NEWS First-hand Lesson on Holocaust

Expressions of the Holocaust: GMU group gathers survivors to share memories.

> By Andrea Worker The Connection

n the seventy-seventh anniversary of when supposedly civilized nations lost their collective minds, we are here to learn the lesson – first hand - of what can happen when people just stand by and do nothing." That was how George Mason University President Dr. Angel Cabrera described the Expressions of the Holocaust event, organized by Mason Hillel, the school's Jewish life organization, at which he was a guest speaker on Sunday, Oct. 25.

As he greeted the assembly of thirty Holocaust survivors, families, friends, Hillel members, students and community guests, Cabrera was referring to the upcoming anniversary of Kristallnacht (The Night of Broken Glass), the night in 1938 when mob violence (later aided by Nazi Storm Troopers, members of the SS and Hitler Youth) broke out across Germany, Austria and other Nazi controlled areas. By morning, untold numbers of Jews were beaten or murdered. Jewish homes and businesses were looted or destroyed. Hundreds of synagogues were vandalized or burnt to the ground, and some 30,000 Jewish men were arrested to be later sent to concentration camps. Many historians view Kristallnacht as the public ignition point of the Nazis' determination to rid the Jewish presence from anywhere within their sphere of control and influence.

Groups like Mason Hillel are determined that the lessons of the past are not lost. "This is our third program dedicated to Holocaust education and remembrance," said Taylor Kreinces, chair of the event. "We will hear memories of our honored guests to better understand their lessons of the Holocaust...to share their experiences and wisdom for future generations." Kreinces asked participants to take a memory from the event and share it, hoping that they, too, will share. "It's the only way to 'never forget.""

AFTER THE KOSHER LUNCH plates were cleared away, student ambassadors started the conversations at each of the round tables with group introductions. Then the survivors began to tell their stories.

Anna Grosz, born Anna Seelfreund on April 20, 1926 in Racsa, Romania, was the daughter of Samuel, a vineyard owner and wine merchant, and Ilona, who cared for Anna and her five sisters. When Anna was 14, her town of Racsa suddenly became part of Hungary, separated from Romania by arbitration between the Axis partners Germany and Italy. The vineyard and the business were Holocaust survivors Felix Nicinski and Dr. Maria Dworzecka with student ambassador Brian Garrett-Glazer. Garrett-Glazer, a May graduate of George Mason University, was 'honored to be given the opportunity to facilitate the conversation' at the table at which Nicinski and Dworzecka shared their stories of the Holocaust. "We are so bombarded with the breaking-news syndrome. This is a chance to hear the personal story and feel its powerful impact." Nicinski, who lost his family during the Holocaust, described trying to readjust to "normal" life after being liberated. "I hadn't held a toothbrush in my hand in 5 years. I hadn't sat down to eat a meal in all the time. It took awhile before things started to feel normal."

Anna Grosz tells her story at the Expressions of the Holocaust event. Grosz volunteers at the United States Holocaust Museum "to help keep the past alive, but from happening again."

confiscated under Hungary's anti-Semitic laws and Samuel was conscripted into the Hungarian Labor Service. The family received a few letters from Samuel at first, then nothing. Samuel Seelfreund never returned home and was never heard from again.

Anna, her mother and her sisters were eventually forced into the Satu-Mare ghetto. From there they were moved to the concentration camp at Auschwitz. Anna and her sisters Gisella, Clara and Elizabeth were selected for forced labor after their hair was cut and they were disinfected. Her mother and sisters Margaret and Violet did not survive their first night at Auschwitz. They were sent to the gas chambers almost immediately.

Anna survived life in Auschwitz, then Stutthoff, and then the Praust subcamp. In 1945 the sisters were separated when the SS evacuated most of the prisoners at Praust, leaving Anna behind since she was "unfit" after breaking her leg. Sister Elizabeth was shot and killed during that evacuation march, but Anna was reunited with Gisella and Clara after Soviet troops liberated the prisoners at Praust.

At another table, Felix Nicinski described his internment at Dora when he was just twelve years old. The camp was mostly underground, safe from Allied air raids, and the prisoners tasked with digging tunnels into the surrounding mountains for subterranean weapons and missile production. "There were 12,000 people held in those tunnels," recalled Nicinski. "For six months we did not see the light of day. Can you imagine that?" But the worst part for this survivor was having everything taken from him upon his arrival. "They took everything we had. They took the pictures I had of my family. I lost them all and that hurts, that I have no pictures of them."

Maria Dworzecka was another Holocaust survivor at the same table. She made light of her experiences, saying she didn't have it as bad as others like Felix. After hearing how she never knew her father or found out what happened to him when her parents were unable to flee Warsaw, or how she was left in the streets at less than three years old when her mother was suddenly taken away to a camp, her table companions couldn't bring themselves to agree with her. Three years later Maria's mother was able to return home, looking for her daughter, but it took months before Maria could re-bond with her mother and they could become a family again. Sadly, only 3 years after their reunion, Maria's mother was killed in a car accident, and Maria was again adopted by a Jewish family.

"But good can come from bad, " she reminded her listeners. Maria earned her

Mason Hillel's mission in organizing the Expressions of the Holocaust event is to ensure that the memories and the lessons are not forgotten, but instead passed to the next generation. Looking at the faces of those listening to the story of Irene Weiss, showing a picture of the moment when her family was separated at Auschwitz and her mother, older brother and three younger siblings were shot and killed, it would appear that the mission is being fulfilled.

Ph.D. in Physics in 1969, and has been teaching at George Mason University since 1982, holding the post of Senior Associate Dean, College of Science from 2006 until 2011. She is also the adoptive mother of daughter Anna. "That just feels right," she says.

AROUND THE ROOM the stories continued, like that of Michel Margosis, born in Belgium to Russian-Jewish parents who had fled there after Michel's father escaped imprisonment in Siberia. Michel's family left Belgium for southern France when he was 14 years old, four days after the Germans invaded Belgium. They escaped from a French internment camp, hid with friends for a year, then walked across the Pyrenees mountains into Spain, where they stayed until Michel was sent to the United States via Portugal, where after 3 years in foster care he was finally reunited with his family.

"How did you handle the shock of all that, moving, hiding, separated from your family and coming to the US all on your own?" asked one of Michel's listeners. "I don't know," he answered. "I think after a while nothing was shocking at that time, when you were in the middle of it." Echoing GMU President Cabrera's remarks, Michel responded that perhaps the most shocking thing of all was that this could all happen in "civilized countries."

Prompted by the student ambassadors and interesting questions from their tablemates, the memories continued to flow, but eventually talk turned to how these terrible lessons of yesterday could be used to better circumstances and situations of today.

"As painful as it might be, take 'Never Forget' to heart," said Grosz. "Share your stories, like we are doing today," said Michel Margosis. "Listen. Learn. Take action," said student ambassador Brian Garrett-Glaser. "Pass it along and don't let the stories die with this generation," said Leonie Vandersee, newly arrived from Berlin to work with the American Jewish Committee via the Action Reconciliation Service for Peace.

"And don't forget," said Dr. Maria Dworzecka, "the real evil is to just stand by and think this can't happen, or I can't do anything. Remember that Hitler was chosen in a democratic election. Everyone needs to stand up, not stand by."

Leonie Vandersee, only a month in America from Germany, talks with Holocaust survivor Michel Margosis and Bahador Nezhad, who introduced himself at the table as "not Jewish, but privileged to be here and be part of this moment. I was pleased to be invited."

DAR Celebrates 125th Anniversary

On Oct.11, the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) celebrated its 125th Anniversary with chapters throughout the nation participating in a Day of Service to the community. Anna Maria Fitzhugh Chapter in Springfield worked with the Fairfax County Cemetery Preservation Association and Boy Scout Troop 1835 to clean up historic Clark's Chapel Cemetery located at 7520 Rolling Road. The joint effort included cleaning out underbrush, litter, fallen branches, as well as cutting down and trimming trees. Only six of the 30 burial locations have markers. Other gravesites are marked with stones or are unmarked. Grave locations and possible grave locations were mapped and marked. Boy Scout Troop 1835 assembled a park bench and installed a beautiful sign identifying the name of the cemetery. DAR members planted flowers and marked unnamed grave sites with pea gravel.

JOE MURRAY HAS THE RIGHT PRIORITIES FOR OUR FAMILIES

FIX TRAFFIC GRIDLOCK: Richmond politicians talk and talk about fixing transportation, but never do anything. I'll fight for real reforms and make sure we get our fair share.

BETTER EDUCATION: We need to improve education immediately to ensure our kids have the resources they need. As a father of two, this is imperative to me and so many NOVA families.

LOWER TAXES: We need to reduce government red tape and streamline taxes to create more high-paying jobs.

SOLVE HEALTHCARE PROBLEMS: I will work tirelessly every day to reduce healthcare costs and expand access for Virginia families.

"As a husband and father, I`m tired of politicians who put their priorities ahead of our families. As the father of two young children I know we need education options, a real fix for transportation problems, and lower taxes on everyone."

St. Andrew's Episcopal Preschool Celebrates 30th Anniversary

ore than a hundred people turned out for the 30th Anniversary of St. Andrew's Episcopal Preschool on Oct. 24. Many alumni including some from the class of 1989 came back to visit their former preschool.

The festivities began with some history provided by Scootie Prior who was on the original committee to start a preschool in the Burke-Springfield area. The doors opened in September 1985 with seventy-two children three to five years old. Since that time more than two thousand children have attended the program. Children families have connected to form lifelong bonds.

Former directors — Sharon Winstead, Pat Conrad, Heather Hunt Maupin — and other past staff attended the event and reminisced about all the children who have been enriched by this preschool program. The preschool has grown over the years but the fundamental philosophy remains the same: to provide a loving place for a child to develop socially, emotionally, physically, cognitively and spiritually. Enhancements to the program include special science and music programs, lunch bunch days and Enrichment classes for n Nov. 3, please vote Yes for the $300 million in infrastructure improvements for Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS).

Fairfax County residents enjoy the benefits of having one of the best school systems in the nation, but with over 196 schools serving over 187,000 structure is in dire need of improvements. Voting Yes on the school bond referendum will allow the county to maintain the "world class education system" which FCPS provides. This is a driving force behind our region's economic success. Nearly 75 percent of high school graduates in Fairfax County schools attend some form of post-secondary education. Many of these students return to Fairfax County to find work after graduating.

FCPS is the largest public school system in the Commonwealth and the 10th largest school system in the nation. Recent significant increases in student enrollment have pushed some schools far beyond capacity.

Since the 2008-2009 school vear, enrollment has increased by more than 22,000 students and continued strong growth is anticipated. On top of that, existing classrooms are in dire need of renovations to assure student safety.

FCPS facilities also act as community centers with nearly 2,000 community organizations utilizing FCPS facilities every year.

Bonds are the means by which we provide the funding necessary for our students' facilities. The use of bonds avoids diverting funds that are critically needed for classroom instruction. They also spread the financing of required school construction over the improvement's usable life, diversifying the contribution throughout several years.

In addition, it is important to note that the School Bond will not increase county taxes. The sale of bonds avoids taking funds that are critically needed for classroom instruction.

The use of bonds will not affect the county's coveted bond rating. Not only are interest rates for tax exempt bonds at a near all time low, but Fairfax County is also among the top 1 percent of counties with the highest credit rating possible for a locality. Of the nation's more than 3,000 counties, Fairfax is among only 40 that have the highest credit rating possible for a local government from all three rating agencies.

Fairfax County is home to 10 Fortune 500 company headquarters, more than 300 trade associations and professional societies, and nine of Inc. magazine's 500 fastest-growing privately-owned companies. To continue the excellence in education and business that Fairfax County is known for, our schools need to be modernized.

Together, we can pass the 2015 School Bond to make the necessary investments for a brighter future for our students and our county.

Shelter House, Inc. operates Fairfax County's only 24-hour emergency domestic violence shel- rience domestic violence in their ter, Artemis House. This past year, Artemis House increased its bed capacity from 34 to 42 trying to meet the needs of the 60-100 individuals who call the Artemis House hotline on a monthly-basis.

One recent Artemis House resident "had no access to the family account, credit/debit cards. [The abuser] did not even give her, as we often see, an 'allowance.' She could not even ask for feminine financial decisions and still ac-House.

lifetime. Chances are you either have been or know someone who has been in a situation of domestic violence. And in 2015, 41 percent of adults in families who were homeless reported that it was because of domestic violence. This is an alarming increase from 33 percent in 2014.

Because of the overlapping circumstances of homelessness and domestic violence, Artemis House isn't the only safe-haven for victims of domestic violence. Shelter House operates two other family shelters-Katherine Hanley and Patrick Henry Family Sheltersthat house an overwhelming amount of homeless families who have also experienced and been affected by domestic violence. This is an addition to Shelter House's transitional and permanent supportive housing services - programs that also see a large amount of cases where families are affected by domestic violence.

Why are so many families who are homeless affected by domestic violence? One big reason is 98 percent of domestic violence cases involve financial abuse. Many families who are homeless have experienced having an abuser control their access to accounts, imposing a strict allowance of funds or coercing them into signing documents for loans or leases. The ways in which financial abuse occurs varies, but is a consistent threat and serves as an effective and damaging way for an abuser to keep a victim under their control.

Experience and Results

To the Editor:

State. Sen. George Barker isn't a party politician. He brings sides together, and looks at each issue individually to see how it affects Virginians in our district and across the Commonwealth. As a result, he has proven himself to be a thoughtful, effective leader for Northern Virginia.

Even before being elected to the Senate, Barker was working hard and delivering results for our community. As a PTA president and chair of the Fairfax County Transportation Advisory Commission, he led numerous efforts to improve our schools and fix our transportation system and was named Fairfax County's Citizen of the Year for his service. I am personally grateful for his significant contribution to the positive outcome of a VDOT project in my neighborhood that brought people together, saved the taxpayers money and saved the natural character of our road.

During his two terms in office, Sen. Barker has continued that work. He has sponsored more bills on education than anyone in the Senate, and was a key player in passing transportation legislation that is helping to improve our roads and reduce congestion.

Sen. Barker is the candidate who has the experience and the ability to get things done for Northern Virginia, and he has the track record to prove it. He is truly committed to serving people and I am proud to know him. This is why I am supporting Sen. George L. Barker for reelection this November.

Distasteful Campaign Literature

To the Editor:

As a mother, wife, sister and Navy Veteran, I am sickened that Bryan Wolfe, candidate for Fairfax County Sheriff would exploit the death of an African American woman who died in police custody for political gain. This is downright despicable and goes directly to the heart of his character. Natasha McKenna's death was tragic and unfortunate, which everyone has acknowledged, including current Fairfax County Sheriff Stacey Kincaid, who is actively investigating the matter. But for Wolfe to include the photograph of this young woman on his campaign literature, I feel, is distasteful and disrespectful to her memory.

Reminding voters of McKenna's untimely death in a Fairfax County jail does not automatically translate into Wolfe being a better candidate. The fact that he would insult the electorate by his misuse of her picture on his campaign literature is unfair, at best, and at worst, reprehensible. It also is extremely insensitive, particularly to the African American community, who has historically (and disproportionately) been the victims of police brutality and violence at the hands of police around the country. Given the increasing national dissatisfaction with local police forces, which in some cases has led to riots and other unrest, these "pamphlets" do little to diffuse the situation and promote a positive, constructive dialogue.

I implore you Mr. Wolfe, if you are truly the better candidate, to find a better way to plead your case to the voters of Fairfax County. I served in the military just as you did and there is nothing honorable about the campaign you are currently running.

Domestic Violence

Domestic violence and the homelessness that it can lead to are not separate or isolated issues. They are intertwined issues that affect individuals and families and communities. It is up to us as a community to speak out against abusers and stand in solidarity with those who have been victims of domestic violence and financial abuse. Part of Shelter House's outreach efforts this year have included participating in the Purple Purse Challenge, a national month-long awareness and fundraising campaign held in October aimed at promoting financial empowerment. But much like homelessness and domestic violence, our outreach does not end in October. Help us raise awareness and make an impact by visiting www.shelterhouse.org and find out ways you can get involved.

If you or someone you know is experiencing domestic violence, contact the 24-hour county hotline or Artemis House hotline to discuss: 24 hour hotline/helpline: 703- 360-7273, TTY: 703-435-1235 Artemis House: 703-435-4940.

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it? Legislative Ethics. Virginia is the 47th worst state for ethics, received a failing grade. Despite Governor McAuliffe calling for the strictest ethical standards, the General Assembly still loves their perks and has done virtually nothing. By replacing an entrenched career incumbent politician with me, no legislator can expect re-election by ignoring this issue

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you? I'm proposing term limits and not accepting campaign contributions. I'll do what works for the citizenry without a myopic focus on re-election or subservience to lobbyists/donors.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? Independent Candidates don't have partisan agendas. I don't lean to the left or right - I lean forward. As an engineer, my political ideology is to do what works! I trust in God - all others bring facts, figures and data.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities. 1: My 7 point comprehensive Ethics program: a. Outright gift ban; b. Limiting Virginia campaign spending to the job's salary; c. Term Limits; d. Halt Million Dollar Inauguration Ball "Contributions;" e. Oath of Office Disclosure; f. Independent Statewide Ethics Enforcement Commission; g. Replace Political Gerrymandering with Citizen Redistricting. 2: Increasing Virginia's Economic Growth 3: Improving Virginia Citizen's Healthcare 4: Ending Virginia's Senior Tax Discrimination 5: Strengthening Election accuracy

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes? It's gotten more crowded and congested due to incumbent politicians at all levels ineffectively dealing with transportation and growth.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans? I will support common-sense legislation fostering transparency and sensible restrictions without putting an industry and its jobs out of business. Other states have successfully addressed this issue

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care? Yes

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen? I'm committed to improving healthcare for Virginia citizens. Providing the wrong insurance for people in an arbitrary coverage gap "donut hole" created by federal legislative "gobbledygook" won't work. Patients without insurance now visit the emergency room for their care — patients under a Medicaid expansion will also visit the emergency room because they can't get a timely doctor's appointment. However, Medicaid expansion will improve for-profit-hospital financial "bottom lines", which is why hospital campaign contributions are pouring into compliant candidates. We were told lies to originally pass Obamacare: fool me once, shame on you; but fool me twice, shame on me. I will thoroughly explore alternatives other than Medicaid expansion.

Technology Council TechPAC 1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it? I was born and raised in Northern Virginia and observed first hand a dynamic region that grew faster than public infrastructure could sustain. The fight to ensure that Northern Virginia gets its fair share in order to catch up has defined my service. It is my hope to keep Virginia the type of place that anyone would want to call home. My family built a life here and I want ensure that it continues to be the best place to work, play, and to educate the next generation. 2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you?

My Republican opponent claims that she will represent the views and interests of every citizen of the 43rd District, but her personal ideology is fundamentally at odds with most of the core beliefs of my constituents. Her complete lack of respect for the institution of government makes me seriously question her commitment to protect and fight for critical services like Metro Reform, pre-k through 12 and higher education, and public safety.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggest you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? My recent appointment to the Appropriations Committee by Speaker Howell, arguably Virginia's most prominent Republican, is a clear vote of confidence in my ability to work across the aisle. Although we may disagree on some fundamental issues. I believe my Republican colleagues and I have respect for each other, which allows us to work together to pass substantive legislation, such as the landmark 2013 transportation bill.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities. 1. Closing the Medicaid Coverage Gap. 2. Expanding access to prek for at-risk children, by reforming the Virginia Preschool Initiative and increasing funding for the program. 3. Diversification of Virginia's economy. 4. Increasing access the ballot. 5. Fighting for transportation priorities and improving Metrorail's performance.

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes? Ten years ago, we had many more trailers serving as classrooms in our schools. We did not have Jeff Todd Way, turn lanes at Harrison Lane, and a functioning intersection at S. Kings and Telegraph Road. The Commonwealth's 16 four-year institutions of higher learning have built the capacity to handle the numerous students from N. Virginia. We have made a big difference in the lives of many more families with disabled children.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans? One thing we can do is pass HB 2011, a bill that would have prohibited "a licensed motor vehicle title lender or third party from making loans under the chapter reregulating consumer finance loans at any place of business where a licensee conducts the business of making motor vehicle title loans."

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care? I would very likely support a program that improves our essential foster care system.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen? Closing the Coverage Gap is one of my top legislative priorities. Partisan gridlock has prevented the Governor from accepting Virginia's own tax dollars for routine care of her poorest citizens by a Medicaid managed care company, or from using Medicaid funds to purchase insurance on the exchange. In furtherance of our reputation as a well-managed state, we need to accept our own tax dollars back so as not to deny healthcare for up to 400,000 of our fellow working Virginians that live below the poverty line.

OUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

We came to the US for the American Dream — economic opportunity, religious liberty, and individual freedom. I want to ensure that this dream remains alive for my daughters' generation. I see more government, less liberty; we are over-taxed and over-regulated. I'll fight for a transparent, accountable, limited government that spends money frugally, and honors our Constitutional principles.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you?

I believe that individuals are in better position to govern their lives than bureaucrats. I believe in parental rights, in reducing bureaucracy, in reducing taxes instead of burdening us and our children with further debts to pay for unnecessary government programs whether it's expanding a broken Medicaid system or adding unaffordable tolls to roads that we-the-taxpayers already paid for.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? As much as it may benefit some to exacerbate the appearance of a partisan divide - there isn't enough time to point fingers and cast around blame. As a working mom, a business owner, I focus on solutions. I study problems, operate on facts, and create strategy to get things done.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities. A. Decrease / eliminate taxes and regulation that hurt small businesses. B. Create meaningful contracting parity for veteran-owned business. C. Make Virginia a "No Kill" state that doesn't kill healthy, adoptable animals in our public shelters. D. Ensure that Fairfax County gets an equitable share of state funding for our roads and schools proportionate to our needs, and our contribution to the state. E. Ease regulations for "tech transfer" from public universities, which will ensure that scientific and technological developments are more easily developed into new products and services - creating technology, jobs, and wealth.

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes?

The decline in our schools is evident in increased class sizes and falling scores. The increased congestion is indicative of inadequate attention and lack of planning by current elected officials. High commercial vacancy rates and flight of businesses is a testament to our regulatory quagmire and irresponsible tax policies.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans?

No. I believe that adults should have the right to make their own financial decisions. Our goal should be not to regulate, but to educate, so that consumers can make informed financial choices.

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care?

No. With federal debt careening towards $20 trillion, "influx of federal money" means a greater debt burden to all Americans. Furthermore, 18-year-olds are legal adults and as such, should be able to participate in society. If they aren't ready to take on adult responsibilities at 18, we should ask what's wrong with the system, not throw more money at the problem.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Afordable Care Act and if so that happen? No. I would not advocate investment into an infrastructure for a healthcare system that may be proven unconstitutional. Furthermore, the fundamental premise of forcing citizens to buy health insurance is flawed, and I oppose it categorically. The goal of Medicaid expansion is to provide taxpayer-funded benefits to able-bodied adults who are above federal poverty level; such an expansion is enormously unfair to all taxpayers.

QUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

My "call to serve" comes from the fact that I grew up here in West Springfield (Rolling Valley Elementary - West Springfield High School), live in South County, have a 10-year-old son at our local Fairfax County public schools, and have had my law practice in the heart of West Springfield for 25 years. My campaign may not seem too exciting because I don't have any controversial issue to push. Rather, I want to make government work. For example, getting our roads paved. I co-authored the 2013 Transportation Bill that for the first time in three decades delivered more funds for transportation. But with the non-negotiable rule that 100% of the money raised in NOVA stays in NOVA! This has already delivered results for our area. Old Keene Mill Rd. and Rolling Rd. finally got paved. The Mt. Vernon Hwy and Rt. 1 Interchange finally got realigned. And Rolling Rd. is now on the list for widening to four lanes. I have helped increase the number of in-state college slots. Collectively, I was able to get UVA, W&M, JMU, CNU, GMU, VCU and VA Tech to add over 3,500 new slots in the past two years. And I am not done! By standing up for NOVA residents, who pay most of the taxes in this state, I was able to acquire an additional $816/yr./student for our Fairfax County School students. All the while, I have helped keep VA taxes low. Virginia has the 8th lowest combined state and local tax rate in the U.S.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you? I don't know much about Joana Garcia. Ev-

Virginia Law allows voters to vote absen-from 6 a.m. - 7 p.m.

ervone who knows her says she is very nice. As for why should voters choose me? I deliver real results for our neighborhoods. Just take a look at my answer on #1 for some concrete examples.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there?

I always look for a solution that both sides can live with. A compromise means that you have to take some things you don't like, in order to get things you want. That is why, unlike the Federal government, we deliver balanced budgets every year. Another example would be the 2013 Transportation Bill I co-authored. 37 Republicans and 23 Democrats voted for it. Did I like all of it? No, but I liked delivering the first bill in three decades to fix roads and rail.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities.

Providing more in-state slots for VA colleges, repaving residential streets, keeping flow of money to Fairfax Schools, continuing to keep government spending at 2007 levels so we don't have to raise taxes, and keeping violent criminals in prison.

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes? Lorton Prison was closed and we built SCHS, SCMS and Laurel Hill Elementary! West Springfield is still the same, just like it was when I grew up here 6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans? It is a free country. Government should not tell people what loans they can accept.

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care? Yes

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen?

First of all, anyone who is poor, and either (a) disabled, (b) a child, or (c) elderly, already gets Medicaid. This plan seeks to do is give free medical insurance (Medicaid) to working age people 19-64. While it would be nice to take care of everyone, we cannot afford it. Expanding Medicaid will cost $230 million/yr., and since Medicaid has gone up 300% over the past 10 years, it could rise to $720 million. To pay that, the state would have to increase taxes.

OUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

Motivation: Understanding the challenges of overning, investing in the future, and achieving liberty and justice for all. Commitment: I will continue to try to foster constructive dialogue that respects and encourages citizen involvement.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you? This year, I don't have an opponent. However, I attend every voter forum, even if I can't speak, to hear citizen concerns. To be accountable and to understand each group's values, I answer almost every questionnaire.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? Because I conscientiously do my homework and try to be an honest broker, I was called on extensively by members of both parties in developing and passing the 2013 transportation funding bill.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities.

(1) Mental Health services and reform to deal effectively and humanely with crises, reduce loss of lives, and provide counseling support for victims of sexual assault and domestic abuse and for veterans and their families dealing with PTSD; (2) Adequate school funding that treats Fairfax County equitably; (3) Wise transportation decisions; (4)

Nursing home patient protection; and (5) Growing jobs and diversifying Virginia's economy 5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes?

Redistricting changed my district 40% in 2001 and another 42% in 2011. Within my district, a number of neighborhoods are gaining new vitality from young families living alongside those who've aged in place. Re-development that brings in young professionals and provides downsizing options for longtime residents is being spurred by changes to Springfield Mall and BRAC. I also meet many new citizens knocking on voters' doors. Their backgrounds are incredibly diverse. Some lost family to political persecution or perilous journeys. Others came from the intelligentsia of Asia, former Soviet block countries, Africa, the Middle East, or South American countries like El Salvador.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans?

I voted against bills that, regrettably, opened the door and continue to support restrictions

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care?

From 7 years with CASA, which is assigned the most challenging court child abuse and neglect cases, I'm well-aware of the support and guidance foster teens need to transition into productive adults.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen? I strongly support getting back over $4 million per day in federal ACA taxes that Virginia citizens and businesses have paid in order to provide basic managed care for 400,000 Virginians whose only recourse is to go without healthcare or use expensive emergency room services. 70% are in working families and 12,300 are veterans. I will continue to address the two arguments I repeatedly hear against expansion: reform Medicaid before we expand it and 90% federal funding will disappear. Reform: I certainly agree we have a duty to improve any program, but Virginia's been first in the nation for two years in Medicaid fraud recovery. Furthermore, there've been 61 audits since 2002. Frankly, being 47th in Medicaid spending, Virginia doesn't have much room for waste. 90% federal funding: By not expanding Medicaid under ACA, we get just 45%. Last year, to cover severely mentally ill adults and to provide dental care for pregnant women, we took $85.6 million in state tax dollars from other needs - such as K-12 funding - rather than use 90% federal funding under expansion. Economic reasons for expansion are as strong as humanitarian reasons

QUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

I want to go to Richmond to help those struggling in our community just as I have done as a charity executive and before that, as a legislative staffer for Congressman Jim Moran, where I worked for eight years on legislation and constituent service for the people of the 8th Congressional District. I find helping people immensely gratifying and rewarding. I will always support legislation that reflects my values: making available safe affordable housing, healthcare, education and a living wage; building a sustainable community in the 44th; and protecting and enhancing the natural environment by shifting to renewable energy.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you?

Paul Krizek does not have an opponent.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there?

I worked on the Hill for many years and participated in numerous bipartisan efforts to draft and

2) Raise the minimum wage to at least $10.10

3) Affordable Housing

4) Expand Medicaid 5) Investing in alternative energy

How has your district changed in 5. the last 10 years? What caused those changes?

Ten years ago, the county tore down abandoned, unsafe and eyesore properties. Since that time we are seeing some upgrading of the Rt. 1 corridor with new historical signage, plantings, retail façade improvements, as well as new development areas like Beacon Hill Mall and Hyla Valley. The community has consistently stepped up to the challenges we faced, from keeping Mount Vernon hospital open, to pushing for the new Jeff Todd Way connector road from Route 1 to Telegraph Road.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans?

Absolutely. I support capping the interest rate for predatory lending and giving localities the ability to regulate the number of predatory lenders in a locality, similar to their powers for pawn shops.

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care?

Yes. We have over 5,000 Virginia children in Foster Care. I absolutely support receiving Federal funding for Fostering Connections.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen?

Medicaid expansion is one of my top priorities. I am willing to work hand-in-hand with the Governor, the Democratic leadership and the members of the Republican caucus that favor Medicaid expansion to accomplish this for 400,000 hard-working Virginians.

QUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

Fixing the economy (economic development). If we are addressing economic development then infrastructure (roads, etc), schools and homes fall into place. Your Senator must work hand-in-hand with County and Town governments. Tax dollars must be put to work effectively and judiciously.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you?

Leadership. As a 25-year Marine Corps veteran, a Mayor, a businessman and a consultant my experience is diverse and will bring a fresh perspective to Richmond. My opponent is a career Richmond insider and a politician who's voting record doesn't line up to what he says he supports.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there?

I was elected as a Councilman and then as Mayor as a Republican in a town that President Obama and Governor MacAuliffe won in a landslide. That crossover appeal shows that I can work effectively across the aisle and earn the trust of Demosuccess to my straightforward, honest approach. Not one party can fix all problems we need a Senator who works well with others. 4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities.

Create jobs and grow our economy; Fix the Route 1 corridor; Address planned development; Strengthen ethics laws; Reach across the aisle to solve problems.

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes?

The people who live here haven't changed, but their attitude towards government and politicians have. They are tired of the insiders, and want people who are willing to work together for a common cause.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans? Yes - this should have been addressed a long time ago. My opponent was in office when the current laws allowed these predators to set up shop - now he says he has a plan to eradicate them. My opponent has shifted the discussion from a meaningful conversation on economic development to an election year conversation focused on his priority of a one focused area. My opponent wants to solve every concern by raising taxes.

7. Will you support funding for Fos-tering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care? Yes.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen?

The ACA has created more problems that it has solved because it was pork barreled. At the end of the day, we must create a healthcare safety net for our citizens. We cannot put the burden of this program on the business owners and the middle class. This is a great question for a current legislator as to why something hasn't been done already. My goal will be to bring people together to find a compromise that solves the problem.

OUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it? My #1 focus since I was elected was the improvement of the U.S. 1 Corridor. I have lived in our community since I was born in 1971 and I am dedicated to making the U.S. 1 Corridor and our community a place that my children will want to live in 2030. Senator Puller and I funded and completed the U.S. 1 Multimodal Study which recommended the extension of the Yellow Line. I am working to make this a reality sooner rather than later.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you? I believe the success of our community in the future will originate from investing in first class transit, fully-funding K-12 and early childhood education, regulatory measures to rid our community of predatory blight and businesses, and investing in people. In the last six years, I have proven that I know how to move the ball forward on these issues. My opponent believes that the private sector holds the solutions to Route 1's economic development problems and that we can have everything we want without paying for it.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? I have passed over 20 pieces of legislation in the six years I have served. I pass legislation without securing at least 18 Republican votes in the House of Delegates. I have also worked with Republican colleagues to defeat legislation on the floor of the House including last year's execution secrecy legislation. I have developed friendships, relationships, and the experience necessary to maximize our community's opportunities in Richmond.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities.

1 - The improvement and expansion of first class transit to promote redevelopment of the U.S. 1 Corridor. 2 - Raising K-12/early childhood/ higher education funding. We need lower class sizes, higher teacher salaries and digital devices for all students. 3 - Predatory Lending needs to be severely regulated on U.S. 1. Interest rates capped, locations limited, and bait and switch tactics abolished. 4 - Virginia must expand Medicaid. 5 - Promoting renewable energy, energy efficiency, and a green economy.

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes?

Traffic has exploded on U.S. 1 due to employment growth at Fort Belvoir and Marine Corps Base Quantico. 36th District's school populations have exploded due to population turnover from elderly to young families and housing growth.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans? Predatory lending is completely out of control on U.S. 1. Short of abolition, I have consistently supported (1) interest rate caps, (2) giving local government the authority to regulate the number of predatory lenders that can locate in an area, and (3) prohibiting multiple predatory lending entities from co-locating in the same storefront.

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care? I have always been supportive of measures to fully fund Virginia's safety net. Expanding Medicaid would free up $180 million of Virginia taxpayer dollars because the federal government would pick up 100% of the cost of fourteen programs currently 100% funded by Virginia taxpayers. Those monies could be used to fund programs such as this one.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen?

Closing the healthcare coverage gap is probably the #1 thing we can do to improve quality of life in the short term in the U.S. 1 Corridor. The U.S. 1 Corridor has the largest existing Medicaid population and the largest concentration of working adults that would benefit from expansion in Northern Virginia. Expansion will create 30,000 jobs in Virginia, nearly 1,000 jobs in the 36th District, and will free up $180 million of Virginia taxpayer dollars to spend on other priorities. I have never voted for a budget without Medicaid expansion, and I will continue to advocate for Medicaid expansion as a necessary condition for any biennial budget passed this year.

QUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it? It is difficult not to state that the unborn child's right to life is at the apex of issues, because it sets the parameters for whether a life can literally be taken, but it is also commands our attention that through policies we decide for our environment, we are setting the conditions today for the quality of life today and tomorrow - in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat. °If we do not change the direction of today's world, future generations will face catastrophic conditions. ºWe will be most successful by using clean "green" technology for the goods and services we produce. More trains mean less traffic and fewer headaches. We should restrict fracking and be very careful about offshore drilling. 2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you? If there is one distinction between me and my opponents, it is the reference point from which we come. I am unconnected to lobbyists and Political Action Committees, and I am from and of the community, and therefore the decisions I make are more likely to build a better future than is suggested by the inertia of the present power relationships in Richmond that characterize my opponent's incumbency.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? First and foremost, the nature of an Independent Green candidacy is that we place people over party and we invite the exchange of ideas that lead to new policies rather than continually beating the party drum to stir up the base for more campaign contributions. I have been a bridge builder through my adult life. In college campus student politics, in a committee staff position on Capitol Hill on a high profile political issue, in my 25 years of work to build safe and drug-free communities, I was able to communicate with the most diverse of elements to find solutions. I take pride to say that I have seen the streets and the suites, and am able to understand diverse perspectives.

4. In order, list your top 5 legislative priorities.

My legislative priorities are to help create a clean environment, to protect the lives of the unborn, to promote safer and stronger communities, to innovate in education and employment matters, and to maintain a reasonable state tax and state budget environment.

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes?

The 35th Senate District has become a much more diverse place in the last ten years. °It is an example of how the USA has developed and it provides us an opportunity right here in Northern Virginia to be leaders in a global age.

Consumer protection is very important to me. °My relatively humble origins have shown me how adverse financial situations can be exploited by financial institutions.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans?

Fostering Connections has been one of the most important and successful of programs for young people that have had a more difficult life. ºWe should find the funds to support it.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen? I support the expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, but only under the condition that it can be financially accommodated without future tax increases. Healthy people are more productive people but state overspending can produce disastrous results for everyone.

Statement from Senator Dick Saslaw

Thank you for this thoughtful community service when developing a voter's guide. As a long serving elected official, Senator Saslaw has a very extensive voting record on key issues. Serving as the Democratic Leader in the Senate (both as majority and minority leader as well), he has demonstrated a unique ability to work with both sides of the aisle as well as both elected bodies in the best interests of Virginians across the Commonwealth. Senator Saslaw is a pro-business, pro-education and pro-choice candidate with key endorsements from many sectors.

This November all 140 seats of the legislature will be elected to new terms. Once the members are sworn in and bills introduced, the Senator will access the best strategies for developing good public policy as well as thoughtful fiscal responsibility. "She's a natural leader," Dougherty said. "It's been interesting for me to watch other business owners here respond to her, her leadership, the way she motivates people."

Gandee is a business owner herself, running a ServiceMaster Restore franchise. However she said she stepped away from the company entirely in April to devote her full attention to the supervisor role.

"It will get my full attention, I'm anxious to get started," Gandee said at the Oct. 15 meet the candidates event hosted by the Mount Vernon-Lee Chamber of Commerce at the South County government center.

"I think we have a problem in Mount Vernon: It doesn't look like the rest of the county - the roads, schools, economic development is worse," Gandee said. "We need new leadership, new ideas, to work together to get the problems solved."

Retired physician and Mount Vernon resident since 1970, Dr. Thomas Cleary met Gandee through the Chamber of Commerce 10 years ago. Cleary said he's impressed with Gandee's long-hours work ethic and how successful she's made her business. He also appreciates "her knowledge of the workings of the government and what's necessary for changes in the way projects in the community can be accomplished, both private and public."

Storck, working with then-Lee District School Board representative Liz Bradsher, was able to get support from the board to move forward with the middle school planning and construction, which was completed for the school to open in 2012.

"I don't agree with everything he says, he's very much to my left, but sees the middle ground when he has to," said Bradsher. "Sometimes he would come in late on an issue, but once he did his homework, you'd always get a call from him, he would touch base with you to go over the issues in their entirety with him. I was very grateful for that."

Bradsher also recalled a controversial boundary change the two worked on affecting students at Annandale and Woodson high schools. "That was a tough thing for Dan," she said. "He hated to pull people out of their home community and understandably so. But we all had to work on that issue as a School Board."

Storck referenced his more than a decade representing Mount Vernon on the School Board, as well as his previous roles as president of Good Shepherd Housing, a coach in the Fort Hunt area and West Potomac High School Parent Teacher Association president, at an Oct. 15 meet the candidates event hosted by the Mount Vernon-

Storck highlighted his "willingness to listen" and experience in spending "thousands of hours" attending board meetings, boundary meetings and other community meetings as a member of the Fairfax County School Board.

Holly Dougherty, executive director of the Mount Vernon-Lee Chamber of Commerce. has known Storck since he was elected to the School Board in 2004, and through his businesses he has also been a member of the chamber. "He's given a lot of time, with service on the school board and goes out of his way to try to understand concerns people have. QUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

Mental health care. It matters because many Virginians with mental health problems suffer needlessly and sometimes die because we are not doing enough to help them. I worked on the issue before I was elected and have helped improve our system since I took office, but much more needs to be done. After similar bills had been repeatedly killed, this year I got a bill passed to help get immediate support to college students contemplating suicide. I serve on a legislative study committee taking four years to propose a revamped and adequately funded system that will meet the needs of people with mental health problems rather than putting them on a waiting list.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you?

I have a detailed knowledge of most issues addressed in the General Assembly; I understand the different issues of people in different parts of the district; I have a record of getting results, getting more bills passed than almost any other Senator; I consistently work with Republicans to find common ground and compromise to get things done rather than simply spouting partisan platitudes; I still run from house to house throughout the district and ask voters what are their priorities and what do they want me to do; and I show up, such as at a recent debate before Hayfield seniors, where I answered their questions alone for an hour because my opponent reneged on his commitment to participate. 3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences

My record shows that I frequently work closely with Republicans, often jointly sponsoring bills, and bridge any partisan divide to get things done. Allowing Virginians to keep their health insurance, prohibiting censorship of sermons of chaplains, texting while driving, giving Virginians a tax refund check rather than a debit card, giving protective orders to those threatened by former intimate partners, and putting more money in the Rainy Day fund, and shared work programs are examples.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities.

Transportation, Education, Economy/Jobs, Military and Veterans, Those Who Need Help

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes? There is greater racial and ethnic diversity, with housing integration rather than segregation throughout the district. This has happened because we have opportunities here, people want to live here, and we appreciate both differences and our common humanity. 6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans?

I will support legislation that restricts unfair lending practices and that provides people with limited options the ability to get loans, as we did with payday lending a few years ago.

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care?

My wife and I were foster parents to 13 children over many years. I have already supported this legislation.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen?

I will support any reasonable proposal to get insurance for those eligible under the ACA, whether its expansion of our highly regarded Medicaid program or an alternative, such as a private insurance plan that we passed in the Senate. I am happy to help negotiate a deal that addresses concerns of some while getting coverage for those who are eligible.

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it?

We have one of the best school systems in the country. The present School Board has little interest in budget management and is leading us in a way that is unsustainable. Despite an increase in the budget of 107% and enrollment growth of 22% over the past 15 years, we are falling behind in many major categories. Class sizes are up. Teacher

OUESTIONS:

1. What is one issue that defines your call to serve, why does it matter, and how will you tackle it? As a father of two young children coming up through the public school system, improving our school system is a top priority for me.There are a couple of improvements we can immediately enact. First, I think the local school board, not Richmond, should determine when the school years starts for testing preparation of our students; that's why I would repeal the "King's Dominion" law. I would also work to get more education funding directly into the classroom.

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you? My family faces a lot of the same challenges as families throughout the district. I've felt the economic crunch from the high cost of living and a sluggish economy. I have spent too much time commuting to work on public transportation for years in gridlock, and I worry about the education my kids and all of those in Northern Virginia are receiving. There are real solutions to improve our communities but it's going to take the political will and bi-partisan leadership to make them happen.

3. Given the political makeup of the state legislature, what examples from your own salaries are flat and so is the achievement gap. Seven schools are in danger of losing their accreditation just in one district. It is past time for an outside, transparent and meaningful audit so programs can be evaluated, fluff eliminated and core educational achievement can be maximized .

2. What distinguishes you from your opponent(s) and why should voters choose you?

The School Board and Administration need to take responsibility for their failure to prioritize programs, eliminate waste and manage the budget.

I would not design an online budget tool whose purpose is to shield the administration and school board from criticism by creating cuts by popular demand. A real budget tool would engage parents by asking them what they would like to save.

3. How will you address the growing economic divide in county schools?

FCPS should use merit based instruction, with a focus on providing a quality education for all our students. The schools cannot change the economic conditions of families. All they can do is assure that experience suggests you can successfully bridge the intense partisan differences there? I spent nearly a decade on Capitol Hill working with elected officials and staffers from many different and competing political philosophies. My ability to forge agreements through compromise comes from growing up in a large family of seven siblings. I learned through experience that you can disagree with someone, and still respect their opinion. Through my work experience, legal education training, service to my community, and being a father to a special needs disabled daughter, I have demonstrated the willingness to listen to other people and respect their opinion while solving vexing problems.

4. In order, list your top 5 specific legislative priorities. Reduce government red tape to create more high paying jobs. Repeal the "King's Dominion" law and give local school boards more control. Encourage Public-Private Partnerships to expand the transportation grid and ease congestion. Increase the number of charter school to improve education through competition. Simplify and streamline our tax code

5. How has your district changed in the last 10 years? What caused those changes? The district has seen an incredible amount of growth in the past 10 years, from the West End of Alexandria all the way down to Prince William County. People were drawn to the area because it's a great place to raise a family. Unfortunately, that growth has side effects from congested roads to overcrowded schools. We need to deal with those side effects now.

6. Will you support legislation restricting high interest lending including car title loans? On a bi-partisan basis, the Virginia General Assembly acted to reform the industry practices. If more work needs to be done to ensure the law is followed where consumers are protected from unlawful or immoral business practices, I will work with my colleagues on both sides of the political aisle to ensure protections are put in place.

7. Will you support funding for Fostering Connections which would result in an influx of federal funding for foster children aging out of foster care?

I am open to federal support for Fostering Connections. Providing a social safety net for those in need is an important role of government, and our foster care system is critical to the future development of our childrens' and community's well-being.

8. Do you support expansion of Medicaid under the Affordable Care Act, and if so, what would you do to make that happen?

I do not support expansion of Medicaid to ablebodied adults. There are better ways to reform our health care system to help increase health insurance access and affordability. As a health care public policy professional for a rare-disease nonprofit organization and a father of a special needs daughter, I bring a unique perspective on this important topic.

every student has an educational opportunity that will allow each individual to succeed.

4. How to address the achievement gap? The achievement gap is largely between English and non-English speaking children. I would advocate for summer school for ESOL students to speed mainstreaming. Since the federal government has opened the door to illegal immigration, they should pay for the added costs.

5. Budget Question

I am confident that 2.3% of savings could be found in the present $3 billion budget. One of my frustrations as a concerned citizen is the lack of transparency of the cost and effectiveness of programs. As presently structured, the number one item for elimination is athletics. Athletics is an $11 million line item in a $3 billion budget. What is missing in the analysis is athletics bring in an excess of $100 million in non-taxpayer money to the School System. The take home lesson is: Never Never Never end athletics.

The Oct. 24 event gives opportunity to learn about the community.

t was the 30th Annual SpartanFest. The gym and cafeteria were decorated differently Saturday morning. They were filled with 70 crafters and vendors for the Arts and Crafts Fair. Colorful candles, clothes, dolls, glass ornaments, jewelry and knit items were neatly displayed. Visitors stopped by and interacted with the vendors.

The parking lot was crowded with the students and parents-live music was heard, a group of students danced, a variety of activities were hosted by the school's clubs and teams, appetizing food wafted in the air and bright red fire trucks were parked on the side.

SpartanFest is held to benefit the WSHS PTSA Teacher Mini Grant Program. The award is granted to teachers who have great ideas about improving the education at West Springfield. The PTSA sponsors the Arts and Crafts Fair and Silent Auction to raise money for the grant and to supplement what teachers need for class.

"Businesses have been generous and supportive," said Mary Ann Zegeer, a parent and PTSA member. "They wanted to be active with the West Springfield community."

SpartanFest this year also highlighted learning about community safety. The Virginia State Police Distracted Driver Simulation was held in the morning and the West Springfield Fire Station prepared the Fire Truck Demos. Students were able to get inside and take a look at a medical ambulance bus.

"I believe in a more community approach and public service. Getting into community is very important," said Capt. Nicholas Weresnick from the West Springfield Fire Station 27/A.

He said the crew walks door to door in the community every Saturday to make sure everyone has a working smoke detector. This is one of the SIOC or "Safety in Our Community" services, and it is a "seasonal safety message" they deliver to the community, according to Weresnick.

SPORTS Hayfield to Face Fellow Conference 6 Contenders

Hawks tied with Madison for first place at 5-0.

> By Jon Roetman The Connection or the first seven weeks of the 2015 season, the Hayfield football team won or lost by a margin of 15 points or greater. While the Hawks won more than they lost, posting a 5-2 record, Hayfield never found itself in a pressure-packed end-of-game situation.

That changed on Oct. 23, when the Hawks traveled to Arlington and needed a fourth-and-goal stop in the final minute to secure a victory against Yorktown and remain tied for first place in Conference 6. The Hayfield defense came through, with senior cornerback Terrell Wheeler intercepting a pass in the end zone to clinch a 21-14 victory.

"We needed that game against Yorktown," Hayfield head coach Eric Henderson said. "We've been either winning lopsided or losing lopsided and I felt like we needed to battle though something."

For the Hawks, the fourth-quarter test of fortitude might have arrived at just the right time.

Hayfield, now 6-2 overall and 5-0 in the conference, will wrap up the regular season by facing the other two teams in contention for the Conference 6 title. This week, the Hawks will host South Lakes, which sits at 6-2 overall and 4-1 in the conference. Kickoff is at 7 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 30. The following week, Hayfield will travel to Vienna to face a Madison team that has won seven in a row and is currently tied with the Hawks atop the conference standings at 5-0.

While Hayfield will be tested, the Hawks, who are on a five-game win streak, will provide their own challenges.

"I think we've kind of found our formula," Henderson said. "It took us a couple of games."

That formula: Give the ball to running back

Myles Ross and let the senior make plays. Ross is Hayfield's all-time leading rusher. This season, he has carried 176 times for 1,486 yards and 17 touchdowns. Last week against Yorktown, Ross had 37 carries for 276 yards and two touchdowns.

He also plays defense and has three interceptions.

"I think he's one of the best players I've ever coached," said Henderson, whose Northern Virginia coaching stops include Lake Braddock (assistant), West Potomac and T.C. Williams. "He goes both ways, he doesn't get a lot of breaks. ... If he's not on the field, we're not as good [as we are] with him on the field. He's what we do offensively."

"They're a real physical bunch," Henderson said. "They remind me of some of the crews I had at West Potomac — kids that like to get after it. They work well together. They communicate well."

Hayfield is No. 9 in the latest VHSL 6A North region power rankings. Madison is No. 4 and South Lakes is No. 10. The top 16 teams make the playoffs.

Henderson said the Hawks divided the season into three parts. The first part was a tough three-game stretch during which Hayfield battled injuries and struggled against some tough opponents. After a 21-0 season-opening victory against Edison, Hayfield lost to Tuscarora 40-14, and was blown out by South County 70-29.

The second part was a four-game stretch where the Hawks tried to figure out what they do well. Ross was the answer, and Hayfield defeated Washington-Lee, 35-16, McLean, 43-28, Fairfax, 40-20, and Langley, 39-21.

The third part is a playoff push during the final three games of the regular season. The Hawks survived a tough test against Yorktown, winning 21-14. Hayfield's next two games will determine if they are conference champions.
