GREAT FALLS CONNECTION EDITOR
KEMAL KURSPAHIC

GREATFALLS@CONNECTIONNEWSPAPERS.COM

By Morgan Billingslea, grade 7, Cooper Middle School, Great Falls.

Welcome

Dear Readers:
This week, the Great Falls Connection turns over its pages to the youth and students.

We asked principals and teachers from area schools to encourage students to contribute their words, pictures and photos for our annual Children's Issue.

The response as always was enormous. While we were unable to publish every piece we received, we did our best to put together a paper with a fair sampling of the submitted stories, poems, drawings, paintings, photographs and other works of art.

We appreciate the extra effort made by school staff to gather the materials during their busy time leading up to the holidays. We'd also like to encourage both schools and parents to mark their 2015 calendars for early December, the deadline for submissions for next year's Children's Connection.

Please keep us in mind as your children continue to create spectacular works of art and inspiring pieces of writing in the coming year.

The children's issue is only a part of our year-round commitment to cover education and our local schools. As always, the Connection welcomes letters to the editor, story ideas, calendar listings and notices of local events from our readers. Photos and other submissions about special events at schools are especially welcome for our weekly school pages.

Our preferred method for material is e-mail, which should be sent to north@connectionnewspapers.com, but you can reach us by mail at 1606 King Street, Alexandria, VA 22314 or call 703-778-9414 with any questions.

As You Make Your End-of-Year Charitable Donations...

Please consider children in need of medical and dental care right here in Fairfax County.

Each year, the Medical Care for Children Partnership (MCCP) Foundation provides care to thousands of children in low-income working families right in our own community. These children do not qualify for government programs or private insurance, and without MCCP, they would have nowhere to go.

To learn more and to donate, please go to www.mccpfoundation.org or call 703-286-0881.

Thank you for joining your neighbors in supporting this cause so that all our local children can go to school in good health!

By EMILIE KIM
GRADE 5, CHURCHILL ROAD
ELEMENTARY

It was a winter night, bone-chilly and the ground was covered with milky white snow. A wavy, steep slope awaits the people who were going to go sledding or skiing the next day. At ten o'clock p.m., any five year old kid would be fast asleep, but not me. I was going to go animal watching with my father. My stomach was filled with butterflies and they seemed to kick my stomach very harshly. My heart was thudding with an unusually fast pace. As I was wide awake, I waited as my father was coming in my room. We were going to go animal watching.

As my father and I stepped out into the moonlight, the grass crunched and made beautiful, ruffling sounds. I stared at the moon for a few seconds. Enchanted by its radiant light, I stepped forward. The moon was magnificent and mysterious to me as I moved closer and closer. The stars seemed to dance around me as I glanced away from the moon. My misery had suddenly vanished. It was replaced with hope. I think it is from the amazing moon and stars. Then, I remembered why I was outside with my father. As a frightening cloud had stolen my moon, I sprinted across my yard and I leaped into my father's awaiting arms after a quick glance at the shining moon and stars.

I grasped my dad's navy blue shirt and I ran to our small, but pretty, stone pond. I gasped as I saw that the moon was on the pond.

My father said reassuringly, "It is just the moon's reflection on the pond. The water acts like a mirror."

I understood, and I went toward the pond. I was silent as a shadow as I scurried across the lawn. Then, a gust of wind blew me off course, and it took away my courage as it flew past me. I ran with all my might to my father.

He asked, "Are you okay?"

I nodded silently and we continued our sightseeing for animals.

My father and I were filled with joy as we saw some animals as we walked away from our quiet house. There were raccoons and squirrels along our sight. I heard a low hoot

The Best Gift That I Gave to My Friend

By GLORIA BOOS.
GRADE 5, GREAT FALLS ELEMENTARY

The best gift that I gave to my friend was a Pandora bracelet. It was red with black polka dots on it. It had a ladybug charm, two friends holding hands, and a lot of beads. I got the bracelet while I was on a cruise to Mexico. I went with all of my fifteen family members on my dad's side.

The ship was so big. They had so much food too. You could even have ice cream for breakfast and it was free! But I thought the best part was the waterslide. It was so long and fun. Plus there was almost no one in line. There was also a hot tub and anyone could go in it.

There was a lot of shopping on the ship. That is where I found the bracelet. My friend really liked the bracelet and I am so happy that I picked the perfect one out for her.

Exceptional Smiles, Exceptional Service

Dr. Garai is a Board Certified Orthodontist with more than 18 years of experience creating beautiful smiles for families in Vienna and the surrounding area.

The American Association of Orthodontics recommends children see an orthodontist at the age of 7. Early orthodontic treatment in children is shown to:

- Reduce treatment time required for comprehensive braces
- Reduce the need to extract teeth
- May eliminate the need to replace missing teeth
- Improve long term health of teeth and gums

How to tell if your child may need early orthodontic treatment:

- Early or late loss of baby teeth
- Difficulty chewing and/or biting
- Mouth breathing
- Your child sucks his or her thumb
- Speech impediments
- Protruding teeth
- Teeth that don't come together in a normal manner or even at all
- Shifting of the jaw when your child opens or closes his or her mouth (crossbites)
- Crowded front teeth around age seven or eight

CONNECTION

Flower

By NADIA JO, 13, OF McLEAN

Creating smiles
Even in the darkest corner,
The vivid colors and aromatic scents
Captivating hearts.
Whether rooted to the ground or Cut for a bouquet,
Its beauty creates wonders.
Every hue is washed on its petals,
Intricately arranged in a maze.
Though its life is short
Its charm is infinite.

Last Dance

By NADIA JO, 13, OF McLEAN

It's their last dance.
The limelight is brighter
The stage is bigger
The audience is larger.
The light envelops their bodies
Shooting currents through every inch
It's impossible not to dance.
They are not graceful.
Their moves are not choreographed.
They are Agitated,
Unrehearsed,
And terrified.
Yes, their six legs tremble in anguish.
Their skin is scorched by the sunlight through the lens.
The audience giggles.
They enjoy burning ants.

The Storm

By CATE POLIQUIN,
SPRING HILL ELEMENTARY

In 2008 there was a huge snowstorm in McLean. The snow measured up to be as high as 2 ft. tall. Playing in the snow the next morning was super fun but, staying up through the night turned out to be super scary for my family.
My family was having a nice time watching the snowfall, and listening to Christmas music. The fire was so warm, but we used up a lot of wood. I watched as the piles of snow grow bigger and bigger.
Soon my dad became worried. We had used up most of our wood! Then one of the worst things happened, the power went out. My dad soon became super worried, because all we had to eat was cereal and cold food.
As time passed by, the house became colder and colder. Then my parents hopes came true, the power came back on! The next morning my sister and I played in the snow all day. Now my family knows to be prepared for a snowstorm.

and I knew that we were not alone in the darkness that gave me goosebumps. As we walked for miles it seemed, I dug my heels into the soft, amber-brown mud and my father was concerned. We were about to enter the woods.

The woods is a terrible nightmare, and darkness surrounds you in that creepy place. I froze and I whispered that I would never go in that place. My father noticed that and he said that we weren't going into the woods. As my father was checking the time, I tumbled down a hill and I was terrified. I shut my big golden brown eyes, and as soon as I landed, my eyes slowly blinked and then I opened my eyes out of curiosity. I stared at the place I had landed on. My father had followed me and started scolding me. I shushed him and we both stared at the place I had fallen. It was beautiful with a snow covered slope that was filled with trees that were the color of an emeralds. The part I liked best was that there were so many animals in my sight.

That was the most amazing thing that has happened to me. I enjoy being around animals and even when I was really young I loved to pet and see many different animals. I always loved to sit down, and stare at birds or squirrels. This was an experience that brought me closer to animals.

Storm

By ALEXANDRA RADT,
GRADE 4, COLVIN RUN ELEMENTARY

The storm came down from the mountains old, through the forest it roared and rolled;

the tree trunks groaned,
the forest moaned,
trees fell down upon the mold.
The storm went on from west to east,
all movement in the forest ceased;
but the storm went on across the marsh, and its shrill voice was released.
The reeds hissed, their tassels bent, the grasses rattled, on it went;
from north to south and east to west, disaster struck wherever it went.
The storm blew on from west to east,
then it blew off the Earth and finally ceased.

Level Best

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

If I wanted to rationalize the benefit of delaying my heretofore every-three-week chemotherapy infusion from three weeks to four and now on to five, possibly six – and that's dependent on improved results from a second/maybe even third retest upcoming (this retest a bit more involved than drawing blood) – I would say it's only fitting that I should have a break/brake; after all, it is the holiday season when all good things; yada, yada, yada. If only it were that simple.

But simple is the last thing that a cancer patient's life can be characterized as being; whether they have been "prognosed" as "terminal" as I was, or are at the beginning (diagnosis), middle (under treatment and surviving under circumstances too numerous and varied to list) or end of their cancer-affected life. And so for me to expect smooth sailing at any time during this process is totally and entirely unreasonable – and mostly, I haven't. I'm just lucky to be in a boat with a few provisions still left in it. Ergo, this column is not a complaint, just an update, as the previous few columns had sort of led you regular readers on a bit of a walk in my shoes, although one likely without the neuropathy nearly six years of non-stop chemotherapy can exact. Still, I am mostly upright, up and about and able to handle any and all activities, especially those relating to daily living. However, right now I worry that after two consecutive three-week-interval, pre-chemotherapy lab results specifically measuring my creatinine levels (which reflects kidney function), and a second retest as well, all indicated too high/abnormal (a first-time occurrence), thereby preventing my regularly scheduled Alimta infusions – twice – if I have indeed crossed the Rubicon, so to speak. Obviously, it serves no particular purpose for me to invoke history, especially history with which I have very little familiarity. However, if some of what I've read concerning this historical event is true – the event's significance notwithstanding, it has partially led to the creation-and-then-acceptance of a word's/phrase's figurative meaning – then I sure hope my die has not been cast.

But who knows, really? And even though this cancer stuff is all very personal – and my circumstances are unique to me as a cancer patient – I try not to take it personally, if that makes any sense? Somehow, I try to minimize the negative effect of any of it, mentally, that is. As concerns me and my treatments (starts, stops and fits), it has always been about what happens next. Until there's no more next, there's always what's next. Now I have a third round of lab work next week and a 24-hour creatinine clearance collection in the interim to measure my levels as accurately as possible to help determine what happens next. Hopefully, levels will reduce, and more of the same treatment which has resulted in my unexpectedly long life expectancy and most recent "shrinkage," can continue. But of course, there are no guarantees either. Oh, there is one: this process is excruciating.

Nevertheless, somehow the patient (or at least this patient) has to be patient and life has to be lived. Otherwise the cancer wins. And to quote Brian Dennehy, a/k/a Sheriff Cobb, from the movie "Silverado," completely out of context: "We can't be having any of that now, can we?"

Desire

BY EMILY S., GRADE 7,

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL SCHOOL

The aching desires of the few, include the necessities for me and you,
but the vast majority want the new,
they want the luxury and they lust, because they must,
they need the future in the past,
they need products that must last,
for as long as they want them to.
What happened to this world, what must we do?
release the greed,
make a creed,
and find the greatness in giving and not wanting,
loving not taunting,
and fulfill the deserved desires of peace, nourishment, and fair treatment for others,
for the fathers, children, brothers, sisters, and mothers.

The Substance of Life

SYLESH S., GRADE 8,

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL SCHOOL

Time, the substance of life
Appears to be rife
But passes by
In a blink of an eye
Each moment that we waste
Is forever erased
Every second well-spent
Will make us content
Life is a dream
In which time reigns supreme
Make the best use of time
Make each moment sublime

Time

BEN M., GRADE 8,

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL SCHOOL

They say time is never ending, but is that really true
they say the end is impending,
like the damp morning dew
But have you a clue
what's coming for you
a hurricane of sadness
a whirlpool of despair
unnecessary illness
even though it isn't fair
but maybe life is just unfinished business, and happiness is just around the chair.

"A Fleeting Glance at the Past"

SOPIA F., GRADE 8,

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL SCHOOL

When one finds oneself longing for a certain time,
Remember that the time we have now is ephemeral,
And even though it's an uphill climb,
The here and now must be treated like an emerald.
In the words of Penn,
"Time is what we want most, but what we use the worst"
So remember now and then,
To remind yourselves that time can't be reversed.
And though now we may trudge along,
Recall dear cohorts,
That though the days are long,
The years are short.

Tattoos

BY JULIA K., GRADE 8, OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL

All the ink
that covers my body
are all the stories

By Dave, grade 3, Our Lady of Good Counsel

I could never tell
Secrets I always kept
Every confession I never made Tons of memories
made into drawings
will stay with me forever
All the things that have hit me so hard
Are now visible
You look at me and you might judge
But I am covered
With the stories of my life

Paper

BY TOMMY F., GRADE 7,

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL SCHOOL

It looks like a magic carpet floating in the wind paper is a tree that was once skinned
It was recently the stem of a tree there are two sides of paper, not three and as you may overlook this piece of art it has lots of history and the idea is smart
In China paper was made out of bamboo and that's about it, as I think it through It started as papyrus in Egypt they were smart and strategic papyrus was a good-sized plant but not used by Ulysses S. Grant Ulysses S. Grant used something else, I think maybe he used parchment, pens, and ink
But now it's just paper and a ballpoint pen paper is pushed to its limits by men
So paper could be a very useful thing so don't overlook it as you overlook string

Nature

BY DONALD W., GRADE 7,

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL SCHOOL

The crisp wind blows,
The ocean's limits no one knows,
The fields of grass,
Green with grace,
Nature fills all,
Earth and Space,
The clouds,
A wisp of white,
They're in the air,
Until night,
The sky the sky,
Filled at night,
With gleaming stars,
That shine so bright,
Until day,
We wait in fright,
The sun has risen,
It beholds such light,
It shines all day,
With all its might,
Until it goes down,
Out of sight
