McLean Day At 100

It's new, it's improved and still the place to be.

The McLean Day festival is 100 years old on May 16. To celebrate, the event's producer, the McLean Community Center (MCC), has planned a number of exciting new features and improvements. The festival has a brand new look and feel thanks to a new layout, new exhibitor tents and a bigger, professional platform stage. In addition, Wheat's Landscape Company, one of eight new McLean Day community sponsors, is beautifying the event. The festival will be held on Saturday, May 16, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Lewinsville Park, 1659 Chain Bridge Road. Admission is free.

Joy of Dance returns to the McLean Day festival stage.

100 Years of Bringing the Community Together

McLean Day began in 1915 when the McLean School and Civic League sponsored a festival to raise funds for school and community projects. The first McLean Day was held in a field adjacent to Franklin Sherman School and featured a jousting contest. Various community organizations sponsored McLean Day, until MCC began producing the festival in the mid-1970s. It moved to its current home at Lewinsville Park in 1988, due to an expansion at MCC and an increase in the number of participants. New to this year's festival will be a History Walk, located at Meadowbrook, the historic white house. The walk is being organized by the McLean Historical Society, the McLean Chamber of Commerce, the McLean Citizens Association and Franklin Sherman School, the former two of which celebrated their 100th anniversaries this year.

Take Two Minutes to Vote for MCC Board Members

Eight district residents are running for seats on the 2015-2016 MCC Governing Board. Four adults are vying for three adult seats and four teens are vying for two student seats (one for Langley High School and one for McLean High School). The Center asks residents of Dranesville Small Tax District 1A, to cast their votes to elect and re-elect members to the 11-member Governing Board. The election will be held at the park from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The voting tent is located inside the entrance to the park. This year, each of the candidates will have their own tents along the main walkway on sponsorship row. Residents may vote in advance by absentee ballot if they are unable to attend the festival through Wednesday, May 13. Voting instructions and candidate information are available online at the Center's Website: www.mcleancenter.org.

Amusement Rides and Activities in Abundance

Along with the popular large amusement rides that patrons have come to expect at McLean Day, like the Vertigo, the Orbiter, the Zipper, Full Tilt and Pharaoh's Fury, a number of new activities have been added this year. A new "Kids' Way" area features ticketed rides for young children. Close by is a new area, called "Balloon Alley," with balloon artists and roaming costumed characters. Free laser tag and children's activities, such as Bumpr Ball and a petting zoo, also will be offered this year.

Food Trucks Drive in Big Flavors

The food game at McLean Day will be changed this year by the appearance of several popular gourmet food trucks. Returning vendors Big Fat Daddy's, Brad's Concessions, The Tender Rib and the Rotary Club of McLean, will be joined by Red Hook Lob-

Beloved McLean Day Turns 100 This Year

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the McLean Day festival's existence. A number of enhancements will give the beloved festival a "facelift," while still maintaining the hometown feel and fun for which it has come to be known.

The first festival of its kind to be held in Fairfax County, McLean Day started in 1915 as a fundraiser for Franklin Sherman School. McLean Day 2015 will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 16, at Lewinsville Park, 1659 Chain Bridge Road. Produced by the McLean Community Center (MCC), the event is free and open to the public.

The first "McLean Day" was sponsored by the McLean School and Civic League, with the support of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department. It was held in an open field adjacent to the school. The purpose of the event was to raise funds for various school and community projects. The first festival went on for several weeks, unlike the one-day festival held today.

In the early years, the festival was held on the Saturday preceding the Democratic Primary in August, which made it as popular with political candidates seeking office as it was with the local residents.

Attractions included carnival games, a baby show, dancing, performances and a lot of homemade refreshments. A favored event was the "jousting" tournament. Men, dressed as knights from the Middle Ages, rode horses at full gallop while attempting to place a lance through a tiny ring. The winner had the privilege of crowning his

"lady" "Queen of Love and Beauty."

While much has changed over the years, McLean Day's success is still due to the support of the community. Many McLean-based, civic organizations participate at some level every year, such as McLean American Legion, Post 270, McLean Historical Society, Chesterbrook Residences and the McLean Rotary Club.

After MCC was established in 1975, the event was held at the Center. In 1989, after teaming up with many community groups, including the McLean Business and Professional organization (now the Greater McLean Chamber of Commerce), the Center moved McLean Day to its current location, Lewinsville Park, to increase the attraction and interest in the community. Thankfully, today McLean Day is as vital, strong and well-loved as it has ever been.

The festival will be held rain or shine. For more information, contact the Center at 703-790-0123, TTY: 711, or visit: www.mcleancenter.org/special-events.

McLean Day 2015 Sponsors and Exhibitors Show Their Community Spirit

Local businesses and non-profit organizations have demonstrated their commitment to enhancing the quality of life in McLean by choosing to assist the McLean Community Center (MCC) by sponsoring activities and important aspects of McLean Day 2015. The festival will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 16, at Lewinsville Park, 1659 Chain Bridge Road. Admission is free.

MCC Executive Director George Sachs and MCC Special Events Manager Catherine Nesbitt developed the pilot sponsorship program to allow local organizations to get involved in the community they serve, while also helping expand the festival's offerings. "We were happy to discover that there were many enthusiastic individuals and organizations willing to help us enhance a wonderful community celebration," says Sachs.

According to Elinor Scully, Head of The Langley School, the sponsorship is in line with the school's mission. "Since our founding in 1942, The Langley School has been proud to call McLean our home. We have a strong partnership with families in McLean and the surrounding area. On our campus, we believe deeply in the power of community, so we're very pleased to support McLean Day—an event which brings people together and builds community right here in McLean."

Marc Schappell of Washington Fine Properties' (WFP) McLean office says it is important for their associates to participate in events like McLean Day as all of the company's associates live and work in the area, and what's important to the associate's clients is important to them. "WFP cares about its associates and clientele. We support many events, programs and charities as we give back to the community that supports our business." WFP's internal cosponsors are Anne DiBenedetto, Susan Hand, Robert Hryniewicki, Susan Koehler, Christopher R. Leary, Mark McFadden, William F. X. Moody, Lisa Parcells, Adam Rackliffe, John Stacey, Jennifer H. Thornett and Louise B. Williams.

Lead Sponsor State Farm Agent Lynn Heinrichs is sponsoring the Market Place Tent, a large new exhibitor area located just inside the entrance to Lewinsville Park. The tent will hold 44 exhibitors,

Meet the Governing Board Candidates

Tax District residents asked to “take two minutes” at #McLean Day to Vote for 2015-2016 MCC Governing Board Members.

The McLean Community Center’s (MCC) annual Governing Board election takes place at McLean Day from 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 16. MCC Governing Board members ask residents of Dranesville Small District 1A to stop and “take two minutes” to vote at the election booth, which is located inside the Lewinsville Park’s entrance at 1659 Chain Bridge Road.

The board sets policy and provides general oversight for all programs of the Center and its facilities, including the Robert Ames Alden Theatre and the Old Firehouse Teen Center. Three adult positions and two youth positions are open this year. The adult candidates who receive the three-highest vote counts will serve three-year terms. Youth candidates, one from the McLean High School boundary area and one from the Langley High School boundary area, will serve one-year terms. Youth candidates do not have to attend these schools to serve on the board.

Adult Candidate Personal Statements:

Susan Bourgeois:

As a Governing Board member of the McLean Community Center (MCC) for the last six years, I am pleased to be running for a third term. As Capital Facilities Committee Chair and Vice Chair of the Board for the last two years, I have led the expansion and renovation efforts of MCC’s main campus from an idea to a reality. With re-election, I would continue work to ensure its completion, while being on time and on budget. McLean resident for 16 years, married to Mark, three teenagers, startling fact: recently ran my first 5K in 23 years.

Email: susanvbourgeois@gmail.com.

Merrily Pierce: As a 40-year resident of McLean, I am a regular user of the McLean Community Center. I’m running for the Board as a way of giving back to this community. I’m a retired employee of Fairfax County.

As a former president of the McLean Citizens Association (MCA), I have worked with residents to help resolve issues involving the Center, library, and McLean Central Park. If elected as your MCC Board member for the next three years, I will listen to your suggestions and respect your tax dollars that support the Center while advancing its mission. Thank you for your vote. www.mcleancenter.org.

Jennifer Rossman:

My family and I are proud to call McLean home. I’m currently a full-time mom and community volunteer serving on hospital and academic boards. My education and professional experience working with non-profit organizations would be an asset to the MCC Governing Board. I believe that those entrusted with the stewardship of tax dollars and community resources have a responsibility to ensure those resources are invested in ways that show value and enrich the communities they serve. My parents set an amazing example of active civic engagement and community service – an example that I strive to set for my young son. Email: rossman4MCC@gmail.com. Website: www.jenrossman.org.

Laurelie B. Wallace: It has been an honor to serve as a member of the McLean Community Center Governing Board for the last three years. During my term, I have been Chair of the Program and Elections committees and also served on the Communications and Capital Facilities committees. McLean is my hometown. I was born and raised here. Now that I am older, I want to give back to the place that has given me so much. McLean has evolved over the years and I want it to continue to be as special to future generations as it has been for me.

Email: laureliewallace@mcleancenter.org. Website: www.laureliewallace.com.

Youth Candidate Personal Statements:

❖ McLean High School area

Jenna Lebowitz: Living in McLean, I have been fortunate to grow up in such a safe and nurturing environment. As the second oldest of six children, I have always been a natural leader, role model and have held many responsibilities. Along with this, I have sought out other leadership opportunities in my community, such as a McLean Youth Basketball Coach this year. Also, I started a program that raises money to provide the McLean High School Special Education department with musical instruments. I am excited for this opportunity to represent the youth of my community and make McLean an even better place!

Rahul Mani:

Growing up in McLean has been a wonderful experience and I would be honored to have an opportunity to serve as a youth liaison at the MCC.

Kamath: I am a junior currently attending TJHSST. I have lived in McLean for over 10 years, and have served on the Governing Board for the past year. I also do volunteer work around the community: I participated in the annual flea market and tutored at my local elementary school. I also participate in Policy Debate, which specializes in the discussion of the pros and cons of policy making, a skill I hope to utilize on the MCC. I am committed to use MCC forum to help in getting schools involved in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics projects and competitions.

Tarun Kamath

Quentin

Levin: I run not merely to take office, but to make MCC a better organization. I vow to spread MCC's explorative spirit and goodwill throughout McLean, because community makes us who we are. As class president, debate team leader, and contributing journalist, I know how to listen. Because we all know the tragic results of epidemic stress, I'll push programs that support stress management. I firmly believe life must be lived to its fullest. I'll apply this principle to every endeavor as we open the arts to new eyes, have fun, and explore our deepest passions. McLean's future is our future!
