When the leaves change color and the weather gets cooler, it's time for Centreville Day.

This year's celebration is the 25th annual, and it's set for Saturday, Oct. 21, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m., in Historic Centreville Park, 5714 Mount Gilead Road (off Braddock Road, across Route 29 from the IHOP).

The festivities include a parade, live music performers, martial arts, swordsmen, dancing, a pet pageant, children's activities, food and crafts. Admission is free, and free parking and shuttles will be available at The Trinity Centre, 5860 Trinity Parkway, off Route 29.

"Centreville Day is a fun event," said event organizer Cheryl Repetti, president of the Historic Centreville Society. "We aren't a huge festival, but we have heart. Centreville Day not only celebrates community, but helps create a sense of community in all who attend. It brings people together; and together, we all create a day that stands out from the others."

And, she continued, "We don't all represent a particular point of view or come from a specific group. Folks come from all over and have all sorts of reasons for being at Centreville Day. Some want to have fun outside with the kids without spending a small fortune, while others want to learn about Centreville's history, meet new clients, find a church, see live entertainment or buy that perfect gift for their loved ones."

The fun begins at 10 a.m. with opening ceremonies at the main stage near St. John's Episcopal Church, also on Mount Gilead Road. Local Girl Scouts will lead the pledge of allegiance and Supervisor Kathy Smith (D-Sully) will welcome the crowd and

Location: 9004 Congressional Court, Potomac, Md.
Tickets: $35 at www.dcdesignhouse.com/copy-of-events
Open through Oct. 29: Saturday-Sunday 12-5 p.m.; Closed Mondays; Tuesday-Friday 10 a.m.-3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 29: DC Design House, last day, 12-5 p.m.

For the 10th anniversary of the D.C. Design House, 23 designers transformed the Potomac, Md. home which includes nine bedrooms, nine full bathrooms, four half bathrooms, a cinema, two-story library, a pool and a pool house. Visitors will have the opportunity to walk through the 27,256 square-foot estate to view the latest in home design trends. Proceeds from the event benefit the Children's National Health System.

It was actress Grace Kelly and the movie "To Catch a Thief" that inspired Designer Marika Meyer's creation of the lady's retreat. "I thought of her elegance and her scarf blowing in the wind," said Meyer.

A collection of framed Hermes scarves line one of the room's walls.

Much of the room's furniture, including two vintage, velvet chairs and a neutral sofa, surround a Lucite cocktail table, creating a balance between modern and traditional styles.

"When designing the room I thought, 'who would live in that room and what would she be like?'" said Meyer.

Meyer used custom-designed, hand-painted fabric from her own collection for the room's drapes, pillows, stools and other accessories. One of her biggest obstacles

"When designing the room I thought, 'Who would live in that room and what would she be like?'"

— Marika Meyer

was making the large room feel intimate. "I designed it to make it beautiful and functional, she said. "I created different destinations so it doesn't feel so overwhelming."

Among those destinations are a large secretary, a game table and a bar cart.

Dubbed A Study in Blue, the library by designer Kelley Proxmire draws inspiration from the library of New York socialite Brooke Astor. "I knew it was a classic and I had seen a recent picture and I knew it was a classic," said Proxmire.

"Her books were probably antique, leather-bound and I knew that I something wanted something neat and tidy like that."

The room's dark wood paneling is brightened with natural lighting and accessorized with blue and white porcelain and painted books in varying shades of blue.

The designer's goal was to create a technology-free zone that allowed for uninhibited conversation. "Families need a place to sit and talk to each other without being on the telephone and watching television," said Proxmire. "I want all my rooms to say, 'Come and sit.' I don't want them to be too standoffish."

Marrying modern and traditional design elements, Alexandria-based design duo Todd Martz and Susan Nelson created a family room that is both energizing and relaxing, and is meant to be an electronics-free zone.

"The scale of the house is formal, but we wanted to create a room that is family friendly," said Martz. "We wanted to incorporate children's art, but display it in a way that's elegant."

The walls are covered with bright yellow wallpaper that provides an energetic backdrop for blue and white porcelain accessories. To accommodate the lives of a modern family, the white sofa is covered in Crypton fabric, which is stain-resistant and easy to clean. Other furniture in the room, which includes two faux leather chairs are centered around a handmade, wooden coffee table.

Children's artwork hangs inside the bookcases among blue and white ginger jars. "It makes the book cases a little less serious," said Nelson.

The poolside oasis created by Kim Asner of Country Casual Teak allows visitors to be transported to a luxury spa. Lush greenery and teak lounge chairs surround the pool. An abundance of seating, a cabana and a pool house make the space ideal for entertaining a crowd or enjoying the space's serenity.

"The area is large so we needed substantial furniture," said Asner. "The cabana looks grand and impressive, but it's also comfortable."

Located at 9004 Congressional Court, Potomac, Md., the home is listed at $10.28 million by Long and Foster Real Estate. Open through Oct. 29, tickets are $35. Visit www.dcdesignhouse.com.

25th Annual Centreville Day

present the Centreville Day Citizen of the Year award.

Parade

Organized by American Legion Post 1995, the Centreville Day Parade will be led by the Chantilly Academy's Air Force JROTC. Participants also include both new and antique fire and police vehicles, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, members of the Fairfax County Sheriff's Office and more. McGruff the Crime Dog may also appear. Anyone can join in the fun – even children with decorated bikes and scooters, and costumes are encouraged.

The parade will start assembling at the end of Wharton Lane near Wharton Park Court at 10:30 a.m. It'll kick off at Wharton Lane at 11 a.m., passing the stage shortly before noon and continuing along Mt. Gilead Road to Braddock Road. Residents living north of Wharton Lane will notice brief, rolling, road closures as the parade passes by.

Prizes of $50 will be awarded to the Most Enthusiastic and Most Patriotic groups. Advance registration is appreciated for planning purposes or to be considered in the parade judging; go to www.CentrevilleDay.org. Direct any questions to parade coordinator Steve Hunter at geoshunter@gmail.com.

Children's Activities

At Centreville Day, children don't have to wait until Halloween to wear their costumes. They can dress up and go trick-or-treating through the community marketplace on Mt. Gilead Road, while their parents browse the booths of crafters, local businesses, churches and nonprofits.

Also planned are a variety of free activities, including a climbing wall, slide and History Train rides. And the women of Alpha Delta Kappa will host face-painting, sack races, a tug-of-war and an orange maze. Children will get to make their way through a candy-store obstacle course and smash pumpkins by shooting them out of a cannon.

They can also enjoy hands-on history at Mount Gilead, which was built as a tavern in 1785. It's one of the oldest, surviving buildings in Centreville, dating back to the original crossroads village of Newgate, and it'll be open for guided tours. Outside on the lawn, Sully Historic Site volunteers will help children dip candles, write with a quill pen and make simple toys to take home.

Also on the lawn will be the Swordsmen of the 18th Century. Long-time Centreville residents Charlie and John Anderson will demonstrate their swash-buckling skills and share their knowledge with the crowd. Meanwhile, attendees may also find another group of living historians, Pirates for Sail, also camped on Mount Gilead's lawn. (Centreville was once home to a pirate).

Entertainment

As masters of ceremonies, Westfield High students Nathan Marshak and Anthony Repetti, will host several, local performers at the main stage. Pirates for Sail, a group of singing privateers, will get things off to a lively start at 10:40 a.m. Then, after the parade, The VaDeatles – comprised of teachers mainly from Stone Middle School – will cover songs of the Beatles and other rock bands at 11:45 p.m.

Other entertainers include: Powerworx Dancers, the Youth Choir of the Fairfax Choral Society, Halle-lujah Tae Kwon Do demonstration team, Korean harmonica and autoharp players, and the Northern Virginia Wu Shu Academy. Check for the annual, hula-hoop contest time, plus additional acts, at www.CentrevilleDay.org or the Centreville Day Facebook page. See sidebar for the full, entertainment time schedule.

Pet Pageant, Blessing

For the third year in a row, Centreville Day will go to the dogs — and the cats, birds, guinea pigs, rabbits and mice, The Centreville-Chantilly Rotary Club is sponsoring a Pet Pageant for pets of all kinds.

The pageant is set for 2 p.m. at the main stage. There's no registration fee, but a registration form is available at the Centreville Day website. Families are welcome to bring more than one pet, and certificates will be awarded in categories such as Most Unusual Pet and Most Creative Costume. A raffle is also slated with prizes donated by local pet stores and veterinarians. For more information, contact Cammy Gawlak at cgawlak@verizon.net.

In addition, the Rev. Carol Hancock will be blessing a variety of pets throughout the day at the Saint John's tent on the lawn of the historic church. Hot coffee will be available and the church and grounds will be open for tours. Discover the door in the ceiling or explore the old cemetery.

Food

An international selection of foods will be available at the food court between Mt. Gilead and the Safety Expo area. Smokes BBQ will return with pulled pork and other barbecue items, and Danibelle's Lite and Sweet food truck will offer savory shawarmas and sweet baklava. New this year is Thai food from Bangkok House Restaurant, plus seafood from Bon-fish Grill. Enjoy a large variety of quesadillas provided by Buena-Dillas!

History

"From its earliest settlement in the 1760s to the dynamic and culturally diverse community it is today, Centreville has a long and interesting history," said Repetti. "And it's celebrated each Centreville Day in the very places where that history happened."

Just down the street from St. John's is the Spindle Sears House. Purchased in 1933 from a Sears catalog and shipped here by train, this tiny house will be open for tours led by Ellanor C. Lawrence Park historian Allison Hartley.

Besides the guided tours of Mount Gilead, cookies and teas will be offered on the home's porch by the Irongate Bakers in period garb. Mount Gilead is also one of the stops for the county Park Authority's History Train, driven from the Sully Historic Site by Matt McNeal.

The train will take attendees between stations on the lawn at Mount Gilead and Braddock Road. Repetti advises visitors to get off the train at the Braddock Road stop and "stroll down the hill to explore the Old Stone Church – the Church of the Ascension – where you can tour the historic church and meet Rachel and her array of antique science instruments and curiosities."

Also there will be more baked goods, plus a ploughman's lunch for sale. There'll be free face painting and antique science instruments. And the nearby Havener House and Stuart-Mosby Museum will be open for tours, too. The Stuart-Mosby Civil War Cavalry Museum on Braddock Road features items related to the lives of cavalymen Gen. JEB Stuart and Col. John Mosby.

Safety Expo

The Safety Expo near the Spindle Sears House is one of Centreville Day's most popular attractions. Attendees get to meet local first responders and other public-safety personnel, learn about the services they provide and find out how to deal with emergencies in the home or community. And Sheriff's Office personnel will make child IDs.

Police and fire-and-rescue vehicles will be on display and, if possible, a police helicopter. Other participants will include the National Poison Control Center, Washington Gas, Miss Utility, Fairfax Communities of Trust and the county's Office of Emergency Management

What To "Ware?"

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

Recently I received a very generous offer in the mail: a $10 gift certificate from my local hardware store acknowledging my upcoming/now passed birthday. From what I could read, there was no minimum purchase, no exclusions and no small-type print, just a reasonable expiration date: Oct. 31, approximately six weeks out from the day I received this unexpected gift. More than enough time, one would imagine.

The only problem: what am I going to get at the hardware store, other than the employees' pity about how little I know about so much? Most of the time when I'm in a hardware store (typically I'm not browsing, unlike the cookie aisle at the supermarket), I'm attempting to solve a problem I have at home for which I have very little experience and extremely poor instincts at rectifying. Not only do I rarely know what I'm talking about, I don't even know the proper questions to ask to enable/assist the employee in figuring what the heck my problem actually is – other than me, that is.

I'm very much out of my element in a hardware store. A fish out of water doesn't begin to describe my situation. Tevye, from "Fiddler on the Roof" in speaking to his daughter, Chava, about marrying outside the faith came close: "a bird may love a fish, but where would they build a home together?" Build a home? I have enough difficulty maintaining one that's already built.

When I'm asked, or when I offer it, usually I say: "I know two things: sports and chocolate." I guess I could also add being a cancer patient/survivor, but I don't want to redirect a perfectly innocent conversation into a totally different direction: me and my druthers. Although, my situation has been publicly consumed in the Connection Newspapers going on eight and half years; in person, I try to not let it be the first or even second thing that comes out of my mouth. And I never initiate, though I'm happy to respond if asked. Generally speaking, I'd rather it not be about me and my cancer. As my mother used to say "It's enough already."

But none of this comes up in a hardware store. In fact, the only thing that comes up is my Adam's Apple as I sheepishly swallow and admit how incapable I am as a homeowner/do-it-yourselfer and how much help I need to do almost anything. At least the parking is free so it's not a total loss.

As you might imagine, this situation doesn't exactly lead to an easy conversation or a satisfying outcome. Quite the contrary. I know one thing for sure however, if left to my own devices, either I will cause additional and costly damage in my crude attempt to self-repair, or I will hurt myself in the process. And waste money as well, as the end of the day will likely find me and the problem no closer to a resolution than we were at the beginning of the day.

As William Shakespeare might have written: it will be much ado about nothing as nothing much will have been done. In these recurring circumstances, all I can hope for is a safe landing, so to speak, one in which, as pilots often joke: I can walk away uninjured.

Given that I'm a tool twit and have failed miserably at homeowner 101, what then could I possibly buy at the hardware store with my gift certificate? I just got an idea: lightbulbs. I couldn't possibly screw that up, could I? I mean, they're supposed to be screwed up – into the socket, right? What could be more natural for me?

One last question though: when I place the bulb into the socket, do I screw them to the right or to the left?
