Adjacent to I-66, the existing park-and-ride lot on Stringfellow Road has 378 parking spaces. A 2007 bond referendum funded an additional 300 spaces, plus a bus-transfer facility with a climate-controlled waiting room, benches, restrooms, drinking fountain and bike racks.

The costs are $4 million for the parking expansion and $1.5 million for the bus-transfer building, and they've been combined into one project. The goal is to enhance bus ridership and promote carpooling and, ultimately, the use of Metrorail when it's someday extended to this area.

The county's Department of Transportation will construct and maintain the building, and VDOT — which owns the land — will maintain the parking spaces. Cars will enter and exit the lot from the Stringfellow/Fair Lakes Boulevard intersection, and the existing entrance on Stringfellow will be for buses only. Construction begins this summer and should be completed in spring 2015.

❖ Route 29 Bridge Replacement:

VDOT is currently replacing the Route 29 bridge over the Little Rocky Run stream in Centreville. Besides improving the bridge, itself, the project will also result in a new sidewalk and shared-use path. The new bridge will go from .2 miles east of Pickwick Road to Union Mill Road and will be just under a half-mile long.

It will be built six lanes wide to accommodate future traffic, but will initially be striped for four lanes. A 16-foot-wide, raised, grass, median strip will separate north- and southbound lanes. Each outer lane will be 15-foot wide, with the outermost three feet earmarked for bicycle riders. On the bridge's south side, a path will connect to existing trails. The north side will have a 5-foot-wide sidewalk connecting to the Faircrest community and existing sidewalks. Estimated cost is $16.3 million and anticipated completion is October 2015.

❖ Lee Road Widening/Culvert: The box culvert there will be extended, and Lee Road will be widened over Schneider Branch. Construction began in March and should be finished in May 2015. Estimated cost is $4.2 million.

❖ Roundabout at the Braddock/Pleasant Valley roads intersection:

In June, the Commonwealth Transportation Board greenlighted a VDOT-supported plan to build a controversial roundabout to improve traffic flow at the Braddock/Pleasant Valley roads intersection by Cox Farms in Centreville.

Although Loudoun County commuters are thrilled, many local residents are opposed to it. They say the steady stream of basically unimpeded Loudoun drivers flooding Braddock and Pleasant Valley roads will prevent them from leaving their neighborhoods.

They're also worried about safety and the environment. Just east of Braddock Road is the notorious S-curve, so improving that intersection could cause dangerous backups there, instead. In addition, three land quadrants surrounding the intersection contain sensitive parkland. Current estimated project cost is nearly $6 million.

VDOT's diagram of the proposed roundabout at Braddock and Pleasant Valley roads in Centreville.

Fairfax County’s Success Story

Southeastern Fairfax County (Springfield, Lorton and the Richmond Highway corridor) are becoming important office centers thanks to growth at Fort Belvoir. The Mosaic District in Merrifield is a popular destination, and the Springfield Town Center opening this fall promises to be a magnet for that area.

As I suggested earlier, this evolution of Fairfax County has been no accident. It has been a strategy driven by a consistent vision: A strong and consistent economic development program that attracts companies and helps them stay and grow here creates job opportunities, builds a strong commercial tax base that holds down residential taxes, and allows the Board of Supervisors to provide high-quality public services that enhance the quality of life here.

Yes, Fairfax County has changed tremendously since 1964. But, even with all the progress that has happened, we believe even better times lay ahead.

What's on the Ballot; How to Vote

Election Day is Nov. 4, 2014, but you can vote as early as Sept. 19.

Every year is Election Year in Virginia. This year, every Virginia voter will choose one member of the U.S. Senate and their member of the U.S. House of Representatives. Two of Northern Virginia's three house seats are open seats with the retirement of two longstanding members, Jim Moran (D-8) and Frank Wolf (R-10).

This area has very high rates of voter registration, but voter turnout varies significantly from year to year. For example, two years ago in 2012, a presidential election year, 71.78 percent of Virginia registered voters turned out to vote. But in 2010, more comparable to this year, only 44.01 percent of Virginia registered voters turned out to vote.

In Fairfax County, with a population around 1,130,900, there are 713,025 registered voters as of July 1, 2014, up from 676,802 in 2012. (Population data from U.S. Census and voter data from Virginia Department of Elections.)

In Alexandria, with a population of about 148,900, there are 97,883 total registered voters as of July 1, 2014. That's down from 101,887 total registered voters as of July 2, 2012.

In Arlington, with a population of about 224,900, there are 162,100 total registered voters as of July 1, 2014, up from 157,236 on July 2, 2012.

REGISTER, CHANGE OF ADDRESS: In order to vote on Election Day, you must be registered at your current address no later than Oct. 13, 2014. You can check your registration status online by going to www.sbe.virginia.gov.

Voting Early, Absentee

Virtually every voter in Virginia is eligible to vote absentee, which includes voting in-person absentee at a variety of locations between Sept. 19 and Nov. 1.

There are many reasons that voters are allowed to vote absentee, but the most broad of these applies to almost anyone with a job: "Any person who, in the regular and orderly course of his business, profession, or occupation, will be at his place of work and commuting to and from his home to his place of work for eleven or more hours of the thirteen that the polls are open (6 a.m. to 7 p.m.)."

You can download an absentee ballot and mail it to your local voter registration office, or you can vote "absentee in person."

In person absentee voting begins at Fairfax County Governmental Center beginning Sept. 19.

New Voter Identification Requirements

As of this summer, there are new requirements for voter identification that voters must bring with them to the polling place.

Virginia law requires all voters to provide an acceptable form of photo identification at the polls. Voters arriving to the polls without photo ID will be allowed to vote a provisional ballot and will have until noon on the Friday after the election to deliver a copy of identification to their locality's electoral board in order for their provisional ballot to be counted.

Virginia's photo ID requirements also apply to absentee voters who vote in-person in all elections. Here are the "acceptable" forms of identification:

- ❖ Valid Virginia Driver's License or Identification Card
- ❖ Valid Virginia DMV issued Veteran's ID card
- ❖ Valid United States Passport
- ❖ Other government-issued photo identification cards (must be issued by US Government, the Commonwealth of Virginia, or a political subdivision of the Commonwealth)
- ❖ Valid college or university student photo identification card, must be from an institution of higher education located in Virginia.
- ❖ Employee identification card containing a photograph of the voter and issued by an employer of the voter in the ordinary course of the employer's business
- ❖ or a Virginia Voter Photo ID Card obtained through any local general registrar's office

"Valid" is defined as a genuine document, bearing the photograph of the voter, and is not expired for more than 12 months. A voter who does not bring an acceptable photo ID to the polls will be offered a provisional ballot.

Don't Have One of These?

Provisional Ballot Process

A voter who arrives at the polling place without an acceptable form of photo identification will be given the opportunity to vote a provisional ballot. After completing the provisional ballot, the individual voting will be given written instructions from the election officials on how to submit a copy of his/her identification so that his/her vote can be counted.

A voter will have until noon on the Friday following the election to deliver a copy of the identification to the local electoral board. Voters may submit a copy of their ID via fax, email, in-person submission, or through USPS or commercial delivery service. Please note that the copy of the ID must be delivered to the electoral board by noon on Friday, or the provisional ballot cannot be counted. A Friday postmark will not be sufficient. Written notice given to the voter will provide the necessary information, including email, fax, and address of where the ID should be delivered.

If you vote a provisional ballot but don't have an "acceptable ID," you can appear in-person in the office of the general registrar in the locality in which the provisional ballot was cast by noon on Friday following the election and apply for a Virginia Voter Photo ID Card. At the completion of the application process, the voter may request a Temporary Identification Document. This document can be provided to the electoral board as acceptable identification and the voter's provisional ballot will be counted.

NEWCOMERS & COMMUNITY GUIDE

A County of 186,785 Students

BY KAREN K. GARZA
SUPERINTENDENT OF FAIRFAX COUNTY
PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Karen K. Garza

Welcome to the 2014-15 school year. The start of a new school year is always an exciting time for students, parents, and educators. Our dedicated staff has been working hard to prepare for another school year that builds on our tradition of excellence at Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS). Fairfax is a community that embraces its newest residents and the cultural diversity that makes our county such a desirable place to be. For many families and businesses, the decision to relocate to a new area is often dependent on the quality of the local public schools. FCPS has a well-deserved national reputation for excellence.

As we enter a new school year, we are projecting an enrollment of 186,785 making FCPS the nation's 10th largest school district. Fairfax County high schools are among the most academically rigorous in the U.S. and are cited every year as among the top high schools in the country. Our classrooms are led by teachers who inspire, motivate, and prepare students with the knowledge and skills they will need for the future.

Our dedicated teachers promote the success of every student and create a caring learning environment where every student is valued and recognized as an active learner.

Working closely with our school board, parents, teachers, and community stakeholders, we have made a number of positive and exciting changes for our system during my first year as superintendent. We developed the FCPS Portrait of a Graduate that will serve as a foundation on which to build a long-range strategic plan for the school system and will lessen the focus on standardized, high-stakes testing and place greater emphasis on engaged students, project-based learning, and authentic assessments of student learning. The Portrait of a Graduate will ensure that our students are collaborators, communicators, creative and critical thinkers, global citizens, and goal-directed and resilient individuals when they leave FCPS.

Other significant changes that we have made include:

- ❖ The launch of full-day Mondays for all elementary students. The change will increase instructional time for students and dedicated planning time for teachers. The change to full day Mondays received overwhelming support in our community and will benefit students, teachers, and our families.

- ❖ A new standard school calendar that eliminates the need to make up inclement weather days at the end of the school year if fewer than 13 days are missed while providing two full weeks for winter break.

- ❖ The new Bailey's Upper Elementary School for the Arts and Sciences. A first of its kind for Fairfax County, this new school is being converted from a five-story office building at 6245 Leesburg Pike to provide enrollment relief for the overcrowded Bailey's Elementary School for the Arts and Sciences. The new campus will house grades 3-5, while the existing campus will house preschool to grade 2.

- ❖ A new CrisisLink text messaging tool for students and parents needing mental health support and resources. Crisis line staff respond to the text messages 24 hours a day. The text number is 703-997-5444.

The future remains very bright for FCPS families, students, and employees. I look forward to welcoming your children to our schools on Sept. 2 and making this year an exciting and rewarding year for all of our students.
