When designing the patio of her McLean home, interior design professor Jean Freeman of Marymount University relied on the natural surroundings to create a backdrop for her outdoor oasis. "I have an area in the backyard that has small stones and lounge furniture," she said. "Our backyard is next to Pimmit Run Trail and has lots of trees, some of which I planted. Also, I planted several holly trees so that the area would attract more birds and sometimes the bird chirping gets quite loud and wonderful." Gentle breezes and mild temperatures are some of the pleasures of spring that beckon many outdoors for parties and family dinners, but turning a winter-worn patio into a space for entertaining can feel daunting. Breathing new life into a landscape dulled by snow and frost or creating an entirely new outdoor space might be easier than it appears.

When considering a patio furniture purchase, avoid the battle against Mother Nature by selecting pieces that can stand up to the elements. "The number one rule in furnishing your patio is to purchase quality furniture," said Anne Walker of Anne Walker Design LLC. "There are a lot of outdoor furnishings that look alike, but they are not all the same. Dedon, based in Germany and Janus et Cie, based in California, make excellent outdoor furnishings that will stand the test of time … [and] will not fade, warp or degrade even if left outdoors in the elements for years. Less expensive look-alikes will fall apart after just a few years or months of exposure to the elements, continued Walker. "I can't stress it enough: invest in high-quality outdoor furnishings or you will just be throwing your money away. Buy the best you can afford, and work little by little if need be to complete your outdoor space. You won't be sorry."

When choosing fabrics for that furniture, Todd Martz, co-owner of Home on Cameron in Old Town Alexandria, says, "Accessories like pillows and draperies as well as chairs, sofas and rugs are all available in low maintenance fabrics." Selecting smaller, easy-to-move pieces of furniture over large sectionals will produce a design plan with versatility. "You'll be happy to have the flexibility to move things around when you entertain or when the sun shifts and you want to get into or away from the direct sun," said Walker.

Incorporating potted plants into the landscape design offers versatility. "Mix several sized plants … very large as well as different types of plants in smaller planters," added Kelley Proxmire of Kelley Proxmire, Inc. "Vary the textures as well as the color of green leaves such as ferns, palms and flowering plants." Use planters to create architectural features like walls and borders. "The plants will add beautiful visual interest, and the planters are moveable, allowing flexibility in use and design," said Walker.

For those who want to build a stone patio, go for variety, but establish a solid base to avoid costly repairs later. "Combinations of flagstone and brick are elegant and more interesting than use of only one type of material," said Walker. "Make sure you have a professional set your patio in concrete. It's much less expensive to set the stone in stone dust, but within a year or less the stones will begin to shift and weeds will grow through the gaps."

Lighting matters, says Proxmire, and she suggests that when designing or even sprucing up patio, "Use different sources of light [such as] inside-outdoor lamps, different sizes of lanterns, candlesticks with glass hurricanes," she said. "The candles with batteries are great for using outside because the wind isn't an issue."

Now that summer is on the horizon, Walker has a plan for getting her patio guest-ready. "I will power wash with my personal home power washer, plant a few flowers and boom! Ready to entertain," she said. "We love to entertain on our patio. It's our favorite space."
The outdoor concert series draws a crowd of more than 1,000 spectators on the first night of its 2018 run.

The Connection

Herndon's free outdoor concert series, Friday Night Live! (FNL!) is back every Friday now through Aug. 24, 2018.

FNL! is held on the Town Green in Herndon, which is located behind the Herndon Municipal Center at 777 Lynn Street and adjacent to W&OD Trail and the town library. Festivities run from 6:30 p.m.-10:30 p.m.

FNL! is produced by the Herndon Chamber of Commerce and presented by Volkswagen Group of America, the title sponsor. FNL will not take place on June 1 due to Herndon Festival.

FNL! features popular local bands from up and down the east coast. They play rock and roll covers, from classic to modern with some country and original music thrown in.

The band '2U + Big Al's Truck' kicked off the FNL! 2018 Schedule as they faithfully recreated a U2 live show to a crowd of more than 1,000 patrons.

DOUG DOWNER is founder and chair of the Herndon Friday Night Live! Concert series. "We are looking forward to another great season. We have some new bands that haven’t been here in a long time," Downer said. "We also have some new food with Egg Karne joining us, and this month, some new beer, a pale ale called Whale's Tale from Cisco Brewers in Nantucket."

As for food, concertgoers should come hungry. Each week, Domino's Pizza and locally based TurCuisine, a Mediterranean restaurant, will provide an assortment of food possibilities while the local Dairy Queen offers a selection of desserts and the Herndon High School Boosters sell fresh popcorn. Jimmy's Old Town Tavern and Egg Karne will rotate weeks to help diversify menu selections.

Beverage vendors include Bud Light, Devil's Backbone Vienna Lager, and Stella Artois, along with one other specially chosen Beer of the Month. The May 2018 Beer of the Month is Cisco Brewers Whale's Tale Pale Ale. There is also a selection of wines available, as well as Spiked Seltzer. Sodas and water are available at the food vendor stalls. Alcohol sales and concessions end promptly at 9:30 p.m. A portion of tip money from alcohol sales goes to benefit the Herndon High School After-Prom and All-Night alcohol-free Grad Parties.

FNL! Concert organizers have the production of the 4 1/2 hour event down to a science. Entirely volunteer-driven, FNL! is supported each evening by 98 volunteers who do it all, from checking IDs, being trained ABC managers, marshaling and cleaning up the Town Green after each concert. FNL! is family-friendly. All entrances and exits are strictly staffed, and there is a police presence.

As for possible weather cancellations, according to FNL!, a concert "is almost always held unless actual rain forces us to cancel. We almost never cancel based on a forecast. More often than not, the rain forecasted is falling somewhere else, and our concerts are on. In the event of obvious inclement weather (raining all day in Herndon and not predicted to stop), we try to make a call as early as we can be sure, but generally, it is made late in the afternoon... (Visit) Facebook page and Twitter."

Other rules state: "No pets are allowed at Friday Night Live!... and no alcoholic beverages may be taken outside of the Friday Night Live! Concert area... Everyone must present a valid ID and obtain a wristband before purchase and to consume alcoholic beverages. "We card everyone—regardless of age."

UPCOMING on the 2018 Concert Schedule for May 11 is Gonzos Nose. They will perform a special reunion show playing hits from the '80s. LauraLea & Tripp Fabulous follow on May 18, noted for "her excellent vocals, charming personality."

Friday Night Live is a family-friendly, outdoor concert series, back every Friday, now through Aug. 24, 2018, except June 1 due to Herndon Festival.

Storm clouds did bring brief torrential rain to the Friday Night Live! kickoff of its 2018 concert series but not enough to create more than a pause in the music.

Parents Josh and Kim Westfall of Herndon are mindful not to expose their ten-month-old baby to any sounds that could potentially damage her hearing. To prevent the possibility of a future hearing loss, smiling Olivia wears her baby hearing protectors to the Friday Night Live! Concert.

Friday Night Live Live! 2018 Rocks On in Herndon
Anyone who was closely watching last November’s election in got a demonstration about what difference one vote can make. Control of the Virginia General Assembly came down to a single race that was deemed to be tied, and was decided by a random drawing. Republicans won. Vote. It’s so important to vote. Your vote could actually be the deciding vote. Your best shot at ensuring you can vote is to vote early.

How To Vote
Every year is election year in Virginia; mechanics and details of voting require attention to detail. For the primary, you will cast a Democratic or Republican ballot.

If you want to be sure you get to vote, voting early if you qualify is a good choice. Early voting, called absentee voting in Virginia, is already underway for the primary.

There are many valid reasons to vote absentee in Virginia, including working and commuting to and from home for 11 or more hours between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Election Day. Check the Virginia Department of Elections list to see if you are eligible: elections.virginia.gov/casting-a-ballot/absentee-voting/index.html

There are two ways to vote absentee, in person and by mail. To do either, you should first check your voter registration status to make sure it is up-to-date. Then you will need to apply for an absentee ballot. If you vote absentee in-person you will fill out the application when you arrive at the location.

Voting absentee by mail? You can now apply for a Virginia Voter Photo ID Card. At the time of registration, the voter may appear in-person in the county in which the provisional ballot was cast, and apply for a Virginia Voter Photo ID Card. Voters applying for the Virginia Voter Photo ID complete the Virginia Voter Photo Identification Card Application, have their picture taken, and sign the digital signature pad. Once the application is processed, the card will be mailed directly to the voter. A voter who does not bring an acceptable photo ID to the polls will be offered a provisional ballot.

Provisional Ballot Process for Voters Who Arrive Without Identification
If you arrive at your polling place on Election Day without an acceptable form of photo identification, don’t panic or give up. You will be given the opportunity to vote a provisional ballot. After completing the provisional ballot, the individual voting will be given written instructions from the election officials on how to submit a copy of her/his identification so that her/his vote can be counted.

A voter will have until noon on the Friday following the election to deliver a copy of the identification to the local electoral board or to appear in person to apply for a Virginia Voter Photo ID Card. Voters may submit a copy of their ID via fax, email, in-person submission, or through USPS or commercial delivery service. Please note that the copy of the ID must be delivered by noon on Friday.

Making Summer Camp Affordable
To the Editor:
I read with interest Marilyn Campbell’s recent article on the difficulty of affording summer camp. As the director of Traveling Players Ensemble, a summer theatre camp, I’ve been acutely aware of the issues families face in paying for camp for years. I’ve seen the enormous difference that summer enrichment programs can make in a kid’s life. That’s why I made it my goal to offer the most generous summer scholarships in the area.

We just received a $10,000 grant from the Jack Keet Cooke Foundation, specifically to underwrite our scholarships, and we are actively seeking middle schoolers of financial need to participate in our summer camps. Some of our previous scholarship campers have even been able to turn the high-level training they get from us into longer-term benefit, receiving tens of thousands of dollars in arts and crafts scholarships to attend college.

We hope that we can add our commitment to providing scholarships to the great work that Camp Invention and other summer institutions are doing to provide real, lasting benefits to lower-income children in our community.

Virginia Voter ID
Virginia has voter identification requirements; plan to bring photo identification with you to vote, whether that is absentee or on Primary Election Day.

Among accepted ID: valid Virginia Driver’s License or Identification Card; valid Virginia DMV issued Veteran’s ID Card; valid U.S. Passport; other government-issued photo identification cards issued by the U.S. Government, the Commonwealth of Virginia, or a political subdivision of the Commonwealth; Tribal enrollment or other tribal ID issued by one of 11 tribes recognized by the Commonwealth of Virginia; valid college or university student photo identification card from an institution of higher education located in Virginia; valid student ID issued by public school or private school in Virginia displaying a photo; employee identification card containing a photograph of the voter and issued by an employer of the voter in the ordinary course of the employer’s business.

Any registered voter who does not have one of the required forms of identification can apply for a free Virginia Voter Photo Identification from any general registrar’s office in the Commonwealth. Voters applying for the Virginia Voter Photo ID complete the Virginia Voter Photo Identification Card Application, have their picture taken, and sign the digital signature pad. Once the application is processed, the card will be mailed directly to the voter. A voter who does not bring an acceptable photo ID to the polls will be offered a provisional ballot.

Call for Discussion, Not Challenge to Budget

To the Editor:

I am writing to respond to the Connec- tion article of last week regarding the town of Herndon budget (“Two Council Members Challenge the Budget Adoption”). The re- porter was not able to speak to me before the Connection went to press.

It is pretty rare that this Town Council has anything adversarial going on because we are able to work collaboratively in the public interest.

The headline “Two Council Members Challenge Herndon Budget Adoption” makes it appear as though there is a lot more going on than there is.

Councilmember Olem and I were hoping to continue the budget for another two weeks to get in some time for discussion before the required budget deadline of June 30. I have seen several councils do this, and was not intending to avoid passing this bud- get, but to discuss matters my constituents wanted brought forth. My assumption was that this was a reasonable, indeed admi- rable, request to make. I appreciate that the main problem was a lack of communica- tion before the meeting, which I thought I had addressed in my opening comment on the matter. I dug into my position out of surprise, but eventually helped the budget pass. I saw no point in continuing my re- quest for the two weeks, and we were able to have the discussion I had requested any- way.

I have loved working with this council, which is composed of smart, positive col- leagues who are trying to help this town realize its potential. I would certainly not wish to move our well-run council and town to uncertainty, nor to “challenge the bud- get adoption”. Thank you for your attention to this mat- ter.

Still Haven’t Seen the Light
By KENNETH H. LOUER

WOW! I just saved “Up to $504 !” (not including the two asterisks), and all I did was buy a six-pack of LED light bulbs. So it says on the package anyway.

Maybe I should buy another six-pack and save even more money? There are only two problems (just two!) with this plan. First, I don’t see a rebate-type form to complete and return and; in lieu there of, is there a guarantee that I’ll even live long enough (“Lasts 13+ Years”) to realize the benefit/savings of not spending additional money on light bulbs.

Are they even called light bulbs any more? I don’t see it printed on the package anywhere.

And while I’ll definitely enjoy not spending money on light bulbs – or whatever they’re called – what’s the catch? Likely since I paid them yesterday, they could figure out a way to pay me today, especially since I paid them yesterday.

By the way, I don’t need any lightbulb-related talent is screwing things up like this feature as I’ve written about previously. (Do you remember me calling myself “Taurus Bulba”?) In fact, I may very well have already killed those light bulbs that are going to last for years so it’s possible there isn’t even a need to allocate dollars and sense to bulb inventory – or even to write this column.

I suppose that if I’m serious and/or inclined to shine a light on this problem, I need to get organized, either on my computer or in a notebook. Sort of like how my wife’s Italian grandfather, Cesare, did regarding Christmas cards. He had years of notebooks with names listed with boxes alongside, checked or not, for cards sent and/or received to identify which light/figures have which kind of light bulbs so I’ll know whether it’s likely I’ll actually need to spend money on replacement light bulbs.

Six-pack of LED light bulbs really are going to “Last 13+ years,” (as is also printed on the package) then I might not need to buy them any more, for awhile, anyway. As a result, light bulbs will no longer be a regular purchase like toilet paper, paper towels, laundry detergent, etc. In the future, I’ll become a JJRF bimonthly purchase like batteries, sponges and the like. Now, if I really can stop this unnecessary light bulb spending, I’ll keep having a few extra dollars that I can allocate elsewhere on real necessities – like candy, cookies and ice cream.

Having sorted out the light bulb task ahead of me, in addition to saving money, I will have saved time as well. And who wouldn’t want to save time and money? Everybody. However, saving it in this excruciatingly boring, mundane manner had limited appeal, I would guess.

But, we’re not just saving pennies here; potentially, according to the light bulb’s packaging, we are apparently saving hundreds of dollars, and hundreds are worth saving. Unfortunately, the dollars saved are not exactly in-pocket. They’re more dollars which aren’t exactly in-pocket. They’re also indirect as a rebate, but more like an indirect benefit such as money saved from the installation of energy-efficient windows or placing insulation in your attic.

Either way, it’s money not in somebody else’s pocket, and with the exchange, the tax cut could figure out a way to pay me today, especially since I paid them yesterday.
