First Day of School

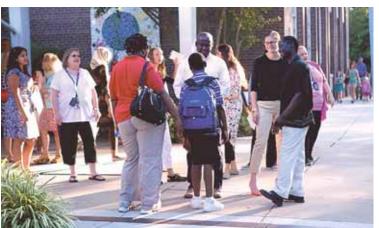

Hollin Meadows Elementary School music teacher Brian Welfle greets families and helped them cross the parking lot safely.

Hollin Meadows' Assistant Principal Kathleen Sain and teacher Joshua Rocheh welcomed each student getting off the school bus.

Maria P. Rivas was one of many parents who walked with their children on this first day of school. Her son Adiel was eager to get to his classroom.

Staff at Hollin Meadows Elementary School greeted arriving parents and students. Sept. 8 marked the beginning of the new school year for students attending Fairfax County Public Schools.

No Criminal Charges In McKenna Death

Commonwealth's Attorney describes death as a "tragedy."

asers did not directly cause Natasha McKenna's death, nor are any of the Fairfax County Sheriff's Office deputies involved with the case being charged with a crime. Those are the positions announced Tuesday, Sept. Commonwealth's Attorney Raymond F. Morrogh.

Morrogh spoke in the late afternoon at a press conference outside the Fairfax Courthouse.

"Nobody is disputing the death of Natasha McKenna was indeed a tragedy," Morrogh said.

McKenna was a 37-year-old woman with a history of mental illness including schizophrenia, bipolar disorder and depression. On Feb. 8, McKenna died while in custody of the Sheriff's Office.

Days before, Sheriff's deputies had been attempting to move her from a cell to transportation to the City of Alexandria, where there was a felony warrant issued for her

During the attempted transport, McKenna was combative, spit and kicked, according to a 51-page report Morrogh released Tuesday. The deputies, having difficulty restraining her, repeatedly used a conducted energy weapon, also referred to as a Taser, in an attempt to subdue her.

The April 28 Office of the Medical Examiner autopsy report for McKenna concluded her cause of death was "excited delirium associated with physical restraint including use of conducted energy device" and that the cause was an accident with contributing factors being the schizophrenia and bipolar disorder.

"The fact she was struggling might not be a conscious decision on her part," Morrogh said, adding that people's actions while dealing with these disorders "are no fault of their own."

Pete Earley of Fairfax, a mental health advocate, author and member of the Fairfax County police practices review ad hoc commission, said, "I'm glad [Morrogh] recognizes the illness. What I don't understand is why didn't they back up? They had held that woman in the cell for day after day, why was it so important at that moment to move her?"

After first reading Morrogh's report, Earley, whose son suffered a mental break in 2002 and now works as part of the Fairfax County jail diversion team for people with

Gary Sinise Foundation Hosts Invincible Spirit Festival

More than 6,000 troops and families gathered at Fort Belvoir on Sept. 3 to enjoy the Invincible Spirit Festival put on by the Gary Sinise Foundation.

Рнотоѕ ву Renée Ruggles THE GAZETTE

Commander, Col. Michelle D. Mitchell, introduces Gary Sinise. Fort Belvoir, along with the USO, served as co-host to the Gary Sinise Foundation, who brought its Invincible Spirit Festival to entertain the troops and their families. Also, on stage, was the foundation's ambassador, Capt. Leslie Smith (U.S. Army, Ret.) and her service dog, Isaac.

During the concert, Gary Sinise interacted with the audience. After a few songs, he invited the children to join him onstage.

Dan Myers (left) and Levi Britton, front men for the band Stolen Silver, opened for the Lt. Dan Band. Myers is also a member of the Lt. Dan Band.

During the Wing Eating Contest, Chef Robert Irvine made the audience laugh when he dumped his wings on the plate of the contestant who was in the lead. The sailor was called onstage and presented with prizes and more of Irvine's mischief.

Mount Vernon chapter of Quilters Unlimited of Northern Virginia donated blankets and quilts to United Community Ministries on Sept, 2. Above are Jeanne Farmer, chair of community service/charity projects, along with Dianne Tippins, chapter president for 2015-16.

Quilters Unlimited Help UCM

embers of the Mount Vernon chapter of Quilters Unlimited of Northern Virginia spent their summer crafting blankets and quilts to donate to families and children at United Community Ministries (UCM). On Sept. 2, the chapter delivered more than 40 one-of-a-kind handmade items to UCM.

At-risk families in UCM's Healthy Families Fairfax program receive donated quilts as they go through the multi-year program with their Family Support Workers who make home visits to teach positive parenting skills. Also receiving quilts are families in UCM's transitional housing program, which currently includes 23 young children. These are families fleeing domestic violence situations who benefit from services including counseling, case management, and life skills, with the goal of healing and independent

Focusing on Suicide Prevention

Help is a phone call away.

his week is Suicide Prevention Week. Preventing suicide means paying attention to mental health and treating depression, and there is no better time to focus on that than the first week of school.

In 2013, more than 41,000 people ended their own lives in the United States, more than 21,000 with firearms. (Compare to the number of murders in 2013, 16,120.) In 2013, more than 800,000 people were treated in U.S. emergency departments for self-inflicted injuries. More than a million adults report making a suicide attempt each year, while many more people struggle with thoughts of suicide, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Suicide is the 10th leading cause of death for Americans overall and the second leading cause of death among adolescents and young adults aged 15-29. More than half of suicides involve firearms.

In 2013, 1,047 Virginians died by suicide, with white males accounting for 716 of those suicide rate at 19.3 per 100,000 in 2013, while the Northern region had the lowest rate at 10.1 deaths. (By comparison, there were 383 homicides in Virginia in 2013.)

Two groups particularly at risk are youth and the elderly. Data from the Virginia Department of Health indicates that rates of suicide in Virginia were higher for older people than youth — but suicide is a leading cause of death for young people.

One strategy to prevent suicide is to learn about the warning signs of suicide, which can include individuals talking about wanting to hurt themselves, increasing substance use, and having changes in their mood, diet, or sleeping patterns, according to the CDC. When these warning signs appear, quickly connecting the person to supportive services is critical. Promoting opportunities and settings that strengthen connections among people, families, and communities is another suicide prevention goal.

Exhibiting any of the signs listed below is reason for an immediate call to the National Suicide Prevention hotline at 1-800-273-8255 (TALK). If you cannot reach someone on this line, go to an emergency room, make sure you or your loved one is not alone until profes-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Time for No Tax Pledge

To the Editor:

A supervisor candidate campaign article "Seeking to Steer Fairfax County" published in the Mt. Vernon Gazette on Sept. 3-9, 2015 issue, describes what the Board of Supervisors (BOS) do in carrying out their responsibilities such as taxing and setting priorities for services to the public. The article also mentions that the BOS is responsible for a $7 billion budget, raised property taxes an average of $185 and approved a $20,000 pay raise for themselves and the tax formula for distributing tax dollars to other Virginia localities is unfair because we send tax dollars to Richmond and get little back. Such tax formula has existed for years and the tax strain on Fairfax County taxpayers is growing.

However, the questions submitted to the current BOS chairman and other candidates for the Mt. Vernon District supervisor dealt with what impact supervisors may have on newcomers to Fairfax County No questions were asked about the problems mentioned in the article or long-standing problems such a traffic gridlock, stagnant economy, and wasteful spending to name a few. In 2013 the BOS gave a $10.8 million bonus to employees whose average salary was $68,000 annually whether they earned it or not, bailed out a bank to the tune of $30 million for an unsecured loan to an Arts Foundation, has subsidized housing in plush communities where unit sell for $1 million. Is that a good practice when there are scarce tax dollars?

Further, the BOS has a longstanding practice of paying substantially more for property it buys that the assessed value. If the assessment is correct, the BOS paid

If the purchase price is correct, the county has under collected real estate taxes. In either case, the taxpayers are the losers.

If that wasn't enough, the BOS voted itself, in 2015, a $20,000 pay raise making the current pay $95,000 for supervisors and $100,000 for the chairman. Prior to the raise the BOS was making more than the supervisors for the four top surrounding counties, Arlington, Prince William, Loudoun, and Henrico according to a 2014 pay study by the Virginia Association of Counties.

To help do that, the county needs to have an independent evaluation of all major functions, programs and services to find out if they are still essential and, if so, are their objectives being met in the most efficient, effective and economical way. In February 1015, I requested the current BOS chairman and other supervisors for a list of the major functions, programs and services that had been evaluated since 2006 to the present but I received no response to my specific request. That raises serious question about the kind of data used by the BOS in making its decisions on taxing and spend-

To help in quelling current tax policies, I urge all supervisor candidates sign a no tax pledge until the newly elected BOS can certify to the county residents and taxpayers that all major functions, programs and services are meeting their objectives in the most effective, efficient and economical way. The taxpayers deserve no less. After all, they pay the bills.

Lock Up Guns

To the Editor:

If you knew someone who was Such extravagant and wild contemplating suicide and vou could keep them from doing it, would you? Of course you would. Sept. 7 through 13 is Suicide Prevention Week and here is a suggestion as to how we can significantly reduce the number of suicides in Virginia. Lock up the guns.

There were 33,636 gun deaths in the United States in 2013. Nearly two-thirds - 21,175 were suicides. More than half of all suicides in this country are carried out with a gun.

In Virginia, there were 864 deaths by firearms in 2013 with 70 percent or 603 being suicides. If people contemplating suicide do not have access to a gun, they would have time to consider other ways of dealing with their depression, anger, despondency, feelings of rejection and hopelessness or whatever put them on this path of self-destruction.

They could even pick up the phone and call a suicide prevention hotline.

Researchers have determined that 90 percent of those who survive a suicide attempt do not end up dying by their own hand. So by removing the most lethal suicide weapon, lives will be saved.

Suicide is a huge public health issue in this county. It is the 10th leading cause of death overall. One way to reduce the number of suicides is to take guns out of the equation by locking them up. Please do that now.

Tag Day This Saturday

West Potomac performing arts students are hoping members of the community will open their doors — and their wallets — when they knock on Tag Day, Saturday, Sept. 12. Every year on Tag Day, more than 200 students fan out in teams giving out "tags" inviting neighbors to this year's performances and asking for donations to help cover costs. Funds raised will go toward instruments, equipment, consumes, uniforms, travel, etc. Above, from left, are Claytis Egbulen from band, Rory Edgar from chorus, Hannah Runner from theatre, Nick Hogan from orchestra, and Dustin Chapman from guitar.

Morrogh: No Criminal Charges

mental illness, said he was "very disappointed, in fact very upset" with the cause and manner of death cited in the report.

"I don't know of any reputable psychiatrist who believes in excited delirium," Earley said, adding that in the mental health community, the condition is "not recognized as a legitimate cause of death."

Morrogh's report describes some of McKenna's medical and mental health background, her hospitalizations at INOVA Springfield Healthplex, INOVA Alexandria Hospital and INOVA Mount Vernon Hospital for mental illness.

The report also describes her incarceration in Fairfax County, leading up to the day she was to be moved, Feb. 3. The description of her "extraction" by the Sheriff's Office deputies includes some statements from the deputies themselves that she was one of the strongest and difficult individuals they'd ever dealt with — male or female.

Though the video of the events leading up to and including the use of the Taser has still not been released to the public, Morrogh's report includes a written description of it with approximate time markers linked to specific actions, such as four marks of different uses of the Taser.

After reviewing the autopsy report, other cases of excited delirium, the guidelines and standards for operation of the Taser, Morrogh said "not difficult to apply the law to the facts of the case."

"In my legal opinion, no deputy involved in the case is in any way criminally responsible."

For Earley, he believes McKenna never should have made it to the jail in the first place, that once it was determined she had a mental illness, she should have been diverted to a different evaluation center. The ad hoc commission, he said, has "laid out specific steps on how to prevent this" in its recommendations to the Board of Supervisors.

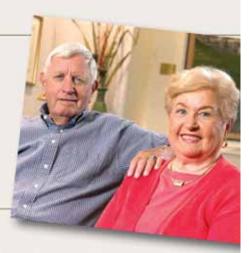

"Maybe no one broke a law in how they handled her," Earley said, "but they created a situation in that jail that led to her getting tasered.

If they weren't legally responsible, they were morally inept. You don't treat people the way they treated her. As a father of someone with mental illness, just find it callous and heartbreaking."

Harvey J. Volzer, attorney for McKenna's family, did not respond to an interview request prior to publication.

Morrogh's report is available online through the Fairfax County website at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/news/2015/report_of_investigation_of_incustody_death.pdf.

Public Invited to Local Police Commission Forum

In an effort to open more opportunities for people around the county to participate and share their views, the Fairfax County Ad Hoc Commision on Police Policies and Practices will hold its next public forum in the Mount Vernon area on Sept. 14 at 7:30

The commission wants to hear thoughts, comments and questions from the community regarding policing in Fairfax County. This is an opportunity for residents to share their experiences and bring new insight and perspective to areas such as use of force, communications, mental health, diversity/recruitment/vetting, and citizen oversight. Community feedback and testimonies will help the commission shape new policy recommendations for the Fairfax County Police Department.

Fairfax County Board of Supervisors launched the Fairfax County Ad Hoc Police Practices Review Commission in response to public concern over the shooting death of John Geer by a Fairfax County police officer. On Aug. 17, 2015, former Fairfax County Police officer Adam Torres was charged with the second-degree murder of Geer, who was shot dead in the doorway to his own own home on Aug. 29, 2013 after police were called in a domestic dispute. Torres was fired in July 2015, almost two years later.

The commission has been meeting since March as a full commission and five subcommittees. Areas of focus by committee include Use of Force; Communications; Mental Health; Recruitment, Diversity and Vetting; and Independent Investigations and Oversight. The commission is set to report findings and recommendations to the Board of Supervisors on Oct.

The forum on police policies and practices will be held Monday, Sept. 14, 7:30 p.m., Walt Whitman Middle School, 2500 Parkers Lane, Alexandria.

For more information on the police commission, see http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/police commis-

MVHS To Host School Budget Meeting

Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS) is encouraging the public to help in the development of the FY 2017 budget. Because projected costs for items such as enrollment growth, state mandated retirement, health insurance costs, and employee salary increases are outpacing projected revenues, FCPS anticipates a significant budget shortfall for school year 2016-17 (FY 2017). To balance the budget, FCPS may have to cut, reduce, or redesign current programs.

As part of the budget process, ideas on what to cut, reduce, or redesign as well as how to increase revenue through fees have been developed by the Budget Task Force with input from the community.

Community members are able to submit specific proposals for how to balance the budget using a "Budget Proposal Tool" available at www.fcps.edu/ SaveFCPS. The proposals submitted via the Budget Proposal Tool will be shared with the Budget Task Force for their review prior to making a recommendation to the superintendent in October. The information will also be shared with the superintendent and School Board.

For those who would like to learn more about the FCPS budget prior to using the Budget Proposal Tool, FCPS has scheduled Community Information Sessions on the FY 2017 budget. FCPS staff will provide an overview of the budget and demonstrate how to use the Budget Proposal Tool. All the information that will be presented will be available at www.fcps.edu/SaveFCPS.

An information session will be held Saturday, Sept. 12, 10 a.m. to noon, at Mount Vernon High School, 8515 Old Mt Vernon Road.

Esther Manns Named Interim Principal at MVHS

Esther Manns, who has served as an assistant principal at Mount Vernon High School since 2004, has agreed to serve as the interim principal for Mount Vernon High School, effective Sept. 14, according to a release from Terry Dade, assistant superintendent of Region 3. She has more than 30 years of experience in Fairfax County Public Schools as an English teacher, an ESOL teacher, a reading specialist, and a Lead Fairfax Administrative Intern.

4 Scenes From Alexandria's Restaurant Week

Annual summertime deal allows diners to taste eateries' menus at a fraction of the price.

By Hope Nelson

very year near the end of summer, Alexandria's Restaurant Week offers diners a prix fixe menu at some of the city's best restaurants for a great price — generally, $35 per person or per couple depending on the establishment. Here are some of the standouts from this summer's selections — and some notes on what to try the next time you visit.

Cheesetique, 2411 Mt. Vernon Ave.

You can feel the festive vibe before you even darken the door of this wine-and-cheese shop and restaurant in the heart of Del Ray. Whether you sit outside — which,

APPETITE bit of wait, but it's worth it — or in one of the several indoor dining rooms, you're in for a treat.

Cheesetique's Restaurant Week menu gave diners the choice of three selections for a shared cheese board, plus eight entrée options and one dessert (chocolate mousse). The number of tantalizing items on the menu may mean your server will have to come back a couple of times before you're ready, but take all the time you need — this is a big decision. The grilled pimento sandwich offers up a refreshed take on the Southern delicacy, and served with a side of greens, it seems almost virtuous. The mac-n-Cheesetique is also a favorite.

Vermilion, 1120 King St.

If you've been waiting for a chance to hit up this gorgeously apportioned restaurant but always felt the prices were a little rich for the blood, Restaurant Week proves to be a great chance to give Vermilion a test drive. With ample selections to welcome any palate — both carnivores and vegetarians are at home with their menu — this Restaurant Week experience successfully caters to all. The menu presented three options for each course, all of which are worthy of attention. But if you're looking to send your meal over the top, you could do worse than the shrimp and grits, penne pasta, and Vermilion's famous poppyseed fritters (which, one server assured several diners, stays on the regular menu at all times).

Vermilion's tasting menu also paired cocktails, beer, and wine with each course. But if you're looking to order off the main menu, be sure to give the Old Man and the Sea (christened with Old Bay syrup) or, if you're feeling extra-adventurous, the Will You Return (which features green pea puree) a try.

Del Ray Café, 205 E. Howell Ave.

Visiting the Del Ray Café, situated half a block off the main artery of Del Ray, is like coming home. Indeed, the restaurant has put down roots in what used to be a house, taurant Week dinner menu was in full effect, and diners were the richer for it.

The chilled red pepper and melon soup could change the mind of any cold-soup doubter; the flavors were alternatively spicy and sweet. For an entrée, the hanger steak was hearty and tender, while the red beet risotto provided an ample pop of color to the table. For dessert, you can't go wrong with the vanilla bread pudding.

Teaism, 682 N. St. Asaph St.

Tucked away in a corner of the Saul Center, across the driveway from Trader Joe's, Teaism is a beacon of calm. The warm dining area — low lighting, a blend of traditional tables and upholstered, low-sitting stools — exudes restoration, and the food certainly helps diners along the path to enlightenment.

Teaism sported a robust Restaurant Week menu, offering some of the eatery's best appetizers, entrees, and desserts for only $17.50 per person. One perennial favorite is the udon noodle salad, a mix of vegetables, udon noodles, a hard-boiled egg, and some tempura "croutons" that is as light and airy as it is hearty and filling. For an entrée, the South Indian vegetable curry is complex, flavorful, and spicy enough to wake you up. And for dessert, don't miss the coconut rice pudding — it's one of the best sweets on their menu.

Some Recommendations To Improve Law Enforcement

By Claire Guthrie Gastañaga Executive Director, ACLU of Virginia

The following open letter was addressed to Michael Hershman, chair of the Ad Hoc Police Practices Review Commission

e commend the members of the Ad Hoc Police Practices Review Commission for their work to ensure that the Fairfax County Police Department encourages a culture of public trust in law enforcement. As you know, this trust is key to ensuring a safe community.

Ensuring public trust in the FCPD will require a shift in its culture and mindset and the reassertion of civilian authority over the policies that guide policing in the county. At the foundation of this shift are the concepts and values of constitutional policing and respect for the sanctity of human life — concepts and values that should be in the DNA of all law enforcement personnel. As such, these concepts and values should provide the foundation for the Commission's recommendations and should guide all policies and procedures adopted and implemented by the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors and the FCPD.

We believe the following recommendations, if implemented, will help achieve the needed shift in the FCPD's culture and mindset. These recommendations, many of which outline policies that the supervisors should adopt as elected officials responsible to the residents they serve, include:

- ❖ Understanding Policing in a Democratic Society Law enforcement are the guardians of the U.S. Constitution, thus the FCPD should initiate department-wide training to ensure its personnel understand the mission and role of police in protecting constitutional rights and the sanctity of human life, prioritizing de-escalation, and ensuring a duty to intervene if another officer uses excessive force.
- Emphasizing Mental Health Training Embracing the sanctity of human life requires law enforcement to differentiate between a person who needs mental health care and a criminal offender who poses a serious threat. Training FCPD officers to distinguish between criminal offenders and individuals in need of mental health services will also better ensure that the Fairfax County Adult Detention Center does not also serve as a mental health facility.
- ❖ Establishing a Civilian Review Board The establishment of a civilian review board with investigatory and discipline authority can be an effective tool for enhancing trust between the FCPD and Fairfax residents. It tions, if implemented, will help achieve the does so by making the FCPD more transneeded shift in the FCPD's culture and parent and accountable to the people.

- ❖ Funding and Mandating Police Body Worn Cameras If, and only if, proper policies and procedures are in place for their use, body cams can be a win-win. They can both protect the public from police misconduct and protect the police from false allegations of abuse.
- * Ending the War on Drugs Drug use is a public health issue, and the Commonwealth, the County Board, and FCPD should implement policies and procedures to deal with it as such. Drug policies must be evidence-based and incorporate prevention, treatment, and public safety elements. The end of the war on drugs should begin with a policing policy that deprioritizes enforcement of marijuana possession and includes supervisors' advocacy for decriminalization of possession by the Commonwealth.
- ❖ Mandating Data Collection To ensure that the FCPD is not engaged in racially biased policing, the supervisors should adopt a policy requiring the FCPD to collect, analyze, and publish an annual statistical report covering all FCPD stops, frisks, citations, arrests, and use-of-force incidents.
- Restricting the Use of SWAT The supervisors should adopt a policy limiting use of SWAT to scenarios in which there is a likelihood that the situation for which the FCPD deploys a SWAT team presents an imminent threat to the lives of civilians and/or police personnel.

- * Reforming Civil Asset Forfeiture Policing should be based on public safety, not supplementing the FCPD's budget. The supervisors should determine as a matter of policy that the FCPD should use asset forfeiture only when: 1) a person has been found guilty of a crime; 2) the convicted person is the owner of the property; and 3) the government has proved by clear and convincing evidence that the owner/offender either used the property in the commission of the crime or received the property as a result of the crime.
- ❖ Enhancing Existing Policies, Practices, and Laws Regarding Police-involved Incidents Law enforcement should focus on de-escalation techniques and ensure that any use of force tool used is the least severe for the situation at hand, including a recognition that some less-lethal force options are less severe than others are.

While there is no silver bullet to ensuring a safe and effective police force, with restoration of effective civilian oversight the recommendations we have made will help restore public trust by making the FCPD a model for what policing in a democratic society should look like. We urge their adoption.

Pledge to Prevent Suicide

By Wendy Gradison CEO, PRS, Inc.

uicide is the second leading cause of death for Virginia youth between the ages of 15-24 and the 11th leading cause of death for all Virginians. That's why it is so important to destignatize mental illness. We have got to get people talking. It's only through open and honest conversations that we can get people the help they need to survive.

COMMENTARY

In fact, why not start now since National Suicide Prevention Week (NSPW) is Sept. 7-

13? At PRS, Inc. — a local nonprofit helping those living with serious mental health issues and facing life crises — we have started a social media campaign called #mindsmatter. The initiative is designed to encourage followers to pledge to do something that raises awareness about mental health and suicide prevention.

Suicide is a cry for help — often not heard. Social media is a powerful tool to hold real discussions around difficult topics. With #mindsmatter, we are touching our community and engaging them as ambassadors for mental health. This is an especially important way to reach younger people with a message of hope since they are more likely to contemplate suicide.

The #mindsmatter pledge outlines activities that people can do to make a difference and spread awareness during the week and beyond. Examples of activities people can pledge to do include:

❖ Following PRS Facebook and Twitter pages

- Submitting a selfie showing support of NSPW
- ❖ Participating in the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention's Out of the Darkness Fairfax Walk on September 13th
- $\ \ \, \ \ \, \ \ \, \ \ \,$ Participating in NAMIWalks Northern Virginia on September 19^{th}
- Taking a stress test
- Sharing the campaign with family and friends
- Setting a personal goal to improve mental health
- Making a donation
- ❖ Reading and sharing stories about individuals overcoming mental illness

The #mindsmatter campaign specifically seeks to educate the public about suicide and mental health by destigmatizing the act of contacting a crisis hotline or textline, or even simply discussing mental health issues openly.

One of our core programs is PRS CrisisLink, a telephone hotline and textline for individuals facing serious life challenges, suicidal thoughts, emotional or situational problems. Last year, our telephone hotline (703-527-4077) handled nearly 40,000 crisis calls from the Northern Virginia region. To help us reach youth better, we launched a textline (text "CONNECT" to 85511) a year ago. Already our trained volunteers have exchanged over a quarter of a million crisis text messages.

Clearly, demand for conversation is high and having these phone and text outlets are important ways to communicate with those in crisis. But an even better way is to reach people before they are in crisis. We can all start by pledging to be part of the dialogue.

BEFORE: The original kitchen relied on rows of buildergrade cabinets for storage.

AFTER: Paul and Laurie Carter, who remodeled their Alexandria home in several phases over nearly two decades, have made their home available for an "open house" Saturday, Sept. 12. The open kitchen plan (shown) was part of the final phase. Sun Design Remodeling introduced a transitional-style interior design.

'Remodeled Home Tour'

3,700-square-foot, four-bedroom center hall Colonial renovated in phases over nearly two decades will be featured in a "Remodeled Home Tour" sponsored by Sun Design Remodeling. The house, at 1611 Noral Place in Alexandria, is owned by Paul and Laurie Carter. The residence will open to the public Sept. 12, noon-4 p.m.

Purchased by the Carters in 1998, the home has evolved steadily over the years. Originally a production house with buildergrade finishes, the whole house remodel now on display demonstrates the kinds of improvements and upgrades that can occur when owners continue to occupy, modifying the environment to suit evolving interests.

"The ideal of long term ownership is the option to create a home that, over time, becomes more supportive of favored activities and aesthetic preferences," says Bob Gallagher, Sun Design executive vice president. "We are finding this kind of on-going commitment to personalizing a residence much more frequently than in decades past."

Sun Design Remodeling frequently sponsors tours of recently remodeled homes as well as workshops on home remodeling topics. Headquartered in Burke, the firm recently opened a second office in McLean. Call 703-425-5588 or visit www.SunDesignInc.com for more.

West Potomac Offense Torches Langley in Opener

Wolverines gain 543 yards, score six touchdowns against Saxons.

By Jon Roetman The Gazette

n the first play from scrimmage of Thursday night's game against Langley, West Potomac quarterback Mark Ellis completed a quick pass to CJ Burch for 13 yards. After two running plays, Ellis and Burch hooked up twice more, for 11 and 12 yards, respectively.

On the following play, Ellis looked to his left and lobbed a pass down field to Cory Jones, who made the catch in the end zone for a 28-yard touchdown.

West Potomac's first drive of the 2015 season: six plays, 80 yards, 81 seconds.

And the Wolverines were just getting started.

The West Potomac football team amassed 543 yards of offense and five different Wolverines reached the end zone during a 41-28 victory over the Saxons on Sept. 3 at Langley High School.

"I believe we did an amazing job," Burch said. "People were doubting us about it because [Langley] got to the playoffs [last maining in the third quarter.

Mount Vernon Football Earns First Win Since 2013

The Mount Vernon football team defeated Stuart 39-16 on Sept. 4 at MVHS, earning the program's first victory since 2013.

The Majors (1-0) will host Conference 7 opponent West Springfield (1-0) at 7 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 11.

sion with an interception deep in Wolverine territory. West Potomac then marched 77 yards in seven plays, extending its lead to 35-21 > when Ellis scored on a 1yard keeper.

Langley quarterback Jack Anderson made it a onescore game when his 1yard touchdown run cut the West Potomac lead to 35-28 with 7:29 left in the fourth quarter, but the Wolverines would add an insurance touchdown on their ensuing drive when sophomore running back Daiimon Cleveland scored from 1 yard with 3:51 remaining.

"Defensively, [it's] pretty obvious, we got exposed for what it is," Langley head coach John Howerton said. "We've got some good kids, they're trying hard, but when [West Potomac] can put five or six kids out there faster than anybody you've got, there comes a problem."

Shortly after West Potomac's opening possession, a lightning delay halted play for more than an hour. Inclement weather proved to be the only means of slowing down the Wolverines.

With the Langley defense focused on taking away big plays, West Potomac went to the short passing game and moved the ball with ease. Ellis passed for 294 yards in the first half, capitalizing primarily on short-tointermediate throws. A screen pass to Cleveland turned into a 38-yard touchdown, and a wide receiver screen to Brandan Lisenby went for a 61-yard score.

West Potomac receiver CJ Burch had 14 receptions for 206 yards during the Wolverines' 41-28 win over Langley on Sept .3

While Ellis and Burch did not connect on a deep pass, Burch did catch eight passes for 150 yards in the first half.

"We know that they don't like to give up the deep ball," Ellis said. "CJ is a playmaker. [We] get it in his hands wherever we can.'

Burch, a 6-foot-2 senior who has received interest from several Division I programs, finished with 14 receptions for 206 yards.

"I thought [Burch] did a great job," West Potomac head coach Jeremiah Ross said. "He executed. He caught pretty much everything.'

Ellis, a 6-foor-4 junior left-hander, completed 22 of 29 passes for 374 yards and three touchdowns. He also ran for a score. Ellis completed his first eight attempts and 12 of his first 14. He was 14 of 20 in the first half.

"I thought the quarterback played very well," Langley coach Howerton said. "He didn't look that sharp on film but ... what, was it the second half before he missed a ball?"

West Potomac turned to the ground game in the second half and found success with Annan and Cleveland. Annan, a junior, finished with 21 carries for 107 yards and a touchdown. Cleveland had 10 carries for 82 yards and a score.

Langley quarterback Anderson completed 15 of 30 passes for 204 yards, with one touchdown and one interception. The senior also rushed 13 times for 78 yards and two touchdowns.

Junior running back Aaron Feldman, making his first varsity start for Langley, carried 21 times for 105 yards and a score. He also caught five passes for 34 yards.

"I thought [Feldman] played very well," Howerton said. "He ran hard. He's not an easy kid to tackle, he's rugged. ... I thought it was a good first varsity start for him."

West Potomac (1-0) will host Edison (0-1) at 7 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 11. Langley (0-1) will host Broad Run (1-0) at 7 p.m. on Friday.

OBITUARY

Carolyn Weaver Mackay (Age 63)

On August 26, 2015 in Arlington, VA, Carolyn passed away with her family by her side. A native of the DC area, Carolyn grew up in Bethesda, MD and was a graduate of Mary Washington College in 1973 with her degree in Economics and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. She then attended graduate school at Virginia Tech where she earned her Doctorate in Economics in 1977. She served on the economics faculties of Tulane University and Virginia Tech and was a Research Associate at the Center for Study of Public Choice at Virginia Tech. She was a Senior Research Fellow at the Hoover Institute at Stanford University from 1984-1986. Carolyn served as Editor of Regulation magazine from 1986-1988 and was a Resident Scholar and the Director of Social Security and Pension Studies at the American Enterprise Institute from 1987-2000.

From 1981-1984, Carolyn was chief professional staff member on social security for the U.S. Senate Committee on Finance, under the Chairmanship of Senator Robert Dole, and during that time also served as Senior Advisor to the 1983 National Commission on Social Security Reform ("Greenspan Panel"). She served on several federal advisory councils dealing with social security and disability policy, including the 1994-1996 Social Security Advisory Council, the 1994-1997 U.S. Social Security Advisory Board, the U.S. Disability Advisory Council, and the Social Security Public Trustees Working Group on Trust Fund Solvency, and was a founding member of the National Academy of Social Insurance. Carolyn testified frequently on Capitol Hill on issues pertaining to social security and the budget, social security solvency and reform, disability policy, and welfare reform. She also wrote books, articles, and editorials on these subjects and was a policy advisor to two presidential candidates. Carolyn is recognized in Who's Who in America. Carolyn lived out her faith in service to the Lord. She taught Sunday school and served on the Pastoral Care Committee and the Vestry at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Alexandria. She also devoted herself to outreach and service to her Christian Brothers and Sisters in Uganda and Sudan and was a founding board member of the American Friends of the Episcopal Church of Sudan (AFRECS). In 2009, Carolyn and her family joined The Falls Church Anglican, where she was an active member of Women's Ministry Bible Study and served on the Guild of the Christ Child and the Hospitality Committee. She was also a long-time supporter, mentor, and tutor with Central Union Mission in Washington, DC. Carolyn is survived by her ever-loving husband of 35 years, Robert J. Mackay; children, Taylor and Bennett Mackay; step-daughter, Stacy Mackay O'Bryant; grandchildren, Patrick and Joseph O'Bryant; brothers, Kenneth Jr., Brian, and Scott Weaver; as well as a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and other extended family. She was preceded in death by her parents, Kenneth and Margaret Weaver.

Family and friends may gather on Thursday, September 10, 2015 from 2-4 & 6-8 p.m. at Everly-Wheatley Funeral Home, 1500 W. Braddock Rd., Alexandria, VA 22302. A funeral service will be held on Friday, September 11, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. at Columbia Baptist Church, 103 W. Columbia St., Falls Church, VA 22046. The committal will follow at Columbia Gardens Cemetery in Arlington, VA. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Central Union Mission at www.missiondc.org with a designation for the Carolyn Mackay Education Fund. A guest register may be found at www.everlywheatley.com
