More than 200 community members came out to West Potomac High School Monday night, July 25, for the second Embark Richmond Highway informational meeting.

Embark is the multi-agency, multi-phase, multi-year initiative for completely redeveloping the Richmond Highway corridor for multiple forms of public, private and human-powered transportation, as well as economic and residential harmonious growth.

This spring, an advisory group appointed by Supervisors Jeff McKay (D-Lee) and Gerry Hyland (D-Mount Vernon, former) worked on assessing existing conditions along the highway and moved forward with gaining guidance for policy for Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) and Metrorail — two of the largest components in the transportation revitalization of the corridor.

At the July 25 meeting, Embark group members described the current ideas for BRT stations, street grid networks around community business centers and cross sections of streets that include the public transportation as well as road widening and bicycle and pedestrian facilities.

After the presentation, which is available online at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dpz/embarkrichmondhwy/meetings/community/7-25-2016/presentation.pdf, the community was invited to move to the school's cafeteria for an informal question-and-answer and feedback session with members of the advisory group, county staff and elected officials.

Stewart Schwartz, Executive Director of the Coalition for Smarter Growth, attended the presentation and thought Supervisors McKay and Dan Storck (D-Mount Vernon) set the right tone about the importance of planning comprehensively with a positive vision for the future.

The staff is getting the transportation and land use components right including frequent transit, a network of local streets, safe street designs for pedestrians and bicyclists, and good urban form - with Massive sediment runoff flowing into Dyke Marsh.

It's safe to say Dyke Marsh should not be orange. Yet about two years ago, that's what members of the group Friends of Dyke Marsh who lived in the River Tower condo building observed.

"Dyke Marsh is turning orange," Friends group president Glenda Booth said. "Totally orange."

Though Dyke Marsh extends off the east side of the George Washington Memorial Parkway, Booth said there's a sometimes forgotten portion of the marsh, "a tidal wetland, largely undisturbed," to the west of the parkway.

After Booth and the Friends group brought the issue to Fairfax County's attention, they linked the orange coloring to sediment runoff from a stream running through Mount Vernon Park, beginning behind the intersection of Dartmouth and Swarthmore drives in Alexandria.

Charles Smith, Branch Chief with the Fairfax County Watershed Projects Implementation Branch, Stormwater Planning Division, said the forest has likely been stable since 1900, but around 2000, there started to be more frequent and larger storms. Impervious surfaces in the 60-year-old community also prevented much of the water from being absorbed into the ground around the houses.

Trees came down, and around 2005, Smith said clay around the stream started to break loose and flow down to the marsh, and eventually depositing sediment and nutrients into the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay.

To correct the problem, Fairfax County hired Wetlands Studies and Solutions, Inc. to design a stream reconstruction and Angler Environmental to carry buildings built to the sidewalk rather than set back,” Schwartz said.

But Schwartz added the coalition is urging Fairfax County to integrate specific policies and financing strategies to preserve existing affordable housing, avoid displacement and add new affordable housing in the area of Route 1.

“Just because the garden apartments with affordable units may not be within the defined commercial areas of the plan,” Schwartz said, “doesn’t mean that investors won’t see the value in these apartments and bid up their prices and rents.”

Barbara Byron, Fairfax County Director of the Office of Community Revitalization, said the goal is to have a comprehensive plan amendment prepared to go before the Board of Supervisors by December 2017. That amendment would set the overall vision and population densities required to bring in BRT and Metrorail.

“We want to be sure that BRT, when it comes, will be successful,” Byron said. “That means showing planned density. We know it won’t be Tysons density, but it shouldn’t be Burke density, either.”

Some have complained that the process isn’t moving fast enough, that it doesn’t have the same perceived thrust of the development and addition of Metrorail to Tysons.

Supervisor McKay said there has to be a balance in taking the time to address myriad complex concern in order to “do this comprehensively,” as well as keeping the effort on schedule.

“We’ve waited in line a long time,” McKay said. “We don’t want a simple, easy fix. Route 1 has had enough cheaper, easier fixes. We need holistic revival. It took decades in Tysons. Density doesn’t get built overnight.”

Supervisor Storck addressed the timeline that has BRT coming to the corridor within

“We need to speed this up, like to see BRT first runs in five years,” Storck said. “That’s unacceptable to me, and other elected officials in Fairfax County. This community is ready. They’ve been ready for years.”

Storck said planning should happen faster, but question remains how to balance faster planning with totally comprehensive planning.

The third community meeting will be scheduled some this fall. The main project website for Embark Richmond Highway is located at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dpz/embarkrichmondhwy.

 out the project.

Construction is scheduled to begin Aug. 8, with the work entrance being put in and some clearing operations. Trees will have to be taken down, Smith said, but there will be restoration planting.

THE ERODED CHANNEL is going to be elevated around 15 feet at the outfall, to within five feet of the surrounding land. Total project length is about 920 feet.

Mike Marsala, senior design engineer with Wetlands Studies and Solutions, Inc, said the stream fill-in would be a combination of rocks, rock structures and wood sills that will become embedded organically in the environment.

Smith said the vicinity of the stream is one of the last remnants of coastal plan land in the area. Cherry oak, sassafras and pink azaleas are among the unique native species.

Smith said the site will be restored with native plants "to provide habitat and stabilize and rebuild soils."

Booth, Smith, Marsala and representatives from Fairfax County Park Authority and other government agencies surveyed the site on July 25 for a preconstruction meeting.

Smith said "Pardon Our Dust" flyers should be distributed to community members this week.

"I'm encouraged," Booth said. "They've come up with a design to correct the problem and improve the structure for the health of the marsh and the area. We're very grateful for the county's support and funding."

Construction cost is $760,000 for the project, which is expected to be completed around the end of April 2017. Total cost including design and other fees is $1,340,000, Smith said.

The project website is located at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dpwes/stormwater/projects/quander_road.htm.

(Left) Charles Smith, Branch Chief with the Fairfax County Watershed Projects Implementation Branch, Stormwater Planning Division, and (right) Mike Marsala, senior design engineer with Wetlands Studies and Solutions, Inc., said the stream fill-in would be a combination of rocks, rock structures and wood sills that will become embedded organically in the environment.

Mike Marsala, senior design engineer with Wetlands Studies and Solutions, Inc, said filling in the 'Grand Canyon' at the top of the Quander Stream outfall project will be the most challenging aspect.

Remember to 'Move Over'

On Tuesday, July 19, shortly after 8 p.m., a police officer from the Mount Vernon District made a traffic stop on southbound Interstate 95 near the exit for Route 1. The officer activated his blue emergency lights and pulled the motorist over on the right shoulder of the highway. As the officer exited his cruiser and still had his hand on the driver's door, a vehicle traveling southbound in the far right lane struck the driver's door, injuring the officer. The striking vehicle stopped and the driver was eventually issued a summons for violating section § 46.2-921.1. This law requires all vehicles to either move over a lane or, when unable to change lanes safely, to slow down and cautiously pass emergency vehicles with flashing lights. The law was designed to protect police, fire and other public safety officials who frequently work on the side of the road. The officer was transported to a local hospital and treated for non-life-threatening injuries.

NEWS BRIEFS

Board Approves Financing to Preserve Affordable Housing in Huntington Area

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors has approved the Fairfax County Redevelopment and Housing Authority (FCRHA) to make a loan of up to $5.65 million to Christian Relief Services of Virginia (CRSVA) for the acquisition of a 113-unit apartment complex, Huntington Gardens, in the Lee District.

Huntington Gardens will be preserved as affordable housing for at least 30 years. The property will provide 28 units for chronically homeless individuals with special needs. The remaining units will be affordable to households with incomes at or below 60 percent of the Area Median Income.

"Stable, affordable housing is central to the health of individuals, families, and communities," said Robert Schwanager, FCRHA Commissioner and Chair. "The acquisition of Huntington Gardens is an important step in helping to build long-term stability and economic success for individuals and families within Fairfax County."

"The preservation of Huntington Gardens will provide an affordable housing resource for some of our most vulnerable populations as well as for individuals and families with modest means living close to transit with many job opportunities," said Supervisor Jeff McKay (Lee District). "I am glad to support the FCRHA in its mission to preserve affordable housing in Fairfax County. Partnering with our private sector nonprofits helps us leverage resources. This is a smart investment."

Financing for this project will be provided to CRSVA in the form of a deferred loan from the FCRHA. This action support the Housing Blueprint, a housing strategy that reflects the philosophy that affordable housing is a continuum ranging from the needs of the homeless to those of first-time homebuyers. It furthers the county goals of providing affordable housing options to low and moderate income families and those with special needs.

Police Investigate Thefts of ATM Machines

Detectives are investigating a series of ATM thefts that have been occurring around the region, including Fairfax County. Between June 18 and July 20, there were six reported cases. Five reported incidents involved stolen ATMs; one incident was a report of a stolen vehicle that detectives believe to be a part of the ATM thefts.

Detectives have released surveillance footage from one of the ATM thefts that occurred in July. The suspects can be seen prying the business' doors open then using physical force to break the ATM from its place and slide it out of the store.

An investigation determined in all cases that suspects utilized stolen vehicles to carry out ATM thefts from various businesses in the early morning hours. Further investigation determined the suspects later abandon the stolen vehicles nearby and flee the area.

In all cases, the suspects were described as black, approximately 175 to 200 pounds, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, and wore dark-colored clothing with their faces covered. Anyone with information about this case is asked to contact Detective S. Brown at the Franconia District Station at 703-277-2464. Call: 703-277-2464. You can also contact Crime Solvers by phone at 1-866-411-TIPS/8477, e-mail at www.fairfaxcrimesolvers.org or text "TIP187" plus your message to CRIMES/274637 or call Fairfax County Police at 703-691-2131.

CRIME REPORT

The following incidents were reported by the Mount Vernon District Police Station.

ROBBERY/ASSAULT: 2900 block of Arlington Drive, July 21, 1:09 a.m. A man reported that while he was walking, four men exited a vehicle, allegedly assaulted him and took property. The suspects were described as black and were in a silver sedan-style car. The victim had non-life-threatening injuries and was treated at a local hospital.

COMMERCIAL BURGLARY: 7600 block of Richmond Hwy, July 20, 1 a.m. Officers responded to a business for a burglary alarm. An investigation determined a man had forced entry into the store, took property and fled. The suspect was described as black, 30 - 45 years old, 5 feet 11 inches to 6 feet 2 inches, wearing a gray jacket and dark pants.

STOLEN VEHICLE RECOVERY: 2500 block of Windbreak Drive, July 15, 11:55 a.m. An officer observed a moped being operated with equipment violations.

The officer attempted a traffic stop but the operator and passenger discarded the moped and fled on foot. Both suspects were apprehended shortly after. The investigation is ongoing and charges are pending.

Huntley Meadows Park Wins Award for Restoration

The wetlands restoration project at Huntley Meadows Park will be among the honorees this weekend when the National Association of County Park and Recreation Officials (NACPRO) holds its summer meeting in Long Beach, Ca. It has been selected as a winner of a NACPRO Environmental/Conservation Award.

Huntley's central wetland is the largest non-tidal wetland in Northern Virginia and attracts regionally rare wildlife, but silt and aggressive plants had reduced the wetland habitat by 33 percent prior to the construction project. The goal of the project was to expand the wetland and improve management of water levels. Park personnel thought it would take three years to judge the project's success and determine whether wildlife would return, but just seven days of rain in October 2013 sparked a tremendous return of birds and other wetland dwellers.

The area has become paradise for wildlife and wildlife watchers, and professionals from other states and countries have come to study Huntley's success. It serves as an outstanding example of environmental stewardship with impact on water quality, wildlife and wildlife viewing.

Other previously announced NACPRO honorees from the Park Authority include the Spring Hill RECenter renovation and expansion project and the Colvin Run Mill Partners in Preservation Campaign. Former Park Board chairman and long-time member Harold L. Strickland will receive a professional lifetime achievement award.

OPINION

Help Children Arrive at School Prepared

Many opportunities to contribute; tax-free back-to-school shopping is Aug. 5-7 across Virginia.

The first day of school each year is fraught with anticipation and anxiety. Many local students will be concerned about what they wear, who they will see, what it will be like. They've already had multiple shopping trips, online and otherwise, to be sure they have the supplies and extras they need.

We live in an area where many, if not most, families have the means and desire to do almost whatever it takes to give their children the best chances for success.

But for thousands of students, families lack the financial resources to equip them for success on the first day of school and beyond.

In our affluent area, there are many poor families, families who are barely making it, families who are not able to indulge their children in a shopping spree before school begins, families who are already having trouble making up for the meals their children would be getting at school.

In Fairfax County Public Schools, more than 27 percent of more than 184,000 students are poor enough to qualify for subsidized meals. That's more than 50,000 children in Fairfax County who are going through the summer without their usual access to breakfast and lunch. For many of those children, having a fully equipped backpack on the first day of school is out of reach.

In the City of Alexandria, about 60 percent of the Alexandria Public Schools students are poor enough to qualify for subsidized meals. That's more than 8,000 of the city's 13,000-plus students.

In Arlington, more than 32 percent of the county's 23,000-plus students are poor enough to receive subsidized meals; more than 7,000 students.

Help these students get started on the right foot by contributing to one of the many local backpack drives.

Virginia sales tax holiday for school supplies and clothing is Aug. 5-7, 2016. Purchases of most school supplies, clothing and footwear are exempt from the Virginia sales tax. Each eligible individual school supply item must be priced at $20 or less, and each eligible article of clothing and footwear must be priced at $100 or less. See www.tax.virginia.gov/content/sales-tax-holiday.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Airport Noise Exaggerated

To the Editor:

This letter responds to the article concerning airplane noise that appeared in the June 30, 2016 edition of the Mount Vernon Gazette.

It seems to me that the unstated goal is the closure of Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA). The most effective way to accomplish the foregoing would be for all of the 300 attendees of the meeting to write their congressman and senators and demand that DCA be closed. Reagan Washington National airport exists because the congressman and senators want it to remain open. Many members of both houses fly to their home districts each week to consult with their constituents. Closing DCA ain't gonna happen. Two alternatives:

1. Quieter aircraft. Noise emanating from departing aircraft has been greatly reduced over the past 20 years. In addition, improved jet engines allow the aircraft to climb much faster to reach cruising altitude. Aircraft landings make very little noise. All that is technically possible has already been done.

2. Move away. Distance from DCA would reduce exposure to aircraft noise.

I live in Stratford Landing, about 18 miles south of the airport. Noise from the major carriers is virtually non-existent. The only aircraft noise I hear is from rare helicopter flights.

I find ludicrous the allegation from a resident of Hollin Hall, about 16 miles south of the airport, that airplane noise was knocking over her drinking glasses, as I do the allegation by councilman Mr. Storck that community approval should have been sought before implementation of the NEXTGEN air traffic control system. My opinion is that issue of aircraft noise has been settled years ago. The bone is picked clean. Let's move on.

Senior Dogs: Untold Stories

BY JOAN BRADY

Like many geriatrics, senior dogs in our area are illness survivors and living with a range of conditions including arthritis, hip dysplasia and chronic back pain. But nothing keeps them from enjoying their people, traveling, taking walks, napping and eating as many snacks as are made available.

While primary canine focus is limited to what goes on in their own backyards, some are paying attention to the election. And, if able to talk, they would offer some advice to the presidential candidates.

Sasha Marusin is concerned about the environment, "Pay attention to climate change, it's important for animals and humans." Max Kennedy has an opinion about Trump's pro-

And, quoting Senator Ted Cruz, Buddy Emami offers advice to voters for November, "Vote your conscience."

'Murph' Destined for Stardom, Appears with Hollywood Celebrity Chef

Named in honor and loving memory of Navy Lt. Michael Murphy, "Murph" Snyder has winning ways that made him one of the stars of Chef Vinni Live! Meals & Deals. Now in production, TV celebrity Chef Vinni Villicano has incorporated Murph in the program as the show's mascot. While Chef Vinni shows us how to save time, money, and live healthier, his sidekick Murph performs taste tests and happily affirms Chef Vinni's culinary delights are "Bow Wow Good!"

Murph was rescued three years ago from Puerto Rico, along with his mom and siblings by the Lost Dog and Cat Rescue Foundation. Murph's adoptive parents, Terrence Snyder and Sunny O'Malley of Alexandria, raised Murph from the time he was just 8 weeks old. Sunny was looking for a puppy for Terry, and saw sweet Murph's photo on Facebook. She told Terry about him and the rest is history.

When he's not on set, Murph enjoys good food, music, exercise, the company of another golden retriever named Riggs, and spending quality time with his family.

3 Cool Menus for Hot Days

Here are three restaurants to refresh you as the mercury soars.

BY HOPE NELSON
THE GAZETTE

There's no denying it: The dog days of summer have arrived in full force. Local thermometers have flirted with the triple-digit mark all week long, and normally bustling King Street has found its sidewalks nearly empty as residents take shelter from the heat. When you're looking for some cooler fare, try these restaurants on for size.

Zento, 693 N. Washington St.

Sushi is always a welcome sight when the outdoor temperatures soar. Cool rice, fresh fish (or vegetables), and crisp edamame conspire to make a filling meal that won't leave you overstuffed or overheated. And when it comes to area sushi bars, you could do worse than Zento in North Old Town.

The sushi menu offers a plethora of options, but for something a little out of the ordinary, be sure to give the chirashi bowl a try. This rice-based bowl, which is available with fish or in a vegetarian version, is teeming with fresh sashimi and garnishes — or with fresh vegetables and tofu in the vegetarian option. The sushi rice is seasoned beautifully and brings with it just a hint of vinegar and sugar, ensuring the dish has balance with each bite. Equal parts light and hearty, it makes for a complete meal in one tidy package.

The Pita House, 719 King St.

Mediterranean food has a way of transporting diners to the Greek islands, subbing out hot and humid days for more arid climes in one's imagination. Step into the Pita House and you'll be taken straight there nonstop. From sandwiches to salads to entrees, this Old Town mainstay has you covered on a hot summer day.

For the ultimate in refreshment, start your meal with an appetizer of hummus bel fool, hummus topped with fava beans and served with pita bread. For your main course, the Pita House's Greek salad is one of the best in town and is certainly worthy of your attention; if you're looking for something a little heartier, the chicken shawarma offers up a nice balance of hot-and-cold, roast chicken with cool veggies.

Dairy Godmother, 2310 Mount Vernon Ave.

Double dare you to mosey down Mount Vernon Avenue at night (or midday) and pass by the Dairy Godmother without stopping in! The smells of custard and cones wafts through the front door and onto the sidewalk, beckoning to passers-by. And don't be put off by the sometimes-lengthy line; it progresses quickly and before you know it, you'll have a custard of your very own in your hot little hands.

The flavors change with the day (if you're looking to plan ahead, the shop has a "Flavor Forecast" at its website at www.thedairygodmother.com), but vanilla and chocolate remain on the menu nearly all the time. Upcoming treats for the days ahead include Mexican chocolate, banana pudding, and Mozambique — all perfectly great ways to cool down no matter the time of day.

A MUSING

Treasure the Parkway

One of the true treasures of this area is the George Washington Parkway. It begins at the traffic circle next to George's Mount Vernon, and runs along the Potomac river, takes you to the main street of Old Town Alexandria, then continues up river to the Memorial Bridge, and even farther. I ride my bike on this path frequently. You cannot do this without getting a strong feeling of history, of the time when President Washington rode his horse from Mount Vernon up-river to Washington to lead our nation. The feeling of history is palpable. Even some of the old stone buildings in Old Town add to the sense of history. I am nearly 80 years old, but I make this bike ride frequently, partly to stay in top shape and to live longer, and partly to "feel" the history of the Alexandria area.

Maybe I will see some of your Gazette readers on the path from time to time. I hope so.

illness. Professionally facilitated. Program varies, may include guest speakers, movies. Pre-registration is appreciated, but not required. Free. For more information contact Nga Nguyen at 703-799-2726, TTY 711.

Telephone Support Group. 7-8 p.m. on the 2nd Tuesday of the month. For family caregivers of older adults. Discuss "Keeping Organized as a Caregiver: What Works?" Share experiences, gain support and get information without having to travel. Free. www.fairfaxcounty.gov/dfs/olderadultservices.

Alzheimer's Association support groups provide a place for people with Alzheimer's, their caregivers, family members, and/or friends to share information, caregiving tips and concerns. Groups are facilitated by trained group leaders and are ongoing, free and open to the community. A complete list of all groups in the National Capital Area region can be viewed at www.alz.org/nca.
