Proposed New Senior Care Facility at Walker Road

Verity Commercial and IntegraCare have partnered to bring a proposed new senior care facility to Walker Road in Great Falls.

In a partnership with assisted living operator, IntegraCare, the Verity/IntegraCare team plans to construct a smaller scale 62-unit senior living community with 42 units of assisted living and 20 memory care units. The community will feature multiple dining venues, including a demonstration kitchen, providing residents with variety and choice. An art studio with a large overhead operatory style mirror will allow residents to view instructors work while seated, and large covered porches will provide shaded space for residents to enjoy the outdoors. The facility will also include state of the art proximity activated access control systems and mobility assistive devices including auto door openers to enhance security and minimize barriers reducing fall potential. The team is currently seeking Fairfax County special exception zoning approval. The project will be built at 1131 Walker Road, diagonally across the street from Dante's Restaurant.

Experienced assisted living operator, IntegraCare, will operate the assisted living and memory care facility. Established in 1999, IntegraCare currently operates 10 Mid-Atlantic facilities and has two in development in Reston and Annapolis, Md.

Great Falls was chosen for this project because of the strong demographics and quantified need for senior care. The facility will include assisted living on the ground level and second floor with memory care operations at the lower level. With high quality construction and an overall smaller residential look and feel, the facility will blend into the established neighborhood.

Under the special exception zoning approval, the team is proposing the use significantly less impactful on the surrounding neighborhood than the current C-8 zoning use allows. The team proposes the senior living facility will create less parking, noise, and traffic issues with no impact to schools. Some of the current C-8 by-right uses include restaurants, automotive uses, office, and churches.

The Great Falls Civic Association Land Use & Zoning Committee will present to the general community at a public meeting scheduled on Wednesday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Falls Library.

Blood Donation Opportunities

Though spring has officially arrived, the American Red Cross blood supply is still recovering from severe winter storms in March. Donors of all blood types are urged to roll up a sleeve and help save lives.

Volunteer blood donors from across the country are needed to help ensure lifesaving blood products are available for patients this spring. Make an appointment to donate blood by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Upcoming blood donation opportunities in the area, through April 15

The Connection

Whether they're putting out fires or keeping the community safe from crime, public safety personnel are one, big family. And when one of their own needs help, they all come together to lend a hand.

And that's just what happened last Tuesday, March 20, at MOD Pizza in the Greenbriar Town Center in Chantilly. Police, firefighters and area residents ate lunch and dinner there to raise money for Ashley Block, a McLean District Station police officer who was severely injured while helping clear a road during the March 2 wind storm.

"She's a patrol officer who was newly cut loose from her field-training officer," said her supervisor, Sgt. Laura Redman. "There were trees down everywhere and, while one officer cut them up, Ashley was clearing away the debris. But the wind was so strong that the top of another tree broke off and fell on her.

"It pinned her on the ground and impaled her leg," continued Redman. "She broke her femur, shoulder, elbow, four ribs and some vertebrae. Doctors expect her to fully recover, but it'll take a long time."

In fact, Block's injuries will likely cause her to be off work for 16-18 months. Like his fellow police officers, Lt. Ryan Morgan, assistant commander of the Sully District Station in Chantilly, heard about her accident and felt bad for her. And the next time he stopped in for a bite at MOD – which serves custom, artisan-style pizzas – he mentioned it to Dean Ladson, the store's general manager.

"Ryan's a regular here, and he was casually talking about what happened," said Ladson. "So my assistant general manager, Josh Kuster, and I suggested maybe we could do something to help. MOD believes in community giving, and we felt like this was our way of giving back."

Most restaurant fundraisers generally give 10 or 20 percent of their proceeds during a two- or three-hour period to the recipient. But in this case, Ladson wanted to do more. "So we asked MOD's fundraising arm in Seattle if we could make the proceeds 50 percent. We also made it all-day and counted the proceeds from anyone eating here March 20, not just those mentioning the fundraiser. In addition, we decided to donate 100 percent of the day's tips."

ON THAT DATE – despite freezing temperatures, sleet, ice and an impending snowstorm – residents and public-safety personnel flocked to the restaurant. And by day's end, some $2,700 had been raised for the officer.

"From the time we opened at 10:15 a.m. until about 1:30 p.m., it was packed," said Ladson around 2 p.m. that day. "And we expect a big crowd at dinnertime, too, besides our normal dinner customers."

Celebrating 'St Patrick's Day at Scrawl Books

The event, "Celebrate St. Patrick's Day at Scrawl Books!" at Reston Town Center featured lever harpist, Nyx Hauth performing Irish classics, and a stunning performance by sisters Megan and Addison Duncan, dressed in full-costume to sing, "Alexander Hamilton" and "The Schuyler Sisters," from the Broadway musical, "Hamilton." Megan is a fourth-grader at St. Joseph School in Herndon;

Addison is a sixth-grader at Oak Crest Academy in Reston.

Following their performance, Great Falls author L.M. Elliott took the Scrawl stage to read from and discuss her new Young Adult novel, "Hamilton and Peggy! A Revolutionary Friendship." The program had fans standing in the hallway to catch the performers and to wait for copies of the books to be signed.

A Monthly Gathering for Caregivers at The Kensington

At The Kensington, we understand that caregiving for someone with dementia is a demanding responsibility. We also believe it is one you should not undertake alone. That's why we strive to preserve your well-being by helping you stay positive, manage fatigue and make the most of moments as your loved one's memory changes.

Join us on the first Wednesday of each month to share time connecting with other caregivers and discussing common challenges. Guest facilitators offer information, advice and support in a welcoming, private setting.

Dr. Aleksandra (Anya) Parpura, an expert in aging and dementia, leads our Caregiver Connect program and brings to us vast knowledge, helpful tips and a kind heart.

Cracking Down on Online Predators

Bipartisan legislation to protect sex trafficking victims.

By Barbara Comstock
US Rep. (R-10)

For years we have warned of human traffickers preying on our youth at a mall or places where teens may congregate. A predator would approach a young girl – average age 12 or 13 – pretending to be a boyfriend and groom them for sexual exploitation by showering them with gifts or drugs, and then exploit their naivety and traffic them for sex.

The same thing is going on today, only now the predator is using the Internet to reach out and exploit our youth.

Commentary Online predators now reach into our homes and target unsuspecting children on computers and social media. Congress investigated this Internet sex trafficking and we came up with landmark, bipartisan legislation that will protect sex trafficking victims who have been targeted by online predators.

I cosponsored the Allow States and Victims to Fight Online Sex Trafficking Act, which has now passed the House and Senate. It will give prosecutors, state attorneys general, and sex trafficking victims a clearer path to take legal action against websites hosting advertisements for prostitutes, which, in reality, often turn out to be young girls and boys who are being illegally trafficked for sex.

According to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, nearly three-quarters of all reports of online child sex trafficking can be traced back to the website called Backpage.com. In a recent CBS News article, a 14-year old girl who was trafficked on the site said, “They’re letting all of this happen on their website. I mean, without Backpage, I would have never been in any of this in the first place.”

Her mother continued, “Backpage has a primary purpose and it’s to sell sex. Backpage has not done anything to ensure the safety of the kids on there, period.”

Congress investigated the practices of Backpage and disclosed that its operators actually helped predators modify their ads to delete references to teenage prostitutes or young victims of human trafficking, and still allowed the ads to run. The Washington Post reported that Backpage used a company in the Philippines to solicit both prostitutes and johns from other websites and created new ads that facilitated trafficking.

It became apparent that current anti-trafficking laws could not be applied to websites like Backpage, which host thousands of exploitive ads daily — too many of which are children being trafficked by adults. Backpage, time and again, successfully cited the Communications Decency Act, which they argued protected them.

In a 2016 case against Backpage.com, the First Circuit Court of Appeals made clear: “The remedy is through legislation, not litigation.” All 50 state Attorneys General joined the call for reform of this legislation to address the use of these sites for trafficking and both the House and the Senate responded on a bipartisan basis. This legislation included backing from many in the technology community such as Facebook’s COO Sheryl Sandberg: “Those of us in the United States must recognize that these deplorable acts of buying and selling children for sex don’t just happen in other countries. They happen here as well – right under our noses ... we at Facebook support efforts to pass amended legislation in the House.” Now our prosecutors will be able to crackdown on online predators.

Every summer, as part of my Young Women’s Leadership Program, we provide a session on the problem of human trafficking. We have made it a priority to educate young women about this threat that is online, as well as in their communities. With the passage of this legislation, there will be more tools to stop these unspeakable crimes against our youth.

‘Channeling Outrage into Activism’

By Adam P. Ebbin
State Senator (D-30)

Ebbin spoke to students at Lewinsville Park in McLean during the walkout on March 14. The students, who attend schools across Northern Virginia, were participating in a rally for gun violence prevention organized by Students Demand Action DMV following a 17-minute National Student Walkout held that morning at 10 a.m. in memory of the 17 who were killed in the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School shooting in Parkland, Fla.

I’m Senator Adam Ebbin, and I have an “F” rating from the NRA. Across the country, the gun violence prevention movement is being led by students like you. You are doing more than just wearing an orange ribbon, you are taking action and leading a conversation. You are channeling your outrage into activism.

I’ve been moved and inspired by the bravery and resilience of the young people in Parkland. Today, we are amplifying their message. With your activism, we can make real progress.

Every day, 96 Americans are killed with a gun.

Every 10 hours a Virginian is killed with a gun.

153,000 students have been exposed to campus shootings since Columbine.

For decades, the corporate gun lobby has dictated our gun laws.

Elected leaders at the local, state, and national level can make a difference; implore us all to take action. Hold legislators accountable for their voting records.

While Washington is mired in empty expressions of thoughts and prayers, it’s time for state legislators to step up.

I have worked for common sense gun laws for years. This year, over 60 bills addressing gun violence were introduced in the Virginia General Assembly, but every one was defeated. Del. Kathleen Murphy [D-34] and I have formed a General Assembly Gun Violence Prevention Caucus, but we need more voices — loud voices, informed and passionate voices, particularly voices like yours. I’m here to amplify your voice, to tell you that you don’t have to be a voter yet to shape the debate. Speak up by calling your elected officials.

Engage the community by writing letters to the editor.

Get involved at election time.

Register to vote as soon as you are eligible. Stay informed and stay active.

Vote.

Repeat until no school in America has to wonder “Who’s next?”

Refuse to accept the status quo. Demand an end to gun violence.

The NRA tells us the AR-15 shouldn’t be banned.

When a soft nosed bullet leaves the barrel of an AR15, it is traveling at three times the speed of a bullet fired from a handgun. It will break the sound barrier leaving the gun, travelling at 3,000 feet per second, tumbling end over end until it makes contact with its target. When its target is a human body, the bullet enters and exits in less than the time it takes to blink, shredding tissue in a process known as cavitation, killing soft tissue for up to three inches around the entry path, and leaves an exit wound the size of an orange. A high capacity magazine on an AR-15 can unleash 50 of these rounds in less than a minute.

Outfitted with an NRA-supported bump stock this weapon can empty this magazine in a matter of seconds.

Don’t let the NRA tell you it shouldn’t be banned.

At Marjory Stoneman Douglas high school first responders saw the power of this weapon, the twitch of a finger painting the hallways of their school with blood.

Don’t let the NRA tell you it shouldn’t be banned.

Don’t tell us that kids have a right to carry these into our schools and movie theatres and malls and concerts and unleash the fury of this weapon on Americans.

Don’t tell us that anyone has the right to carry a gun that holds 50 rounds and can be modified to fire them in under ten seconds.

Don’t tell us we shouldn’t be able to stop dangerous individuals from buying AR-15s at a sporting goods store.

Don’t let the NRA tell you that thoughts and prayers are enough.

Enough is enough.

We’re telling the NRA times up, we’re telling them no more.

No more fearing the next headline. We’re telling the corporate gun lobby we’re done with being afraid that when your friends go to school they might not come back. We cannot wait any longer.

The NRA can get out of the way, or they can get run over.

Fundraiser for Injured Police Officer

"I don't think we'd be as established as a community without the police force," said Kuster. "They really help out."

"And we knew it was the right thing to do," added Ladson. "We give people good meals, but also support our community. These folks [police and firefighters] come in and support us and other local businesses, and Off. Block was just doing her job and got injured in the line of duty."

"Ashley has the best personality; she's upbeat and a hard-charger," said Redman during the fundraiser. "She has spunk and she's always ready to go. She has heart for this job. The next day, when I visited her in the hospital, she was asking me when she could come back to work. She's the kind of new officer that every supervisor wants."

Sgt. David Kennedy, a former McLean officer now at Fairfax County Police Headquarters, said Block is "out of the hospital, on the mend and in good spirits. But even after she's recovered, she'll still be on light-duty status for a while."

Crime analyst Lori Seiden, also formerly at McLean, is now at the West Springfield station. "Ashley's always supporting my people," she said.

"She's really friendly and wants to serve her community. So with this fundraiser, we all want to help offset her medical costs."

All 14 members of Block's squad, the A shift, participated, as did friends, plus others from the McLean station, including the Tactical Squad, SWAT team, detectives and the station commander, Capt. John Trace. (He and Morgan used to work together when Trace was the Sully station's assistant commander).

"MOD Pizza offered up the idea to partner with a fundraiser to support our critically injured officer," said Trace. "Not only do they serve great food, but their company philosophy is very supportive in nature. Things went very well, even in the wintry weather. We had tremendous support from all of our public-safety friends and the community as a whole."

Among them were about 16 members of the county police Motor Carrier (motorcycle) Squad. "McLean was my old station, and I'm here supporting a fellow officer," said MPO Chris Huber. "But I also trained Ashley in speed measurement at the Police Academy, about six months ago. In class, she was attentive and engaged in the course – which is hard to find in a new officer. She stayed focused, so I could tell she'd be a good officer, out on the street."

He tried MOD's Calexico pizza with gorgonzola cheese, chicken and jalapeños and pronounced it "nice and spicy – perfect for a day like today. I'll be back." He also noted that, at one point, MOD "had a line all the way around here, from the counter to the back wall. Since Ashley's only been an officer for six months, the amount of people that came out to support her says a lot. She's a family member because we are a family."

A WHOLE TABLE of firefighters from Fair Oaks Station 21's A shift was there, too. Lt. Eddie Thurston made his own pizza with "a little this and a little that" and said it tasted good. Besides, he added, "It was important to come help them with the fundraiser."

A shift Capt. E.J. Burroughs called Block "a fellow public servant, so this is one helping out another." He said his shift always eats together to build teamwork. Enjoying the Lucy Sunshine pizza made with garlic, artichokes, asiago cheese and tomato sauce, he said, "I'd absolutely recommend MOD because they make whatever you want and it's really good."

Joining them was Hazmat Technician Jorge Arce of Fairfax's Fire Station 40 on West Ox Road. Happy to pitch in for a police officer, he explained, "Whether we're police or firefighters doesn't make a difference. We still respond to calls together, so I wanted to help out. This was my first time here, but I'm definitely coming back. The pizza is fresh and good, and you can't beat their real pizza oven."

Also there were brand-new, Fair Oaks Police Officer Sladzana Resnik and her training officer, MPO Loretta Garrett. "This is our first time here," said Garrett. "We came for the fundraiser; we have to support our family members. I've never met Officer Block, but she had a terrible accident."

They each had salads and shared a pizza with tomato sauce, mozzarella cheese, onions, black olives and mushrooms. "It was amazing," said Garrett. "We'll come back again."

But last week, they were there for one of their own. Said Resnik: "As police officers, we work as one and take care of each other."

Sending 75,000 Meals to Puerto Rico

As part of The Langley School's culture of giving, commitment to service learning, and 75th anniversary celebration, the school community came together for Langley's first-ever Day of Giving on Saturday, March 17 to pack 75,000 meals for the people of Puerto Rico who were impacted by Hurricane Maria.°

In partnership with the Outreach Program, a nonprofit that organizes food-packing events to support those in need at home and abroad, The Langley School mobilized more than 500 volunteers – including students, parents, teachers, alumni, and friends – to pack meals in one-hour shifts. To cover the cost of each 25-cent meal, the school raised $18,750 from its families and several sponsors. Langley students in preschool through eighth grade contributed to this effort as well, raising more than $6,400 in quarter collections to pay for more than 25,000 meals. "This is the first time we have organized a school-wide service project of this magnitude," says Head of School Dr. Elinor Scully, noting that the project was a community effort led by parent volunteers. "The event was a wonderful opportunity for us to make an impact, while also bringing past and present members of our community together for a meaningful, shared experience."

The Langley School's Day of Giving meal-packing was the culminating event of its inaugural Week of Giving which ran March 12-16. Throughout the week, the Langley community collected items for five student-led donation drives. Students in grades 3-8 submitted proposals for donation drive projects, and five winning proposals were selected benefiting a range of organizations, including SHARE of McLean, Stanton Elementary, Doorways for Women & Families, A Wider Circle, and Wishing You Lots of Love. Students coordinated each drive and developed publicity plans to collect baby products, children's books, school supplies, toiletries, nonperishable foods, and more for those in need.

"We wanted to give our students an opportunity to take on a leadership role with these projects," says Dean of Students Brent Locke. "They not only learned the importance of giving back, but also gained valuable skills as they wrote proposals, organized each drive, and came up with advertising strategies to promote their project."

Cooper Middle Hosts World Heritage Night at School

"A people without the knowledge of their past history, origin and culture is like a tree without roots," stated Marcus Garvey, a prominent African American political leader and nationalist from the early 20th century. Seventh and eighth grade students at Cooper Middle School celebrated the world's cultural diversity and ethnic differences through a symbolic event on March 15.

"I would rate it [World Heritage Night] a 13 out of 10," said Alex Karloutsos, a student at Cooper Middle School. Families shared traditions through a potluck with ethnic dishes, and cultural performances.

"My favorite part was seeing all the different cultures and food," said seventh grader Zoya Qadiri. Additionally, they admired displays, participated in workshops, and viewed festive booths.

— Sebastian Herbolzheimer and Aisha Shakeel

The Cooper community enjoyed different foods from all over the world, and learned more about students' heritage.

Students are loving the experience of hands-on activities such as Japanese drumming, with a professional serving as their guide.

Several Cooper teachers brought their families to enjoy the food and festivities.

BASIS Independent McLean Wins MATHCOUNTS State Competition

The BASIS Independent McLean (BIM) MATHCOUNTS team placed first in the MATHCOUNTS state championships in Richmond.

This is BIM's second time participating and winning in the annual statewide MATHCOUNTS competition. BASIS Independent McLean MATHCOUNTS members, called Team SWEEP to represent a combination of their initials, include: Sam Wang (grade 7), Eleanor Kim (grade 8), Ethan Zhou (grade 7), and Pravalika Putalapattu (grade 8).

Team SWEEP is led by Coaches Tyler Sullivan and Dr. Ryan Grove, a BIM math and science teacher. MATHCOUNTS state champions head to the 2018 MATHCOUNTS National Competition in Washington, D.C., May 12 to 15. For more information on BASIS Independent McLean, go to <http://mclean.basisindependent.com>.

In the individual MATHCOUNTS competitions, BIM student Putalapattu earned first place, while Zhou finished third and Wang earned fourth place.

Fourteen MATHCOUNTS teams were present at Virginia

MATHCOUNTS State Competition and approximately 84 students participated.

The Virginia State MATHCOUNTS team heading to the National MATHCOUNTS Competition in Washington, D.C. will be composed of the top four state individual winners: Putalapattu, Wang, Zhou, and a Mercer Middle School student from Aldie. The team will be trained by BIM Coach Tyler Sullivan. The National MATHCOUNTS Competition will be streamed live on ESPN3, with 224 competitors and 56 teams from around the United States.

"We're extremely proud of our MATHCOUNTS students and coaches; their achievement is remarkable, considering BIM opened only two years ago and we have won first place for the second consecutive time," said Ron Kim, Head of School at BASIS Independent McLean. "We're rooting them on for the National Competition in May."

For more information, go to www.mathcounts.org.

Area Roundups

2018 10th District Congressional Art Competition

U.S. Rep. Barbara Comstock (R-10) announced the 2018 Congressional Art Competition for Virginia's 10th Congressional District. The competition is open to all high school students who reside in the District. The Best in Show winner of the competition will have their piece of art displayed in the United States Capitol. Congresswoman Comstock is a member of the Congressional Art Caucus and started the House Arts Caucus in the Virginia General Assembly.

"I always look forward to the Congressional Art Competition so we can experience the creativity of the Virginia's 10th Congressional District students. Every year we see exceptional works of art, as the students compete for Best In Show. The winners will have their artwork displayed at the U.S. Capitol in a high traffic area where lawmakers, staff, and visitors can enjoy it. I want to thank the dedicated art teachers in our community who encourage students to enter their artwork so their artistic talent can be seen and celebrated."

Students should drop-off their completed artwork on April 2, 2-5 p.m. at Enterprise Hall on the George Washington Virginia Science & Technology Campus. Art submitted must be ready to hang and entries are limited to two per student. For information and guidelines about the 2018 Congressional Art Competition go to <https://comstock.house.gov/services/art-competition>. Students and teachers can also contact Amanda Gray Bailey in the Congresswoman's office at 703-404-6903 or by email at AmandaGray.Bailey@mail.house.gov.

South Lakes Seniors Register to Vote

By Bill Bronrott

In response to school shootings and gun violence, South Lakes High School seniors held a voter registration drive in their U.S. History class earlier this month. These three students — (from left) Jesse Lynch of Herndon and Juhi Chandrabhatla and Samantha Lowe, both of Reston - registered along with many of their classmates. They will turn 18 before November, and look forward to voting for the first time this Election Day. Here is what they said participating in March for Our Lives in Washington, D.C. on Saturday:

Samantha Lowe: "It shouldn't have taken what happened in Florida to make the changes we are calling for. Change has to happen now. I registered to vote, and I'll be voting for the first time in November."

Juhi Chandrabhatla: "Marching today shows that we've solidified the movement, and now our politicians will know we are serious. It's not about political parties. It's about making change. Until now, nothing has changed. After today, we will be calling our elected officials, and send out messages on social media. We are going to make sure our friends vote in November."

Jesse Lynch: Our school recently had a lockdown. Possibly someone with a gun. It turned out to be a false alarm, but it was scary to think that it could happen to you. We should look to other countries that don't have as much gun violence. But, that's not what we are doing. In South Africa, youth protests against Apartheid made a difference. Our voices are going to make a difference on guns."

Operation Medicine Cabinet Cleanout April 28
Service is free, anonymous and no questions asked.

By Mercia Hobson

Unused medications in homes can create a safety concern due to accidental ingestion, theft, misuse and abuse. In response, Fairfax County Government announced that in conjunction with the United States Drug Enforcement Administration Prescription Drug Take-Back Day, it is holding Operation Medicine Cabinet Cleanout: Saturday, April 28, 2018.

Fairfax County reports drug take-back programs are important, "Because they are a safe method for disposing of prescription drugs and are organized and closely monitored by local, state, and federal government agencies. Safe disposal of unused or expired medications prevents drug abuse and misuse, accidental poisoning, and protects the environment."

Residents in Fairfax County can drop off medications at any of eight Fairfax County District Police Stations between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturday, April 28, 2018. Pills and liquids will be accepted; no pressurized canisters or needles.

The Drop-off sites are Reston District Station, 12000 Bowman Towne Drive, Reston; Fair Oaks District Station, 12300 Lee Jackson Memorial Highway, Fairfax; Franconia District Station, 6121 Franconia Road, Alexandria;

Mason District Station, 6507 Columbia Pike, Annandale; McLean District Station, 1437 Balls Hill Road, McLean; Mount Vernon District Station, 2511

Operation Medicine Cabinet Cleanout: Saturday, April 28, 2018, residents in Fairfax County can drop off medications at any of eight Fairfax County District Police Stations between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Pills and liquids will be accepted; no questions asked.

Parkers Lane, Alexandria; Sully District Station, 4900 Stonecroft Boulevard, Chantilly; and West Springfield District Station, 6140 Rolling Road, Springfield.

On their website, Fairfax County recommends that to dispose of syringes, needles and other medical sharps: "Place in (a) plastic container with (a) screw-on top. Mark the container 'residential sharps' and place in the trash."

DEA Diversion Control Program reports the total weight collected on National Take Back Day 2017 was the most ever collected: 900,386 pounds; that's 450 tons from 5,498 sites, beating the previous high of 447 tons from 5,400 sites in 2016.

"Wastewater treatment plants and onsite sewage disposal systems are not designed to remove these chemicals. As a result, these medications can end up in the environment and eventually in our drinking water."

In addition, DEA states on their website that the majority of prescription drug abusers report in surveys that they got their drugs from friends and family. "Americans understand that cleaning out old prescription drugs from medicine cabinets, kitchen drawers, and bedside tables reduces accidents, thefts, and the misuse and abuse of these medicines, including the opioid painkillers ... Eight out of 10 new heroin users began by abusing prescription painkillers and moved to heroin when they could no longer obtain or afford those painkillers."

K9 Teams Hold Workshop, Training

Recently, multiple local agencies with K9 teams from Fairfax County Fire and Rescue (VA-TF1), Fairfax County Police Department (PD), Prince William PD, and George Mason PD came together to train at the K9 Drive Building Workshop. The workshop was taught by Fairfax County Fire and Rescue Assistant Chief (ret) Garrett Dyer at the Perfect Pet Resort in Maryland.

One goal of the workshop was to teach participants how to become a better handler and helper for the working dog. First half of day consisted of lecture and discussion. The rest of the day involved field work with the K9 and handler to help enhance the K9's desire to detect their target odor.

There were also teams from out of the area including K9's from Massachusetts and Virginia Beach. It was a fantastic learning experience for all involved.

The Daze Continue To Go Bye

By KENNETH B. LOURIE

You know, if my feet didn't hurt so much, I could almost forget that I have cancer, other than being aware of my upcoming infusion: April 6; my upcoming CT Scan and MRI: April 18; and my upcoming follow-up appointment with my oncologist to discuss the results: April 27.

Nevertheless, the goal is to not think about the fact that I have non-small cell lung cancer, stage IV. The kind for which there is no cure; made clear by my oncologist at the initial Team Lourie meeting when he advised me that he "could treat me but that he couldn't cure me." What?! At that surreal moment, what goes in one ear flies out the other.

But here I am, nine years and counting; you bet I'm counting. That's one of the recurring thoughts I have as a multi-year cancer survivor; although, as my friend Frank has said to me: "you're in pretty good condition for the condition you're in."

Other than schedules and my underlying diagnosis (and my original "13 month to two year" prognosis), I regularly consider how long I've lived, one month now into year 10. It's both scary and reassuring: Am I further from the beginning or closer to the end? See. I can't stop thinking about it.

Generally speaking however, I am not bogged down by my diagnosis/circumstances, as anybody who knows me, knows. Nor am I preoccupied with the imminent danger in which my diagnosis places me everyday. And I'm certainly not bemoaning the likely reduction in my life expectancy from what I assumed it would be: mid to late 80s, given how long both my parents lived, to what is logical to believe it will now be: late 60s; considering all the statistics for similarly diagnosed individuals. Typically, one diagnosed with stage IV lung cancer doesn't just live with it (as a chronic-type disease), rather you die because of it.

This column is more for public consumption than it is about private perception. In truth, although a second, minute or hour doesn't go by when I don't think/remember/acknowledge the facts of my case, I am able, most of the time, to keep a smile on my face and not bring a frown to others.

Moreover, I want/need those others to forget that I have cancer as much as it is possible for it to be forgotten. And I want my behavior to be a contributing factor to their forgetting. If I don't start it then there's no reason for them to finish it.

And I'm being selfish in saying so? Absolutely! Because the better vibrations I receive from others, the better I'll feel about myself. And the better I feel about myself, the better and more able I'll be to deal with my disease and all its emotional and physical side- and straight-on effects. Effects which are hardly the stuff with which dreams are made. To invoke and rework a quote from the legendary screen actress Bette Davis: Having cancer is not for sissies.

But it is indiscriminate and projections into the not-to-distant future are frightening: for both males and females, one in three have a "lifetime risk of developing or dying from cancer," according to the U.S. National Cancer Institute's Surveillance Epidemiology and End Results (SEER) Database, based on "data compiled between 2012 and 2014, the most recent available."

So how do you put that in your pipe and not smoke it? If you're unlucky enough to be one of these new "diagnosees," you either roll with the punches or get rolled over instead. The choice is yours, as it was mine.

"Get busy living or get busy dying," as Andy Dufresne (Tim Robbins) said to "Red," (Morgan Freeman), in the Oscar-nominated "The Shawshank Redemption" (1994). And I try to remind myself of that every day, and every night, too.
